WAGE "FREEZE" IS RELAXED

Soft And Hard Coal Diggers Will Get Boost

Order Lifting Coal Price Lid Drafted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The government today eased its five-day-old wage "freeze" for 475,000 coal miners and perhaps many thousands of others caught in the federal crackdown on inflation.

Simultaneously, the Office of Price Stabilization prepared an order lifting the price lid on coal prices to match the wage boost.

By a 6 to 3 vote, the Wage Stabilization Board approved all wage raises agreed upon by the Jan. 25 "freeze" date—providing the raises apply to a pay period beginning Feb. 9 or earlier.

At first, board officials were undecided whether the new order would apply only to a $1.60-a-day wage hike for 400,000 soft coal miners or also take in a similar raise for 75,000 hard-coal miners.

Tonight the board's executive director, W. Willard Wirtz, ruled that it applied to both.

Wirtz said the hard-coal agreement had actually been negotiated with "a meeting of minds in every substantial way" before the Jan. 25 deadline, even though the contract was not signed until Jan. 26.

Possible Strike Headed Off

Both the soft and hard coal contracts are effective tomorrow, Feb. 1.

Wirtz's ruling, in the board's first tight situation, took the pressure off a possible strike by the hard-coal miners and seemingly pointed the way for other "flexible" interpretations of the general freeze order.

Board officials said at least 50 other contracts—and perhaps 10 times that many—are affected by the order.

Officials said, however, the wage "thaw" will not apply to cases still in the process of negotiation or arbitration. Such cases will have to be submitted to the board for special consideration when decisions or agreements are reached.

In the case of soft coal, John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, had signed a new contract several days before the Jan. 25 deadline and hence got under the wire under today's interpretation.

Soft coal operators said in granting the wage increase that it would require a boost of 25 to 50 cents a ton.

Federal Workers Not Exempt

Officials said late today an order dealing with the price increase would be issued "in a day or two."

Along with the wage modification order, the board issued three other "clarifying" statements, declaring:

1. State, county and municipal employes—but not federal workers—are exempt from the wage freeze.

However, the board said state and local governments are "expected" to conform to the wage freeze and to the board's wage policies.

2. The freeze applies to payments into a pension fund, overtime rates, bonuses, vacation and holiday pay, and higher rates for night shifts.

3. Wage increases are authorized, without board approval, when necessary to comply with the wage-hour law and other statutes.

Court Order Is Sought To Halt Railroad Tieup

Walkout Spreads; Partial Freight Embargo Imposed

[By The Associated Press]

The government sought a federal contempt of court order Wednesday to halt the fast spreading strike of railroad switchmen and ordered that shipments for the armed forces be given priority.

The Defense Transport Administration ordered the railroads to put an embargo on freight that cannot be moved through yards tied up by the current walkouts.

The DTA also directed that military shipments be given preference over the freight to the extent that such shipments can be gotten through.

The two-day walkout of switchmen has crippled rail service in all major sections of the country.

Headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the key union involved in the work stoppage, said in Cleveland that telegrams have been sent to all affected points urging local chairmen to get switchmen back on the job.

Railway Express Embargo

The government's move to end the new walkout — the second in six weeks — came as:

1—Operations on 28 railroads in 13 major cities across the nation were hit directly by the work stoppage. Other lines were affected indirectly.

2—The Railway Express Agency clamped an embargo on rail express shipments between 14 northeastern states and the rest of the nation.

3—Firemen, engineers, conductors and trainmen were joining the switchmen's walkout in a few places.

4—Thousands of industrial workers were made idle by the strike in Philadelphia, Chicago and Peoria, Ill.

5—The Pennsylvania Railroad blamed "labor trouble" for derailment of a freight car in Detroit.

BRT Officials Named

District Attorney Otto Kerner, Jr., of Chicago filed a petition for a contempt order with Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe. The petition named officers of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, key union in the walkout, and 25 BRT lodges.

A contempt citation was issued by Judge Igoe against the union in a similar walkout of 10,000 switchmen last month. A hearing on this is set for Friday.

The government contended the union still is restrained from striking by no-strike federal court injunctions the government obtained last month in Chicago, Washington and Cleveland.

Md. Is Affected By REA Embargo

Baltimore, Jan. 31 (AP)—Maryland is one of the 14 northeastern states "quarantined" by the embargo which the Railway Express Agency slapped today on express shipments.

However, goods can still be moved to and from states within the area.

The agency said the embargo applies to freight destined for points in the 14-state area, with the exception of drugs, medicines, surgical instruments, defense materials, coffins and funeral supplies.

The express agency here said freight may still be sent to and received from the following: Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Maryland.

Freezing Rain, Snow And Sleet Plague Nation

[By The Associated Press]

Piercing cold and the first heavy snow storm of the season chilled the Northeast Wednesday.

The fall in that area was expected to pile up to a depth of six to ten inches.

It was accompanied by cheek-nipping cold. The temperature dropped to an all-time low of 32 below zero at Caribou, Me. Sub-zero readings were common in Upstate New York and New England.

Low marks included -25 at Houlton and Greenville, Me., -17 at Massena, N. Y., -5 at Glen Falls, N. Y. The bottom level in New Jersey was -8.

The government weather bureau in Washington in a special bulletin Wednesday night warned of slick and dangerous highways over the entire northeastern quarter of the nation. It noted that driving conditions "are very bad out of Washington in any direction" and said Maryland and Virginia were covered by snow, sleet and freezing rain.

The warning said dangerous road conditions are widespread, extending from South Carolina through New England and westward through New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and into Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Arkansas.

Temperatures in most of the area were well below freezing with little prospect of immediate improvement, except possibly in the Middle Atlantic states Thursday.

The Weather Bureau reported freezing rain or sleet pelted a wide band of land from Texas to the Atlantic coast — hitting Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, the southern parts of Indiana and Ohio, and portions of North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

The number of deaths attributed to this week's wintry assault rose to 69.

U.S. Seeks Quick Assembly Verdict Against Peiping

Two-Point Course Of Action Planned

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 31 (AP) — The United States strove tonight for a quick verdict by the United Nations General Assembly on an American-backed resolution calling Red China the aggressor in Korea.

Once that approval has been obtained, high diplomatic circles said, the United States would press for a two-point course of action. One would be immediate efforts by a high-calibre three-man good offices committee to seek a settlement. The second would be intensive consultations among members of a 14-nation collective measures committee on what to do about meeting the Chinese aggression. Informed circles here said the American position on sanctions, if any, would depend finally on the results of these consultations.

The assembly was called by President Nasrollah Entezam, Iran, to meet at 10:45 a. m. E.S.T. tomorrow in an extraordinary session at Lake Success instead of in the huge assembly hall at Flushing Meadow.

The Political Committee last night approved the United States resolution, 44 to 7.

Sir Bengal N. Rau, Indian delegate who lost a stubborn campaign to put off the American proposal and make instead another cease-fire appeal to Red China, was asked what India's position would be after the American resolution is passed by the General Assembly. Rau told a reporter:

"We shall continue to do our best for peace."

The Asian-Arab group was said to be undecided whether to renew in the Assembly the fight it made in the Political Committee against the American resolution and for another approach to Peiping.

Now that Assembly approval is certain, the United States was reported in diplomatic circles to be shaping up plans for the two committees created under the resolution, the good offices group and the collective measures committee.

WAVEs Not Getting 142 Dresses Each

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Navy denied tonight that it has placed an order for 1,350,000 summer uniform dresses for its little band of 9,500 WAVES and women marines.

Earlier in the day Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Housed Armed Services Committee said he would inquire into the reported order, which would amount to about 142 dresses per person.

A Navy spokesman told reporters there were only two orders outstanding, one for 4,615 dresses from a Baltimore concern, and another for 26,178 from a Minneapolis company. There is no 1,350,000 order, he said.

Truman Plans $16.5 Billion Tax Boost, History's Biggest

Might Mean 20% Hike In Income Levy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—President Truman unveiled to a congressional group today the biggest tax-boosting program in history—$16,500,000,000 to put the defense effort on a pay-as-you-go basis. He asked that it be split into two packages, one a $10,000,000,000 "quickie" bill.

This might mean an early increase in individual income taxes, possibly by about 20 per cent. But there was no suggestion of a retail sales tax.

The President made an extraordinary bid for bi-partisan support, inviting the 10 House Ways and Means Committee Republicans, as well as the 15 Democrats, to the White House to see the wraps taken off the program.

Heretofore only Democrats have been invited to such previews of impending tax recommendations.

Some members promptly suggested to the President that economy—by cutting the $71,600,000,000 budget—would relieve some of the need for huge tax increases.

Budget "Padding" Charged

Rep. Reed (NY), senior Republican on the tax-writing committee, has claimed that budget is "padded" and the President had "included the major part of his 'Fair Deal' socialistic program in the guise of defense projects."

All those present at the White House, Republicans as well as Democrats, were requested to keep the tax discussion secret, until Mr. Truman formally transmits his special tax message to Congress on Friday.

But from later discussions on Capitol Hill, newsmen got indications the President will ask for a two-package approach, with the first bill to collect some $10,000,000,000 in about this manner:

Individuals—Increase by about $4,000,000,000 the income levies on over $50,000,000 taxpayers—an overall rise of about 20 per cent, although not all taxpayers would have that size increase. The money may come from a boost of four percentage points in each income tax bracket. The first $2,000 of taxable income would bear a 24 per cent rate, instead of the present 20 per cent; the second $2,000 would go at 26 per cent instead of 22, and so on up. There was no indication that the President is thinking at this time of lowering the present $600 personal exemption to $500.

Corporation Tax Hike

Corporations—Increase by about $3,000,000,000, raising the present 47 per cent on corporation income to perhaps about 55 per cent; and probably adjusting the present 77 per cent excess profits tax. The corporate normal rate has been boosted from 38 per cent to 47 per cent since the Korean war commenced. The highest it got in World War II was 40 per cent.

Excises—Pick up more billions by broadening the levies and raising rates in the excise tax field. Some tax writers believe this might cause an increase in the liquor tax from $9 to $12 a gallon, and boost in wine beer, cigarets, gasoline and some other excises, as well as putting the levy on new items.

Training Center Probe Ordered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP) — A "complete and thorough investigation" of all the basic training centers of the Army, Navy and Air Force was ordered late today by the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee.

Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) of the Senate group told reporters he had directed the inquiry "as a precautionary measure."

It is a direct outgrowth of complaints, now under investigation, that Lackland Air Force base in Texas was so overcrowded that recruits lacked proper housing and clothing and were suffering hardship. The Air Force has denied the complaints but is making its own inquiry.

Johnson said Congress wants to be certain that adequate indoctrination and training centers are available before the lawmakers pass upon drafting of 18-year-olds or any other methods of building up the armed services.

Constitutional Convention Measure Slips By Initial Test In Legislature

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — Legislation to call a convention to rewrite Maryland's constitution slipped by its first General Assembly test today by a one-vote margin.

But it picked up so much added strength as the day progressed that observers were predicting freely it would gain final House approval within a few days.

What would happen to it in the Senate was still anyone's guess.

The highly-controversial measure resulted from a referendum last November at which the electorate voted approval of a constitutional convention by a margin of almost 4 to 1.

The General Assembly, however, has the final say.

Many delegates and senators from the smaller counties are opposed to a convention.

But Baltimore City legislators and some from the counties with heavy populations want one.

These were the day's developments on the bill:

1—The House Judiciary Committee approved it 10-9, and Chairman Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd) said he would bring his committee's report to the full House at the afternoon session.

2—But, when the session started, Dempsey found that many delegates were absent because of the snow and sleet.

3—He announced to the House that he would hold the bill until tomorrow, so it could come before "a more representative House."

4—Opponents of the measure, headed by Delegates Lankford (D-Anne Arundel), Brinsfield (D-Dorchester) and Cannon (D-Wicomico), seeing what they believed a good opportunity to upset the committee's report and sink the bill, sought to bring it to the floor, anyway. Fourteen Baltimore City delegates were in the list of absentees.

5—Much to the surprise of both the backers and opponents, the move which would have placed the bill on the floor failed by a 56-41 margin.

6—That vote could be considered as a good indication of how those present will answer the roll call on succeeding House tests on the convention proposal.

U. Of Md. Board Of Regents Votes To Admit Negro

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—The University of Maryland's board of regents today voted to accept the first negro undergraduate to College Park.

The state's biracial system of education must be abandoned, the regents said in a statement, unless actual equality is provided negro schools. And this policy, the board said, is the direct responsibility of the State Legislature.

The action was brought on by a court suit by Hiram T. Whittle, 20-year-old Baltimore negro, to force his acceptance into the university's college of engineering.

Last Monday the state informed the courts it would submit a consent decree in Whittle's case—meaning it would not protest it.

Gen. 'Ike' Reports To Truman, Other Top U. S. Officials

Takes His Proposals To Congress Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told President Truman and the other top officials of government today about the progress and prospects of the defense of Europe against Communism as he sees them after 21 days on the scene.

What the supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty organization forces had to say at the White House was a closely-guarded secret, as was his subsequent conference at the Pentagon with the executive body of the North Atlantic Military Committee.

Flies In Sleet Storm

The five-star General flew into Washington in a driving sleet storm to give his advice, first privately to the President, then to the Cabinet and other principal executives, and later to his associates in the command of the West's defenses against the Soviet threat.

Tomorrow he goes to Capitol Hill with his report and recommendations. The next day his message will be directly to the people, by radio.

It is generally predicted that he will report a need for more American troops on the continent, recently a subject of sharp debate at the Capitol, and for a strenuous cooperative effort by all the Atlantic pact nations.

General Non-Commital

The General was strictly non-commital today in public.

The closest he came to saying anything about the subject of all his efforts of the past month was at the close of the session at the White House:

"I can still hope."

That was his response when a reporter reminded him that when he set out on his Western Europe tour he had expressed hope that the West's defense efforts would lead to peace, tranquillity and security, and asked if he still felt that way.

1,000,000th Yank May Die In Spring

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—A new unknown soldier soon may fall on a Korean battlefield — the millionth American fighting man to die in all wars in U. S. history—the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies predicted today.

The association called the potential victim "GI-X" and said he "may be killed during the spring or even sooner if Korean casualties become heavier."

The association reported that military deaths in all American wars, including Korea, reached 994,000 near the end of January.

Chinese Reds Unexpectedly Cease Attacks

Heavy Casualties Suffered By Enemy

TOKYO, Thursday, Feb. 1 (AP) — Allied troops renewed their eight-day-old offensive at dawn today in Western Korea—and met no opposition at the outset.

The jump-off followed a night of strange silence in which the Chinese Reds ceased entirely the counterattacks they had pressed at heavy loss on Wednesday.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported in a field dispatch at 9 a. m. (7 p. m. EST Wednesday):

"Officers said either the Chinese were holding back in preparation for a large scale counterattack or else they had made local withdrawals farther into their main line of resistance as a result of heavy casualties suffered in yesterday's (Wednesday's) bitter fighting."

Planes Blast Convoys

At the beginning of today's push, Puerto Rican and U. S. troops advanced unopposed deeper into the entrenchment - studded hills constituting the enemy's main defenses south of the Han River.

Allied planes spotted and attacked 400 enemy vehicles moving toward the front Wednesday night in the western sector.

Allied troops mowed down Chinese Wednesday in hand-to-hand combat, roaring artillery barrages and blistering air strikes.

The Chinese rushed up reinforcements as the Allies attacked with grenades and bayonets in the pine-clad hills north of Suwon and Kumyangjang.

Twenty thousand Reds were spotted moving up in the Kumyangjang sector, one source said. Kumjangyang is 23 miles southeast of Seoul.

The U. S. Tenth Corps in Central Korea also jumped to the attack, joining the U. S. First and Ninth Corps already engaged to the west. The Tenth moved ahead about 300 yards against light opposition and then ran into heavy fire.

Little Change In Position

There was little change in front line positions Wednesday as the two great forces in Western Korea locked in flaming combat. One Allied patrol last was reported but seven miles south of Seoul.

To meet the swelling Allied offensive, the Chinese also were said to have patched up their badly-mauled 50th Army south of Seoul. They brought in elements of their 38th, 39th and 40th Armies from the Seoul area.

The saw-toothed front runs east-west between Seoul, the Red-held capital of Republican South Korea, and the airbase city of Suwon 17 miles to the south.

Associated Press Correspondent Jim Becker reported from the front that the northernmost Allied position was nine miles north of Suwon.

The well dug-in enemy refused to break under the great assault.

"This is undoubtedly their main line of defense south of the Han River," a regimental commander was quoted in a pooled dispatch from the front.

Baltimore Transit Walkout Called Off

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Union employes of the Baltimore Transit Company today called off a strike set for tomorrow morning and apparently will settle for a one-year contract granting an eight-cent wage boost.

Clayton Perry, president of the AFL local, emphasized the 3,200 bus and trolley operators and maintenance men would have to approve the proposal by ballot, but there appeared slight chance of its being turned down now that it had Perry's approval.

Representatives of the company and the union met with Mayor D'Alesandro last night and worked out the proposal. The firm's board of directors met in emergency session today and notified Perry of its acceptance.

Sabotage Hinted As Bridge Falls In Canada, Killing Four

THREE RIVERS, Que., Jan. 31 (AP) —Nearly half of the new $3,000,000 Duplessis bridge dropped with a thunderous crash into the St. Maurice River today. Four persons, caught in their cars on collapsing spans, fell to an icy death. Quebec Premier Maurice Duplessis charged the bridge was "sabotaged by subversive elements."

Mayor J. A. Mongrain said the catastrophe "could have been avoided" and called a special meeting of the City Council to look into the los of the broad steel and concrete structure.

The nine-span highway bridge, more than a third of a mile long, was closed to heavy traffic for a time last winter until cracks could be repaired. It was opened in June, 1948, by Premier Duplessis and named for him, a native of Three Rivers.

Premier Duplessis told the Quebec Legislature tonight there would be a government inquiry.

He said he believed sabotage was involved for two reasons: First, because of the "timing" in the early morning, and second, because it was "the Duplessis bridge." He recalled that he is responsible for the Quebec "padlock law," by which establishments suspected of subversive or Communist connections may be closed.

Four 180-foot spans of the bridge collapsed at 2:55 a. m., carrying away telephone lines linking Quebec and Montreal. The bridge crosses the St. Maurice River where it joins the St. Lawrence, and connects Three Rivers with Cap De La Madeleine on the opposite bank and with Quebec, 70 miles to the northeast.

New York-To-London Speed Mark Broken By U. S. Pilot

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP) — Airline Capt. Charles Blair landed his scarlet Mustang fighter plane in a blaze of red "Very" lights tonight, chalking up a fresh New York-to-London speed record of seven hours, 48 minutes. He clipped an hour and seven minutes off the old record.

Blyair said his only troubles were some icing in the early stages and a painfully tight pair of boots throughout.

As he clambered from the revamped fighter's cockpit and waved to a cheering crowd at London airport, he winced and declared: "The first thing I do is to get these boots off."

The "Very" lights, brilliant red flares, marked the end of the airport's main runway as Blair's plane, a flying gas tank named Excalibur III, skimmed down in the darkness.

He left New York's Idlewild Airport at 4:50 a. m. Eastern Standard Time and was clocked in here at 5:38 p. m. British time (12:38 p. m. EST).

A Pan American Airways pilot, Blair took the time record from a Pan American Stratocruiser. The Stratocruiser, piloted by Capt. Charles Titus of Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., made the eastward crossing Nov. 22, 1949, with 24 passengers in eight hours and 55 minutes. Strong tail winds helped in both cases.

Weather Forecast
Occasional rain with rising temperature today; tomorrow cloudy, windy and colder.

WAGE "FREEZE" IS RELAXED

Soft And Hard Coal Diggers Will Get Boost

Order Lifting Coal Price Lid Drafted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The government today eased its five-day-old wage "freeze" for 475,000 coal miners and perhaps many thousands of others caught in the federal crackdown on inflation.

Simultaneously, the Office of Price Stabilization prepared an order lifting the price lid on coal prices to match the wage boost.

By a 6 to 3 vote, the Wage Stabilization Board approved all wage raises agreed upon by the Jan. 25 "freeze" date—providing the raises apply to a pay period beginning Feb. 9 or earlier.

At first, board officials were undecided whether the new order would apply only to a $1.60-a-day wage hike for 400,000 soft coal miners or also take in a similar raise for 75,000 hard-coal miners.

Tonight the board's executive director, W. Willard Wirtz, ruled that it applied to both.

Wirtz said the hard-coal agreement had actually been negotiated with "a meeting of minds in every substantial way" before the Jan. 25 deadline, even though the contract was not signed until Jan. 26.

Possible Strike Headed Off

Both the soft and hard coal contracts are effective tomorrow, Feb. 1.

Wirtz's ruling, in the board's first tight situation, took the pressure off a possible strike by the hard-coal miners and seemingly pointed the way for other "flexible" interpretations of the general freeze order.

Board officials said at least 50 other contracts—and perhaps 10 times that many—are affected by the order.

Officials said, however, the wage "thaw" will not apply to cases still in the process of negotiation or arbitration. Such cases will have to be submitted to the board for special consideration when decisions or agreements are reached.

Court Order Is Sought To Halt Railroad Tieup

U.S. Seeks Quick Assembly Verdict Against Peiping

Two-Point Course Of Action Planned

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 31 (AP) — The United States strove tonight for a quick verdict by the United Nations General Assembly on an American-backed resolution calling Red China the aggressor in Korea.

Once that approval has been obtained, high diplomatic circles said, the United States would press for a two-point course of action. One would be immediate efforts by a high-calibre three-man good offices committee to seek a settlement. The second would be intensive consultations among members of a 14-nation collective measures committee on what to do about meeting the Chinese aggression. Informed circles here said the American position on sanctions, if any, would depend finally on the results of these consultations.

The assembly was called by President Nasrollah Entezam, Iran, to meet at 10:45 a. m. E.S.T. tomorrow in an extraordinary session at Lake Success instead of in the huge assembly hall at Flushing Meadow.

The Political Committee last night approved the United States resolution, 44 to 7.

Sir Bengal N. Rau, Indian delegate who lost a stubborn campaign to put off the American proposal and make instead another cease-fire appeal to Red China, was asked what India's position would be after the American resolution is passed by the General Assembly. Rau told a reporter:

"We shall continue to do our best for peace."

The Asian-Arab group was said to be undecided whether to renew in the Assembly the fight it made in the Political Committee against the American resolution and for another approach to Peiping.

Now that Assembly approval is certain, the United States was reported in diplomatic circles to be shaping up plans for the two committees created under the resolution, the good offices group and the collective measures committee.

WAVEs Not Getting 142 Dresses Each

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Navy denied tonight that it has placed an order for 1,350,000 summer uniform dresses for its little band of 9,500 WAVES and women marines.

Earlier in the day Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Housed Armed Services Committee said he would inquire into the reported order, which would amount to about 142 dresses per person.

A Navy spokesman told reporters there were only two orders outstanding, one for 4,615 dresses from a Baltimore concern, and another for 26,178 from a Minneapolis company. There is no 1,350,000 order, he said.

After Record Flight

Capt. Charles Blair waves from the cockpit of his modified single-engine F-51 Mustang at London's airport yesterday after smashing all records for a flight from New York. Blair, 41, streaked over the London airport just seven hours and 48 minutes after his dawn takeoff from New York. (Story at bottom of page).

Truman Plans $16.5 Billion Tax Boost, History's Biggest

Might Mean 20% Hike In Income Levy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—President Truman unveiled to a congressional group today the biggest tax-boosting program in history—$16,500,000,000 to put the defense effort on a pay-as-you-go basis. He asked that it be split into two packages, one a $10,000,000,000 "quickie" bill.

This might mean an early increase in individual income taxes, possibly by about 20 per cent. But there was no suggestion of a retail sales tax.

The President made an extraordinary bid for bi-partisan support, inviting the 10 House Ways and Means Committee Republicans, as well as the 15 Democrats, to the White House to see the wraps taken off the program.

Heretofore only Democrats have been invited to such previews of impending tax recommendations.

Some members promptly suggested to the President that economy—by cutting the $71,600,000,000 budget—would relieve some of the need for huge tax increases.

Budget "Padding" Charged

Rep. Reed (NY), senior Republican on the tax-writing committee, has claimed that budget is "padded" and the President had "included the major part of his 'Fair Deal' socialistic program in the guise of defense projects."

All those present at the White House, Republicans as well as Democrats, were requested to keep the tax discussion secret, until Mr. Truman formally transmits his special tax message to Congress on Friday.

But from later discussions on Capitol Hill, newsmen got indications the President will ask for a two-package approach, with the first bill to collect some $10,000,000,000 in about this manner:

Individuals—Increase by about $4,000,000,000 the income levies on over $50,000,000 taxpayers—an overall rise of about 20 per cent, although not all taxpayers would have that size increase. The money may come from a boost of four percentage points in each income tax bracket. The first $2,000 of taxable income would bear a 24 per cent rate, instead of the present 20 per cent; the second $2,000 would go at 26 per cent instead of 22, and so on up. There was no indication that the President is thinking at this time of lowering the present $600 personal exemption to $500.

Corporation Tax Hike

Corporations—Increase by about $3,000,000,000, raising the present 47 per cent on corporation income to perhaps about 55 per cent; and probably adjusting the present 77 per cent excess profits tax. The corporate normal rate has been boosted from 38 per cent to 47 per cent since the Korean war commenced. The highest it got in World War II was 40 per cent.

Excises—Pick up more billions by broadening the levies and raising rates in the excise tax field. Some tax writers believe this might cause an increase in the liquor tax from $9 to $12 a gallon, and boost in wine, beer, cigarets, gasoline and some other excises, as well as putting the levy on new items.

Training Center Probe Ordered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP) — A "complete and thorough investigation" of all the basic training centers of the Army, Navy and Air Force was ordered late today by the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee.

Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) of the Senate group told reporters he had directed the inquiry "as a precautionary measure."

It is a direct outgrowth of complaints, now under investigation, that Lackland Air Force base in Texas was so overcrowded that recruits lacked proper housing and clothing and were suffering hardship. The Air Force has denied the complaints but is making its own inquiry.

Johnson said Congress wants to be certain that adequate indoctrination and training centers are available before the lawmakers pass upon drafting of 18-year-olds or any other methods of building up the armed services.

Constitutional Convention Measure Slips By Initial Test In Legislature

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — Legislation to call a convention to rewrite Maryland's constitution slipped by its first General Assembly test today by a one-vote margin.

But it picked up so much added strength as the day progressed that observers were predicting freely it would gain final House approval within a few days.

What would happen to it in the Senate was still anyone's guess.

The highly-controversial measure resulted from a referendum last November at which the electorate voted approval of a constitutional convention by a margin of almost 4 to 1.

The General Assembly, however, has the final say.

Many delegates and senators from the smaller counties are opposed to a convention.

But Baltimore City legislators and some from the counties with heavy populations want one.

These were the day's developments on the bill:

1—The House Judiciary Committee approved it 10-9, and Chairman Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd) said he would bring his committee's report to the full House at the afternoon session.

2—But, when the session started, Dempsey found that many delegates were absent because of the snow and sleet.

3—He announced to the House that he would hold the bill until tomorrow, so it could come before "a more representative House."

4—Opponents of the measure, headed by Delegates Lankford (D-Anne Arundel), Brinsfield (D-Dorchester) and Cannon (D-Wicomico), seeing what they believed a good opportunity to upset the committee's report and sink the bill, sought to bring it to the floor, anyway. Fourteen Baltimore City delegates were in the list of absentees.

5—Much to the surprise of both the backers and opponents, the move which would have placed the bill on the floor failed by a 56-41 margin.

6—That vote could be considered as a good indication of how those present will answer the roll call on succeeding House tests on the convention proposal.

U. Of Md. Board Of Regents Votes To Admit Negro

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—The University of Maryland's board of regents today voted to accept the first negro undergraduate to College Park.

The state's biracial system of education must be abandoned, the regents said in a statement, unless actual equality is provided negro schools. And this policy, the board said, is the direct responsibility of the State Legislature.

The action was brought on by a court suit by Hiram T. Whittle, 20-year-old Baltimore negro, to force his acceptance into the university's college of engineering.

Last Monday the state informed the courts it would submit a consent decree in Whittle's case—meaning it would not protest it.

Gen. 'Ike' Reports To Truman, Other Top U. S. Officials

Takes His Proposals To Congress Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told President Truman and the other top officials of government today about the progress and prospects of the defense of Europe against Communism as he sees them after 21 days on the scene.

What the supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty organization forces had to say at the White House was a closely-guarded secret, as was his subsequent conference at the Pentagon with the executive body of the North Atlantic Military Committee.

Flies In Sleet Storm

The five-star General flew into Washington in a driving sleet storm to give his advice, first privately to the President, then to the Cabinet and other principal executives, and later to his associates in the command of the West's defenses against the Soviet threat.

Tomorrow he goes to Capitol Hill with his report and recommendations. The next day his message will be directly to the people, by radio.

It is generally predicted that he will report a need for more American troops on the continent, recently a subject of sharp debate at the Capitol, and for a strenuous cooperative effort by all the Atlantic pact nations.

General Non-Commital

The General was strictly non-commital today in public.

The closest he came to saying anything about the subject of all his efforts of the past month was at the close of the session at the White House:

"I can still hope."

That was his response when a reporter reminded him that when he set out on his Western Europe tour he had expressed hope that the West's defense efforts would lead to peace, tranquillity and security, and asked if he still felt that way.

1,000,000th Yank May Die In Spring

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—A new unknown soldier soon may fall on a Korean battlefield — the millionth American fighting man to die in all wars in U. S. history—the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies predicted today.

The association called the potential victim "GI-X" and said he "may be killed during the spring or even sooner if Korean casualties become heavier."

The association reported that military deaths in all American wars, including Korea, reached 994,000 near the end of January.

Chinese Reds Unexpectedly Cease Attacks

Heavy Casualties Suffered By Enemy

TOKYO, Thursday, Feb. 1 (AP) — Allied troops renewed their eight-day-old offensive at dawn today in Western Korea—and met no opposition at the outset.

The jump-off followed a night of strange silence in which the Chinese Reds ceased entirely the counterattacks they had pressed at heavy loss on Wednesday.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported in a field dispatch at 9 a. m. (7 p. m. EST Wednesday):

"Officers said either the Chinese were holding back in preparation for a large scale counterattack or else they had made local withdrawals farther into their main line of resistance as a result of heavy casualties suffered in yesterday's (Wednesday's) bitter fighting."

Planes Blast Convoys

At the beginning of today's push, Puerto Rican and U. S. troops advanced unopposed deeper into the entrenchment - studded hills constituting the enemy's main defenses south of the Han River.

Allied planes spotted and attacked 400 enemy vehicles moving toward the front Wednesday night in the western sector.

Allied troops mowed down Chinese Wednesday in hand-to-hand combat, roaring artillery barrages and blistering air strikes.

The Chinese rushed up reinforcements as the Allies attacked with grenades and bayonets in the pine-clad hills north of Suwon and Kumyangjang.

Twenty thousand Reds were spotted moving up in the Kumyangjang sector, one source said. Kumjangyang is 23 miles southeast of Seoul.

The U. S. Tenth Corps in Central Korea also jumped to the attack, joining the U. S. First and Ninth Corps already engaged to the west. The Tenth moved ahead about 500 yards against light opposition and then ran into heavy fire.

Little Change In Position

There was little change in front line positions Wednesday as the two great forces in Western Korea locked in flaming combat. One Allied patrol last was reported but seven miles south of Seoul.

To meet the swelling Allied offensive, the Chinese also were said to have patched up their badly-mauled 50th Army south of Seoul. They brought in elements of their 38th, 39th and 40th Armies from the Seoul area.

The saw-toothed front runs east-west between Seoul, the Red-held capital of Republican South Korea, and the airbase city of Suwon 17 miles to the south.

Associated Press Correspondent Jim Becker reported from the front that the northernmost Allied position was nine miles north of Suwon.

The well dug-in enemy refused to break under the great assault.

"This is undoubtedly their main line of defense south of the Han River," a regimental commander was quoted in a pooled dispatch from the front.

Baltimore Transit Walkout Called Off

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Union employes of the Baltimore Transit Company today called off a strike set for tomorrow morning and apparently will settle for a one-year contract granting an eight-cent wage boost.

Clayton Perry, president of the AFL local, emphasized the 3,200 bus and trolley operators and maintenance men would have to approve the proposal by ballot, but there appeared slight chance of its being turned down now that it had Perry's approval.

Representatives of the company and the union met with Mayor D'Alesandro last night and worked out the proposal. The firm's board of directors met in emergency session today and notified Perry of its acceptance.

Sabotage Hinted As Bridge Falls In Canada, Killing Four

THREE RIVERS, Que., Jan. 31 (AP) —Nearly half of the new $3,000,000 Duplessis bridge dropped with a thunderous crash into the St. Maurice River today. Four persons, caught in their cars on collapsing spans, fell to an icy death. Quebec Premier Maurice Duplessis charged the bridge was "sabotaged by subversive elements."

Mayor J. A. Mongrain said the catastrophe "could have been avoided" and called a special meeting of the City Council to look into the los of the broad steel and concrete structure.

The nine-span highway bridge, more than a third of a mile long, was closed to heavy traffic for a time last winter until cracks could be repaired. It was opened in June, 1948, by Premier Duplessis and named for him, a native of Three Rivers.

Premier Duplessis told the Quebec Legislature tonight there would be a government inquiry.

He said he believed sabotage was involved for two reasons: First, because of the "timing" in the early morning, and second, because it was "the Duplessis bridge." He recalled that he is responsible for the Quebec "padlock law," by which establishments suspected of subversive or Communist connections may be closed.

Four 180-foot spans of the bridge collapsed at 2:55 a. m., carrying away telephone lines linking Quebec and Montreal. The bridge crosses the St. Maurice River where it joins the St. Lawrence, and connects Three Rivers with Cap De La Madeleine on the opposite bank and with Quebec, 70 miles to the northeast.

New York-To-London Speed Mark Broken By U. S. Pilot

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP) — Airline Capt. Charles Blair landed his scarlet Mustang fighter plane in a blaze of red "Very" lights tonight, chalking up a fresh New York-to-London speed record of seven hours, 48 minutes. He clipped an hour and seven minutes off the old record.

Blyair said his only troubles were some icing in the early stages and a painfully tight pair of boots throughout.

As he clambered from the revamped fighter's cockpit and waved to a cheering crowd at London airport, he winced and declared: "The first thing I do is to get these boots off."

The "Very" lights, brilliant red flares, marked the end of the airport's main runway as Blair's plane, a flying gas tank named Excalibur III, skimmed down in the darkness.

He left New York's Idlewild Airport at 4:50 a. m. Eastern Standard Time and was clocked in here at 5:38 p. m. British time (12:38 p. m. EST).

A Pan American Airways pilot, Blair took the time record from a Pan American Stratocruiser. The Stratocruiser, piloted by Capt. Charles Titus of Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., made the eastward crossing Nov. 22, 1949, with 24 passengers in eight hours and 55 minutes. Strong tail winds helped in both cases.

21 German War Criminals Are Spared Gallows

Arms King Krupp, Eight Aides Freed

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 31 (AP)—United States officials today saved from the gallows 21 convicted German war criminals, including six involved in the notorous Malmedy massacre, and freed the imprisoned arms king, Alfried Krupp, and eight of his aides.

The sweeping revision of U. S. war crimes sentences means no German will be executed for the Malmedy massacre, in which several hundred unarmed GI prisoners of war and Belgian civilians were murdered in the Battle of the Bulge.

Fifteen of the 21 saved from death were ordered to serve life terms and the others from nine to 25 years.

The greatest mass clemency by any Allied power since the war came in the midst of efforts to woo Germans into Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's European army and German demands that the "honor of the German soldier" be restored before Germans take up arms again.

U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy and Gen. Thomas T. Handy, U. S. military commander, also:

1. Confirmed the death sentences of seven.

2. Granted immediate freedom to 33 prisoners, including Krupp and his aides and former Air Force Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Speidel, brother of former Gen. Hans Speidel, who is one of the negotiators with the Western Powers on rearmament. Krupp had been serving a 12-year sentence, Lt. Gen. Speidel 20 years.

3. Shortened the prison terms of 36.

4. Announced that more than 400 other prison sentences fixed by U. S. war crimes courts are being reviewed.

5. Restored the property rights of 42-year-old Krupp in the sprawling $500,000,000 munitions empire confiscated by Hitler in 1943 and administered by the Allies since the war.

GRIM WARNING—Dick Martinez, coroner's assistant, look at signs on the stairs of a Los Angeles apartment house left by Nathan Goldberg, 71. Upstairs, Goldberg's body was found in a gas-filled room. A note he left behind indicated he had been brooding over the death of his wife two months ago.

Road Program Is At Standstill

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Maryland's $200,000,000 highway overhaul program virtually is at a standstill.

Russell H. McCain, Frederick, new Republican chairman of the State Roads Commission, said today no new contracts have been let in the past two weeks.

Two reasons are assigned:

1. The state's Court of Appeals has before it a test case on the validity of wage rates set for state construction jobs by a commission on prevailing wages.

2. Theodore R. McKeldin, Maryland's new Republican governor, has declared he wants to "re-examine the whole roads program."

The highway overhaul program was launched in 1947 by the administration of former Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr. Several of its most important projects are now at a stage where new contracts must be let before they can be completed.

Chairman McCain announced he has written Gov. McKeldin asking that he confer with the new roads commission to determine exactly what was meant by "re-examination" of the program.

Truck Firms Accused Of Violating ICC Laws

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31 (AP) — Trucking companies in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania are among 11 firms charged today with violating Interstate Commerce Commission laws.

U. S. Attorney Edward C. Boyle accused the companies of leasing ICC certificates to non-certified firms. Named in the charges were:

Maryland Transportation Company, Frederick, Md., Keystone Motor Express, Inc., Huntington, W. Va., and Gibbons Motor Express, Washington, Pa.

Hulk Of Independence Sunk In Weapon Test

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31 (AP) — The battered hulk of the aircraft carrier Independence lies off the Central California coast in 3,000 feet of water.

In a formal statement which gave no information beyond that, the Navy said the carrier was sunk "after a weapons test that was completed without incident."

The Independence, wrecked deliberately in the atom bomb tests at Bikini in 1946, was towed to sea last Thursday from the Navy shipyard here.

Fairchild Pickets Target Of Bomb

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) —A bomb which failed to go off and a suggestion for a secret ballot among the 4,700 strikers today enlivened the 24-day walkout of Fairchild aviation division here.

Deputy Sheriff Leister Isanogle said pickets at Fairchild plant No. 2 told him the bomb was tossed near them at 1:30 a. m. from a car which did not stop.

When the bomb, about the size of a gallon can, hit the ground its lighted fuse broke off. A former Army chemical officer identified it later as a flare bomb used in combat to spurt flame for signal purposes.

Isanogle said he would have it examined for finger prints and would make an investigation to see who threw it and where it came from.

The call for a secret ballot among the strikers was made by Mayor Herman L. Mills. He suggested such a vote might show the rank and file want to return to work.

Bill Would Let Courts Set Execution Dates

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — Sen. Melnicove (D-Balto 4th) proposed today that the court which sentences a person to death also fix the date of execution instead of the governor.

Melnicove introduced a bill that would take the responsibility for setting execution dates away from the governor on June 1.

The judge or judges presiding at trials would set a week for execution after pronouncing the death sentence. It would be up to the warden of the state penitentiary to select the day.

State Workers Seek Hike, Other Benefits

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — The Maryland Classified Employes Association today urged pay raises and other benefits totaling more than $4,000,000 for state workers.

Association officers asked Gov. McKeldin to support a series of 1951 legislative proposals headed by "equitable salary increases for all state employes, on at least a cost-of-living adjustment basis."

"I'm in favor of doing all we can for them," McKeldin said afterward. "How much we can do depends on the money we have."

Albert S. Gordon, president of the union of state personnel, estimated proposed benefits would cost between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Internal Security Act Is Challenged By U.S. Communists

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Communist Party filed a court action today contending the Internal Security Act is an unconstitutional "blueprint for fascism." It asked an injunction to keep Attorney General McGrath and the subversive activities control board from proceeding to require the party to register under the act.

The party also asked for a three-judge court to hear its challenge of constitutionality of the law passed last year over President Truman's veto.

The action was filed in Federal District Court here on behalf of the party, William Z. Foster, its chairman, and Gus Hall, its national secretary. The suit was directed against McGrath and the five members of the Subversive Activities Control Board, whose chairman is Seth W. Richardson.

American Commie Glad To Be Back In U. S. After Trip To Iron Curtain

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP) — An outcast American Communist, who tried to make a pilgrimage to his Soviet shrine, came home today "glad to be back and sorry I left—even temporarily."

He was Arden Perin, 29, who said he found the going tough behind the iron curtain.

"Some people learn the expensive way," he said of his trip.

Perin, a marine engineer, came home on the liner Washington, with his wife, Lilyan, 25, and their six-months-old daughter, Dolores.

"I've lost my interest in Communism after seeing it in practice," he told newsmen.

Perin, short and dark-haired, said his family flew to Finland last Nov. 28 where he planned to get a job. It didn't materialize.

He said he then tried to go to Russia, but authorities would not let him in.

So Perin and his family went to Prague, in Soviet-dominated Czechoslovakia.

He said they were placed under house arrest and treated "very brutally, not physically, but mentally."

Finally, Perin said, Czech officials gave him two hours to get out of the country or else be sent to Russia "where they know how to treat your kind."

Perin, with no further yen for Russia, took the hint.

REYKJAVIK, Feb. 1 (Thursday) (INS)—An Icelandic airliner carrying 17 passengers and three crewmen was reported missing tonight in a blizzard off the south coast of Iceland.

W. Va. Senate Whips Bonus Bill Into Shape

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Senate tried to anticipate all eventualities today in whipping the veterans' bonus legislation into final shape for passage.

On the one hand, it made the $90,000,000 20-year bond issue callable in 10 years, just in case the state might have the money on hand in 1961 to wipe the bonus slate clean.

On the other hand, it inserted a "convenant of the state" clause in one of the bills designed to allay any fears of the bond purchasers. This claus would guarantee that the state would resort to an income tax or increased consumer's sales taxes should the levies on liquor, beer and cigarets prove insufficient to retire the bonds.

The Senate did its pruning and cutting on the House versions of the five bonus bills. They will be on the calendar for final vote of the Senate tomorrow.

Trucker Is Killed

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 31 (AP)—A trailer truck went out of control on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, struck an automobile and rolled down an embankment today, killing the truck driver instantly.

The victim was Emerson A. Viney, 22, London, O. The driver of the auto was Clark Cornwell, 24, White Post, Va. He suffered minor injuries.

Total property damage was estimated at $14,000.

Counterfeiting Was His Hobby

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Harry Delorme, Jr., 37, had an interesting hobby but the government thinks he made a poor choice. He counterfeited money.

Because investigators showed he never had passed any of the homemade $20 bills he printed just for fun, Federal Judge William J. Campbell placed him on probation for three years.

Delorme, a commercial artist, pleaded guilty to having counterfeiting equipment.

Barbara Stanwyck Files Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31 (AP) — Barbara Stanwyck sued Robert Taylor for divorce today, complaining that she is tired of "being a long distance telephone wife."

A spokesman for the actress amplified:

"They never could get together. They were always separated by a studio gate, a mountain or an ocean."

The screen stars, whose 11-year childless marriage supposedly had made them one of Hollywood's happiest couples, surprised even their friends by announcing their separation Dec. 15. The breakup came shortly after Taylor returned from nearly a year in Italy doing film work.

and nervous feelings several days before . . . with Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—truly 'the woman's friend'"

"Several days just before my period I'd feel so nervous, irritable, so restless, easily upset at the slightest thing—due to female functional monthly disturbances. I asked my druggist for something to take, and he told me Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I get simply amazing relief from this distress. Pinkham's Compound also relieves monthly headache, backache and thosemiserable 'bearing-down' pains—due to this cause. Taken regularly—it helps build up resistance against such distress.
"What also impressed me about Lydia Pinkham's Compound is that it's made strictly from nature's roots and herbs (plus Vitamin B1). There are no harmful drugs in it. This is really a great comfort. I wish you girls troubled this way would give this great medicine a fair trial."
P. S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in a little fruit juice or just plain water. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron—pleasant to take and easy to carry in your purse.

21 German War Criminals Are Spared Gallows

Arms King Krupp, Eight Aides Freed

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 31 (AP)—United States officials today saved from the gallows 21 convicted German war criminals, including six involved in the notorous Malmedy massacre, and freed the imprisoned arms king, Alfried Krupp, and eight of his aides.

The sweeping revision of U. S. war crimes sentences means no German will be executed for the Malmedy massacre, in which several hundred unarmed GI prisoners of war and Belgian civilians were murdered in the Battle of the Bulge.

Fifteen of the 21 saved from death were ordered to serve life terms and the others from nine to 25 years.

The greatest mass clemency by any Allied power since the war came in the midst of efforts to woo Germans into Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's European army and German demands that the "honor of the German soldier" be restored before Germans take up arms again.

U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy and Gen. Thomas T. Handy, U. S. military commander, also:

1. Confirmed the death sentences of seven.

2. Granted immediate freedom to 33 prisoners, including Krupp and his aides and former Air Force Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Speidel, brother of former Gen. Hans Speidel, who is one of the negotiators with the Western Powers on rearmament. Krupp had been serving a 12-year sentence, Lt. Gen. Speidel 20 years.

3. Shortened the prison terms of 36.

4. Announced that more than 400 other prison sentences fixed by U. S. war crimes courts are being reviewed.

5. Restored the property rights of 42-year-old Krupp in the sprawling $500,000,000 munitions empire confiscated by Hitler in 1943 and administered by the Allies since the war.

GRIM WARNING—Dick Martinez, coroner's assistant, look at signs on the stairs of a Los Angeles apartment house left by Nathan Goldberg, 71. Upstairs, Goldberg's body was found in a gas-filled room. A note he left behind indicated he had been brooding over the death of his wife two months ago.

Internal Security Act Is Challenged By U.S. Communists

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Communist Party filed a court action today contending the Internal Security Act is an unconstitutional "blueprint for fascism." It asked an injunction to keep Attorney General McGrath and the subversive activities control board from proceeding to require the party to register under the act.

The party also asked for a three-judge court to hear its challenge of constitutionality of the law passed last year over President Truman's veto.

The action was filed in Federal District Court here on behalf of the party, William Z. Foster, its chairman, and Gus Hall, its national secretary. The suit was directed against McGrath and the five members of the Subversive Activities Control Board, whose chairman is Seth W. Richardson.

American Commie Glad To Be Back In U.S. After Trip To Iron Curtain

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP) — An outcast American Communist, who tried to make a pilgrimage to his Soviet shrine, came home today "glad to be back and sorry I left—even temporarily."

He was Arden Perin, 29, who said he found the going tough behind the iron curtain.

"Some people learn the expensive way," he said of his trip.

Perin, a marine engineer, came home on the liner Washington, with his wife, Lilyan, 25, and their six-months-old daughter, Dolores.

"I've lost my interest in Communism after seeing it in practice," he told newsmen.

Perin, short and dark-haired, said his family flew to Finland last Nov. 28 where he planned to get a job. It didn't materialize.

He said he then tried to go to Russia, but authorities would not let him in.

So Perin and his family went to Prague, in Soviet-dominated Czechoslovakia.

He said they were placed under house arrest and treated "very brutally, not physically, but mentally."

Finally, Perin said, Czech officials gave him two hours to get out of the country or else be sent to Russia "where they know how to treat your kind."

Perin, with no further yen for Russia, took the hint.

REYKJAVIK, Feb. 1 (Thursday) (INS)—An Icelandic airliner carrying 17 passengers and three crewmen was reported missing tonight in a blizzard off the south coast of Iceland.

W. Va. Senate Whips Bonus Bill Into Shape

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Senate tried to anticipate all eventualities today in whipping the veterans' bonus legislation into final shape for passage.

On the one hand, it made the $90,000,000 20-year bond issue callable in 10 years, just in case the state might have the money on hand in 1961 to wipe the bonus slate clean.

On the other hand, it inserted a "convenant of the state" clause in one of the bills designed to allay any fears of the bond purchasers. This claus would guarantee that the state would resort to an income tax or increased consumer's sales taxes should the levies on liquor, beer and cigarets prove insufficient to retire the bonds.

The Senate did its pruning and cutting on the House versions of the five bonus bills. They will be on the calendar for final vote of the Senate tomorrow.

Trucker Is Killed

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 31 (AP)—A trailer truck went out of control on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, struck an automobile and rolled down an embankment today, killing the truck driver instantly.

The victim was Emerson A. Viney, 22, London, O. The driver of the auto was Clark Cornwell, 24, White Post, Va. He suffered minor injuries.

Total property damage was estimated at $14,000.

Fairchild Pickets Target Of Bomb

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 31 (AP)—A bomb which failed to go off and a suggestion for a secret ballot among the 4,700 strikers today enlivened the 24-day walkout of Fairchild aviation division here.

Deputy Sheriff Leister Isanogle said pickets at Fairchild plant No. 2 told him the bomb was tossed near them at 1:30 a. m. from a car which did not stop.

When the bomb, about the size of a gallon can, hit the ground its lighted fuse broke off. A former Army chemical officer identified it later as a flare bomb used in combat to spurt flame for signal purposes.

Isanogle said he would have it examined for finger prints and would make an investigation to see who threw it and where it came from.

The call for a secret ballot among the strikers was made by Mayor Herman L. Mills. He suggested such a vote might show the rank and file want to return to work.

Road Program Is At Standstill

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Maryland's $200,000,000 highway overhaul program virtually is at a standstill.

Russell H. McCain, Frederick, new Republican chairman of the State Roads Commission, said today no new contracts have been let in the past two weeks.

Two reasons are assigned:

1. The state's Court of Appeals has before it a test case on the validity of wage rates set for state construction jobs by a commission on prevailing wages.

2. Theodore R. McKeldin, Maryland's new Republican governor, has declared he wants to "re-examine the whole roads program."

The highway overhaul program was launched in 1947 by the administration of former Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr. Several of its most important projects are now at a stage where new contracts must be let before they can be completed.

Chairman McCain announced he has written Gov. McKeldin asking that he confer with the new roads commission to determine exactly what was meant by "re-examination" of the program.

Truck Firms Accused Of Violating ICC Laws

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31 (AP) — Trucking companies in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania are among 11 firms charged today with violating Interstate Commerce Commission laws.

U. S. Attorney Edward C. Boyle accused the companies of leasing ICC certificates to non-certified firms. Named in the charges were: Maryland Transportation Company, Frederick, Md., Keystone Motor Express, Inc., Huntington, W. Va., and Gibbons Motor Express, Washington, Pa.

Hulk Of Independence Sunk In Weapon Test

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31 (AP) — The battered hulk of the aircraft carrier Independence lies off the Central California coast in 3,000 feet of water.

In a formal statement which gave no information beyond that, the Navy said the carrier was sunk "after a weapons test that was completed without incident."

The Independence, wrecked deliberately in the atom bomb tests at Bikini in 1946, was towed to sea last Thursday from the Navy shipyard here.

Bill Would Let Courts Set Execution Dates

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — Sen. Melnicove (D-Balto 4th) proposed today that the court which sentences a person to death also fix the date of execution instead of the governor.

Melnicove introduced a bill that would take the responsibility for setting execution dates away from the governor on June 1.

The judge or judges presiding at trials would set a week for execution after pronouncing the death sentence. It would be up to the warden of the state penitentiary to select the day.

State Workers Seek Hike, Other Benefits

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — The Maryland Classified Employes Association today urged pay raises and other benefits totaling more than $4,000,000 for state workers.

Association officers asked Gov. McKeldin to support a series of 1951 legislative proposals headed by "equitable salary increases for all state employes, on at least a cost-of-living adjustment basis."

"I'm in favor of doing all we can for them," McKeldin said afterward. "How much we can do depends on the money we have."

Albert S. Gordon, president of the union of state personnel, estimated proposed benefits would cost beween $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Counterfeiting Was His Hobby

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Harry Delorme, Jr., 37, had an interesting hobby but the government thinks he made a poor choice. He counterfeited money.

Because investigators showed he never had passed any of the homemade $20 bills he printed just for fun, Federal Judge William J. Campbell placed him on probation for three years.

Delorme, a commercial artist, pleaded guilty to having counterfeiting equipment.

Barbara Stanwyck Files Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31 (AP) — Barbara Stanwyck sued Robert Taylor for divorce today, complaining that she is tired of "being a long distance telephone wife."

A spokesman for the actress amplified:

"They never could get together They were always separated by a studio gate, a mountain or an ocean."

The screen stars, whose 11-year childless marriage supposedly had made them one of Hollywood's happiest couples, surprised even their friends by announcing their separation Dec. 15. The breakup came shortly after Taylor returned from nearly a year in Italy doing film work.

"How I Relieve Distress of Monthly Female Complaints
and nervous feelings several days before... with Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—truly 'the woman's friend'"

"Several days just before my period I'd feel so nervous, irritable, so restless, easily upset at the slightest thing—due to female functional monthly disturbances. I asked my druggist for something to take, and he told me Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I get simply amazing relief from this distress. Pinkham's Compound also relieves monthly headache, backache and thosemiserable 'bearing-down' pains—due to this cause. Taken regularly—it helps build up resistance against such distress.

"What also impressed me about Lydia Pinkham's Compound is that it's made strictly from nature's roots and herbs (plus Vitamin B_1). There are no harmful drugs in it. This is really a great comfort. I wish you girls troubled this way would give this great medicine a fair trial."

P. S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in a little fruit juice or just plain water. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron—pleasant to take and easy to carry in your purse.

Dr. Pullin Stresses Need For Teacher Pay Increase

The State of Maryland and Allegany county will be faced with a tremendous task in maintaining the schools in the event teachers leave their posts for more remunerative jobs in industry in the next few years.

Many are leaving school now, according to Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent of schools. In this county, six have left in the past few months, Charles L. Kopp reported yesterday.

In the General Assembly there is a movement for a general wage increase for teachers. Most legislators realize one way to keep teachers in the schools is to pay them better salaries.

Labor May Back Bill

The Associated Press quotes House Speaker Luber (D-Balto-5th) as commenting yesterday "We cannot afford to wait until the loss of teachers is critical. Action would be necessary regardless of where the money comes from."

Senate President Della (D-Balto-6th) said he may personally sponsor a bill to raise teachers' salaries. It depends largely on whether any unallocated money lies in the $23,500,000 fund for hospital construction he said.

Kopp said the $2,400 starting pay for new teachers in this county is not sufficient for a married man with a family.

He said the school system is getting many ex-GI's who were married during college years and have one or more children.

With meat a dollar a pound and coffee a dollar a pound, high rents, income tax, and other costs to be met, he doesn't blame them for leaving the teaching profession for more lucrative positions in industry.

Local Conference Held

The Allegany County Board of Education is awaiting state action on the pay raise. The county teachers association and the board had a discussion several weeks ago, Kopp said, to survey the economic situation.

According to school officials two important facts facing citizens today as this pay raise comes to the action stage are:

1. Schools must be maintained and teachers should not leave here as they did during World War II because of needed pay.

2. Teachers do not have enough to make ends meet.

All of this is in view of the peak enrollment for the county which is to evolve in 1953 and 1954, Kopp added.

FEPC By Fiat?

A Fair Employment Practice Commission created by executive order is understood to be under consideration by President Truman. It would function during the present emergency to prevent discrimination by race, color or creed in employment in defense industries and also under government contracts or subcontracts.

An FEPC functioned for five years during World War II. It was set up by executive order of President Roosevelt in 1941. Congress later provided funds for this temporary FEPC but rejected an appropriation to continue it beyond the war period. Inasmuch as legislation of 1944 had forbidden any executive agency to use government funds for over a year unless Congress had appropriated for it, the wartime FEPC shut up shop in May, 1946.

The 1944 legislation is still on the statute books. And the Supplemental Appropriation Act for 1951 provides that none of an additional $10 million made available to the President for use in defense emergencies shall be used to finance programs for which appropriations heretofore have been denied by Congress.

The FEPC of 1941-46 received more than 12,000 complaints, managed to have the alleged discrimination in employment ended in almost 5,000 instances, dismissed about 6,000 complaints for lack of evidence or jurisdiction. Its jurisdiction was limited to employment in essential industries and in government agencies, and it had no power of subpoena.

Last year the House by vote of 221 to 178 substituted a "voluntary" FEPC bill for a bill creating an FEPC with enforcement powers. The substitute bill then was passed by vote of 240 to 177. A compulsory FEPC bill was brought up in the Senate but was stymied by a determined Southern filibuster. Under present conditions it is unlikely that funds for an FEPC set up by executive order could be got through Congress.

A fellow shouldn't give up in disgust when the little woman comes home from a shopping trip loaded with parcels. After all, as she will be quick to explain, he wouldn't want her to be so foolish as to pass up any ridiculously low-priced article.

General "Ike" Reports

"This principle of balanced collective forces is of great and perhaps revolutionary significance." Thus spoke Secretary of State Acheson in giving a report to an informal joint session of the Senate and House last May 31 on the London meeting of the Atlantic Foreign Ministers from which he had just returned.

Another informal joint session of Congress is to meet in the Library of Congress today to receive a report from General Eisenhower. He will discuss the practicability of the plans for defending Western Europe with collective forces, including American divisions.

Acheson submitted to questioning after his formal address. Thereby he revived the old proposal for regular question periods at which Cabinet members would be interrogated by members of the legislative branch.

Eisenhower will probably not be called upon to answer questions from the floor at today's meeting. However, he will later, at closed-door meetings of Senate and House committees, give details of what he found—and didn't find—on his recent inspection trip of Europe.

Laughs have been classified by a psychologist into sounds of A-A, E-E, I-I, O-O and U-U. But who cares when times are troublesome, as long as there is some kind of genuine, pleasant laughter now and then?

Great American Poet

It is strange that the foremost American poet of his day and one of the great newspaper editors of all time has not had his biography written for 45 years. This lack is about to be made good; a life of William Cullen Bryant is announced for speedy publication. The author is Henry H. Peckham, who has written various books on American literary history.

Bryant was an example of the frequent combination of genius with early precocity. He learned the alphabet at 16 months, turned the Book of Job into verse at 10, and at 12 knew the entire Greek New Testament by heart. After achieving great literary fame by the publication of his two finest poems, "Thanatopsis" and "To A Waterfowl," he settled down to his life career as editor of the New York Evening Post.

Like Irving, Cooper, Hawthorne, Melville and other great literary figures of his time, Bryant was a stanch follower of Andrew Jackson. The later indorsement of the slavery interests by the Democratic Party led him to join the Republican Party on its formation, and as an editor belonging to the governing party he had wide influence until his death in 1878.

He deserves to be brought anew to popular attention.

When setting up the family budget these days it is sometimes helpful to include a column of excuses for creditors.

Interception

Gen. Omar Bradley, top officer of the U. S. armed forces, had some words of cheer for the country—or at least words to ease some of the tension. He told a Senate subcommittee:

"The Army, Navy and Air Force that are planned are sufficient, in my opinion, to avert disaster for our country. There is little real danger now of the continental United States being invaded and overrun, so far as we can see."

But, he added no matter how strong the nation's defense air arm, "If a determined enemy is willing to expend the effort, some bombers will get through." Did he mean, possibly, a Pearl Harbor brand of getting through to one of the country's great cities? He couldn't rule out the possibility of the atomic sneak attack without a declaration of war. What he did say was that the country would not have to take a general plastering from the sky.

There is already some protection against the sneak attack, of course, and it will be improved steadily. There is radar on watch from aircraft and picket vessels at sea, from land-based stations around the continental perimeter, including the Arctic. Fighter planes are ready to take off and try to intercept a "bogy." The big bombers of General LeMay's Strategic Air Command are in constant readiness for long flights fully loaded. Air defense includes retaliation as well as interception.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Venereal Disease Education

THE SUBJECT of venereal disease is no longer taboo; it is aired freely in newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets. It is discussed over the radio, on billboards, and even from airplanes flying above the city. This is in marked contrast to grandma's day when the topic was classified in the hush-hush category.

Has this publicity produced the desired results? We believe that it has made the general public aware of the dangers and of the need for treatment but it has not banished venereal disease. Furthermore, in certain studies there was no evidence that these particular public health programs had any effect on sexual behavior. Surveys of this nature usually are made upon those who have acquired the disease and we will never know how many others were favorably influenced by the campaigns. Individuals who have not become infected are not likely to be interviewed on matters of this nature.

Promiscuity perpetuates venereal disease. It is obvious that an individual who has relations with ten persons stands a greater chance of becoming infected than if the contacts were confined to one. Education has helped to discourage promiscuity in home but not in certain groups such as the poorly educated and none too bright. Many have no concept of social welfare and come from broken, unstable homes. They also are heavy drinkers and seldom respond to scolding or sermons on their misconduct. However, when gonorrhea or syphilis is detected, they no longer neglect it. In this respect, education had been of value because the majority were made to realize the importance of treatment.

By contrast, in the better educated, the incidence of promiscuity has been reduced by general discussions of the hazards. The younger set also has been influenced. Many authorities believe that proper instruction of boys and girls is the answer. They should be taught the dangers of drinking too much. Furthermore, sex problems are less likely to arise when provisions are made for adequate community activities for young people. Programs of this nature also aid in making these youngsters more mature emotionally. When the time comes to marry and settle down, there is more chance of a successful marriage.

• — • — •

The problems associated with venereal education are not difficult. There is no secret as to how the diseases are transmitted. The two main types are syphilis and gonorrhea. The latter generally is localized to the area of contact and a discharge is the most frequent manifestation. The response to penicillin and other antibiotics is dramatic but if the disease is neglected serious complications may ensue. Syphilis is a more widespread malady and if untreated may affect the heart, brain, and other organs. The initial symptom usually is a painless sore (chancre) in or about the area of contact, which develops several weeks after the infection has been contracted. Good remedies are available and treatment is no longer tedious and prolonged over months or years as in the past.

TOMORROW: Dietary and insulin control of diabetes.

ERUPTION FROM MOVING?

Mrs. G. writes: Could moving from one section of the country to another cause the skin to break out in a rash? I never had an eruption before moving and nothing I put on the tiny blisters seems to help.

REPLY

This is a possibility, especially if allergy is a factor. On the other hand, there are so many types and cause of skin disorders that I doubt if moving is responsible. Even if you had stayed in the old homestead you might have developed the rash.

• — • — •

SNAKE SWALLOWING

Mrs. W. O. writes: Recently I was told something that seems unbelievable to me and I wish you would clear it up. I was told that if a baby snake is swallowed by a person it could live in his stomach and grow to full maturity. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Snakes require oxygen and if one were swallowed in all probability it would be killed by the acid in the stomach. On the other hand, intestinal worms usually are not swallowed but hatch from eggs that have been consumed. These eggs are protected from the stomach juices by a special coating until they can reach the colon.

• — • — •

ALLERGIC REACTIONS

Mrs. C. writes: I suffer from hives and when the welts appear my throat feels full and the area around my eyes swell. What could this be?

REPLY

All the symptoms you mention could be caused by allergy. The throat swelling and eyelid puffiness probably are manifestations of sensitivity in your case, just as in hives.

Truman Advisers Endorse St. Lawrence Seaway; Congressman Blatnick Calls For Quick Action; Chairman Wallgren Wants FPC Transferred To Colorado

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman and top advisers decided last week that the St. Lawrence Waterway, a raging issue in Congress for two decades, must no longer be delayed if the United States is to maintain a strong defense in the future.

Most surprising endorsement of the seaway came from Mobilization Boss Charles Wilson, who once opposed it. However, even such implacable foes as Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Rep. Charles Buckley of New York have now promised not to impede the proposed canal joining Detroit and Chicago with the Atlantic Ocean.

Citing the need for quick action, two-fisted Rep. John Blatnik of Minnesota, leading House crusader for the St. Lawrence Waterway, told the White House meeting: "There is no need for long hearings on this. We know the whole story from previous hearings. We also know that we face a serious deficit of iron ore for defense (steel) in the next few years unless we draw on the vast deposits in Labrador the proposed waterway can bring us."

"There's still another reason," suggested President Truman. "Canada has been waiting 41 years for us to help her construct the waterway and is getting impatient. If we don't move now, Canada may go ahead with the construction of the canal and electric-power development without our partnership. If that happens, there will be no joint control of the waterway. Instead, Canada will have complete control and ownership.

"Isn't it a lot better," continued the President, "to accept the joint partnership control Canada has offered us and make sure that our interests in this vital link to Canadian ore deposits are safeguarded in the future?"

"I think so," agreed Wilson, former head of General Electric. "When electric power was the main factor of the proposed seaway, I was against it, because there were other ways to get power. But navigation and the need for Canadian ore are now the paramount considerations."

Texas Tom Yields

Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman also supported Truman, as did two other potent figures at the closed-door conference, Maj. Gen. Lewis Pick, chief of Army Engineers, and GOP Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin.

Wiley remarked that if Truman "held a few more meetings like this one, I'll bet you could convince the railroad owners who have been blocking the seaway." Turning to Senator Connally, the Wisconsinite jibed: "Tom, you've done a little blocking yourself."

When the big Texan growled a denial, Wiley continued: "Well, then you've stacked subcommittees against the bill."

"What you mean to say is that I have refused to go along with you when you tried to get me to stack subcommittees with proponents of the St. Lawrence Waterway," shot back Connally.

However, Texas Tom made it clear that he wouldn't stand in the way if the majority of both houses favored the waterway. He then managed a smile when, sitting close to Wiley for a news picture, the Wisconsin Senator wisecracked: "I see you've shifted to my side."

Truman's Old Crony

It is now pretty well agreed that one of the best things Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia ever did was to stop the appointment of the President's crony, Mon Wallgren, to be chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

Thanks in part to Senator Byrd, the ex-Senator from Washington was shunted from the vitally important war board to what was considered a safe roosting place, the chairmanship of the Federal Power Commission.

Here, however, Wallgren has been such a flop that even his old friend in the White House is reported disappointed with him.

Wallgren's latest dilettantism is a move to transfer the Federal Power Commission to Colorado Springs—because the climate is better. Also Mon would be nearer his home state of Washington where he wants to run for the Senate again. Finally, Mon has some real estate in Southern California and he wants to be closer to it than Washington, D. C.

On top of this, Wallgren seems to have forgotten one of the most courageous battles ever staged by his friend in the White House—namely, Truman's veto of the Kerr Natural Gas Bill.

Vigorous wire-pullers for this bill were Senator Kerr, Oklahoma, and his silent oil partner, Phillips Petroleum. Phillips is now up for investigation by the FPC for unnecessarily hiking rates to the State of Wisconsin and the City of Detroit. Fear of these high rates was one reason why Truman vetoed the Kerr Bill. But despite this, Wallgren voted against his old friend in the White House to sidetrack the probe.

The investigation of Phillips was requested by Wisconsin and Detroit two long years ago. In that year—1948—Phillips paid dividends of 18.7 per cent on common stock and surplus, but even so, hiked its rates to northern gas users.

Pipeline Politics

Most recent move by Wallgren which is against Truman policy is to O.K. a $58,000,000 natural gas pipeline to New England for Texas Eastern—which cooperated with and helps to protect Koppers Coke, a part of the Andrew Mellon industrial empire. This line was opposed by both Democrat and Republican leaders in New England, including Gov. Sherman Adams and Senator Tobey of New Hampshire, both Republicans; and Senators McMahon of Connecticut and Green of Rhode Island, both Democrats. They favor the cheaper $38,000,000 Northeastern pipeline to New England, claim New England cannot afford to be saddled with two lines and such heavy expense.

NOTE—A lot of politics—both Democratic and Republican — is mixed up in this power commission maneuvering. On the Democratic side, it was Phillips Petroleum which conveniently put its private plane at the disposal of Democratic bigwigs to fly to Kansas City for the Bill Boyle dinner. On the Republican side it is Phillips Petroleum which hires Neil Tolman as its Washington lobbyist. Tolman, former campaign manager for GOP Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, is a potent means of reaching the Federal Power Commission. For Bridges packs powerful influence with Nelson Lee Smith, also from New Hampshire and GOP member of the Commission.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)

ALL EFFORTS having failed to wring from any responsible Washington official a positive comment on whether we plan to keep our forces in Korea or bring them home, one must search elsewhere for particulars.

James R. Young, of the Anderson (S.C.) Daily Mail, who served 15 years in the Orient for INS (some of it in a Japanese prison), sends me his thought on the trying problem:

"I have not seen stat an observation on what might happen if we did abruptly leave Korea. I submit one based on my years in that part of the world.

"Korea is a peninsula with several all year 'round ports open to shipping. Vladivostok, the U.S.S.R.'s Siberian port, is closed for several of the winter months, as are two ports in North Korea, Rashiu and Seishin. The Soviet Union, in seizing all of coveted Korea, would use it most certainly as a spring board for the planned attack on Japan.

"The Russian attack on Japan, I believe, would utilize Korean and and Chinese forces because it would be comparatively simple for the Russians to stir up the needed hatred of Japan. Both Korea and China have a long backlog of anti-Japanese feeling.

"In the event of a complete victory in Korea, and a well-planned attack on Japan from Korean bases, I believe that the massacre of Japanese and their American friends would be on an appalling scale.

"In Japan today there are at least 3,000,000 Japanese Communists whose leaders underwent extensive training in Moscow. We contributed to the Communist population by releasing all Japan Reds from their jails after V-J Day, and also we arranged for many Jap Communists, who had been exiled to China, to return home. In addition, Russia is training and indoctrinating a great many of the approximately 300,000 Japanese officers and troops she captured during the closing days of the war and took into Russia. They are sent back to Japan, to bore from within, just as soon as the Russians feel certain that they will remain Commies.

"The Japanese Communists would participate in the mass slaughter of the Emporer, still a symbol of unity, plus his family and associates during what could well be a revolution timed to coincide with the landing of traditional enemies on the Japanese beaches.

"If Japan falls under Russian influence (while Russia sits back and says that Korean and Chinese 'volunteers' did the whole thing out of fear that Japanese rearmament meant a rebirth of its imperialism) the Soviets would use the islands as bases for an attack on the United States.

"The entire northwest section of the U. S. can be hit, with comparative ease, from Japan. The Japanese proved that during World War II with their primitive armed balloons (one of which, incidentally, hit the main power lines leading to our vast plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash.)

"That kind of attack could be stepped up considerably, with the wind-borne balloons carrying not only bombs but poisons and blights which could be spread among the people, cattle and grain crops of the northwest; or incendiaries for its forests.

"Why don't you conduct a poll to see how our people feel about using the a-bomb now on Russia, rather than Red China? After all, the source of tanks, jets and submarines is not China. Or North Korea.

"Back in the early 1930's I asked some Chinese friends what they thought of Japan's view that Japan was attacking China 'to drive out Communism.' The Chinese replied, 'they should attack Communism at its source.'

"Still sounds like good advice."

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

Grandstand And Policy Making

WASHINGTON

THERE is one key fact, which hardly anyone seems to have noticed, in the mess we are in about China. The House has passed a ringing resolution. The Senate has followed suit. The American delegation is moving heaven and earth to get the United nations to brand China as an aggressor. But beyond the gentlest tap on the wrist, the Administration has not yet agreed how the Chinese are to be punished, when and if they are formally found guilty of their crime.

The situation was almost comically dramatized by a recent meeting with the President of the State and Defense Department leaders, some rumors of which have got about. If the rumors are correct, every sort of move was canvassed solemnly and at length. Some objection was found to each one. And at the close, with nothing accomplished, the President dissolved the gathering with a compliment on a fruitful discussion.

All kinds of plans have indeed been drawn up. The most extreme is a project to support the several hundred thousand Chinese anti-Communist guerrillas with air-dropped supplies; to reinforce the guerrillas' operations by air attacks on China's highly vulnerable lines of internal communication; and to aid Chiank Kai-shek's forces to land in the easily defensible Amoy area. In the middle ground, there are variants on the basic theme of a naval blockade of the China coast. And the tap on the wrist is represented by a plan to proclaim an international long range embargo on trade with Communist China.

Exposure of Weakness

The objections to these plans should be obvious enough. The all-out attempt to discommode the Peking government by stirring up their internal enemies would very probably achieve its immediate object. But it would also call into operation the Sino-Soviet pact, thus quite possibly bringing on what it is most desirable to avoid—a major war in Asia. And in the eyes of the worried British and Europeans, who can only think about the larger struggle with the Soviet Union, this sort of American action in China would convict the United States of "starting the war," including any future war in Europe.

The naval blockade of the China coast would place too heavy a strain on our available naval resources, and would necessarily include a blockade of Port Arthur, which is a Russian harbor. As for the tap on the wrist of a long range trade embargo, it is what the American government will probably propose next, if our motion on China is approved by the UN. But the damage done the Chinese by a long range trade embargo, if America's allies overseas can be dragooned into voting it, will hardly compensate for the damage done American interests by the bad feelings engendered in the dragooning process.

The plain truth is that in November the Chinese Communist government committed a flagrant act of war, which the American government, for excellent reasons, did not choose to treat as an act of war. In these circumstances, it would have been better to keep quiet, await developments, and concentrate on getting the Korean situation in hand again. The course instead adopted, of demanding that China be convicted of a crime when no adequate punishment was ready, was from the first, and is today, a mere exposure of weakness.

Concession To Opinion

The worst of this situation is that this highly dubious course has quite evidently been taken as a concession to public and Congressional opinion. A gesture had to be made, it was plainly felt, because of the natural, bitter and universal indignation against the Chinese Communists.

But this method of making policy equally evidentally implies a belief that the American Congress and American public are incapable of listening to reason. The idea seems to be that Congress and the country cannot understand the undesirability of a major war in the Far East; cannot be made to see how the very different and far more dangerous positions of the British and French influence their actions; cannot grasp the occasional virtue of keeping quiet; cannot even tell the difference between a serious punishment and an empty gesture, such as calling the Chinese Communists a bad name.

Of course, if Congress and the country were truly incapable of understanding and accepting plain statements of fact about great national problems, the American system would have foundered long before this. The real trouble, at the moment, is that the national leaders, and especially the leaders at the State Department, are so inescapably preoccupied with the pop bottles from the grandstand that they dare not argue with the crowd.

This is the real penalty that is paid when public men lose the confidence of the public—they have the pop bottles more in mind than the facts, when they have to make great decisions. Contrariwise, the real need for national coalition in such a time as this, arises from the need to get down to the business of discussing hard facts of vital national interest without too many extraneous preoccupations.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Loyalty

LOYALTY is not a debatable question. No society can tolerate disloyalty to itself; otherwise it would decay from the vileness of its own members. Therefore, every government rejects the right of a traitor to be a traitor, even though, in a free society, the individual may claim freedom of thought and action. In oldfashioned wars, which were genteel to a degree, the spy and traitor performed unmistakable functions and therefore his labors could be readily evaluated and his character judged.

Recognizing these postulates as basic, it is not remarkable that such strong efforts have been put forth over the years to conceal, to cover up, to protect treason and traitors. The politicians in office, seeking only their private advancement, lack the knowledge to recognize modern treason for what it is. Modern treason is a non-military activity, performed constantly and unrelated to the time limits of a state of war. The Dies Committee, shabbily treated even by the Democratic Party of which Congressman Dies was a member, laid the foundation for a technique of discovering treason in peacetime. Every effort was made by the Administration, from the very start, to give to that committee the appearance of the ridiculous.

The Dies Committee performed an outstanding service to this country because it laid the foundation for a study of Marxist infiltration into American life. Its files are basic for any understanding of this problem; its reports remain the best source material for any study of treason as a continuous operation.

Parnell Thomas, long before he got into trouble over a salary kickback, was most viciously attacked, and I am not sure yet that he was not punished so severely for an infraction not as unusual at it may seem, because he headed an anti-Communist investigative committee.

The current House Committee on Unamerican Activities has done some important investigating but it has also missed most of the available opportunities. In fact, it is this committee that should have investigated the Amerasia case which definitely involved treason, treachery, deceit, cover-up and dishonorable politics. It was because this committee failed to pursue the penetration and infiltration of the State Department and the Treasury by Communists that Senator Joe McCarthy stepped into the arena with his charges. This committee must now be regarded as inadequate.

The Tydings Committee made an altogether fruitless attempt to discover disloyalty within the government. In fact, it sought to try Senator Joe McCarthy with a view to his political destruction. The motives of Senator Millard Tydings have never been clear nor are they important. The fact is that his committee covered up and whitewashed disloyalty.

Now the Senate has appointed the McCarran Committee and provided it with initial funds to start all over again to root out disloyalty in government. The intentions of Senator Patrick McCarran are excellent, and should he find an adequate staff of well-oriented counsel and investigators, he could get at the roots of disloyalty.

But before the McCarran Committee can organize and get ready to do a suitable task, the President appointed his own commission to compete with the Senate committee. At the head of the President's commission is Admiral Chester W Nimitz, an honored citizen whose name and rank and record should not be disposed of in this manner. Actually, Admiral Nimitz should not have accepted this appointment to compete with a Senate committee and thus provide muddied waters under which the disloyal can hide and possibly escape.

I object to the use of the phrases, "loyalty commissions," "loyalty boards," "loyalty oaths." The word should be "disloyalty." Most Americans are loyal; only a few in the government are disloyal. The few should be exposed and eliminated.

Even in the matter of funds for the McCarran Committee, certain senators are trying to block this essential investigation on the ground of economy. It is as important to expose the disloyal as it is to maintain supplies for the army.

The commission appointed by the President contains distinguished names, but not a single person on it has established himself as an authority on this subject. A smart Marxist could make a monkey out of its members by the use of Aesopian language. The disloyal are still in luck.

FEPC By Fiat?

A Fair Employment Practice Commission created by executive order is understood to be under consideration by President Truman. It would function during the present emergency to prevent discrimination by race, color or creed in employment in defense industries and also under government contracts or subcontracts.

An FEPC functioned for five years during World War II. It was set up by executive order of President Roosevelt in 1941. Congress later provided funds for this temporary FEPC but rejected an appropriation to continue it beyond the war period. Inasmuch as legislation of 1944 had forbidden any executive agency to use government funds for over a year unless Congress had appropriated for it, the wartime FEPC shut up shop in May, 1946.

The 1944 legislation is still on the statute books. And the Supplemental Appropriation Act for 1951 provides that none of an additional $10 million made available to the President for use in defense emergencies shall be used to finance programs for which appropriations heretofore have been denied by Congress.

The FEPC of 1941-46 received more than 12,000 complaints, managed to have the alleged discrimination in employment ended in almost 5,000 instances, dismissed about 6,000 complaints for lack of evidence or jurisdiction. Its jurisdiction was limited to employment in essential industries and in government agencies, and it had no power of subpoena.

Last year the House by vote of 221 to 178 substituted a "voluntary" FEPC bill for a bill creating an FEPC with enforcement powers. The substitute bill then was passed by vote of 240 to 177. A compulsory FEPC bill was brought up in the Senate but was stymied by a determined Southern filibuster. Under present conditions it is unlikely that funds for an FEPC set up by executive order could be got through Congress.

A fellow shouldn't give up in disgust when the little woman comes home from a shopping trip loaded with parcels. After all, as she will be quick to explain, he wouldn't want her to be so foolish as to pass up any ridiculously low-priced article.

General "Ike" Reports

"This principle of balanced collective forces is of great and perhaps revolutionary significance." Thus spoke Secretary of State Acheson in giving a report to an informal joint session of the Senate and House last May 31 on the London meeting of the Atlantic Foreign Ministers from which he had just returned.

Another informal joint session of Congress is to meet in the Library of Congress today to receive a report from General Eisenhower. He will discuss the practicability of the plans for defending Western Europe with collective forces, including American divisions.

Acheson submitted to questioning after his formal address. Thereby he revived the old proposal for regular question periods at which Cabinet members would be interrogated by members of the legislative branch.

Eisenhower will probably not be called upon to answer questions from the floor at today's meeting. However, he will later, at closed-door meetings of Senate and House committees, give details of what he found—and didn't find—on his recent inspection trip of Europe.

Laughs have been classified by a psychologist into sounds of A-A, E-E, I-I, O-O and U-U. But who cares when times are troublesome, as long as there is some kind of genuine, pleasant laughter now and then?

Great American Poet

It is strange that the foremost American poet of his day and one of the great newspaper editors of all time has not had his biography written for 45 years. This lack is about to be made good; a life of William Cullen Bryant is announced for speedy publication. The author is Henry H. Peckham, who has written various books on American literary history.

Bryant was an example of the frequent combination of genius with early precocity. He learned the alphabet at 16 months, turned the Book of Job into verse at 10, and at 12 knew the entire Greek New Testament by heart. After achieving great literary fame by the publication of his two finest poems, "Thanatopsis" and "To A Waterfowl," he settled down to his life career as editor of the New York Evening Post.

Like Irving, Cooper, Hawthorne, Melville and other great literary figures of his time, Bryant was a stanch follower of Andrew Jackson. The later indorsement of the slavery interests by the Democratic Party led him to join the Republican Party on its formation, and as an editor belonging to the governing party he had wide influence until his death in 1878.

He deserves to be brought anew to popular attention.

When setting up the family budget these days it is sometimes helpful to include a column of excuses for creditors.

Interception

Gen. Omar Bradley, top officer of the U. S. armed forces, had some words of cheer for the country—or at least words to ease some of the tension. He told a Senate subcommittee:

"The Army, Navy and Air Force that are planned are sufficient, in my opinion, to avert disaster for our country. There is little real danger now of the continental United States being invaded and overrun, so far as we can see."

But, he added no matter how strong the nation's defense air arm, "If a determined enemy is willing to expend the effort, some bombers will get through." Did he mean, possibly, a Pearl Harbor brand of getting through to one of the country's great cities? He couldn't rule out the possibility of the atomic sneak attack without a declaration of war. What he did say was that the country would not have to take a general plastering from the sky.

There is already some protection against the sneak attack, of course, and it will be improved steadily. There is radar on watch from aircraft and picket vessels at sea, from land-based stations around the continental perimeter, including the Arctic. Fighter planes are ready to take off and try to intercept a "bogy." The big bombers of General LeMay's Strategic Air Command are in constant readiness for long flights fully loaded. Air defense includes retaliation as well as interception.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Venereal Disease Education

THE SUBJECT of venereal disease is no longer taboo; it is aired freely in newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets. It is discussed over the radio, on billboards, and even from airplanes flying above the city. This is in marked contrast to grandma's day when the topic was classified in the hush-hush category.

Has this publicity produced the desired results? We believe that it has made the general public aware of the dangers and of the need for treatment but it has not banished venereal disease. Furthermore, in certain studies there was no evidence that these particular public health programs had any effect on sexual behavior. Surveys of this nature usually are made upon those who have acquired the disease and we will never know how many others were favorably influenced by the campaigns. Individuals who have not become infected are not likely to be interviewed on matters of this nature.

Promiscuity perpetuates venereal disease. It is obvious that an individual who has relations with ten persons stands a greater chance of becoming infected than if the contacts were confined to one. Education has helped to discourage promiscuity in home but not in certain groups such as the poorly educated and none too bright. Many have no concept of social welfare and come from broken, unstable homes. They also are heavy drinkers and seldom respond to scolding or sermons on their misconduct. However, when gonorrhea or syphilis is detected, they no longer neglect it. In this respect, education had been of value because the majority were made to realize the importance of treatment.

By contrast, in the better educated, the incidence of promiscuity has been reduced by general discussions of the hazards. The younger set also has been influenced. Many authorities believe that proper instruction of boys and girls is the answer. They should be taught the dangers of drinking too much. Furthermore, sex problems are less likely to arise when provisions are made for adequate community activities for young people. Programs of this nature also aid in making these youngsters more mature emotionally. When the time comes to marry and settle down, there is more chance of a successful marriage.

The problems associated with venereal education are not difficult. There is no secret as to how the diseases are transmitted. The two main types are syphilis and gonorrhea. The latter generally is localized to the area of contact and a discharge is the most frequent manifestation. The response to penicillin and other antibiotics is dramatic but if the disease is neglected serious complications may ensue. Syphilis is a more widespread malady and if untreated may affect the heart, brain, and other organs. The initial symptom usually is a painless sore (chancre) in or about the area of contact, which develops several weeks after the infection has been contracted. Good remedies are available and treatment is no longer tedious and prolonged over months or years as in the past.

TOMORROW: Dietary and insulin control of diabetes.

ERUPTION FROM MOVING?

Mrs. G. writes: Could moving from one section of the country to another cause the skin to break out in a rash? I never had an eruption before moving and nothing I put on the tiny blisters seems to help.

REPLY

This is a possibility, especially if allergy is a factor. On the other hand, there are so many types and cause of skin disorders that I doubt if moving is responsible. Even if you had stayed in the old homestead you might have developed the rash.

SNAKE SWALLOWING

Mrs. W. O. writes: Recently I was told something that seems unbelievable to me and I wish you would clear it up. I was told that if a baby snake is swallowed by a person it could live in his stomach and grow to full maturity. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Snakes require oxygen and if one were swallowed in all probability it would be killed by the acid in the stomach. On the other hand, intestinal worms usually are not swallowed but hatch from eggs that have been consumed. These eggs are protected from the stomach juices by a special coating until they can reach the colon.

ALLERGIC REACTIONS

Mrs. C. writes: I suffer from hives and when the welts appear my throat feels full and the area around my eyes swell. What could this be?

REPLY

All the symptoms you mention could be caused by allergy. The throat swelling and eyelid puffiness probably are manifestations of sensitivity in your case, just as in hives.

Truman Advisers Endorse St. Lawrence Seaway; Congressman Blatnick Calls For Quick Action; Chairman Wallgren Wants FPC Transferred To Colorado

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman and top advisers decided last week that the St. Lawrence Waterway, a raging issue in Congress for two decades, must no longer be delayed if the United States is to maintain a strong defense in the future.

Most surprising endorsement of the seaway came from Mobilization Boss Charles Wilson, who once opposed it. However, even such implacable foes as Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Rep. Charles Buckley of New York have now promised not to impede the proposed canal joining Detroit and Chicago with the Atlantic Ocean.

Citing the need for quick action, two-fisted Rep. John Blatnik of Minnesota, leading House crusader for the St. Lawrence Waterway, told the White House meeting: "There is no need for long hearings on this. We know the whole story from previous hearings. We also know that we face a serious deficit of iron ore for defense (steel) in the next few years unless we draw on the vast deposits in Labrador the proposed waterway can bring us."

"There's still another reason," suggested President Truman. "Canada has been waiting 41 years for us to help her construct the waterway and is getting impatient. If we don't move now, Canada may go ahead with the construction of the canal and electric-power development without our partnership. If that happens, there will be no joint control of the waterway. Instead, Canada will have complete control and ownership.

"Isn't it a lot better," continued the President, "to accept the joint partnership control Canada has offered us and make sure that our interests in this vital link to Canadian ore deposits are safeguarded in the future?"

"I think so," agreed Wilson, former head of General Electric. "When electric power was the main factor of the proposed seaway, I was against it, because there were other ways to get power. But navigation and the need for Canadian ore are now the paramount considerations."

Texas Tom Yields

Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman also supported Truman, as did two other potent figures at the closed-door conference, Maj. Gen. Lewis Pick, chief of Army Engineers, and GOP Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin.

Wiley remarked that if Truman "held a few more meetings like this one, I'll bet you could convince the railroad owners who have been blocking the seaway." Turning to Senator Connally, the Wisconsinite jibed: "Tom, you've done a little blocking yourself."

When the big Texan growled a denial, Wiley continued: "Well, then you've stacked subcommittees against the bill."

"What you mean to say is that I have refused to go along with you when you tried to get me to stack subcommittees with proponents of the St. Lawrence Waterway," shot back Connally.

However, Texas Tom made it clear that he wouldn't stand in the way if the majority of both houses favored the waterway. He then managed a smile when, sitting close to Wiley for a news picture, the Wisconsin Senator wisecracked: "I see you've shifted to my side."

Truman's Old Crony

It is now pretty well agreed that one of the best things Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia ever did was to stop the appointment of the President's crony, Mon Wallgren, to be chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

Thanks in part to Senator Byrd, the ex-Senator from Washington was shunted from the vitally important war board to what was considered a safe roosting place, the chairmanship of the Federal Power Commission.

Here, however, Wallgren has been such a flop that even his old friend in the White House is reported disappointed with him.

Wallgren's latest dilettantism is a move to transfer the Federal Power Commission to Colorado Springs—because the climate is better. Also Mon would be nearer his home state of Washington where he wants to run for the Senate again. Finally, Mon has some real estate in Southern California and he wants to be closer to it than Washington, D. C.

On top of this, Wallgren seems to have forgotten one of the most courageous battles ever staged by his friend in the White House—namely, Truman's veto of the Kerr Natural Gas Bill.

Vigorous wire-pullers for this bill were Senator Kerr, Oklahoma, and his silent oil partner, Phillips Petroleum. Phillips is now up for investigation by the FPC for unnecessarily hiking rates to the State of Wisconsin and the City of Detroit. Fear of these high rates was one reason why Truman vetoed the Kerr Bill. But despite this, Wallgren voted against his old friend in the White House to sidetrack the probe.

The investigation of Phillips was requested by Wisconsin and Detroit two long years ago. In that year—1948—Phillips paid dividends of 18.7 per cent on common stock and surplus, but even so, hiked its rates to northern gas users.

Pipeline Politics

Most recent move by Wallgren which is against Truman policy is to O.K. a $58,000,000 natural gas pipeline to New England for Texas Eastern—which cooperated with and helps to protect Koppers Coke, a part of the Andrew Mellon industrial empire. This line was opposed by both Democrat and Republican leaders in New England, including Gov. Sherman Adams and Senator Tobey of New Hampshire, both Republicans; and Senators McMahon of Connecticut and Green of Rhode Island, both Democrats. They favor the cheaper $38,000,000 Northeastern pipeline to New England, claim New England cannot afford to be saddled with two lines and such heavy expense.

NOTE—A lot of politics—both Democratic and Republican — is mixed up in this power commission maneuvering. On the Democratic side, it was Phillips Petroleum which conveniently put its private plane at the disposal of Democratic bigwigs to fly to Kansas City for the Bill Boyle dinner. On the Republican side it is Phillips Petroleum which hires Neil Tolman as its Washington lobbyist. Tolman, former campaign manager for GOP Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, is a potent means of reaching the Federal Power Commission. For Bridges packs powerful influence with Nelson Lee Smith, also from New Hampshire and GOP member of the Commission.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)

ALL EFFORTS having failed to wring from any responsible Washington official a positive comment on whether we plan to keep our forces in Korea or bring them home, one must search elsewhere for particulars.

James R. Young, of the Anderson (S.C.) Daily Mail, who served 15 years in the Orient for INS (some of it in a Japanese prison), sends me his thought on the trying problem:

"I have not seen stat an observation on what might happen if we did abruptly leave Korea. I submit one based on my years in that part of the world.

"Korea is a peninsula with several all year 'round ports open to shipping. Vladivostok, the U.S.S.R.'s Siberian port, is closed for several of the winter months, as are two ports in North Korea, Rashiu and Seishin. The Soviet Union, in seizing all of coveted Korea, would use it most certainly as a spring board for the planned attack on Japan.

"The Russian attack on Japan, I believe, would utilize Korean and and Chinese forces because it would be comparatively simple for the Russians to stir up the needed hatred of Japan. Both Korea and China have a long backlog of anti-Japanese feeling.

"In the event of a complete victory in Korea, and a well-planned attack on Japan from Korean bases, I believe that the massacre of Japanese and their American friends would be on an appalling scale.

"In Japan today there are at least 3,000,000 Japanese Communists whose leaders underwent extensive training in Moscow. We contributed to the Communist population by releasing all Japan Reds from their jails after V-J Day, and also we arranged for many Jap Communists, who had been exiled to China, to return home. In addition, Russia is training and indoctrinating a great many of the approximately 300,000 Japanese officers and troops she captured during the closing days of the war and took into Russia. They are sent back to Japan, to bore from within, just as soon as the Russians feel certain that they will remain Commies.

"The Japanese Communists would participate in the mass slaughter of the Emporer, still a symbol of unity, plus his family and associates during what could well be a revolution timed to coincide with the landing of traditional enemies on the Japanese beaches.

"If Japan falls under Russian influence (while Russia sits back and says that Korean and Chinese 'volunteers' did the whole thing out of fear that Japanese rearmament meant a rebirth of its imperialism) the Soviets would use the islands as bases for an attack on the United States.

"The entire northwest section of the U. S. can be hit, with comparative ease, from Japan. The Japanese proved that during World War II with their primitive armed balloons (one of which, incidentally, hit the main power lines leading to our vast plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash.)

"That kind of attack could be stepped up considerably, with the wind-borne balloons carrying not only bombs but poisons and blights which could be spread among the people, cattle and grain crops of the northwest; or incendiaries for its forests.

"Why don't you conduct a poll to see how our people feel about using the a-bomb now on Russia, rather than Red China? After all, the source of tanks, jets and submarines is not China. Or North Korea.

"Back in the early 1930's I asked some Chinese friends what they thought of Japan's view that Japan was attacking China 'to drive out Communism.' The Chinese replied, 'they should attack Communism at its source.'

"Still sounds like good advice."

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

Grandstand And Policy Making

WASHINGTON

THERE is one key fact, which hardly anyone seems to have noticed, in the mess we are in about China. The House has passed a ringing resolution. The Senate has followed suit. The American delegation is moving heaven and earth to get the United nations to brand China as an aggressor. But beyond the gentlest tap on the wrist, the Administration has not yet agreed how the Chinese are to be punished, when and if they are formally found guilty of their crime.

The situation was almost comically dramatized by a recent meeting with the President of the State and Defense Department leaders, some rumors of which have got about. If the rumors are correct, every sort of move was canvassed solemnly and at length. Some objection was found to each one. And at the close, with nothing accomplished, the President dissolved the gathering with a compliment on a fruitful discussion.

All kinds of plans have indeed been drawn up. The most extreme is a project to support the several hundred thousand Chinese anti-Communist guerrillas with air-dropped supplies; to reinforce the guerrillas' operations by air attacks on China's highly vulnerable lines of internal communication; and to aid Chiank Kai-shek's forces to land in the easily defensible Amoy area. In the middle ground, there are variants on the basic theme of a naval blockade of the China coast. And the tap on the wrist is represented by a plan to proclaim an international long range embargo on trade with Communist China.

Exposure of Weakness

The objections to these plans should be obvious enough. The all-out attempt to discommode the Peking government by stirring up their internal enemies would very probably achieve its immediate object. But it would also call into operation the Sino-Soviet pact, thus quite possibly bringing on what it is most desirable to avoid—a major war in Asia. And in the eyes of the worried British and Europeans, who can only think about the larger struggle with the Soviet Union, this sort of American action in China would convict the United States of "starting the war," including any future war in Europe.

The naval blockade of the China coast would place too heavy a strain on our available naval resources, and would necessarily include a blockade of Port Arthur, which is a Russian harbor. As for the tap on the wrist of a long range trade embargo, it is what the American government will probably propose next, if our motion on China is approved by the UN. But the damage done the Chinese by a long range trade embargo, if America's allies overseas can be dragooned into voting it, will hardly compensate for the damage done American interests by the bad feelings engendered in the dragooning process.

The plain truth is that in November the Chinese Communist government committed a flagrant act of war, which the American government, for excellent reasons, did not choose to treat as an act of war. In these circumstances, it would have been better to keep quiet, await developments, and concentrate on getting the Korean situation in hand again. The course instead adopted, of demanding that China be convicted of a crime when no adequate punishment was ready, was from the first, and is today, a mere exposure of weakness.

Concession To Opinion

The worst of this situation is that this highly dubious course has quite evidently been taken as a concession to public and Congressional opinion. A gesture had to be made, it was plainly felt, because of the natural, bitter and universal indignation against the Chinese Communists.

But this method of making policy equally evidentally implies a belief that the American Congress and American public are incapable of listening to reason. The idea seems to be that Congress and the country cannot understand the undesirability of a major war in the Far East; cannot be made to see how the very different and far more dangerous positions of the British and French influence their actions; cannot grasp the occasional virtue of keeping quiet; cannot even tell the difference between a serious punishment and an empty gesture, such as calling the Chinese Communists a bad name.

Of course, if Congress and the country were truly incapable of understanding and accepting plain statements of fact about great national problems, the American system would have foundered long before this. The real trouble, at the moment, is that the national leaders, and especially the leaders at the State Department, are so inescapably preoccupied with the pop bottles from the grandstand that they dare not argue with the crowd.

This is the real penalty that is paid when public men lose the confidence of the public—they have the pop bottles more in mind than the facts, when they have to make great decisions. Contrariwise, the real need for national coalition in such a time as this, arises from the need to get down to the business of discussing hard facts of vital national interest without too many extraneous preoccupations.

YOU CAN SURVIVE THE ATOM BOMB

KNOW THE BOMB'S TRUE DANGERS. KNOW STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO ESCAPE THEM.

EDITORS: This is the third of a series of ten

What About Radioactivity?

RADIOACTIVITY IS THE ONLY WAY BESIDES SIZE IN WHICH ATOMIC BOMBS DIFFER FROM ORDINARY ONES

IN ALL stories about atomic weapons, there is a great deal about radioactivity.

Radioactivity is the only way—besides size—in which the effects of A or H bombs are different from ordinary bombs. But, with the exception of underwater or ground explosions, the radioactivity from atomic bursts is much less to be feared than blast and heat.

WE KNOW MORE ABOUT RADIOACTIVITY THAN WE DO ABOUT COLDS

Radioactivity is not new or mysterious. In the form of cosmic rays from the sky, all of us have been continually bombarded by radiation every hour and day of our lives. We all have also breathed and eaten very small amounts of radioactive materials without even knowing it. For over half a century, doctors and scientists have experimented and worked with X-rays and other penetrating forms of energy. Because of all this experience, we actually know much more about radioactivity and what it does to people than we know about infantile paralysis, colds, or some other common diseases.

It is easy to understand how radioactivity works if we think of how sunlight behaves.

INJURY FROM RADIOACTIVITY DEPENDS ON THE POWER OF THE RAYS AND PARTICLES, HOW LONG YOU WERE EXPOSED AND HOW MUCH OF YOUR BODY WAS HIT

In the northern part of the world, winter's slanting sun rays seldom cause sunburn, but the hotter rays of the summer sun often do. Still, just a few moments in the midsummer sun will not give you a tan or sunburn. You have to stay in its hot rays for some time before you get a burn. What's more, bad sunburn on just the face and hands may hurt, but it won't seriously harm you. On the other hand, if it covers your whole body, it can make you very sick, or sometimes even cause death.

In the same way, the harm that can come to you from radioactivity will depend on the power of the rays and particles that strike you, upon the length of time you are exposed to them, and on how much of your body is exposed.

What is "Initial" Radioactivity?

EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY IS THE MOST IMPORTANT KIND, BUT IT LASTS ONLY A MOMENT

Broadly speaking, atomic explosions produce two different kinds of radioactivity. First—and most important in an air burst—is an extremely powerful invisible burst of rays and particles thrown off at the time of explosion. This kind is called "initial" or explosive radioactivity. Its rays and particles fly out quickly, then promptly die. There is danger from them only for little more than a minute. The second type of radioactivity—lingering radioactivity—will be described later.

THE BIGGEST DANGER FROM EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY LIES WITHIN A MILE OF THE EXPLOSION

The injury range of the explosive radioactivity from a modern A-bomb is a little over one mile, if the bomb is exploded about 2,000 feet in the air. If it is exploded much higher, some of the radiation may not reach the ground, so the range may be less. If it is exploded much lower, the radiation also may not reach out as far, because it would be blocked by the ground or by buildings.

A little more than a mile away, the principal effects of the few dying rays that struck you could be seen only as temporary blood changes in a doctor's examination. You probably wouldn't even realize you had been exposed.

A little less than a mile from the explosion center, if you are unprotected, you are almost sure to suffer illness. Less than two-thirds of a mile away, those caught in the open are pretty sure to soak up a fatal dose of radioactivity.

BUILDINGS WILL PARTALLY OR COMPLETELY SHIELD YOU

Still, the possibility of your being caught without some protection is not very great. Even if you are on the street, there is a good chance that a building, or many buildings, will be between you and the burst, and they will partially or completely shield you.

YOU ARE MORE LIKELY TO BE HURT BY BLAST AND HEAT THAN BY RADIATION

Atomic explosions high above ground cause the most widespread damage. And, as happened in Japan, when an A-bomb goes off in the air you are far more likely to be hurt by the bomb's blast and heat waves than by its radioactivity. At Hiroshima and Nagasaki slightly over one-half of all deaths and injuries were caused by blast. Nearly one-third of the casualties were from the heat flash.

Radioactivity alone caused only about 15 per cent of all deaths and injuries.

EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY IS LESS OF A DANGER IN GROUND-LEVEL OR UNDERWATER BURSTS

If the bomb were to go off close to the ground, or slightly below its surface, the range of the explosive radiation, as well as the range of the blast and heat, would be reduced. This is due to the fact that all three would be partially blocked by the earth, by nearby buildings and by other obstacles.

In an underwater burst, there would be much less to fear from blast and nothing to fear from heat. Practically all the explosive radioactivity would be absorbed by the water. However, there would be the second type of radioactivity to be described later on.

possible should be done to prevent our own industries from suffering any unfair competition from abroad.

An aroused and angry Congress, recognizing the delaying tactics of our allies in the United Nations in calling Communist China an aggressor, voted unanimously in the House and Senate that it was the sense of those bodies that the United Nations should immediately declare Communist China an aggressor in Korea. The Senate further voted that this Communist government should not be seated to represent China in the United Nations. In spite of these actions, as of this writing, nothing has been done to bring Red China before the bar of justice. In the meanwhile our casualty lists are rising every day.

The President, last week, named a commission on internal security and civil liberties which will make a long time study of government loyalty and security programs. It will have "complete" access to FBI files and other secret information, something denied to Congress in the past in its investigations. It is the opinion of many legislators that this action duplicates the work of Congressional committees set up for such a purpose and denies them information on which to legislate.

UNDER THE DOME

I was advised by the Public Roads Administration that they have approved the transfer of the division office of their organization to Hagerstown providing satisfactory rental arrangements can be made. The division covers six states and the Hagerstown office would handle the work of the entire division.

With other members of the Maryland Delegation I appeared before Dr. Scheele, the surgeon general of the Puclic Health Service, asking that the out-patient office in the Customs House in Baltimore be retained.

I also attended the organization meeting of the Public Works Committee of which I am a member. It is expected that the committee will go to work immediately on legislation which has been referred to that body.

Numerous inquiries are coming to me regarding war claims. Applications have been made by former prisoners of war for the allowance to which they are entitled. In many instances long periods of time have elapsed and the applications have not been processed as yet. I am requesting that action be expedited on these cases.

YOU CAN SURVIVE THE ATOM BOMB

KNOW THE BOMB'S TRUE DANGERS. KNOW STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO ESCAPE THEM.

EDITORS: This is the third of a series of ten

What About Radioactivity?

RADIOACTIVITY IS THE ONLY WAY BESIDES SIZE IN WHICH ATOMIC BOMBS DIFFER FROM ORDINARY ONES

IN ALL stories about atomic weapons, there is a great deal about radioactivity.

Radioactivity is the only way—besides size—in which the effects of A or H bombs are different from ordinary bombs. But, with the exception of underwater or ground explosions, the radioactivity from atomic bursts is much less to be feared than blast and heat.

WE KNOW MORE ABOUT RADIOACTIVITY THAN WE DO ABOUT COLDS

Radioactivity is not new or mysterious. In the form of cosmic rays from the sky, all of us have been continually bombarded by radiation every hour and day of our lives. We all have also breathed and eaten very small amounts of radioactive materials without even knowing it. For over half a century, doctors and scientists have experimented and worked with X-rays and other penetrating forms of energy. Because of all this experience, we actually know much more about radioactivity and what it does to people than we know about infantile paralysis, colds, or some other common diseases.

It is easy to understand how radioactivity works if we think of how sunlight behaves.

INJURY FROM RADIOACTIVITY DEPENDS ON THE POWER OF THE RAYS AND PARTICLES, HOW LONG YOU WERE EXPOSED AND HOW MUCH OF YOUR BODY WAS HIT

In the northern part of the world, winter's slanting sun rays seldom cause sunburn, but the hotter rays of the summer sun often do. Still, just a few moments in the midsummer sun will not give you a tan or sunburn. You have to stay in its hot rays for some time before you get a burn. What's more, bad sunburn on just the face and hands may hurt, but it won't seriously harm you. On the other hand, if it covers your whole body, it can make you very sick, or sometimes even cause death.

In the same way, the harm that can come to you from radioactivity will depend on the power of the rays and particles that strike you, upon the length of time you are exposed to them, and on how much of your body is exposed.

Mr., Mrs. Franklin H. Young To Be Honored At Party

Open House To Be Held Sunday

Mrs. J. Frank Young is entertaining in honor of her son, Franklin H. Young, and his bride, the former Miss Mary Louise Buzzell, with an open house, Sunday.

The party is being held at her home, 715 Shriver Avenue, from 2 until 5 o'clock. The hostess invites all friends of Mr. and Mrs. Young to attend.

A bridal motif is being carried out in the decorations of the refreshment table.

Miss Buzzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Buzzell, North Wilmington, Mass., became the bride of Mr. Young, son of Mrs. Young and the late Mr. Young, January 21. The single ring ceremony was solemnized by candlelight in First Congregation Church, Wilmington by Rev. Stanley Cummings.

Chairmen Are Named

Announcement was made of programs on "Clothing and Posture," and "Posture and Health," for the next two meetings and chairmen appointed at the meeting of the Mapleside Homemakers Club recently at the Bethanu EUB Church.

Mrs. Ray VanHorn was named chairman of the Nominating committee with Mrs. L. A. Jewell and Mrs. William Parker assisting; Mrs. Harry Brotemarkle, chairman, Mrs. M. H. Burgess, Mrs. Paul Weller and Mrs. Carrie Poling, By-Laws.

Mrs. John Arrison, Fair and Exhibits; Mrs. Harold Bell, Family Life; Mrs. Edward Wilson, International Relations; Mrs. S. E. Weaverling, Membership; Mrs. Emory Showman, Publicity and Radio; Mrs. H. C. Morin, RWSC; Mrs. Harry Brotemarkle. Historian; Mrs. Joseph Kuhlman, Art; Mrs. W. P. Ling, Music; Mrs. Boyd Hosier, Reading; Mrs. Mahlon Burgess, Recreation and Nature.

Mrs. Richard VanHorn, Clothing; Mrs. Paul Weller, Health; Mrs. Charles Moore, Home and Yard Beautification; Mrs. Howard Twigg, Home Furnishing; Mrs. L. A. Jewell, Home Management; Mrs. Curtiss Bloss, Nutrition; Mrs. Edward Wilson, Blue Cross; Mrs. H. C. Morin, Ways and Means and Mrs. Charles Moore, Sunshine.

Reports were given and Miss Maude A. Bean spoke on courtesy and friendliness. Three guests and 26 members attended.

Country Club Tournament Closes Feb. 6

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Carscaden and Mrs. Gordon Bowie with Mrs. Somerville Nicholson were the high teams in the Cumberland Country Club's annual bridge and canasta tournament second session held Tuesday night at the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Carscaden moved into first place in the bridge competition with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Webster finishing in second.

Mr. and Mrs. G. William Bibby were second in the canasta.

The tournament will close next Tuesday, following a dinner.

Personals

Mrs. Harry J. Barton, McMullen Highway, Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Nelson and Kendra Crist have returned from York, Pa., where they visited the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Crist and sons, John and Jeffrie.

Mrs. Leah Twigg, Flintstone, has left to visit friends in Bristol, Tenn.

Henry L. Cooke, 925 Grand Avenue, is a patient in Memorial Hospital where he underwent an operation yesterday.

Peter W. Smith returned to his home, 913 Louisana Avenue, yesterday from Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., and is reported "getting along fine," after undergoing a major operation.

Mrs. Mamie Heath, Moorefield, W. Va., is convalesing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Van Fleet, 721 Lafayette Avenue.

Mrs. A. G. Fuller, 619 Sedgwick Street, has returned from a visit in New Orleans.

Class Continues Project

The members of the Ruth Class of Ellerslie Evangelical Church decided to continue sending parcels to men in service, when the group met recently at the home of Mrs. Ruth Myers.

Others attending were Mrs. Betty Shaffer, Mrs. Jerry Mason, Mrs. Eva Hansrote, Mrs. Pauline Williams, Mrs. Laura Burkett, Mrs. Edna Lowery, Mrs. Erma Master, Mrs. Maxine Dash, Mrs. Millie Nazelrod, Mrs. Evelyn Leydig, Mrs. Irene Gerhart, Mrs. Mabel Kramp, Mrs. Gertrude Reed, Mrs. Elsie Femi, Mrs. Bettie Hickle, Mrs. Mary Shroyer, Mrs. Nina Close, Mrs. Samilla Mullan, Mrs. Margaret Emerick, Mrs. Elvena Johnson, Mrs. Clifton Close, Mrs. Richard Close, and Mrs. Grace Miller.

WAITING TO BECOME GIRL SCOUTS—A group of 40 little girls attended the organization meeting of a Brownie Girl Scout troop Tuesday at SS. Peter and Paul School. Following rules of the National Girl Scouts only the first twenty to enroll were admitted to the new Troop 36. The others will have to wait until two leaders volunteer to take the second troop. Brownie projects are small arts and crafts. Mrs. A. M. Spioch, acting commissioner urges "More Adult Membership" for the year's goal, and announces a leader training class will begin at 1 p. m., February 6 at the Girl Scout House. Mrs. Sidney Storer, Jr., leader, shown above directing the singing of a Brownie song, is assisted by Mrs. Frank Whinnie, co-leader.

Training Meeting To Be Feb. 10

Local 4-H Club leaders from Allegany county are scheduled for a full day of education, fellowship and inspirational program at the training school to be held February 10 at the LaVale fire hall.

Club leaders from Garrett county will participate also.

This school, one of a series of seven such meetings being held in various districts of the state, is designed to provide special training to local leaders, who have volunteered their services to further the 4-H Club program.

Joseph Steger, extension agent, is local chairman in charge of arrangements.

Group discussions on various topics will form part of the program. The training schools will begin at 10 a. m. and at noon a luncheon will be served by Sears Roebuck Foundation.

The school is to be conducted by Miss Dorothy Emerson, girls' club agent; and Mylo S. Downey, state boys club leader. Wakelin McNeel, former state club leader of Wisconsin, will be the guest speaker.

There are to be group discussions on "Improving 4-H groups," "4-H Records," "Boys and Girls as W Know Them," and "Why Play." Mr. McNeel is to give two talks, one on "Helping Youth in These Confused Times," and the other, "Victories in Other Lives."

Local Chapter Takes Part In Conference

Chapter 914, Women of the Moose opened the program at the mid-Winter conference held in Frederick recently. Mrs. Helen Thomas, senior regent, presided, and 28 members attended.

On behalf of the local group Mrs. Betty Page, past grand regent, presented a check to the College of Regents.

WIFE PRESERVERS

If your men folk like to have their shoes waterproofed for outdoor wear, melt a dressing made of two parts beeswax to one part mutton fat. Apply this to the shoes at night, and in the morning wipe with a piece of flannel before the shoes are worn. Neat's foot oil will also do the trick.

Potomac Valley Lions To Sponsor Square Dance

Old Fashioned Party To Be Sat.

The Potomac Valley Lions Club is entertaining with a square dance Saturday evening. It will be held at the Cresaptown Firemen's Hall, and the public is invited to attend.

An old fashioned orchestra, highlighted by an old fashioned fiddler, will furnish music for the occasion. The Lions also have booked an experienced caller. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds are to be used to help underprivileged children in the Cresaptown School.

R. H. Yokum is chairman of arrangements. He is being assisted by Alton Walston.

Republican Women's Club To Hear Talk, Reports

Year's Programs To Be Outlined

A talk and reports of Gov. McKeldin's inauguration are to feature the program at the meeting of the Woman's Republican Club to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Girl Scout House.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, will be in charge of the program and speak on "Behind the Scenes." She will conduct a discussion from the floor following her talk.

Detailed accounts of the inauguration of Gov. McKeldin will be given by Mrs. Alva Davis and Mrs. Paul M. Fletcher, who attended.

Mrs. Vada D. Barncord will preside at the business session at which time plans will be formulated for a rummage sale on February 6 at the Canada Hose House. Plans for the remainder of the year will be outlined also.

A social hour is to conclude the evening, with Mrs. Dorie Owens chairman of refreshments.

Ruth A. Clauson Heads Associated Farm Women

Dinner To Be Held Feb. 19

Dates for 1951 regular meetings were set and further plans formulated for the membership drive at the luncheon meeting of the Associated Women of the Maryland Farm Bureau held yesterday at Happy Hills Restaurant, Baltimore Avenue.

The remaining meetings are to be held the last Tuesday in March, May, July, September and November.

A "kick-off" dinner for the membership drive is to be held February 19. Approximately 50 members are expected to attend. They include the Farm Bureau and Associated Women, officers and directors, the nine district directors who will be in charge of the womens divisions of the drive, as well as members asked to be briefed for participation in the drive. Wilfred Smith, state membership director, from Baltimore, is also to be a guest.

Mrs. Lloyd B. Shaw opened the meeting and installed Miss Ruth A. Clauson the new president. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Austin Twigg, treasurer; Mrs. Marshall Porter, secretary; and Mrs. Harry J. Barton, on the Baltimore Membership School and the Farm Bureau meeting held Monday.

Plans also were discussed for publishing a regular Farm Bureau local news letter.

Others attending yesterdays meeting were Miss Marian Appel, Mrs. Charles Harvey and Mrs. Arch Davis.

Local Men Place Second In Annual State Event

W. Md. Tournament To Be Apr. 14-15

Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club has received two honors, Wellington Reinhart and Albert D. Heacox, members won second place in the Special Pair event of the Maryland State Tournament; and the New York headquarters of the American Contract Bridge League has announced the local club has been given the privilege of holding the first annual Western Maryland Sectional Tournament.

The Western Maryland Sectional Tournament is to be held April 14-15 at the Cumberland Country Club, and Life Masters from all sections of the Eastern United States are expected here to compete.

Over 200 players from New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore and other eastern towns participated in the annual Maryland tournament, held in Baltimore, January 26, 27 and 28.

John Hamilton, Philadelphia, who ranks third in the United States, was one of the contestants. Others were Sally Young, Philadelphia; Arthur Schlesinger, Clagett Bowie, Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, James G. Stone and 45 other Life Masters.

Mrs. Emmett L. Jones and Mrs. Edwin T. Jones, from the local club played in the Friday afternoon Women's Pair event, and are reported to have "made a very creditable showing."

Both Saturday afternoon and evening, all of the local club representatives played in the Open Pair event.

Besides the local team of Mr. Reinhart and Mr. Heacox, who placed second and won extra Master Points, in the Special Pair event, Saturday other local teams were Mr. and Mrs. George Battorf, Russ Minter, Mrs. Emmett L. Jones and Mrs. Edwin T. Jones.

In the Team of Four event, Sunday, a team composed of Mr. and Mrs. Battorf, Mr. Minter, Mr. Reinhart and Mr. Heacox, played in both the afternoon and evening sessions and placed among the first 25 teams.

Tonights session at the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom will be the third in a series of six sessions of the Mid-Winter series.

Class Contributes

The Rohrer-Herpich Class of First Baptist voted at the meeting recently to give $10 towards the purchase of kitchen equipment for the church annex.

O. J. Mortzfelt presided; Rev. O. Afton Linger offered prayer and J. H. Judy read the Scripture. John A. Clark taught the book, "Adults in the Sunday School."

Vera Blinn Has Study Class, Dinner

Mrs. John S. Cook was hostess to members of the Vera Blinn Women's Society of World Service for the annual mission study class, Tuesday evening at her home, Bowling Green.

A covered dish dinner preceded Shaffer and Mrs. H. L. Nesbitt cohostesses with Mrs. Cook.

The study book, "Christian Vocation" by G. Bromley Osman was directed by Mrs. Cook, Christian Social Relations chairman, who gave the first chapter, "My Work," on Christian obligations to work.

Others participating were Mrs. H. C. Trenton giving, "My Income," a Christian right to income; Mrs. John House, "My Purchase," the Christian as a consumer; Mrs. William Suder, "My Vote," a Christian's duty as a citizen; Mrs. R. C. Isiminger, "My World," a Christian place in world affairs; and the closing chapter, "My Price," a Christian source of guiding and power, was given by Mrs. Cook.

Mrs. Robert Baker, Spiritual Life chairman, read the first chapter of Roman and the group sang, "Work the Night Is Coming." Mrs. Edward Shaffer offered prayer.

Others attending were Mrs. R. T. Cook, Mrs. A. M. Defibaugh, Mrs. John S. Cook, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Crue, Mrs. D. H. Densmore, Mrs. C. W. Bloss, Mrs. Harold Bishop, Mrs. Raymond Swadley, Mrs. Curtis Bloss, Mrs. Ronald Newomer, Mrs. George Keady, Perry Jane Defibaugh, Kay Baker, John S. Cook and H. C. Trenton.

Class Officers Assume Duties

Mrs. Emma Smith assumed her duties as president of the Faithful Workers Class of Kingsley Methodist Church at the meeting recently. Others serving with her are Mrs. Mary Gurley, vice president; Mrs. Gladys Sills, secretary; Mrs. Teresa Hiser, assistant; Mrs. Doris Hamilton, treasurer; Mrs. Betty Calhorun, assistant; and Mrs. Sills, Publicity.

Mrs. Clara Hite, Mrs. Carlene Zehrbach and Mrs. Betty Stottlemyer were received as members and Mrs. Freda Seiler and Mrs. Marguerite Willison renewed their membership.

A donation of $5 was given to the March of Dimes and a food basket sent to a needy family.

Valentine Exhibit Planned By Club

Mrs. Samuel Clingan and Mrs. H. D. Pyles were installed as vice-president and secretary respectively, at the meeting of the North Cumberland Homemakers Club recently at the gas company auditorium. Members were asked to bring old fashioned Valentines for an exhibit at the February meeting.

Housing needs and cooperation in bettering living conditions in the city were stressed by Mrs. Lucille Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property. She also urged 100 percent participation in club affairs. Mrs. Boston Sherwood offered to demonstrate sewing in zippers and Mrs. G. William Eichner gave the history of the hymn, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." January birthdays were observed and Mrs. J. H. Atkinson and Mrs. C. A. Howse were received as members.

Wahaba Temple To Hold Installation Of Officers

Social To Be Held Feb. 6

Wahaba Temple will have installation of officers, a program and social February 6. It is being held at the temple, Prospect Square, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Others attending were Mrs. Betty Shaffer, Mrs. Jerry Mason, Mrs. Eva Hansrote, Mrs. Pauline Williams, Mrs. Laura Burkett, Mrs. Edna Lowery, Mrs. Erma Master, Mrs. Maxine Dash, Mrs. Millie Nazelrod, Mrs. Evelyn Leydig, Mrs. Irene Gerhart, Mrs. Mabel Kramp, Mrs. Gertrude Reed, Mrs. Elsie Femi, Mrs. Bettie Hickle, Mrs. Mary Shroyer, Mrs. Nina Close, Mrs. Samilla Mullan, Mrs. Margaret Emerick, Mrs. Elvena Johnson, Mrs. Clifton Close, Mrs. Richard Close, and Mrs. Grace Miller.

WAITING TO BECOME GIRL SCOUTS—A group of 40 little girls attended the organization meeting of a Brownie Girl Scout troop Tuesday at SS. Peter and Paul School. Following rules of the National Girl Scouts only the first twenty to enroll were admitted to the new Troop 36. The others will have to wait until two leaders volunteer to take the second troop. Brownie projects are small arts and crafts. Mrs. A. M. Spioch, acting commissioner urges "More Adult Membership" for the year's goal, and announces a leader training class will begin at 1 p. m., February 6 at the Girl Scout House. Mrs. Sidney Storer, Jr., leader, shown above directing the singing of a Brownie song, is assisted by Mrs. Frank Whinnie, co-leader.

Training Meeting To Be Feb. 10

Local 4-H Club leaders from Allegany county are scheduled for a full day of education, fellowship and inspirational program at the training school to be held February 10 at the LaVale fire hall.

Club leaders from Garrett county will participate also.

This school, one of a series of seven such meetings being held in various districts of the state, is designed to provide special training to local leaders, who have volunteered their services to further the 4-H Club program.

Joseph Steger, extension agent, is local chairman in charge of arrangements.

Group discussions on various topics will form part of the program. The training schools will begin at 10 a. m. and at noon a luncheon will be served by Sears Roebuck Foundation.

The school is to be conducted by Miss Dorothy Emerson, girls' club agent; and Mylo S. Downey, state boys club leader. Wakelin McNeel, former state club leader of Wisconsin, will be the guest speaker.

There are to be group discussions on "Improving 4-H groups," "4-H Records," "Boys and Girls as W Know Them," and "Why Play." Mr. McNeel is to give two talks, one on "Helping Youth in These Confused Times," and the other, "Victories in Other Lives."

Local Chapter Takes Part In Conference

Chapter 914, Women of the Moose opened the program at the mid-Winter conference held in Frederick recently. Mrs. Helen Thomas, senior regent, presided, and 28 members attended.

On behalf of the local group Mrs. Betty Page, past grand regent, presented a check to the College of Regents.

WIFE PRESERVERS

If your men folk like to have their shoes waterproofed for outdoor wear, melt a dressing made of two parts beeswax to one part mutton fat. Apply this to the shoes at night, and in the morning wipe with a piece of flannel before the shoes are worn. Neat's foot oil will also do the trick.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, will be in charge of the program and speak on "Behind the Scenes." She will conduct a discussion from the floor following her talk.

Detailed accounts of the inauguration of Gov. McKeldin will be given by Mrs. Alva Davis and Mrs. Paul M. Fletcher, who attended.

Mrs. Vada D. Barncord will preside at the business session at which time plans will be formulated for a rummage sale on February 6 at the Canada Hose House. Plans for the remainder of the year will be outlined also.

A social hour is to conclude the evening, with Mrs. Dorie Owens chairman of refreshments.

Ruth A. Clauson Heads Associated Farm Women

Dinner To Be Held Feb. 19

Dates for 1951 regular meetings were set and further plans formulated for the membership drive at the luncheon meeting of the Associated Women of the Maryland Farm Bureau held yesterday at Happy Hills Restaurant, Baltimore Avenue.

The remaining meetings are to be held the last Tuesday in March, May, July, September and November.

A "kick-off" dinner for the membership drive is to be held February 19. Approximately 50 members are expected to attend. They include the Farm Bureau and Associated Women, officers and directors, the nine district directors who will be in charge of the womens divisions of the drive, as well as members asked to be briefed for participation in the drive. Wilfred Smith, state membership director, from Baltimore, is also to be a guest.

Mrs. Lloyd B. Shaw opened the meeting and installed Miss Ruth A. Clauson the new president. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Austin Twigg, treasurer; Mrs. Marshall Porter, secretary; and Mrs. Harry J. Barton, on the Baltimore Membership School and the Farm Bureau meeting held Monday.

Plans also were discussed for publishing a regular Farm Bureau local news letter.

Others attending yesterdays meeting were Miss Marian Appel, Mrs. Charles Harvey and Mrs. Arch Davis.

Local Men Place Second In Annual State Event

W. Md. Tournament To Be Apr. 14-15

Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club has received two honors, Wellington Reinhart and Albert D. Heacox, members won second place in the Special Pair event of the Maryland State Tournament; and the New York headquarters of the American Contract Bridge League has announced the local club has been given the privilege of holding the first annual Western Maryland Sectional Tournament.

The Western Maryland Sectional Tournament is to be held April 14-15 at the Cumberland Country Club, and Life Masters from all sections of the Eastern United States are expected here to compete.

Over 200 players from New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore and other eastern towns participated in the annual Maryland tournament, held in Baltimore, January 26, 27 and 28.

John Hamilton, Philadelphia, who ranks third in the United States, was one of the contestants. Others were Sally Young, Philadelphia; Arthur Schlesinger, Clagett Bowie, Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, James G. Stone and 45 other Life Masters.

Mrs. Emmett L. Jones and Mrs. Edwin T. Jones, from the local club played in the Friday afternoon Women's Pair event, and are reported to have "made a very creditable showing."

Both Saturday afternoon and evening, all of the local club representatives played in the Open Pair event.

Besides the local team of Mr. Reinhart and Mr. Heacox, who placed second and won extra Master Points, in the Special Pair event, Saturday other local teams were Mr. and Mrs. George Battorf, Russ Minter, Mrs. Emmett L. Jones and Mrs. Edwin T. Jones.

In the Team of Four event, Sunday, a team composed of Mr. and Mrs. Battorf, Mr. Minter, Mr. Reinhart and Mr. Heacox, played in both the afternoon and evening sessions and placed among the first 25 teams.

Tonights session at the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom will be the third in a series of six sessions of the Mid-Winter series.

Class Contributes

The Rohrer-Herpich Class of First Baptist voted at the meeting recently to give $10 towards the purchase of kitchen equipment for the church annex.

O. J. Mortzfelt presided; Rev. O. Afton Linger offered prayer and J. H. Judy read the Scripture. John A. Clark taught the book, "Adults in the Sunday School."

Vera Blinn Has Study Class, Dinner

Mrs. John S. Cook was hostess to members of the Vera Blinn Women's Society of World Service for the annual mission study class, Tuesday evening at her home, Bowling Green.

A covered dish dinner preceded Shaffer and Mrs. H. L. Nesbitt cohostesses with Mrs. Cook.

The study book, "Christian Vocation" by G. Bromley Osman was directed by Mrs. Cook, Christian Social Relations chairman, who gave the first chapter, "My Work," on Christian obligations to work.

Others participating were Mrs. H. C. Trenton giving, "My Income," a Christian right to income; Mrs. John House, "My Purchase," the Christian as a consumer; Mrs. William Suder, "My Vote," a Christian's duty as a citizen; Mrs. R. C. Isiminger, "My World," a Christian place in world affairs; and the closing chapter, "My Price," a Christian source of guiding and power, was given by Mrs. Cook.

Mrs. Robert Baker, Spiritual Life chairman, read the first chapter of Roman and the group sang, "Work the Night Is Coming." Mrs. Edward Shaffer offered prayer.

Others attending were Mrs. R. T. Cook, Mrs. A. M. Defibaugh, Mrs. John S. Cook, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Crue, Mrs. D. H. Densmore, Mrs. C. W. Bloss, Mrs. Harold Bishop, Mrs. Raymond Swadley, Mrs. Curtis Bloss, Mrs. Ronald Newomer, Mrs. George Keady, Perry Jane Defibaugh, Kay Baker, John S. Cook and H. C. Trenton.

Class Officers Assume Duties

Mrs. Emma Smith assumed her duties as president of the Faithful Workers Class of Kingsley Methodist Church at the meeting recently. Others serving with her are Mrs. Mary Gurley, vice president; Mrs. Gladys Sills, secretary; Mrs. Teresa Hiser, assistant; Mrs. Doris Hamilton, treasurer; Mrs. Betty Calhorun, assistant; and Mrs. Sills, Publicity.

Mrs. Clara Hite, Mrs. Carlene Zehrbach and Mrs. Betty Stottlemyer were received as members and Mrs. Freda Seiler and Mrs. Marguerite Willison renewed their membership.

A donation of $5 was given to the March of Dimes and a food basket sent to a needy family.

Valentine Exhibit Planned By Club

Mrs. Samuel Clingan and Mrs. H. D. Pyles were installed as vice-president and secretary respectively, at the meeting of the North Cumberland Homemakers Club recently at the gas company auditorium. Members were asked to bring old fashioned Valentines for an exhibit at the February meeting.

Housing needs and cooperation in bettering living conditions in the city were stressed by Mrs. Lucille Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property. She also urged 100 percent participation in club affairs. Mrs. Boston Sherwood offered to demonstrate sewing in zippers and Mrs. G. William Eichner gave the history of the hymn, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." January birthdays were observed and Mrs. J. H. Atkinson and Mrs. C. A. Howse were received as members.

CHARM CAN CHANGE THAT 'MISS' TO 'MRS.'; HERE ARE 10 GOOD TIPS THAT MAY HELP GET THAT PROPOSAL

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

If your goal is to get him to propose on Valentine's Day, "be natural."

For all you know he might have decided to pop the question. But show up for your date looking like somebody else, and you might be surprised that he'll be very cool, indeed.

Everybody knows the woman gets the man to propose. She sets the mood and creates the desire. Usually she knows the way he likes her best and sticks to that key—at least until she gets the wedding ring. Here are some charm rules to remember if you suspect he is just about to pop the question:

1. Keep quiet. Don't talk too much. Your voice might have an irritating quality which might just throw him off the track.

2. If he likes your hair long, don't have it cut very short, right at this time. If he likes your hair short, don't show up in a chignon.

3. If you've been wearing natural eyebrows, don't have them tweezed down to a thin line.

4. Don't try a new lip line. The pout or curve, thinness or fullness of your lips might be just what appeals to him.

5. Wear your skirts at your usual length. No matter what the cartoonists, comic strip artists and photographers think, no man ever married a girl's legs, particularly because she wore a short skirt. Pretty legs help, however.

6. A low-necked dress won't get that proposal. It's a funny thing about men that they enjoy seeing daring styles on other women, but they dislike them for their own girls.

7. Try to be agreeable and sweet. This isn't a good time to get into an argument, or reflect some of your mother's nagging faults which he might have observed.

8. Use a minimum of makeup. It was okay in Cleopatra's day, but the style today is the "natural look." Do the most for yourself, however.

9. You can lead the horse to water, but don't try to make him drink. Let your boy friend think he's doing the proposing.

10. This is not the time to tell him about former romances. It might not, as you think, make him jealous.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON

WHEN he lands in London soon, Civilian Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell will take a look at the "tubes" and Paris subways . . . Study their set-ups as compared with ours for emergency shelters . . . The ex-Congressman and Governor of Florida should charm the British ladies with his honeyed Southern drawl, good camouflage for a mind sharp as salt.

AUSTINE

In this Capital at a buffet supper given by the General Federation of Women's Clubs (where he made his first appearance after his confirmation) Caldwell charmed the ladies to such an extent that one member, starry-eyed, sighed she would dig a bomb shelter for him anytime.

But tall, rangy, sandy-haired Caldwell has no time for cookie-pushing . . . By 7 a. m. he breakfasts in the Wardman Park Hotel and before 9 dictates letters from behind a spacious mahogany desk in his office.

If he ever gets a spare moment he indulges in his hobby of fishing and shooting . . . Not around Washington, of course, but on his 1,000-acre farm in northern Florida, outside Tallahassee . . . He retired from Congress in 1939, a few months after a hit-and-run driver killed his only son, 12-year-old Millard Caldwell, III. . .

Now that he's welcomed back, Defense Administrator Caldwell should give Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston some stiff competition as one of the Capitol's Chief Charm Boys.

HIDEAWAY HASSLE

For hide-outs, secret workrooms, and the quiet sipping of alcoholic beverage two dozen little rooms nestle on the third floor of the Capitol, assigned to senators with high seniority . . . New Hampshire Senator Tobey had one of the little private nooks but gave it up when Rules Committee Chairman Senator Hayden asked for it . . . Hayden said the room would be used by a group of war veterans . . . Later Tobey sneaked up and found Senator Butler of Nebraska had himself plunked in it! . . . So Tobey went tearing around to protest . . . He had seniority over Butler and would like his old room back!

I guess one definition of a politician could be a man who never duels—but can certainly fence.

MALIK'S MALADY

Ah-ha, so Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik suffers from heart trouble . . . Tho' only 44 years old he missed two days of meetings at the UN after a sudden heart attack.

Because many important Russian officials die young, the world invariably speculates on whether their deaths were from natural causes or—— . . . If anything should happen to Malik the ?????? would again be raised . . .Consider the embarrassing diplomatic complications of such an official death for the U. S. and the State Department at this time . . . Though numerous Soviet diplomats have been recalled, and so disappeared behind the Iron Curtain, none has ever died here while on post.

HEADACHE HILL

Newly-elected senators soon find out they get office help according to their state's population! . . . A big population state rates a bigger staff . . . Two of the biggest—Pennsylvania and California—have elected new senators—Duff and Nixon . . . While they are allowed extra clerical help, the new solons are facing a drastic shortage of efficient stenographers . . . Sudden government expansion in every branch responsible.

Some of the tenderfoot senators not only can't find staffs, but can't even find their way around.

For instance, Utah's new Senator Bennett got lost yesterday . . The attractive lady on his arm never for a moment lost confidence in his ability to find the Hall of Statues, though . . . The pair finally had to stop and ask a veteran newsman . . . He reassured them with the reminiscence, "I've guided even old hands. Senator Vandenberg was lost in the basement one day and I led him back to his own office" . . .

Oh, that lady? . . . That was his wife, Mrs. Bennett.

SPEED OF SOUND

Supersonic is the word for the way speculation has been travelling . . . What will Eisenhower report when he returns from Europe? . . . If he paints a glowing picture that Europeans can and will fight—and his optimism later proves unfounded—he'll be in a tough spot with Americans . . . Yet, if his report sounds too pessimistic, the President and State Department won't like it . . . Most observers bet he'll include many qualitative statements in his report . . . Will ask for further study.

Mrs. Alben Barkley is posing for a new portrait these days.

And a Hollywood press agent releases: "Joan Crawford is letting her hair grow. Says she wants to feel like a woman again and have something on her neck."

Why let little illnesses rob you of beauty? Use these precautions and you'll be a pretty patient!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

LOSS of looks is not the least of the tribulations that occur with the common cold. Stringy, sheenless hair and dry, cracking skin never fail to add insult to injury.

But why put up with these barbs at your beauty? You can stop them easily with just a little thoughtfulness.

For Your Skin's Sake

The beauty of your skin can be salvaged if you just use a sparing amount of light skin oil under your foundation, every time you make up. All unseen, it will combat the ravages of dryness. And be sure to apply your night lubricant generously before retiring. Let it "set" for ten minutes and then blot off the excess with tissue.

If you are confined to bed, oil your skin at least three times a day with your most effective night-care preparation. This is a case where a little goes a long way, so never use enough to make you feel or look greasy.

Whether you are horizontal or vertical, your hair will respond to daily applications of tonic to the scalp or pomade to the surface. Your poor harried nose will be thankful for any medication containing camphor in a cream base. There is no better time to give supplementary care to your hands and cuticle. Frequent applications of lipstick will guard against cracking lips.

Good Medicine

A pretty patient has the morale to get well the quickest. As a morale builder, one of the Powers Girls keeps a special pink bed jacket, coverlet and pillow slip tucked away for just such occasions. These feminine foibles do as much for her as pink pills, says she!

Other aids to a quick recovery are a well-ordered room, a bedside table for such comforts as reading matter, water bottle, scented body rub, comb and mirror, cleaning tissue and disposal case. This last item you can make in a jiffy by folding and pasting a large sheet of heavy paper like an envelope, using the flap to tuck between the mattress and spring.

With these consolers at hand, a few days to yourself can become a pleasant and beautifying experience.

CHARM CAN CHANGE THAT 'MISS' TO 'MRS.'; HERE ARE 10 GOOD TIPS THAT MAY HELP GET THAT PROPOSAL

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

If your goal is to get him to propose on Valentine's Day, "be natural."

For all you know he might have decided to pop the question. But show up for your date looking like somebody else, and you might be surprised that he'll be very cool, indeed.

Everybody knows the woman gets the man to propose. She sets the mood and creates the desire. Usually she knows the way he likes her best and sticks to that key—at least until she gets the wedding ring. Here are some charm rules to remember if you suspect he is just about to pop the question:

1. Keep quiet. Don't talk too much. Your voice might have an irritating quality which might just throw him off the track.
2. If he likes your hair long, don't have it cut very short, right at this time. If he likes your hair short, don't show up in a chignon.
3. If you've been wearing natural eyebrows, don't have them tweezed down to a thin line.
4. Don't try a new lip line. The pout or curve, thinness or fullness of your lips might be just what appeals to him.
5. Wear your skirts at your usual length. No matter what the cartoonists, comic strip artists and photographers think, no man ever married a girl's legs, particularly because she wore a short skirt. Pretty legs help, however.
6. A low-necked dress won't get that proposal. It's a funny thing about men that they enjoy seeing daring styles on other women, but they dislike them for their own girls.
7. Try to be agreeable and sweet. This isn't a good time to get into an argument, or reflect some of your mother's nagging faults which he might have observed.
8. Use a minimum of makeup. It was okay in Cleopatra's day, but the style today is the "natural look." Do the most for yourself, however.
9. You can lead the horse to water, but don't try to make him drink. Let your boy friend think he's doing the proposing.
10. This is not the time to tell him about former romances. It might not, as you think, make him jealous.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON

WHEN he lands in London soon, Civilian Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell will take a look at the "tubes" and Paris subways . . . Study their set-ups as compared with ours for emergency shelters . . . The ex-Congressman and Governor of Florida should charm the British ladies with his honeyed Southern drawl, good camouflage for a mind sharp as salt.

AUSTINE

In this Capital at a buffet supper given by the General Federation of Women's Clubs (where he made his first appearance after his confirmation) Caldwell charmed the ladies to such an extent that one member, starry-eyed, sighed she would dig a bomb shelter for him anytime.

But tall, rangy, sandy-haired Caldwell has no time for cookie-pushing . . . By 7 a. m. he breakfasts in the Wardman Park Hotel and before 9 dictates letters from behind a spacious mahogany desk in his office.

If he ever gets a spare moment he indulges in his hobby of fishing and shooting . . . Not around Washington, of course, but on his 1,000-acre farm in northern Florida, outside Tallahassee . . . He retired from Congress in 1939, a few months after a hit-and-run driver killed his only son, 12-year-old Millard Caldwell, III. . .

Now that he's welcomed back, Defense Administrator Caldwell should give Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston some stiff competition as one of the Capitol's Chief Charm Boys.

HIDEAWAY HASSLE

For hide-outs, secret workrooms, and the quiet sipping of alcoholic beverage two dozen little rooms nestle on the third floor of the Capitol, assigned to senators with high seniority . . . New Hampshire Senator Tobey had one of the little private nooks but gave it up when Rules Committee Chairman Senator Hayden asked for it . . . Hayden said the room would be used by a group of war veterans . . . Later Tobey sneaked up and found Senator Butler of Nebraska had himself plunked in it! . . . So Tobey went tearing around to protest . . . He had seniority over Butler and would like his old room back!

I guess one definition of a politician could be a man who never duels—but can certainly fence.

MALIK'S MALADY

Ah-ha, so Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik suffers from heart trouble . . . Tho' only 44 years old he missed two days of meetings at the UN after a sudden heart attack.

Because many important Russian officials die young, the world invariably speculates on whether their deaths were from natural causes or—— . . . If anything should happen to Malik the ?????? would again be raised . . .Consider the embarrassing diplomatic complications of such an official death for the U. S. and the State Department at this time . . . Though numerous Soviet diplomats have been recalled, and so disappeared behind the Iron Curtain, none has ever died here while on post.

HEADACHE HILL

Newly-elected senators soon find out they get office help according to their state's population! . . . A big population state rates a bigger staff . . . Two of the biggest—Pennsylvania and California—have elected new senators—Duff and Nixon . . . While they are allowed extra clerical help, the new solons are facing a drastic shortage of efficient stenographers . . . Sudden government expansion in every branch responsible.

Some of the tenderfoot senators not only can't find staffs, but can't even find their way around.

For instance, Utah's new Senator Bennett got lost yesterday . . The attractive lady on his arm never for a moment lost confidence in his ability to find the Hall of Statues, though . . . The pair finally had to stop and ask a veteran newsman . . . He reassured them with the reminiscence, "I've guided even old hands. Senator Vandenberg was lost in the basement one day and I led him back to his own office" . . .

Oh, that lady? . . . That was his wife, Mrs. Bennett.

SPEED OF SOUND

Supersonic is the word for the way speculation has been travelling . . . What will Eisenhower report when he returns from Europe? . . . If he paints a glowing picture that Europeans can and will fight—and his optimism later proves unfounded—he'll be in a tough spot with Americans . . . Yet, if his report sounds too pessimistic, the President and State Department won't like it . . . Most observers bet he'll include many qualitative statements in his report . . . Will ask for further study.

Mrs. Alben Barkley is posing for a new portrait these days.

And a Hollywood press agent releases: "Joan Crawford is letting her hair grow. Says she wants to feel like a woman again and have something on her neck."

That's how you feel like a woman???

Why let little illnesses rob you of beauty? Use these precautions and you'll be a pretty patient!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

LOSS of looks is not the least of the tribulations that occur with the common cold. Stringy, sheenless hair and dry, cracking skin never fail to add insult to injury.

But why put up with these barbs at your beauty? You can stop them easily with just a little thoughtfulness.

For Your Skin's Sake

The beauty of your skin can be salvaged if you just use a sparing amount of light skin oil under your foundation, every time you make up. All unseen, it will combat the ravages of dryness. And be sure to apply your night lubricant generously before retiring. Let it "set" for ten minutes and then blot off the excess with tissue.

If you are confined to bed, oil your skin at least three times a day with your most effective night-care preparation. This is a case where a little goes a long way, so never use enough to make you feel or look greasy.

Whether you are horizontal or vertical, your hair will respond to daily applications of tonic to the scalp or pomade to the surface. Your poor harried nose will be thankful for any medication containing camphor in a cream base. There is no better time to give supplementary care to your hands and cuticle. Frequent applications of lipstick will guard against cracking lips.

Good Medicine

A pretty patient has the morale to get well the quickest. As a morale builder, one of the Powers Girls keeps a special pink bed jacket, coverlet and pillow slip tucked away for just such occasions. These feminine foibles do as much for her as pink pills, says she!

Other aids to a quick recovery are a well-ordered room, a bedside table for such comforts as reading matter, water bottle, scented body rub, comb and mirror, cleaning tissue and disposal case. This last item you can make in a jiffy by folding and pasting a large sheet of heavy paper like an envelope, using the flap to tuck between the mattress and spring.

With these consolers at hand, a few days to yourself can become a pleasant and beautifying experience.

P. S. from J. R. P.

Long To Seek Federal Aid For Construction Of Overhead Bridge

Commissioner of Police and Fire John J. Long revealed yesterday efforts are being made to get state and federal aid for construction of an overhead traffic bridge in Cumberland.

With such aid, the city would be spared the bulk of expense of such a project with the possible exception of the properties involved.

Long said yesterday such a bridge was to have been among traffic solutions discussed at a meeting with Governor Theodore R. McKeldin Tuesday.

But Long requested the session be postponed because of the federal freeze order on steel and such construction and the press of business on the Governor during the sessions of the legislature.

Revived In December

The question of the overhead bridge was revived early in December by Long during his studies of the local traffic problem and the need for parking facilities.

At that time, Long wrote Governor McKeldin, reminding him that at a rally here, the Governor had said he would give state support toward an overhead bridge in Cumberland "to alleviate the terrific automobile and truck traffic problems" x x x.

A copy of the letter was also forwarded Rep. J. Glenn Beall, congressman from the Sixth District.

Both the Governor and Rep. Beall wrote Long pledging their cooperation.

Beall Suggests Bridge

At the same time, Beall said that such a project has been recommended by every engineering firm that has ever made a study of traffic conditions here as the best way of not only solving the traffic "but the parking facilities because under the bridge there would be ample room for a municipal parking lot."

The bridge, as proposed by Rep. Beall, would span Wills Creek, the Western Maryland Railway, cross town and bridge the B. and O. tracks. Greene and Park Streets would be the terminal points.

Asks Formal Action

Beall told Long in December that "it is my suggestion that you have the Mayor and Council take formal action in requesting the State Roads Commission to sponsor this project because it could be built from state highway funds with federal aid."

The police and fire commissioner said in his letter to McKeldin this week that the action "of the federal government toward steel and other construction materials x x x and having discussed with Glenn Beall the past weekend the feasibility of any municipal construction at this time" prompted the postponement of the scheduled meeting.

He suggested that after the legislature recesses, the Governor, Beall, the State Roads Commission and the Mayor and Council meet to discuss local traffic problems and possibilities for improvement.

Discussed Many Times

The crosstown viaduct has been discussed here many times and the plan has been improved upon.

In 1947, the Municipal Planning Commission requested a study be made and the State Roads Commission, along with Whitman, Requardt and Associates, Baltimore Engineering firm, prepared tentative plans and cost estimates for the project.

At that time, it was estimated the cost would be $1,915,000. This included the four-lane viaduct itself at $1,125,000 and property for $250,000, a total of $1,378,000. Also figured in was a four-lane approach off Central Avenue which would cost $300,000 and $240,000 for property a total of $540,000.

LOG CABIN BOYS ENTER CONTEST — Joshua and Mitch, the Log Cabin Boys, have entered the Square Dance Festival contest to be held tonight at the State Armory for the benefit of the March of Dimes. The festivities will include general square dancing for the public in addition to competition of 11 bands for first prize which will be donated by the Potomac Park Improvement Association, sponsors of the affair. The band, a caller and set of dancers will compete as a unit in the square dance competition.

Newspaper Employes Under Wage Freeze

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP) — Members of the Wage Stabilization Board were asked today "what about wages in the newspaper industry and other industries that are specifically exempted from price control under the Defense Production Act?"

They replied that such employes are definitely under the wage freeze now and "we haven't discussed eliminating them from wage controls."

Poultry Committee To Meet Tonight

Allegany County's poultry committee will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Court House with County Agent R. F. McHenry to map plans for the annual County Winter Poultry meeting.

The date, location and other details will be worked out when the group meets tonight. Committee members are R. M. Stegmaier, Francis Richardson, Miss Wilma Pollock, Paul Robinette, William P. Engle and William Slider.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

There's a station on a one-track Maine branch line to which passengers descent via a rickety staircase. Alongside it is a chute used to slide down packing cases and heavy luggage.

Local tradition has it that an elderly lady once came whizzing down the chute, clutching her hat in one hand and a straw valise in the other. At the bottom she pulled herself together and exclaimed, "You'd think a big railroad company would make it a little easier for passengers to get down to their ding-busted trains!"

At the funeral of Houdini, the great illusionist, they were carrying out the coffin when mourner Charles B. Dillingham was heard by practically the entire congregation saying to George M. Cohan, "Wouldn't it be funny if he wasn't in there?"

THOUSANDS OF DOCTORS PRESCRIBE PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS
Resulting from Colds!

This famous modern cough medicine acts at once to relieve such coughing and lessens the urge to cough.

PERTUSSIN is scientifically prepared to work internally. It increases natural secretions in the respiratory tract. Thus PERTUSSIN helps to loosen and "cut" the sticky, clinging phlegm and to turn a dry and tight cough into that greatly desired "productive" or loose stage of a cough during which phlegm is easily raised.

PERTUSSIN acts promptly, and relief often comes with the first spoonfuls. That's why PERTUSSIN is in such great demand. PERTUSSIN contains no harmful ingredients of any kind. It's a very pleasant-tasting cough medicine and is safe for both old and young—even small children.

You can buy PERTUSSIN today from any drugstore at a moderate price.

THOUSANDS OF DOCTORS PRESCRIBE PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS
Resulting from Colds!

This famous modern cough medicine acts at once to relieve such coughing and lessens the urge to cough.

PERTUSSIN is scientifically prepared to work internally. It increases natural secretions in the respiratory tract. Thus PERTUSSIN helps to loosen and "cut" the sticky, clinging phlegm and to turn a dry and tight cough into that greatly desired "productive" or loose stage of a cough during which phlegm is easily raised.

PERTUSSIN acts promptly, and relief often comes with the first spoonfuls. That's why PERTUSSIN is in such great demand. PERTUSSIN contains no harmful ingredients of any kind. It's a very pleasant-tasting cough medicine and is safe for both old and young—even small children.

You can buy PERTUSSIN today from any drugstore at a moderate price.

Police, Firemen Get Free Time For Suggestions

A suggestion box system initiated by Police and Fire Commisioner John J. Long is paying off with "free time" for policemen and fire fighters.

Recently, padlocked boxes were installed at police headquarters and the four fire stations throughout the city so employes could have a say in their departments, according to Long.

Ideas submitted by police and firemen are adjudged periodically by a Suggestion Committee comprising Commissioner Long, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, Acting Fire Chief William L. Lindner and one representative from each of the departments.

At the last committee meeting, Fireman Charles Himmler's suggestion of widening the ramp at the entrance to West Side Station on Greene Street was voted as "having sufficient merit to warrant an award of one day "free time." Awards range up to seven extra days off with pay, if the suggestion is outstanding.

When answering an alarm, the West Side pumper creates a traffic hazard because it has to travel some distance onto the street before it can negotiate a safe turn. By widening the ramp, danger to motorists would decrease.

Other suggestions came from:

Police Sgt. Frank A. Shober—(1) Notify merchants by newspaper or some other way and ask them to place a card or marker in center of front door with phone number where they can be contacted in case of an emrgency; (2) Contact Potomac Edison Company and see if it is possible to have street lights repaired more promptly because lights are out 10 and 12 nights.

Fireman Robert Martin—Medicine cabinet in bathroom is lacking essential first aid equipment and medical supplies.

Fireman Virgil V. McClure—Suggest that man on duty at Central Station switchboard call gas company on fires.

Making up the five-man committee were Police Officer Richard W. Lashley and Fireman Harold Hipsley.

PE Gives Advice On TV Aerials

Television set owners and those persons planning to purchase sets were advised yesterday to make sure that their TV aerials are so placed that they are not near power lines nor will come in contact with the lines if they fall.

The warning was given by a spokesman for the Potomac Edison Company who said that recently an aerial fell across a power line near Hancock. Only the most unusual circumstances prevented a serious accident. The occupant of the house notified the utility company immediately, crews were dispatched to the scene, and damage was held to a minimum.

"This is not the first accident of this type," the company official said, "and the TV set owner was indeed fortunate to escape without loss of his home or severe physical injury.

"When a TV aerial falls across a power line," the spokesman said, "there is great danger of fire and personal injury in addition to almost certain power interruptions to other customers on the line affected."

Ohioans Study Md. Act Here

Four officials from Ohio are in Cumberland today to confer with District Forester William H. Johnson and members of the Allegany County District Conservancy Board concerning the Maryland Forest Conservancy Districts Act.

Johnson yesterday identified the visitors as A. W. Marion, director of the Department of Natural Resources; James Willey, assistant director; Ray White, a member of the Ohio Legislature, and Oliver Diller, director of the Ohio Division of Forestry.

The Ohioans wish to investigate the workings of the law, adopted in 1943. Maryland was one of the first states to adopt an act to conserve its forests, according to Johnson.

Friday the representatives from the Buckeye State will confer with conservation officials in Frederick and on Saturday will meet with Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Parks and Forests, in Annapolis.

Dinosaurs Apparently Suffered From Arthritis, Scientist Says

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

CHICAGO—(AP) — Dinosaurs, the big shots of the reptilian era millions of years ago, apparently suffered from arthritis in their old age, a Smithsonian anthropologist said today.

Dr. T. Dale Stewart told a reporter the Smithsonian Institution has a dinosaur whose skeleton shows bone defects strikingly similar to those observed in humans known to be suffering from a "degenative arthritis" sometimes accompanying old age.

This type of arthritis—believed to be due in most cases just to the wear and tear of living—limits the activities of its victims and usually causes pain.

Dr. Stewart said the roughening of the joints seen in the Smithsonian's monstrous dino—measuring some 75 feet from nose to tail tip—presumably would have caused the beast to take many a day off to rest up from his pain.

The scientist cited the dinosaur case as further evidence in support of a current study indicating that prehistoric men and animals suffered from much the same bone diseases and deformities that affect modern man and beast.

Stewart and Doctors William Tobin and D. J. O'Regan, of Georgetown University, Washington, exhibited to the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons skeletal and other evidence indicating such conditions in ancient races of man.

They showed a replica of the thigh bone of the "Javan ape man"—who strutted his stuff some 500,000 years ago. The specimen shows a bony growth which the scientists said has been variously interpreted as being either a benign tumor of the bone—or a formation due to an injury.

The Java man apparently had other troubles, too, because there are marks on the bone which the scientists said are attributed "to marks made by crocodile teeth."

New evidence that tuberculosis existed in the new world prior to the advent of white man—long a controversial subject—is also offered in the exhibit. It's part of the spinal column of a child, found in archeological remains in New Mexico, authentically dated to between 900 and 1100 A.D., long before the Columbian era.

The scientists also declared a pictorial presentation of an Egyptian of about 4000 years ago shows evidence which has been interpreted as an infantile paralysis deformity of the foot.

Home Nursing Study Planned

A 30-hour training course for home nursing instructors will be held by the American Red Cross here beginning February 5.

Miss Fena Anderson, Eastern Area Consultant for Red Cross Nursing in Baltimore, will hold classes five days a week until February 16, with only graduate nurses or home economics teachers eligible to attend the course, Red Cross members here stated.

Persons interested in attending classes are requested to contact Mrs Leo W. Witherup, executive secretary of Allegany County Chapter Red Cross, at the local office in the Post Office building. Officials said the classes probably will be held in Allegany Hospital classrooms.

The course is a refresher class for graduate nurses and home economics teachers who will then become instructors to teach home nursing to local groups. At least 10 persons are needed to form a refresher class, members said, and application blanks are available at the Red Cross office.

Graham Will Attend Clinic

Samuel A. Graham, local American Legion official, will attend the annual Area B Child Welfare Conference of the Legion and its affiliated organizations Friday and Saturday in Hotel Niagara, Nigara Falls, N. Y.

Graham, active in child welfare program of the Legion, was named National American Legion child welfare committeeman from Maryland recently.

He is a member of the state child welfare committee and formerly held similar posts in Mountain District.

Area B is comprised of Maryland, New York, West Virginia, New Jersey, District of Columbia, Delaware, Virginia and Puerto Rico.

A working conference, Graham expects to participate in study committees on dependent children, legislation for child welfare, cooperation between Legion Units and organization on a department child welfare basis, child health problems and discussion of the Midcentury White House Conference on Children and Youth held in Washington last month.

Trapper Tells Of Fight For Life Against Cougar

Edward McClean, 63-year-old trapper and power line worker for the British Columbia government, gives a dramatic account in the following story of his desperate fight for life against a cougar that crashed into his remote backwood cabin and attacked him.

By EDWARD McCLEAN
(As told to International News Service

CAMPBELL RIVER, B. C. (INS)—I am a trapper and linesman employed by the British Columbia government telegraph and telephone service. I was in my line cabin 10 miles north of Kelsey Bay.

That is where the road ends and you have to hike in through heavy timber and deep snow.

I had finished my work and was ready for bed about 9 p.m. I turned out the lamp and was latching the door.

Suddenly a cougar crashed in through the window of the upper half of the door about five feet above the ground.

For the first time in my work as a linesman I had left my rifle in one of the other line cabins, located six miles apart. I had an axe but it was hung on the wall out of reach.

The snarling animal knocked me down and pinned me to the floor. It was chewing my right arm. I struggled to get my knees across it to press on its heart.

Then I remembered my butcher knife. It was a 12-inch blade. I dragged myself and the clawing cougar along the floor.

I reached the knife with my left hand and hacked away at the beast.

Then my little spaniel "George" came from under the bed. The cougar released me and seized the dog by its fur. That gave me time to grasp the knife in my right hand.

The cougar let go the dog and its mouth closed over my left arm. I was thinking all the time: "What is the best thing to do?"

I tried to cut its jugular vein. I kept hacking, each time in a different place. Finally after chewing my right ear, both arms and clawing my chest ,the cougar let go.

I picked up a chair and bashed the beast. Then I grasped my dog and we got through the door. I banged it shut and waited outside, ready with the knife.

After a while I cautiously opened the door, thinking the cougar had died. I heard it growl and decided to leave the cabin to the cougar.

I struggled through the snow in my torn and blood-soaked underwear and barefoot. It was below freezing and my wounds quickly crusted.

I put "George" in my skiff. A strong west wind blew us along, I could not handle the oars because my hands were ripped open.

The wind carried the skiff ashore near another line cabin. It took about two hours to cover the six miles. I was shaking with cold and too weak to light a fire.

I crept into a sleeping bag and waited until morning. I did not get much sleep. Then I called for help on the service phone.

Frank Dingwall and Bill Rirsch came by gasboat. They sent a plane to get me but the water was too rough for a landing.

They took me to Kelsey Bay by boat and to Lourdes Hospital in Campbell River by car. Before we left they made some patches on me which the hospital said were fine.

Then Dingwall went back for the cougar. It was dying. He shot it. He said it was a young one, weighing about 60 pounds.

I will be back on the job soon and ready to kill the rest of the cougars. But not with a knife. Using a rifle is an easier way to get the $20 bounty.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

Should you bother with a girl "who can't decide"?

Answer: The most difficult of all married partners is one who is essentially "ambivalent" who both likes and dislikes the idea of marriage and alternately wants your love and wishes to reject you. Unless a girl is able to decide with some degree of permanency before marriage which of these trends is the stronger, she will go on changing back and forth after marriage and will make both herself and you thoroughly unhappy. A girl who feared or disliked her father or who grew up with a morbid attitude toward sex is apt to react in this way.

Is being undersized a handicap?

Answer: In itself, yes, although like all handicaps it can spur those who dare attempt to get the better of it to superior achievement—Napoleon is one outstanding example. With those who do not make such an effort, the result of being undersized is apt to be a sense of personal inadequacy which not only hampers intellectual development, but makes the individual prone to anxiety and neurotic fear of illness. Tests of 1,000 neurotic soldiers reported by Linford Rees in the Journal of Mental Science appear to confirm this idea.

Will drugs cure an alcoholic?

Answer: There are drugs which make a person dangerously ill for the time being if he drinks while under their influence and which for this reason should be given only under a physician's supervision. But to give such drugs against a person's will or without his knowledge will not cure him of addiction to drink. Alcoholism is an emotional problem and whatever help drugs may give, it cannot be permanently cured unless the person himself willingly cooperates. If this is not the case, he will merely "recondition" himself so that he can tolerate liquor again.

No Video Now For Swiss; It's Too Dangerous

BERN, Switzerland, (AP)—The administration of Radio Bern — the radio station of the Swiss capital—has issued a warning against the "educational and psychological dangers" of television.

Television will not be introduced in Switzerland, at least for the time being. Radio Bern's administrative council, comprising representatives of government, churches, universities and listeners' organizations ,explained why in a statement published in all major Swiss newspapers.

Television is "a new invention, still entirely in the development stage," the statement said, and the Swiss mountains might present it with technically insurmountable obstacles.

"Furthermore," the statement added, "the administration of Radio Bern, having observed (television) programs abroad, draws the attention of the authorities and the public to the fact that television brings with it great educational and psychological dangers which may have unforeseeable disintegrating consequences for the family and the state.

"A Swiss television service would be compelled, for financial reasons to obtain its programs mainly from abroad. It would therefore contribute to the dissemination in our country of foreign ideologies and of conceptions of life which are out of harmony with those of our peple.

"It seems probable that television will eventually be introduced even in Switzerland. The administration of Radio Bern considers, however, that the state, the national economy and the people face more vital tasks at the present time."

"In particular," the state concluded, "no direct or indirect contribution should be made to any experimental television service during the next three years without giving the federal parliament an opportunity to express its fundamental views on the matter."

Trapper Tells Of Fight For Life Against Cougar

Edward McClean, 63-year-old trapper and power line worker for the British Columbia government, gives a dramatic account in the following story of his desperate fight for life against a cougar that crashed into his remote backwood cabin and attacked him.

By EDWARD McCLEAN
(As told to International News Service

CAMPBELL RIVER, B. C. (INS)—I am a trapper and linesman employed by the British Columbia government telegraph and telephone service. I was in my line cabin 10 miles north of Kelsey Bay.

That is where the road ends and you have to hike in through heavy timber and deep snow.

I had finished my work and was ready for bed about 9 p.m. I turned out the lamp and was latching the door.

Suddenly a cougar crashed in through the window of the upper half of the door about five feet above the ground.

For the first time in my work as a linesman I had left my rifle in one of the other line cabins, located six miles apart. I had an axe but it was hung on the wall out of reach.

The snarling animal knocked me down and pinned me to the floor. It was chewing my right arm. I struggled to get my knees across it to press on its heart.

Then I remembered my butcher knife. It was a 12-inch blade. I dragged myself and the clawing cougar along the floor.

I reached the knife with my left hand and hacked away at the beast.

Then my little spaniel "George" came from under the bed. The cougar released me and seized the dog by its fur. That gave me time to grasp the knife in my right hand.

The cougar let go the dog and its mouth closed over my left arm. I was thinking all the time: "What is the best thing to do?"

I tried to cut its jugular vein. I kept hacking, each time in a different place. Finally after chewing my right ear, both arms and clawing my chest, the cougar let go.

I picked up a chair and bashed the beast. Then I grasped my dog and we got through the door. I banged it shut and waited outside, ready with the knife.

After a while I cautiously opened the door, thinking the cougar had died. I heard it growl and decided to leave the cabin to the cougar.

I struggled through the snow in my torn and blood-soaked underwear and barefoot. It was below freezing and my wounds quickly crusted.

I put "George" in my skiff. A strong west wind blew us along, I could not handle the oars because my hands were ripped open.

The wind carried the skiff ashore near another line cabin. It took about two hours to cover the six miles. I was shaking with cold and too weak to light a fire.

Phils Sign Texas Football Star To Bonus Contract

Ben Tompkins Gets $50,000 To Ink Pact

Young Junior Was Star Quarterback For Longhorns

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies today paid a bonus of some $50,000 to sign Ben Tompkins, University of Texas junior rated by Owner Bob Carpenter as a "great prospect."

Tompkins will leave school to join the Phils. Carpenter said the 21-year-old youth was signed to a contract with the Phils' Class B farm club at Wilmington, Del., of the Interstate League.

The young infielder is better known right now as a football player. He starred as quarterback on the Texas Longhorns' Southwest Conference championship team last season.

Phils' Scout Hap Morse said at Dallas "I want it definitely stated that we did not go after Tompkins but that he called the scouts in and talked contract. I don't want anybody to start saying we raided the campus."

Carpenter refused to disclose the exact sum for which Tompkins signed up. However, an informed source said the youth was paid a figure "slightly less than that paid Curt Simmons."

Simmons is the Egypt, Pa., lad who got $65,000 as a bonus for signing and fulfilled the Phils' faith in him by winning 17 games in the club's pennant drive last season. Curt is now in the Army.

Tompkins may find himself in the Army soon, too. Morse said he is in line for induction.

Tompkins plays shortstop, second and third base, and is regarded by Carpenter as "the greatest prospect from the Southwest since Ted Lyons came out of Baylor."

Lyons, a pitcher, was a stalwart performer for the Chicago White Sox for two decades.

Jitters Cause Cage Rhubarbs

Official Reports Situation Normal

NEW YORK, Jan. 31—(INS)—A leading college sports official said today that basketball coaches worry over the world situation as much as anybody else, and added their nerves and jitters might well be the main cause for the current rash of college cage rhubarbs.

Commissioner Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, himself the target of the latest blast from a coach, said he did not consider this season unusual from the standpoint of coaches' criticism of officials.

Having spoken thus, Bushnell sidestepped any comment on the verbal attack directed at him last night by Coach Danny Lynch of St. Francis.

Lynch's team lost to New York University, 69 to 58, and the Terriers' coach exploded afterwards that "Bushnell ought to get a whole new staff of officials."

Also in the news was Referee W. H. Kisner, who reacted sharply after Clair Bee, the coach at Long Island University, accused him of being a "homer" in LIU's 62-61 loss to Arizona Monday night.

"Nobody ever accused me of throwing a game before," the veteran Kisner snapped. Bee had claimed that, in the Arizona game, LIU was "jobbed."

The present uproar recalled the furor that arose in the Big Ten three years ago when home teams were winning 90 per cent of the conference games played. That particular clamor died out, finally, without noticeable effect.

DUKE MENTOR—William D. Murray, former football star, yesterday inked a contract as head coach of Duke University, replacing veteran Wallace Wade. Murray previously coached three undefeated teams at Delaware University. The husky mentor was a former star at Duke, being named to All-Southern team as a halfback. (AP Wirephoto).

Bill Murray Named Duke Grid Mentor

Delaware Coach Succeeds Wade

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 31 (AP) — William D. (Bill) Murray, former Duke football star and now athletic director and football coach at the University of Delaware, was named head football coach at Duke University today.

Murray succeeds Wallace Wade, veteran Duke mentor who took over the Southern Conference's newly created post of commissioner Jan. 1.

The announcement of Murray's selection was made by Duke's president, Dr. Holis Edens. Murray was named unanimously by the Duke athletic council upon recommendation of a special selection committee.

Murray is a native of Rocky Mount, N. C., where he was a star high school athlete before he entered Duke University in 1927.

At Delaware, he produced three undefeated teams — in 1941 and 1942, contributing to a record of 32 games without defeat, and in 1946.

"We consider ourselves to be most fortunate in securing the services of Bill Murray," Duke athletic director Eddie Cameron remarked. "I have known him as player and as coach and have followed his career closely over the years. He is a splendid football coach, but more than that he is a moulder of men."

Dr. Charles E. Jordan, Duke vice president and chairman of the athletic council, said: "Mr. Murray's name has been in first or second place on the committee's list throughout its search for a new football coach."

A devotee of the single wing style of football, Murray indicated that he would use both the single wing and a variation of the T-formation at Duke.

Murray coached at Children's Home in Winston-Salem before going to Delaware in 1940. He was one of Duke's first All-Southern selections, being named to the mythical squad in 1930 when he rolled up 1,230 yards as a halfback.

Frostburg State Jayvees Top Beall

FROSTBURG, Jan. 31 — Jimmy Hicks, former Fort Hill high star, sparked the Frostburg State Jayvees to a 42-40 victory over Beall here tonight.

Hicks, who recently enrolled at Frostburg, entered the game as a substitute and controlled the back boards while scoring eight points for the winners.

Jack Moulton was high man for Frostburg with 11 points while Don Blank garnered 17 for Beall. It was Beall's sixth defeat in 11 games. The lineups:

Ridgeley Third Period Rally Trips Piedmont

Hawks Capture PVC Contest By 40-34

PIEDMONT, W. Va., Jan. 31 — Sparked by scoring ace, Carl Hartman, who tallied 18 points, Ridgeley High's Blackhawks tripped Piedmont High tonight by the score of 40 to 34.

A third period rally in which the Hawks outscored Piedmont 16-4 was the deciding factor after the visitors trailed by as much as nine points in the first half of the Potomac Valley Conference tilt. It was Ridgeley's eighth victory in 13 starts this season.

Piedmont took a 13-9 lead in the first quarter and held a 19-18 edge at halftime but trailed 34-23 at the close of the third stanza.

Both teams fared well at the free throw line, each scoring 12 of 20 chances.

Referees Bill Hahn and Joe Stanislawczyic ejected four players on personals — Ed Decker of Ridgeley and Bill Junkins, Albanese and Reber of Piedmont.

High man for the losers was Bell with 12 points on three fielders and six of nine fouls.

The triumph gave Ridgeley a clean sweep of its series with the Lions, as the Hawks copped the opener 48-44.

Wheeling-Spas Tilt Postponed; Erie Here Next

The Cumberland Spas All-American pro basketball game scheduled last night at Wheeling, W. Va., was postponed because of inclement weather and icy roads which made traveling hazardous.

Erie, Pa., Admirals will be the Spas' next opponent, coming here Sunday for a 3:15 p.m. afternoon contest. The game has been scheduled to permit shift workers at local plants to attend the game, Bill Keegan, coach of the Cumberland pros said last night.

Cumberland will be seeking its seventh league victory against Erie.

Tucson Open Begins Today

147 Pros To Vie For $10,000 Prize

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 31 (AP) — A 147-man field without a favorite will start the $10,000 Tucson Open golf tourney tomorrow.

The flat, par 70, 6,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club course always acts as a leveling influence. This is a course where the lesser-known names usually shine.

Jimmy Demaret, the affable Texan playing out of Ojai, Calif., puts it this way: "Pick a dozen names and if you're lucky you'll have the winner.

"On a long, difficult course you could probably pick five fellows and be reasonably sure of having the winner. On short courses like this, you can't tell who will come through."

Demaret has won the Tucson event twice. He would certainly be included in the dozen most likely to succeed this week.

So would Chandler Harper, the lanky man from Portsmouth, Va., who won his first major event in 13 years of play by taking top money in the Tucson event in 1950.

And there is Lloyd Mangrum, the Chicagoan with the aching back, who is another former winner here. Mangrum says his injury is still bothering him and he won't even guess how he will play. Around the club house they think he'll finish in the top five.

Others whom the pros expect to show to good advantage are Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., who is perked up by winning last week's Phoenix Open; Lawson Little, Monterey, Calif.; Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C.; Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., and Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Bayard High Loses To Beverly, 34-32

BEVERLY, W. Va., Jan. 31 — Beverly High School gained revenge for a 36-31 loss earlier in the season by defeating Bayard High School here, 34-32.

Center Bennett's field goal broke a 32-32 tie with 50 seconds to play. The score was tied eight times. Bennett led the winners in scoring with 15 points. Evans had eleven for Bayard. Lineups:

Williams Scores TKO Over Cardell

DETROIT, Jan. 31 (AP) — Lightweight champion Ike Williams ran into a mighty tough customer tonight and had to hit young Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn., with everything in the book before stopping him via a TKO. Cardell failed to answer the bell for the ninth round.

Williams, a prohibitive 4-1 favorite over his young and less experienced opponent, closed Cardell's left eye and bloodied his right but was unable to floor him.

Navy Downs Loyola

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP)—Navy breezed to its 12th win in 15 games today, downing Loyola of Baltimore, 61 to 47, in a free-shooting game that permitted Middle Coach Ben Garnavale to clear his bench of substitutes. It was Loyola's 12th loss in 18 games.

Bill Day Grabs Lead In YMCA Scoring Race

Garners 200 Points; Walt Davis Second

Bill Day, former member of Cumberland Dukes professional basketball team, took the scoring lead at the close of first half play in the Central YMCA Senior Men's Basketball League.

Day, BPO Elks forward, pounded the hoops for 200 points and a 21-point lead over teammate Walt Davis who garnered 179 tallies. Third high man was Herman Lewis of Local No. 26, with 156 points. Day gathered his total in 14 games for a 14.3 average.

Although the Forty and Eight team captured the first half championship with 14 straight victories it did not place a man in the top five scorers of the loop. Jimmy Eckard, with 129 points, was seventh in the league in scoring for the winners.

Buddy Giles, 40-8 guard, posted the best foul shooting average with 35 of 49 tries. The scorers:

Kell Returns Unsigned Pact

Tiger Star Hit .340 Last Year

DETROIT, Jan. 31 (AP)—Hard-hitting George Kell, third baseman and sparkplug of the Detroit Tigers, returned his unsigned contract to Briggs Stadium today with a "friendly request" for a conference on salary terms.

Kell reportedly was offered a boost of $3,500 over his last year's $33,000 pay check, but he turned down the offer.

He asked for a meeting with Tiger Manager Billy Evans sometime this week, but Evans was due to leave for the major leagues meeting in New York today.

"I wired George at his Swifton, Ark., home and we agreed to get together in my office early next week," the Tiger general manager said.

Kell said in a telephone interview today that he was not a holdout.

"I don't even like the sound of the word," he added. Kell continued, "this is the first time in my major league career that I turned down a contract. The Detroit ball club and Mr. Evans have been very kind to me and we're only a little apart on terms. We should be able to get together without too much trouble."

Kell, American League batting champ in 1949, was runnerup to Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox last year. The Tiger captain hit .340; drove in 101 and got 218 hits—most of any major league player last season.

Kellogg Is Awarded Catholic Youth Medal

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Junius Kellogg, Manhattan College basketball center whose honesty is credited with foiling an attempt to "fix" a game in New York's Madison Square Garden, has been awarded the Chicago Catholic Youth Organization Club of Champions medal.

The medal is presented annually for an outstanding effort in the cause of youth. In the past it has gone to such personalities as Babe Ruth, Jackie Robinson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Kellogg, of Portsmouth, Va., will receive the award at the 18th annual dinner of the mid-western writers and sports broadcasters in Chicago's Palmer House May 22.

Starkey Flattens Brown In First At White Plains, N. Y.

Randall "Skeets" Starkey registered his second knockout victory in four nights on Tuesday when he belted out John Thomas Brown of the Bronx in the opening round of a scheduled four round match at White Plains, N. Y.

It was the 17th consecutive professional victory for the Wiley Ford (W. Va.) light heavyweight and 12th knockout triumph.

Peter J. "Bunny" Buntag of Pittsburgh, manager of Starkey, announced last night that "Skeets will fight on either the Rex Layne-Cesar Brion heavyweight card on February 9 or the show topped by Gene Hairston and Terry Young, middleweights, on February 16. Both shows are billed for Madison Square Garden, New York City.

Wilbur Dulin Hurt By Skidding Truck

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP)—Wibur R. Dulin, a member of the Maryland Racing Commission, was hurt today when a skidding dairy truck sideswiped his parked car on Ritchie Highway.

Dulin, 41, was treated at Anne Arundel General Hospital here for a hip injury and leg bruises. He was later released.

Friends said Dulin had stopped to clean his windshield on the icy highway a short distance from his home at Arnold. The truck brushed him against his car.

Dulin is a former state senator from Anne Arundel County.

For the fourth straight year, Wheeling has the No. 1 point-maker in the All-American Pro Basketball League.

Jimmie Quinlan, the "Human Stringbean" copped the honors in 1948 and 1949, Gerald "Gee" Becker snared the title last year and Eddie Sterling is out in front in the current race.

Sterling scored 16 field goals and 33 points against Altoona last Wednesday at Wheeling then got 12 goals and 26 points in the Sunday battle at Erie. His total is now 313 points for 14 games, an average of 22.4.

Becker scored 388 points last year for an average of 18.5 in 21 games.

Phils Sign Texas Football Star To Bonus Contract

Ben Tompkins Gets $50,000 To Ink Pact

Young Junior Was Star Quarterback For Longhorns

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies today paid a bonus of some $50,000 to sign Ben Tompkins, University of Texas junior rated by Owner Bob Carpenter as a "great prospect."

Tompkins will leave school to join the Phils. Carpenter said the 21-year-old youth was signed to a contract with the Phils' Class B farm club at Wilmington, Del., of the Interstate League.

The young infielder is better known right now as a football player. He starred as quarterback on the Texas Longhorns' Southwest Conference championship team last season.

Phils' Scout Hap Morse said at Dallas "I want it definitely stated that we did not go after Tompkins but that he called the scouts in and talked contract. I don't want anybody to start saying we raided the campus."

Carpenter refused to disclose the exact sum for which Tompkins signed up. However, an informed source said the youth was paid a figure "slightly less than that paid Curt Simmons."

Simmons is the Egypt, Pa., lad who got $65,000 as a bonus for signing and fulfilled the Phils' faith in him by winning 17 games in the club's pennant drive last season. Curt is now in the Army.

Tompkins may find himself in the Army soon, too. Morse said he is in line for induction.

Tompkins plays shortstop, second and third base, and is regarded by Carpenter as "the greatest prospect from the Southwest since Ted Lyons came out of Baylor."

Lyons, a pitcher, was a stalwart performer for the Chicago White Sox for two decades.

Jitters Cause Cage Rhubarbs

Official Reports Situation Normal

NEW YORK, Jan. 31—(INS)—A leading college sports official said today that basketball coaches worry over the world situation as much as anybody else, and added their nerves and jitters might well be the main cause for the current rash of college cage rhubarbs.

Commissioner Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, himself the target of the latest blast from a coach, said he did not consider this season unusual from the standpoint of coaches' criticism of officials.

Having spoken thus, Bushnell sidestepped any comment on the verbal attack directed at him last night by Coach Danny Lynch of St. Francis.

Lynch's team lost to New York University, 69 to 58, and the Terriers' coach exploded afterwards that "Bushnell ought to get a whole new staff of officials."

Also in the news was Referee W. H. Kisner, who reacted sharply after Clair Bee, the coach at Long Island University, accused him of being a "homer" in LIU's 62-61 loss to Arizona Monday night.

"Nobody ever accused me of throwing a game before," the veteran Kisner snapped. Bee had claimed that, in the Arizona game, LIU was "jobbed."

The present uproar recalled the furor that arose in the Big Ten three years ago when home teams were winning 90 per cent of the conference games played. That particular clamor died out, finally, without noticeable effect.

DUKE MENTOR—William D. Murray, former football star, yesterday inked a contract as head coach of Duke University, replacing veteran Wallace Wade. Murray previously coached three undefeated teams at Delaware University. The husky mentor was a former star at Duke, being named to All-Southern team as a halfback. (AP Wirephoto).

Bill Murray Named Duke Grid Mentor

Delaware Coach Succeeds Wade

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 31 (AP) — William D. (Bill) Murray, former Duke football star and now athletic director and football coach at the University of Delaware, was named head football coach at Duke University today.

Murray succeeds Wallace Wade, veteran Duke mentor who took over the Southern Conference's newly created post of commissioner Jan. 1.

The announcement of Murray's selection was made by Duke's president, Dr. Holis Edens. Murray was named unanimously by the Duke athletic council upon recommendation of a special selection committee.

Murray is a native of Rocky Mount, N. C., where he was a star high school athlete before he entered Duke University in 1927.

At Delaware, he produced three undefeated teams — in 1941 and 1942, contributing to a record of 32 games without defeat, and in 1946.

"We consider ourselves to be most fortunate in securing the services of Bill Murray," Duke athletic director Eddie Cameron remarked. "I have known him as player and as coach and have followed his career closely over the years. He is a splendid football coach, but more than that he is a moulder of men."

Dr. Charles E. Jordan, Duke vice president and chairman of the athletic council, said: "Mr. Murray's name has been in first or second place on the committee's list throughout its search for a new football coach."

A devotee of the single wing style of football, Murray indicated that he would use both the single wing and a variation of the T-formation at Duke.

Murray coached at Children's Home in Winston-Salem before going to Delaware in 1940. He was one of Duke's first All-Southern selections, being named to the mythical squad in 1930 when he rolled up 1,230 yards as a halfback.

Frostburg State Jayvees Top Beall

FROSTBURG, Jan. 31 — Jimmy Hicks, former Fort Hill high star, sparked the Frostburg State Jayvees to a 42-40 victory over Beall here tonight.

Hicks, who recently enrolled at Frostburg, entered the game as a substitute and controlled the back boards while scoring eight points for the winners.

Ridgeley Third Period Rally Trips Piedmont

Hawks Capture PVC Contest By 40-34

PIEDMONT, W. Va., Jan. 31 — Sparked by scoring ace, Carl Hartman, who tallied 18 points, Ridgeley High's Blackhawks tripped Piedmont High tonight by the score of 40 to 34.

A third period rally in which the Hawks outscored Piedmont 16-4 was the deciding factor after the visitors trailed by as much as nine points in the first half of the Potomac Valley Conference tilt. It was Ridgeley's eighth victory in 13 starts this season.

Piedmont took a 13-9 lead in the first quarter and held a 19-18 edge at halftime but trailed 34-23 at the close of the third stanza.

Both teams fared well at the free throw line, each scoring 12 of 20 chances.

Referees Bill Hahn and Joe Stanislawczyic ejected four players on personals — Ed Decker of Ridgeley and Bill Junkins, Albanese and Reber of Piedmont.

High man for the losers was Bell with 12 points on three fielders and six of nine fouls.

The triumph gave Ridgeley a clean sweep of its series with the Lions, as the Hawks copped the opener 48-44.

40-8 Cops 15th Straight Win

Second Half Race Opens At YMCA

The Forty and Eight first half champions captured their 15th straight victory last night in the Senior Men's Basketball League at Central YMCA.

Opening games of the second half went to the 40-8 cagers 59 to 38 over Peter Pan and Telephone Company quint over Sport Shoppe 31-30.

Jack Stotler paced the Forty and Eight squad with 14 points while Ted Durbin was high man for Telephone Company with 11 tallies. The Phone Co. five rallied in the final period for their one-point win after trailing 23-20 at the close of the third period.

Games tonight include Independents vs. Phone Co. at 7, BPO Elks vs. American Legion at 8, and Sport Shoppe vs. Local No. 26 at 9 p.m. The lineups:

Army Swamps Amherst

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—Ed Weaver, of Kingston, N. Y., scored 31 points in leading Army to an easy 70 to 49 basketball win over Amherst College in the field house today.

Weaver scored ten field goals and had a perfect day at the free throw line with 11 tries.

Wheeling-Spas Tilt Postponed; Erie Here Next

The Cumberland Spas All-American pro basketball game scheduled last night at Wheeling, W. Va., was postponed because of inclement weather and icy roads which made traveling hazardous.

Erie, Pa., Admirals will be the Spas' next opponent, coming here Sunday for a 3:15 p.m. afternoon contest. The game has been scheduled to permit shift workers at local plants to attend the game, Bill Keegan, coach of the Cumberland pros said last night.

Cumberland will be seeking its seventh league victory against Erie.

Tucson Open Begins Today

147 Pros To Vie For $10,000 Prize

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 31 (AP) — A 147-man field without a favorite will start the $10,000 Tucson Open golf tourney tomorrow.

The flat, par 70, 6,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club course always acts as a leveling influence. This is a course where the lesser-known names usually shine.

Jimmy Demaret, the affable Texan playing out of Ojai, Calif., puts it this way: "Pick a dozen names and if you're lucky you'll have the winner.

"On a long, difficult course you could probably pick five fellows and be reasonably sure of having the winner. On short courses like this, you can't tell who will come through."

Demaret has won the Tucson event twice. He would certainly be included in the dozen most likely to succeed this week.

So would Chandler Harper, the lanky man from Portsmouth, Va., who won his first major event in 13 years of play by taking top money in the Tucson event in 1950.

And there is Lloyd Mangrum, the Chicagoan with the aching back, who is another former winner here. Mangrum says his injury is still bothering him and he won't even guess how he will play. Around the club house they think he'll finish in the top five.

Others whom the pros expect to show to good advantage are Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., who is perked up by winning last week's Phoenix Open; Lawson Little, Monterey, Calif.; Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C.; Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., and Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Bayard High Loses To Beverly, 34-32

BEVERLY, W. Va., Jan. 31 — Beverly High School gained revenge for a 36-31 loss earlier in the season by defeating Bayard High School here, 34-32.

Center Bennett's field goal broke a 32-32 tie with 50 seconds to play. The score was tied eight times. Bennett led the winners in scoring with 15 points. Evans had eleven for Bayard. Lineups:

Williams Scores TKO Over Cardell

DETROIT, Jan. 31 (AP) — Lightweight champion Ike Williams ran into a mighty tough customer tonight and had to hit young Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn., with everything in the book before stopping him via a TKO. Cardell failed to answer the bell for the ninth round.

Williams, a prohibitive 4-1 favorite over his young and less experienced opponent, closed Cardell's left eye and bloodied his right but was unable to floor him.

Navy Downs Loyola

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP)—Navy breezed to its 12th win in 15 games today, downing Loyola of Baltimore, 61 to 47, in a free-shooting game that permitted Middle Coach Ben Garnavale to clear his bench of substitutes. It was Loyola's 12th loss in 18 games.

Bill Day Grabs Lead In YMCA Scoring Race

Garners 200 Points; Walt Davis Second

Bill Day, former member of Cumberland Dukes professional basketball team, took the scoring lead at the close of first half play in the Central YMCA Senior Men's Basketball League.

Day, BPO Elks forward, pounded the hoops for 200 points and a 21-point lead over teammate Walt Davis who garnered 179 tallies. Third high man was Herman Lewis of Local No. 26, with 156 points. Day gathered his total in 14 games for a 14.3 average.

Although the Forty and Eight team captured the first half championship with 14 straight victories it did not place a man in the top five scorers of the loop. Jimmy Eckard, with 129 points, was seventh in the league in scoring for the winners.

Buddy Giles, 40-8 guard, posted the best foul shooting average with 35 of 49 tries. The scorers:

Kell Returns Unsigned Pact

Tiger Star Hit .340 Last Year

DETROIT, Jan. 31 (AP)—Hard-hitting George Kell, third baseman and sparkplug of the Detroit Tigers, returned his unsigned contract to Briggs Stadium today with a "friendly request" for a conference on salary terms.

Kell reportedly was offered a boost of $3,500 over his last year's $33,000 pay check, but he turned down the offer.

He asked for a meeting with Tiger Manager Billy Evans sometime this week, but Evans was due to leave for the major leagues meeting in New York today.

"I wired George at his Swifton, Ark., home and we agreed to get together in my office early next week," the Tiger general manager said.

Kell said in a telephone interview today that he was not a holdout.

"I don't even like the sound of the word," he added. Kell continued, "this is the first time in my major league career that I turned down a contract. The Detroit ball club and Mr. Evans have been very kind to me and we're only a little apart on terms. We should be able to get together without too much trouble."

Kell, American League batting champ in 1949, was runnerup to Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox last year. The Tiger captain hit .340; drove in 101 and got 218 hits—most of any major league player last season.

Kellogg Is Awarded Catholic Youth Medal

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Junius Kellogg, Manhattan College basketball center whose honesty is credited with foiling an attempt to "fix" a game in New York's Madison Square Garden, has been awarded the Chicago Catholic Youth Organization Club of Champions medal.

The medal is presented annually for an outstanding effort in the cause of youth. In the past it has gone to such personalities as Babe Ruth, Jackie Robinson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Kellogg, of Portsmouth, Va., will receive the award at the 18th annual dinner of the mid-western writers and sports broadcasters in Chicago's Palmer House May 22.

Stadium Inn Cops 3 From Clingerman's

Starkey Flattens Brown In First At White Plains, N. Y.

Randall "Skeets" Starkey registered his second knockout victory in four nights on Tuesday when he belted out John Thomas Brown of the Bronx in the opening round of a scheduled four round match at White Plains, N. Y.

It was the 17th consecutive professional victory for the Wiley Ford (W. Va.) light heavyweight and 12th knockout triumph.

Peter J. "Bunny" Buntag of Pittsburgh, manager of Starkey, announced last night that "Skeets will fight on either the Rex Layne-Cesar Brion heavyweight card on February 9 or the show topped by Gene Hairston and Terry Young, middleweights, on February 16. Both shows are billed for Madison Square Garden, New York City.

Wilbur Dulin Hurt By Skidding Truck

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP)—Wibur R. Dulin, a member of the Maryland Racing Commission, was hurt today when a skidding dairy truck sideswiped his parked car on Ritchie Highway.

Dulin, 41, was treated at Anne Arundel General Hospital here for a hip injury and leg bruises. He was later released.

Friends said Dulin had stopped to clean his windshield on the icy highway a short distance from his home at Arnold. The truck brushed him against his car.

Dulin is a former state senator from Anne Arundel County.

For the fourth straight year, Wheeling has the No. 1 point-maker in the All-American Pro Basketball League.

Jimmie Quinlan, the "Human Stringbean" copped the honors in 1948 and 1949, Gerald "Gee" Becker snared the title last year and Eddie Sterling is out in front in the current race.

Sterling scored 16 field goals and 33 points against Altoona last Wednesday at Wheeling then got 12 goals and 26 points in the Sunday battle at Erie. His total is now 313 points for 14 games, an average of 22.4.

Becker scored 388 points last year for an average of 18.5 in 21 games.

Chicle 2nd Wins Fifth Straight Race At Hialeah

Hedley Woodhouse Completes Triple

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP) — Palatine Stable's Chicle 2nd won his fifth straight turf race at Hialeah Race course today by outdriving Cherry Oca Stable's Course by a half length in the $10,000 added Bougainvillea Handicap before 16,522 racing fans.

Cuore was a length and a half in front of Aegina, Hal Price Headley's 35 to 1 shot. Dart By, half of the Brookmeade Stable entry, was fourth in the field of 12.

Chicle 2nd, in winning the mile and three sixteenths test on the grass for the second consecutive year, rewarded $2 backers $5.10, $3.50 and $2.80. He was timed at 1:58 1-5 and earned $9,350 added first money.

Packing topweight of 124 pounds, the six-year-old Artentina-bred came from last place in a sterling performance to win the first important race of the season on the turf course.

He was the betting choice and completed a triple for Hedley Woodhouse, now tied with Ken Church for the meeting's riding honors.

Chicle 2nd, which won the Bougainvillea in 1950 under 118, has now earned $95,150. In 1950, he won 10 of 21 starts and $85,800. In his first start this winter he finished fourth to Three Rings in the Royal Palm Handicap.

Chicle 2nd was much the best in the midweek feature, although the race was marred by considerable rough riding. Several horses were all but knocked down near the three-furlong pole. Well Met and Tio Ciro appeared to have been victims of this interference.

E. H. Boukater's Torrent, a son of mighty Whirlaway, scored a four length victory today in the fourth race at Hialeah Park, his second success in eight starts here this winter.

The bay gelding, which paid $13.10 straight, moved to the leaders on the far turn and merely galloped to the finish under Apprentice Charlie Burr. Crystal Pass, a longshot, was second, while Demavend finished third. Rocklye, the 8 to 5 favorite, was outrun all the way in a very dull performance. Time for the mile and three sixteenths was 1.59 3-5.

Marlboro Stud Farm's Jet Master established himself as the outstanding two-year-old seen here this winter as he registered his second straight in the opener. He flashed home 3½ lengths clear of Our Challenger, turning the three furlongs in :33, fastest time at the meeting. Do Report was third in the field of eight youngsters. Jet Master, son of the Derby winner, Jet Pilot, was ridden by Woodhouse and paid $4.40 straight.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (INS) — Freshmen will play varisty football in every college where football is played this fall.

We say "where football is played" advisedly because some schools, like St. Mary's and Duquesne University already have abandoned the game for the duration.

The machinery already has been set in motion to make Frosh eligible and the rules may be changed in time to make the Frosh eligible for varsity baseball and other sports this spring.

Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletic Conference already has called a special meeting for March 13 of the 91 colleges in his organization to consider the Frosh problem.

Bushnell takes a realistic stand in the matter. He says: "Nobody knows just how many boys will be taken from school in the military draft, but we must be prepared for any eventuality.

"We must take every precaution to preserve our sports program as far as possible under existing conditions and to this end it would seem wise to make as many boys available as we can.

"Unquestionably we shall have freshmen playing varsity football as they did during World War II.

"I think it likely that the bars may be let down against the Frosh even in time for baseball."

There is an amusing angle or two in this situation. In actual practice many colleges will benefit tremendously by having freshmen play because they will have many budding stars who would flunk out before they had a chance to play as sophomores.

Perhaps you think we are kidding about this. Not at all. Just ask any West Point official sometime how many potential All-America aces the Army has lost because the boys could not make the grade in classrooms.

The Army—and the Navy, too—have had boys who were All-America material on a gridion but All-America flopperoos with the books. Many of our other leading colleges have had similar experiences with lads who had strong backs but weak minds.

With the Frosh made available, all colleges at least will have the benefit of any youngsters' playing ability and if he washes out before his sophomore year, well, there will be another batch of freshmen coming up.

Another angle in the football setup that would be more amusing were it not so pitiful, was uncovered when Duquesne gave up the game.

There was an immediate rush of cynical and ruthless individuals to dig up the football gold on the Duquesne campus. They immediately started bidding against one another for choice nuggets.

These college gold-diggers were out to lure the boys away from Duquesne and if you think they were interested in the boys' scholastic achievements you must be naive indeed. They wanted "morale builders" and they got 'em.

Chicle 2nd Wins Fifth Straight Race At Hialeah

Hedley Woodhouse Completes Triple

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP) — Palatine Stable's Chicle 2nd won his fifth straight turf race at Hialeah Race course today by outdriving Cherry Oca Stable's Course by a half length in the $10,000 added Bougainvillea Handicap before 16,522 racing fans.

Cuore was a length and a half in front of Aegina, Hal Price Headley's 35 to 1 shot. Dart By, half of the Brookmeade Stable entry, was fourth in the field of 12.

Chicle 2nd, in winning the mile and three sixteenths test on the grass for the second consecutive year, rewarded $2 backers $5.10, $3.50 and $2.80. He was timed at 1:58 1-5 and earned $9,350 added first money.

Packing topweight of 124 pounds, the six-year-old Artentina-bred came from last place in a sterling performance to win the first important race of the season on the turf course.

He was the betting choice and completed a triple for Hedley Woodhouse, now tied with Ken Church for the meeting's riding honors.

Chicle 2nd, which won the Bougainvillea in 1950 under 118, has now earned $95,150. In 1950, he won 10 of 21 starts and $85,800. In his first start this winter he finished fourth to Three Rings in the Royal Palm Handicap.

Chicle 2nd was much the best in the midweek feature, although the race was marred by considerable rough riding. Several horses were all but knocked down near the three-furlong pole. Well Met and Tio Ciro appeared to have been victims of this interference.

E. H. Boukater's Torrent, a son of mighty Whirlaway, scored a four length victory today in the fourth race at Hialeah Park, his second success in eight starts here this winter.

The bay gelding, which paid $13.10 straight, moved to the leaders on the far turn and merely galloped to the finish under Apprentice Charlie Burr. Crystal Pass, a longshot, was second, while Demavend finished third. Rocklye, the 8 to 5 favorite, was outrun all the way in a very dull performance. Time for the mile and three sixteenths was 1.59 3-5.

Marlboro Stud Farm's Jet Master established himself as the outstanding two-year-old seen here this winter as he registered his second straight in the opener. He flashed home 3½ lengths clear of Our Challenger, turning the three furlongs in :33, fastest time at the meeting. Do Report was third in the field of eight youngsters. Jet Master, son of the Derby winner, Jet Pilot, was ridden by Woodhouse and paid $4.40 straight.

Columbia Lions Roar Along Cage Trail Without a Defeat

Tom Powers John Azary Alan Stein Robert Reiss

WINNERS of 22 games in a row, 12 of them this season, the Columbia university Lions continue on their way as one of the nation's cage leaders. Paced by Jack Molinas, 6 foot 4½ inch soph, the Lions already have cracked a 40-year-old Lion record of 20 consecutive victories. Columbia's next game is against Harvard on Feb. 7. Other stars of the team are pictured. (International)

Grid Captain

FOR THE FIRST time since 1945, a backfield man, Bill Putich, quarterback, has been named to captain the University of Michigan football team. (International)

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (INS) — Freshmen will play varisty football in every college where football is played this fall.

We say "where football is played" advisedly because some schools, like St. Mary's and Duquesne University already have abandoned the game for the duration.

The machinery already has been set in motion to make Frosh eligible and the rules may be changed in time to make the Frosh eligible for varsity baseball and other sports this spring.

Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletic Conference already has called a special meeting for March 13 of the 91 colleges in his organization to consider the Frosh problem.

Bushnell takes a realistic stand in the matter. He says: "Nobody knows just how many boys will be taken from school in the military draft, but we must be prepared for any eventuality.

"We must take every precaution to preserve our sports program as far as possible under existing conditions and to this end it would seem wise to make as many boys available as we can.

"Unquestionably we shall have freshmen playing varsity football as they did during World War II.

"I think it likely that the bars may be let down against the Frosh even in time for baseball."

There is an amusing angle or two in this situation. In actual practice many colleges will benefit tremendously by having freshmen play because they will have many budding stars who would flunk out before they had a chance to play as sophomores.

Perhaps you think we are kidding about this. Not at all. Just ask any West Point official sometime how many potential All-America aces the Army has lost because the boys could not make the grade in classrooms.

The Army—and the Navy, too—have had boys who were All-America material on a gridion but All-America flopperoos with the books. Many of our other leading colleges have had similar experiences with lads who had strong backs but weak minds.

With the Frosh made available, all colleges at least will have the benefit of any youngsters' playing ability and if he washes out before his sophomore year, well, there will be another batch of freshmen coming up.

Another angle in the football set-up that would be more amusing were it not so pitiful, was uncovered when Duquesne gave up the game.

There was an immediate rush of cynical and ruthless individuals to dig up the football gold on the Duquesne campus. They immediately started bidding against one another for choice nuggets.

These college gold-diggers were out to lure the boys away from Duquesne and if you think they were interested in the boys' scholastic achievements you must be naive indeed. They wanted "morale builders" and they got 'em.

Ex-Bean's Cove Resident Reported Missing In Korea

BEAN'S COVE, Pa. — Corporal John A. Clayton, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva F. Clayton, Fittsburgh, and grandson of H. A. Clayton, Bean's Cove, with whom he had lived for two years, is reported missing in action in Korea.

Corporal Clayton in November had escaped a Chinese Red ambush which killed four of his buddies and wounded 15 others. He enlisted in the Army two years ago and was due for discharge last month had not the war in Korea intervened.

In November, according to his last letters received by his family, Corp. Clayton was involved in the bitter fighting near the Chosin Reservoir. He described the weather as "awfully cold" at that time.

After the ambush in which his mates fell, Corp. Clayton's unit counter-attacked and drove the Reds from their position on a nearby hill.

An alumnus of Wilkinsburg High School, he had been stationed in Japan for over a year before being sent into Korea.

While young Clayton lived with his grandfather here he attended Flintstone High School in 1948.

Oakland Girl Joins In Tour

OAKLAND—Miss Eloise I. Ashby of 46 Pennington Street, is among nineteen Barnard College students of American government who are leaving New York for Washington, D. C., today, to see the government in operation.

During the four-day field trip, an annual event since 1944, the group will confer with Washington personages, attend committee hearings and general sessions of the House of Representatives and the Senate, and visit the Supreme Court and offices of government agencies.

The students will have interviews with Senator Margaret Chase Smith, Senator Estes Kefauver, James J. Reynolds, member of the National Labor Relations Board, and Arthur Krock and the Washington Bureau Staff of the New York Times.

The itinerary for Saturday and Sunday includes general sightseeing. Mrs. William Fairbanks, associate in government, who arranged the trip, is accompanying the group.

Keyser Desires More Police

KEYSER, W. Va. — The City of Keyser has been having difficulty in keeping enough extra police on hand to fill in during emergencies and when regular officers become ill.

As a result Mayor John C. Freeland asked City Clerk A. A. Jordan to make a call for applicants to fill vacancies on the extra squad.

Recently one member of the extra staff secured employment elsewhere and resigned, and Richard T. Murphy, the remaining extra man, tendered his resignation to the mayor on Tuesday and went to work for the Pittsburgh Auto Supply Company on Wednesday, leaving the city without any extra men for the department. Murphy has announced however, that he will be willing to give his services in an emergency whenever it is possible for him to do so without interfering with his new work, until new men are enrolled.

The civil service examiners will conduct an examination for recruits to the department at the city clerk's office on Friday, February 9, at 7:30 p. m. Applicants for the positions may file application with the city clerk prior to that time.

THE TOP Superfortress commander for the Far East Air Force in the Korean war, Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosey) O'Donnell (above), has been replaced by Brig. Gen. James Briggs. O'Donnell will resume command of the Strategic Air Command's March Air Force base, south California. (International)

Recreation In Tri-Towns Area Gets Discussion

West Virginia Professor Attends

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Problems of the Tri-Towns Recreation Association were discussed at a meeting Tuesday, at the Piedmont Library, with Vernon A. Staggers, president of the association, presiding.

Dr. John Scherlacher, of the school of Physical Education of West Virginia University, Morgantown, who has visited the community several times and has met with the association, led the discussions.

He told of his observations here last summer on his visits here in which he spent an entire day and parts of other days.

Mrs. Benjamin Mamolen stated that the planned program of Harold Marsh and Rodney Baker, co-directors of the several playgrounds, had resulted in increased attendance in the use of the recreation facilities. The same two directors have been appointed for the coming summer activities.

Three more playgrounds are expected to be in use this year than last. They will be located in Westernport.

Staggers stated that a playground was needed on West Piedmont Hill but use of a vacant lot suitable for that purpose has not been obtained.

The budget for the operation of the playgrounds has been set at $1,500.

The annual election of officers of the association will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 13.

Sunshine Club Elects Officers At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—The Sunshine Club of Church of the Brethren, South Main Street, met at the home of Mrs. Frances Hartman, South Main Street, Tuesday evening where a social gathering followed a short business session.

Mrs. Hartman was assisted by Mrs. Audrey Hartman.

The following officers were elected for the year: Mrs. Eloise Welch, president; Mrs. Ocie Stafford, vice president; Mrs. Anna Wentz, secretary, and Mrs. Virginia Mullen, treasurer.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. I. S. Long, Mrs. Virginia Mullen, Mrs. Luetta Dantzic, Mrs. Anna Wentz, Mrs. Eloise Welch, Mrs. Betty Mathias, Miss Mary Rotruck, Mrs. Ocie Stafford, Mrs. Hazel Weese, Miss Juanita Rotruck, Mrs. Grace Shaffer, Mrs. Kate Casteel, Mrs. Bessie Kitzmiller and the hostesses.

Social Welfare Club Will Hear Rector

WESTERNPORT — Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Social Welfare Club tonight at 8 o'clock, in the conference room of the Luke Plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Rev. Schwind, who was recently appointed chairman of the Civil Defense in Westernport by Mayor George P. Kight, will explain the organizing of the defense set-up being organized in Westernport. The members of the Welfare club are cooperating in the March of Dimes Polio campaign here.

Mineral Jury Returns Friday

KEYSER, W. Va.—The jury will report for service in Mineral County Circuit Court Friday at 10 a. m., when the two cases of Marie Duckworth, vs Wanzel Jones and Carl Fisher, will be presented for hearing.

The cases were appealed from a justice of the peace court, the result of a suit over a highway accident.

It is probably that there will be no more cases tried at this term of court until Monday, February 12, when the second of several suits filed by heirs of Thomas Daskal against The Schriver Company, Inc., Cumberland, will be called up for trial.

The case comes as a result of an accident on Route 46 early last summer when the Schriver truck and the Daskal car collided.

Petersburg IOOF Visits Keyser Meeting

KEYSER, W. Va. — A delegation of members of Petersburg lodge of Odd Fellows attended the meeting of Queen's Point Lodge Monday evening and participated in the initiation of a candidate. The degree work was exemplified under direction of Raymond Rice, degree master.

March Of Dimes Dance Planned

KEYSER, W. Va. — Jay Van's orchestra will furnish music for the March of Dimes Dance to be held Friday evening by the Keyser Lodge of Moose, in the Moose Home at East and Patrick Streets.

Hours for dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. It is a public dance to be held for the purpose of raising funds for the Infantile Paralysis fund.

On Saturday Prof. John Sherlacher's Folk Dancing recreational classes will give a "Hill Billy Review" at the Moose Home. This will be the final action in the West Virginia University extension course that has been a special activity bimonthly through the winter school months. Frank Kasmire's Harmonettes will furnish music.

The Moose lodge degree team will initiate a class of 33 candidates, starting at 4 p.m. on Sunday. Refreshments and dancing will follow in the evening.

Ex-Bean's Cove Resident Reported Missing In Korea

CORPORAL CLAYTON

BEAN'S COVE, Pa. — Corporal John A. Clayton, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva F. Clayton, Pittsburgh, and grandson of H. A. Clayton, Bean's Cove, with whom he had lived for two years, is reported missing in action in Korea.

Corporal Clayton in November had escaped a Chinese Red ambush which killed four of his buddies and wounded 15 others. He enlisted in the Army two years ago and was due for discharge last month had not the war in Korea intervened.

In November, according to his last letters received by his family, Corp. Clayton was involved in the bitter fighting near the Chosin Reservoir. He described the weather as "awfully cold" at that time.

After the ambush in which his mates fell, Corp. Clayton's unit counter-attacked and drove the Reds from their position on a nearby hill.

An alumnus of Wilkinsburg High School, he had been stationed in Japan for over a year before being sent into Korea.

While young Clayton lived with his grandfather here he attended Flintstone High School in 1948.

Oakland Girl Joins In Tour

OAKLAND—Miss Eloise I. Ashby of 46 Pennington Street, is among nineteen Barnard College students of American government who are leaving New York for Washington, D. C., today, to see the government in operation.

During the four-day field trip, an annual event since 1944, the group will confer with Washington personages, attend committee hearings and general sessions of the House of Representatives and the Senate, and visit the Supreme Court and offices of government agencies.

The students will have interviews with Senator Margaret Chase Smith, Senator Estes Kefauver, James J. Reynolds, member of the National Labor Relations Board, and Arthur Krock and the Washington Bureau Staff of the New York Times.

The itinerary for Saturday and Sunday includes general sightseeing. Mrs. William Fairbanks, associate in government, who arranged the trip, is accompanying the group.

Keyser Desires More Police

KEYSER, W. Va. — The City of Keyser has been having difficulty in keeping enough extra police on hand to fill in during emergencies and when regular officers become ill.

As a result Mayor John C. Freeland asked City Clerk A. A. Jordan to make a call for applicants to fill vacancies on the extra squad.

Recently one member of the extra staff secured employment elsewhere and resigned, and Richard T. Murphy, the remaining extra man, tendered his resignation to the mayor on Tuesday and went to work for the Pittsburgh Auto Supply Company on Wednesday, leaving the city without any extra men for the department. Murphy has announced however, that he will be willing to give his services in an emergency whenever it is possible for him to do so without interfering with his new work, until new men are enrolled.

The civil service examiners will conduct an examination for recruits to the department at the city clerk's office on Friday, February 9, at 7:30 p. m. Applicants for the positions may file application with the city clerk prior to that time.

THE TOP Superfortress commander for the Far East Air Force in the Korean war, Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosey) O'Donnell (above), has been replaced by Brig. Gen. James Briggs. O'Donnell will resume command of the Strategic Air Command's March Air Force base, south California. (International)

Recreation In Tri-Towns Area Gets Discussion

West Virginia Professor Attends

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Problems of the Tri-Towns Recreation Association were discussed at a meeting Tuesday, at the Piedmont Library, with Vernon A. Staggers, president of the association, presiding.

Dr. John Scherlacher, of the school of Physical Education of West Virginia University, Morgantown, who has visited the community several times and has met with the association, led the discussions.

He told of his observations here last summer on his visits here in which he spent an entire day and parts of other days.

Mrs. Benjamin Mamolen stated that the planned program of Harold Marsh and Rodney Baker, co-directors of the several playgrounds, had resulted in increased attendance in the use of the recreation facilities. The same two directors have been appointed for the coming summer activities.

Three more playgrounds are expected to be in use this year than last. They will be located in Westernport.

Staggers stated that a playground was needed on West Piedmont Hill but use of a vacant lot suitable for that purpose has not been obtained.

The budget for the operation of the playgrounds has been set at $1,500.

The annual election of officers of the association will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 13.

Sunshine Club Elects Officers At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—The Sunshine Club of Church of the Brethren, South Main Street, met at the home of Mrs. Frances Hartman, South Main Street, Tuesday evening where a social gathering followed a short business session.

Mrs. Hartman was assisted by Mrs. Audrey Hartman.

The following officers were elected for the year: Mrs. Eloise Welch, president; Mrs. Ocie Stafford, vice president; Mrs. Anna Wentz, secretary, and Mrs. Virginia Mullen, treasurer.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. I. S. Long, Mrs. Virginia Mullen, Mrs. Luetta Dantzic, Mrs. Anna Wentz, Mrs. Eloise Welch, Mrs. Betty Mathias, Miss Mary Rotruck, Mrs. Ocie Stafford, Mrs. Hazel Weese, Miss Juanita Rotruck, Mrs. Grace Shaffer, Mrs. Kate Casteel, Mrs. Bessie Kitzmiller and the hostesses.

Social Welfare Club Will Hear Rector

WESTERNPORT — Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Social Welfare Club tonight at 8 o'clock, in the conference room of the Luke Plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Mineral Jury Returns Friday

KEYSER, W. Va.—The jury will report for service in Mineral County Circuit Court Friday at 10 a. m., when the two cases of Marie Duckworth, vs Wanzel Jones and Carl Fisher, will be presented for hearing.

The cases were appealed from a justice of the peace court, the result of a suit over a highway accident.

It is probably that there will be no more cases tried at this term of court until Monday, February 12, when the second of several suits filed by heirs of Thomas Daskal against The Schriver Company, Inc., Cumberland, will be called up for trial.

The case comes as a result of an accident on Route 46 early last summer when the Schriver truck and the Daskal car collided.

Lonaconing Dimes Dance Tomorrow

LONACONING—Plans have been completed for two dances for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

J. Bradley Marshall and Morgan Riley, co-chairman of the local Dimes campaign, said the first dance will be held Friday night at the home of Alvin C. Neat Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, starting at 9 o'clock.

Three orchestras, all donating their services, will rotate on the band stand. They are Martha Norris' Melodeers, Bill Walters' Coronets and Jimmy McCourt's Novelettes.

The second dance will be held at the home of James P. Love Post, American Legion, at a date to be announced.

The polio chairmen said all profit derived from a games party Saturday night at the Pythian Sisters Home will be turned over to the March of Dimse.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31 (INS)—After an absence of two years, Gene Markey is back home and he tells me he's here to stay. While abroad he travelled in Ireland, Egypt, Switzerland, England, France and Italy, and picked up plenty of good material.

He was only in town a day when he sold his novel, "The Great Companion," to Universal-International. It also appears soon as a serial in one of the national magazines. Gene is completing another novel, "Follow The Stars," which has an Egyptian background, and he tells me he's giving up pictures to concentrate on writing.

"What about that marriage?" I asked him.

He laughed and said, "No marriage"—but that's difficult to believe since Gene always does the unexpected.

He's in the naval reserve and may be called. During the last war he was given honor after honor by the Navy, and had a naval rank second only to an admiral.

• — • — •

Talk about casting to type—Larry Parks, who is expecting his second heir (or heiress) within ten days, plays the young expectant father in "Small Wonder." It's a loanout from Columbia to Burt Lancaster and Harold Hecht's independent company. But Larry won't have to go off the home lot. The picture will be shot at the Columbia Studios.

All that he asks is that he be given time between the just finishing "Love Is Better Than Ever" with Liz Taylor and the start of the new comedy. Larry wants to be with Betty Garrett when the baby is born.

• — • — •

Sam Goldwyn's apartment in New York, I'm told, looked like a railroad station with authors, directors, scripters, actors and whatnots dashing through signing (or not signing) to come to Hollywood.

One of the contracts Mr. Goldwyn picked out of the melee was Sam Taylor's deal to write the script of "Hans Christian Andersen" for Danny Kaye and Moira Shearer. He reports in Hollywood Monday.

Taylor's most recent writing success is "Happy Time," the Broadway hit produced by Rodgers and Hammerstein. He is not the same Sam Taylor who crashed into notice with that famous "credit" on "The Taming Of The Shrew," written by William Shakespeare. Additional dialogue by Sam Taylor!"

The drink angle in the life of F. Scott Fitzgerald in both his biography, "The Far Side of Paradise," by Arthur Mizener, and in "The Disenchanted," by Budd Schulberg, may prevent it from ever being brought to the screen.

Fitzgerald's daughter, Scotty, is adamant against the Schulberg story being filmed, and I am told she has the same feeling about Mizener's biography.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lana Turner and Bob Topping have taken an apartment at the Balboa Bay Club and are living the good healthy outdoor life.

June Allyson, who has had a tussle with the flu following the birth of her baby, goes to New York with Dick Powell for the premiere of his picture, "Cry Danger." They'll return via Squaw Valley where they'll spend two weeks in the snow.

At a table nearby Liz Dailey with Bob Neal—and Barbara Payton with Franchot Tone.

Here's a record that if put on the market should have an enormous record sale — Ezio Pinza singing "Rock-A-Bye Baby" to his daughter, Gloria. Please may I have a record, Ezio?

Ethel Barrymore's original manuscript, written in long hand, of her memoirs, has been given to the Library of Congress—the first typewritten draft is in the hands of the publisher.

Just received a galley proof of Anita Loos' new novel called "Sex Is Overrated." It's of the same tone as her "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," although so far I've only read a few pages.

Estelle Taylor's sister, Helen, is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital to undergo an operation, and Estelle spends most of her time at her bedside.

Al Horwitz, just back from New York, tells me that "Guys And Dolls" was born for movies and the company that gets it is lucky. He does a rave over Vivian Blaine, as does everybody. He says that Isabelle Bigley is sure to be nabbed by someone, and that Producer Ernie Martin is finding her very attractive.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Rhode Island bent, creeping bent, and Canadian bluegrass are the best grasses to plant in shady places.

FORTIFIED against the bitter Korean cold, this waif at Taegu wears a GI fatigue jacket as a complete dress. While he may be chilly, the youngster has his share of GI rations. Note the still-wrapped candy bar in his pocket. (International)

Unhappy Lives Of Ex-Child Stars Are Blamed On "Movie Mothers"

NEW YORK, (INS) — Dr. Mason Rose, Hollywood psychologist, blamed "movie mothers" today for the unhappy lives of former child stars of the screen.

Dr. Rose writing in the current issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, said only two of 14 child stars are still on top.

His survey showed also that:

Eight earned nearly 20 million dollars but most of them are relatively broke today.

The majority have made tragic failures of their marriages and have been involved in suicide attempts and 38 law suits.

Dr. Rose blamed "movie mothers" for most of the problems faced by the grown-up kid stars in real life, because they were "forced into adulthood too early, robbed of the dreams of childhood" and given "canned emotions."

He added:

"When such a child grows up into a normal adult, it's nothing short of a miracle."

Pastel Ties

Thomas, blue Satin

Caesar, Gray Rep

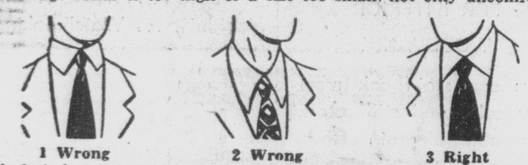
FASHION: Two of to-day's well-dressed comedians illustrate (at right) an important new trend—plain-colored ties in light and pastel shades. Danny Thomas wears a light-blue satin: Sid Caesar, a gray rep.

Dress Tips: If your suit comes back from the tailor with indentations on the cloth from the buttons—tell him you want hand pressing, next time, instead of machine work. . . . In having a new suit fitted, put all the stuff in your pockets that you usually carry. This will assure proper fit.

Helpful Hint: To get a foreign object out of the eye, hold a magnifying glass close to the eye and look through it at a hand-mirror. The magnified image will make the job easier.

Gadgets: An Electro-Lunch Kit that plugs into various outlets and gives you a piping hot meal. Can be used in a train or in your car. . . . One-man flexible saw for cutting trees or stumps. In compact carrying-case. . . . An ax-tool combination that has ax, hammer, pliers, vise, wire cutter, screw driver and nail extractor—all in one.

Collar Advice: An entire outfit can be spoiled by an ill-fitting shirt collar. Sketches below illustrate proper and improper fit of collar. 1. Wrong: collar is too high or a size too small, not only uncomfortable but destroys casual appearance. 2. Wrong collar is too large, results in sloppy look. 3. Right: collar has a slight slope which lends flattering touch and gives extra comfort.



1 Wrong — 2 Wrong — 3 Right

Clothes Care: Mark numerals 1, 2, 3, etc., on neckband of your shirts for more accurate alternation. You'll get better wear out of all of them that way. . . . Soiled gloves should be washed inside as well as outside. After washing them on hands, turn inside out for a soaping. Rinse well and place on glove stretchers.

Good Ideas: If you have to dry the dishes try holding one clean towel in each hand—and see how fast the job goes. . . . There's a firm which will convert two of your old tablespoons into a salad-serving set.

Handyman: If cane bottom chairs begin to sag, tighten by washing with hot water. When cane is nearly dry, give it a coat of clear varnish. . . . If paint in can is completely separated, drain off liquid from top into another container, stir thick mixture in bottom of can; and add liquid slowly while stirring.

Motor Items: Here's the reason you should switch tires. The right rear averages 38 per cent of all tire wear, the left front only 14 per cent. . . . If the hood doesn't look as shiny as the rest of your car, apply a coat of aluminum paint to the underside. It will deflect motor heat which causes wax and polish to melt.

Odd Items: Jimmy Durante really lives up to his song, "Jimmy, the Well Dressed Man." He has one of the biggest and best wardrobes in Hollywood. . . . Arthur Murray uses the laces from the dancing shoes with which he won his first contest as a chain for his watch. . . . TV's Bob Russell passes on this tip about razor blades. When it dulls, and there's no new one handy, rub it around inside of a glass tumbler. Gives blade a fair edge. . . . This week's "Pass the Cigars" to—Ben Grauer, who, in 20 consecutive years with NBC, has never been charged with anything less than an excellent performance.

In the Matter of the Petition of Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan. No. 22,038 Equity. In the Circuit Court For Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of the Petition in the above case is to change the name of "Unnamed Male Kline, Twin I" to that of Leonard Garland Morgan, and the name of "Unnamed Male Kline, Twin 2" to that of Kenneth Gerland Morgan.

The Petition states that the Petitioners reside in Allegany County, Maryland; that they are both adults and have been known since shortly after birth as Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan, and that they desire to have their names changed, and that the reason for changing the names is on account of their having been raised since infancy by Isaac Morgan and Margaret A. Morgan, his wife, and that their school records, employment records and Social Security and other records are all issued in the names of Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan.

It is thereupon this 17th day of January, 1951, by the Circuit Court of Allegany County, ordered that the Petitioners cause a copy of this order with the object and substance of the Petition to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in the City of Cumberland once a week for three successive weeks before the 12th day of February, 1951, giving notice to whom it may concern to appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of February, 1951, to show cause, if any there be, why a decree shall not be passed as prayed.

"The Authority on Authorities"

WORST TIME TO COVER

THERE are countless times when a player should refuse to cover an honor with an honor. Perhaps the most important, as well as most clearly recognizable, situation is that of the opening leader's partner, when he sees that retaining his own honor may result in later blocking the run of a dummy suit, whereas using it up on the first trick may build an entry into the dummy which will be invaluable to the declarer, just when it is most important.

	♠ J 10 ♥ J 9 4 ♦ 10 8 6 ♣ K Q J 7 5
♠ 9 8 5 3 ♥ 2 ♦ K 7 3 ♣ Q 4 3 2	N W E S	♠ Q 6 4 ♥ Q 10 5 ♦ 2 ♣ K J ♣ A 8 6 3
	♠ A K 7 ♥ A 8 6 ♦ A 9 7 5 ♣ 10 9 2

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 NT

That was a pretty risky bid by South, with none too great strength, after his partner tried to sign off the hand at 3-Clubs, which could have been made against any defense. However, the game was rubber bridge and South knew his opponents as none too strong defenders, so he reached out for the game. With one particle of help, he made it.

West opened the spade 3. East couldn't approve the idea of letting South get a cheap trick with the 10, so covered an honor with an honor. The K killed his Q and also his chances of ever beating the contract. East held up his A as as the club 10 and 9 were sent through, then won the K with the A. But his holdups on clubs did no good, since the spade J was available as a re-entry to the dummy. That enabled South to use the dummy's last two clubs, giving him four in that suit plus three in spades and the two red aces.

East should have seen the danger of his Q play on the spade lead. Able to stop the immediate run of clubs, he could keep the J from being a late dummy re-entry by merely refusing to use his Q on the first trick. That would have limited South to a total of two tricks in clubs instead of four. No matter what the declarer tried to do after that, he would have had no chance to develop nine tricks with his impeded resources.

Deaths

JULIAN LAURENT RITES

Julian Laurent, 92, retired stationary engineer, died Tuesday night at his residence, 215 East Oldtown Road.

Born February 18, 1858, in Benamiel, France, Mr. Laurent had lived here 29 years and at one time worked for the Uneka Extract Company, Newport, Tenn. His wife, Mrs. Ida A. Laurent, preceded him in death.

Surviving are two sons, Russell G. and Irving F. Laurent, this city; three daughters, Mrs. Bessie A. Vought, Detroit; Mrs. Ida M. Alexander and Mrs. Stella V. Chandler, both of Cumberland; six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Final rites will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. in Church of the Nazarene, Oldtown Road. Rev. C. N. Hutchinson, pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. C. K. Welch, pastor of Betheny United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery.

MRS. THOMAS S. RITCHIE

Mrs. Ella G. Ritchie, 69, sister-in-law of Mrs. Thomas Williams, Route 5, this city, died December 28 at her home in Huntington, W. Va.

Formerly of Lonaconing, she was a member of Chapter No. 404, Order of Eastern Star, and Highlawn Methodist Church, Huntington.

Besides Mrs. Williams, she leaves her husband, Thomas S. Ritchie; a son, David W. Ritchie, Huntington, and four daughters, Mrs. Florence Hatfield, Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Martha Hagley and Mrs. Margaret McCulgan, Huntington, and Miss Ella Mae Ritchie, at home. Burial was in Woodmere Cemetery, Huntington.

Two County Bills Are Introduced

Two bills of local interest were introduced in the House of Delegates yesterday, according to Allegany County's Chairman Charles M. See.

One of the measures, sponsored by the delegation would raise the spending limit on purchases made by county commissioners before advertising for competitive bids.

Under present law, county commissioners must advertise all expenditures for material, supplies, etc., over $500. The new bill would raise this limit to $3,500 and will include all expenditures, such as improvements to buildings, contracts, etc., as well as purchases of supplies and equipment.

Chairman See and Delegate Estel C. Kelley jointly sponsored a bill yesterday to provide for two new trial magistrates in Allegany County at an annual salary of $400 each. One would serve Oldtown, the other Flintstone.

Rail Tieup, Pay Freeze Thaw Catches Market Off Balance

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP) — The spreading railroad tieup and relaxation of the wage freeze caught the stock market off balance today and tumbled prices into an irregular pattern.

The close found the list spread out over a range of around $2 higher to more than $1 lower.

Near the close there was a final easing of prices that cut back many gains and widened losses all around. downward movement right from the opening of the market. There appeared to be some disappointment over U. S. Steel's 75-cent dividend declaration.

Wheeling Steel made a two point advance to 41 on the strength of an earnings report that showed per share earnings of $11.59 for last year as against $4.27 the previous year.

After the market closed Inland Steel reported per share earnings in 1950 of $7.76 comprared with $5.11 thep revious year. It closed up¼ at 58½.

Rails were mostly lower despite glowing earnings reports for 1950 now being published. Nickel Plate raced up eight points to 220. Santa Fe, which yesterday gained 5½ at 165, today closed unchanged.

Two of the strongest spots in the market were aircrafts and air lines. Their gains ran fractions to around a point.

Federated Department Stores was an outstinding performer up three at 53 as a result of a promised five per cent stock dividend and continuance of the regular $2.50 annual dividend rate.

To the growing list of proposed splits was added International Salt on a two-for-one basis and Lane-Wells ended at 38 up ⅝.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $94.10 with the industrial component down 50 cents, rails up 40 cents, and utilities unchanged.

The volume came to 2,340,000 shares as compared with 2,480,000 shares yesterday.

Sensabaugh Hits

istrate of Baltimore City, submitted a report by the national highway users conference that the ton-mill system of taxation is unworkable. The theory, according to the report, has been rejected by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, a congressional Board of Investigation and the late Joseph B. Eastman when he was Federal Coordinator of Transportation.

Termed Inequitable

The tax is inequitable, discriminatory and almost "impossible" to administer, Wyatt said. He cited administrative costs in other states running from 23 to 100 per cent.

"It would require ports of entry to check on interstate operations," inviting retaliatory measures by other states and breaking down reciprocal trade agreements now existing, he continued.: As an instance of difficulty in enforcement, Wyatt said there are 136 entrances to Maryland.

He expressed doubt that the state needs it. "The money is rolling in" far above estimates, he said, and referred to an increase of gasoline taxes from an anticipated $17,000,000 four years ago to $26,000,000.

In recommending the tax, the Survey Commission said it is "apparent that large motor trucks are contributing to the Maryland highways proportionately less than other classes of highway users . . ."

In rebuttal, Wyatt said trucks comprise 15.7 per cent of the number of registered vehicles in Maryland and are paying 28.2 per cent of the total highway taxes.

Road Tests Noted

The road test at La Plata where trucks of varying axle weights ran continuously for six months was mentioned throughout the hearing. Herbert S. Fairbank of the Bureau of Public Ro

Adv.—N-Feb. 1-8-15

In the Matter of the Petition of Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan. No. 22,028 Equity. In the Circuit Court For Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of the Petition in the above case is to change the name of "Unnamed Male Kline, Twin I" to that of Leonard Garland Morgan, and the name of "Unnamed Male Kline, Twin 2" to that of Kenneth Gerland Morgan.

The Petition states that the Petitioners reside in Allegany County, Maryland; that they are both adults and have been known since shortly after birth as Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan, and that they desire to have their names changed, and that the reason for changing the names is on account of their having been raised since infancy by Isaac Morgan and Margaret A. Morgan, his wife, and that their school records, employment records and Social Security and other records are all issued in the names of Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan.

It is thereupon this 17th day of January, 1951, by the Circuit Court of Allegany County, ordered that the Petitioners cause a copy of this order with the object and substance of the Petition to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in the City of Cumberland once a week for three successive weeks before the 12th day of February, 1951, giving notice to whom it may concern to appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of February, 1951, to show cause, if any there be, why a decree shall not be passed as prayed.

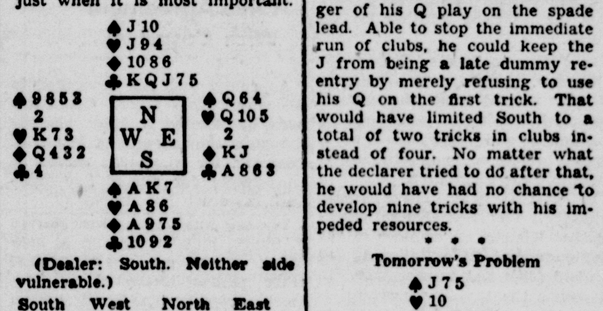
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

WORST TIME TO COVER

THERE are countless times when a player should refuse to cover an honor with an honor. Perhaps the most important, as well as most clearly recognizable, situation is that of the opening leader's partner, when he sees that retaining his own honor may result in later blocking the run of a dummy suit, whereas using it up on the first trick may build an entry into the dummy which will be invaluable to the declarer, just when it is most important.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 NT

That was a pretty risky bid by South, with none too great strength, after his partner tried to sign off the hand at 3-Clubs, which could have been made against any defense. However, the game was rubber bridge and South knew his opponents as none too strong defenders, so he reached out for the game. With one particle of help, he made it.

West opened the spade 3. East couldn't approve the idea of letting South get a cheap trick with the 10, so covered an honor with an honor. The K killed his Q and also his chances of ever beating the contract. East held up his A as as the club 10 and 9 were sent through, then won the K with the A. But his holdups on clubs did no good, since the spade J was available as a re-entry to the dummy. That enabled South to use the dummy's last two clubs, giving him four in that suit plus three in spades and the two red aces.

East should have seen the danger of his Q play on the spade lead. Able to stop the immediate run of clubs, he could keep the J from being a late dummy re-entry by merely refusing to use his Q on the first trick. That would have limited South to a total of two tricks in clubs instead of four. No matter what the declarer tried to do after that, he would have had no chance to develop nine tricks with his impeded resources.

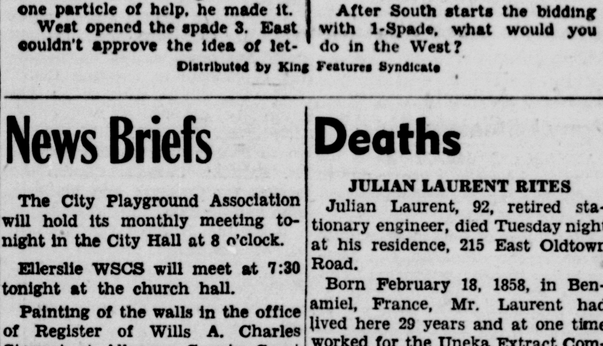
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. North - South vulnerable.)

After South starts the bidding with 1-Spade, what would you do in the West?

Deaths

JULIAN LAURENT RITES

Julian Laurent, 92, retired stationary engineer, died Tuesday night at his residence, 215 East Oldtown Road.

Born February 18, 1858, in Benamiel, France, Mr. Laurent had lived here 29 years and at one time worked for the Uneka Extract Company, Newport, Tenn. His wife, Mrs. Ida A. Laurent, preceded him in death.

Surviving are two sons, Russell G. and Irving F. Laurent, this city; three daughters, Mrs. Bessie A. Vought, Detroit; Mrs. Ida M. Alexander and Mrs. Stella V. Chandler, both of Cumberland; six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Final rites will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. in Church of the Nazarene, Oldtown Road. Rev. C. N. Hutchinson, pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. C. K. Welch, pastor of Betheny United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery.

MRS. THOMAS S. RITCHIE

Mrs. Ella G. Ritchie, 69, sister-in-law of Mrs. Thomas Williams, Route 5, this city, died December 28 at her home in Huntington, W. Va.

Formerly of Lonaconing, she was a member of Chapter No. 404, Order of Eastern Star, and Highlawn Methodist Church, Huntington.

Besides Mrs. Williams, she leaves her husband, Thomas S. Ritchie; a son, David W. Ritchie, Huntington, and four daughters, Mrs. Florence Hatfield, Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Martha Hagley and Mrs. Margaret McCulgan, Huntington, and Miss Ella Mae Ritchie, at home. Burial was in Woodmere Cemetery, Huntington.

Two County Bills Are Introduced

Two bills of local interest were introduced in the House of Delegates yesterday, according to Allegany County's Chairman Charles M. See.

One of the measures, sponsored by the delegation would raise the spending limit on purchases made by county commissioners before advertising for competitive bids.

Under present law, county commissioners must advertise all expenditures for material, supplies, etc., over $500. The new bill would raise this limit to $3,500 and will include all expenditures, such as improvements to buildings, contracts, etc., as well as purchases of supplies and equipment.

Chairman See and Delegate Estel C. Kelley jointly sponsored a bill yesterday to provide for two new trial magistrates in Allegany County at an annual salary of $400 each. One would serve Oldtown, the other Flintstone.

Rail Tieup, Pay Freeze Thaw Catches Market Off Balance

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP) — The spreading railroad tieup and relaxation of the wage freeze caught the stock market off balance today and tumbled prices into an irregular pattern.

The close found the list spread out over a range of around $2 higher to more than $1 lower.

Near the close there was a final easing of prices that cut back many gains and widened losses all around. downward movement right from the opening of the market. There appeared to be some disappointment over U. S. Steel's 75-cent dividend declaration.

Wheeling Steel made a two point advance to 41 on the strength of an earnings report that showed per share earnings of $11.59 for last year as against $4.27 the previous year.

After the market closed Inland Steel reported per share earnings in 1950 of $7.76 comprared with $5.11 thep revious year. It closed up¼ at 58½.

Rails were mostly lower despite glowing earnings reports for 1950 now being published. Nickel Plate raced up eight points to 220. Santa Fe, which yesterday gained 5½ at 165, today closed unchanged.

Two of the strongest spots in the market were aircrafts and air lines. Their gains ran fractions to around a point.

Federated Department Stores was an outstinding performer up three at 53 as a result of a promised five per cent stock dividend and continuance of the regular $2.50 annual dividend rate.

To the growing list of proposed splits was added International Salt on a two-for-one basis and Lane-Wells ended at 38 up ⅜.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $94.10 with the industrial component down 50 cents, rails up 40 cents, and utilities unchanged.

The volume came to 2,340,000 shares as compared with 2,480,000 shares yesterday.

istrate of Baltimore City, submitted a report by the national highway users conference that the ton-mill system of taxation is unworkable. The theory, according to the report, has been rejected by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, a congressional Board of Investigation and the late Joseph B. Eastman when he was Federal Coordinator of Transportation.

Termed Inequitable

The tax is inequitable, discriminatory and almost "impossible" to administer, Wyatt said. He cited administrative costs in other states running from 23 to 100 per cent.

"It would require ports of entry to check on interstate operations," inviting retaliatory measures by other states and breaking down reciprocal trade agreements now existing, he continued.: As an instance of difficulty in enforcement, Wyatt said there are 136 entrances to Maryland.

He expressed doubt that the state needs it. "The money is rolling in" far above estimates, he said, and referred to an increase of gasoline taxes from an anticipated $17,000,000 four years ago to $26,000,000.

In recommending the tax, the Survey Commission said it is "apparent that large motor trucks are contributing to the Maryland highways proportionately less than other classes of highway users . . ."

In rebuttal, Wyatt said trucks comprise 15.7 per cent of the number of registered vehicles in Maryland and are paying 28.2 per cent of the total highway taxes.

Road Tests Noted

The road test at La Plata where trucks of varying axle weights ran continuously for six months was mentioned throughout the hearing. Herbert S. Fairbank of the Bureau of Public Roads said the test had shown that present roads cannot stand more than single axle loads of 18,000 pounds. The limit in Maryland is 22,000 pounds.

Wyatt countered with the Survey Commission comment that the test had supplied "incomplete knowledge" and that it was assuming "the extent of destruction" caused by trucks. Fairbank conceded only the "visible effects" part of the test had been completed and analysis still is being made.

Senators Kimble (R-Allegany) and Sybert (D-Howard)) both persistently questioned the speakers about overloading. There still were about 20 witnesses wanting to be heard in opposition to the bill at dinner time so Chairman Goldstein (D-Calvert) scheduled another hearing for next Tuesday.

Tri-State Area Is Paralyzed As Snow, Sleet Storm Strikes

State Roads Show Improvement As Mercury Rises But Chains Are Still Recommended

The Tri-State Area last night was still in the grip of one of the worst storms of the winter as rain and sleet turned a four to six inch snowfall into a greasy slush.

Travel over primary roads which was hazardous all day, with authorities issuing "Travel only if absolutely necessary" warnings was generally improving early last night as some bare spots began appearing on state roads in many areas.

By nightfall, State Roads Commission officials reported road conditions as generally improving. They recommended that chains be used, however.

The Oakland area, which often bears the brunt of storms, issued the best road report in Western Maryland. Not a plow was being used last night and almost two-thirds of the roads in that area were bare.

Storm Hits Area

The storm, which brought some 5.2 inches of snow and sleet to Cumberland, struck with savage intensity early yesterday morning as the worst storm of the year reached this section.

By 10 a.m., snow and sleet began to pelt the countryside, adding to the hazards on streets and highways.

Streets in the city were extremely slippery last night as rain and sleet formed a crust on top of the snow.

Churned by traffic, the mixture became greasy slick and travel in the higher areas of the city was difficult, even with chains.

City and long-distance buses were generally running on schedule last night but the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad reported some trains east of here as running about an hour late.

The Western Maryland Railway reported schedules being maintained.

Accidents Reported

Sub-freezing temperatures were still reported here last night, with the thermometer at 30 degrees at 9 p. m. Low for the day was 18 degrees.

Two persons were injured in a two-car crash near the Celanese plant and one man was injured in a fall on the ice yesterday.

Leslie W. Nave, 822 Gephart Drive, was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon with a fractured elbow suffered in a fall on the ice. He is employed as a teller at the First National Bank.

State Roads Commission officials reported early last night that conditions were generally improving as temperatures rose.

Garrett County roads in the Oakland area were in fair condition at 8:30 p. m., with a temperature of 35. There was a three inch snowfall there, followed by a rainy afternoon and hard rain last night. Officials said roads were about 60 per cent bare and that chains were not needed.

Accident reported a temperature of 30 with hard rain. Roads were fair with bare spots beginning to show up on U. S. Route 40. Chains, however, were recommended.

Allegany County roads in the Frostburg area at that time were in fair condition, but with no bare spots. Chains were recommended.

Six inches of snow fell there, followed by rain and sleet with the thermometer at the 26 mark.

Bare Spots Appear

In the Cumberland area rain and sleet was falling with a 31 degree temperature. Chains were still recommended although a few bare spots were showing up. Six trucks were out cindering the highways.

At Town Hill, east of here, it was 24 and sleeting at 9 p. m. Snow on the roads was beginning to break up and conditions were believed improving. Chains were needed.

The rising temperature slated for the area today is expected to turn the sleet into rain. If the weather forecast is correct, general improvement is to be expected on roads.

In general, near or above freezing weather existed in the area last night.

Three and a half inches of snow was registered by Keyser Weather Recorder D. A. Arnold yesterday. Highways were slick and road crews had been working all day. Snow ploughs worked from morning until late afternoon.

Foreign Force May Be Needed On Area Farms

500 Farmers Attend Hagerstown Meeting

Farmers in this area are being advised that it may become necessary to import foreign workers to harvest the bumper crops called for by the government.

That is one opinion heard by more than 500 farmers who attended the recent Four-State Farmers Meeting held in Hagerstown.

D. A. Tucker, Maryland State Employment Service farm labor representative, who made the foreign workers statement also said that civilian workers, housewives and city residents might be called upon to assist farmers of this area with the expected high farm production.

Tucker emphasized that defense work and the draft have decreased the number of migrant workers by over 20 per cent, but all possible steps are being taken to assure farmers that no labor shortage will develop.

Farmers from Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Virginia also were advised to place orders now for farming equipment that will be needed to reach production goals.

Earl Moffatt, extension farm management specialist from Penn State College, told the farmers that many farm products are now scarce and that demand will contine to grow until at least two years after the national emergency. "Some foreign countries are increasing their demand for American farm products and the armed forces are calling for more and more of our goods," he said. "The armed forces also are calling for more and more of our goods. Plan your production and use the best management methods. You are going to have to do this to meet demands."

Senate Group To Act On Garrett Election Dispute

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 31 (AP) — Chairman Turnbull (D-Baltimore County) of the Senate Elections Committee said his group will meet Thursday at 10:30 a. m. to decide what procedure to follow in the Garrett County senate contest.

Senator Neil C. Fraley, Garrett County Republican incumbent, won over Bernard I. Gonder on official returns last November by exactly one vote out of more than 6,000 cast in the election.

Gonder petitioned the Senate to throw out the result on grounds of "irregularities" in counting and procedure and to declare him elected, instead.

The Senate seated Fraley pending an investigation.

Senator Turnbull said he was advised by Attorney General Hall Hammond that the Senate may ask for a recount of its own, should it wish.

That, he said, is one of the things his committee will decide.

City Bills Will Be Presented Tuesday

Four bills sponsored by the Mayor and Council of Cumberland will be presented to the Allegany County Delegation in Annapolis next Tuesday at 3 p. m.

W. Earle Cobey, city attorney, had planned to meet with the delegation yesterday afternoon and present the bills on constitutional and statutory home rule, parking lot and sewage disposal.

The trip was postponed because of the weather.

A-Bomb Film Here Friday

"You Can Beat The A-Bomb," the official film to guide American citizens in protecting their lives against explosions of the atom bomb, will start Friday at the Strand Theater.

The film is being shown at a time when The Cumberland News is carrying a series of 10 articles entitled "You Can Survive the Atom Bomb," the third of which appears today on Page 5.

The articles in The News were written from the official government pamphlet, from which the film also was made.

Civilian Defense officials of Cumberland, Allegany County and county communities saw the movie at a preview last week at the Strand.

Assault Case Trial Tomorrow

Hearing on the assault charge preferred against probationary officer Karl W. Frankfort of Cumberland Police Department was postponed yesterday and rescheduled for tomorrow morning at 10.

William Shumaker, 322 Henderson Avenue, alleges in a warrent issued by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew, that Frankfort assaulted him with a blackjack early Sunday near Midway on Route 220 between Rawlings and Cumberland.

City Police investigated the case after Shumaker was treated at Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the head.

As a result of the investigation, three probationary officers have been suspended indefinately. They are Vernon E. Browning, Lewis A. Miller and Frankfort.

Simultaneous Fire Alarms Answered

Fire alarms came into two Cumberland fire stations simultaneously at 10:15 o'clock last night.

Central Station firemen were sent to the residence of Mrs. Katie Brown, 110 Polk Street, to extinguish a flue fire. South End firemen went to a transformer between 221 and 223 Oak Street, when it caught fire, plunging Oak and Second Streets into darkness.

Despite the bad weather both companies made the runs without mishap.

Veteran Conductor Retires

Eff D. Burner, 764 Maryland Avenue, veteran Baltimore and Ohio passenger conductor, completed his final run prior to retirement yesterday afternoon at 2:30 when Train No. 30 reached Cumberland. He is shown assisting his wife, Fay, from the train. J. L. Brooks, brakeman of Burner's crew looks on.

Sensabaugh Hits Kimble Truck Tax Bill Again

Hearings Open In Annapolis On Plan

French Sensabaugh, local trucking official, fired another shot in the Sensabaugh-Kimble letter war over the proposed mill-ton tax on trucks.

In a letter to Senator Kimble (R-Allegany), yesterday the trucking official warned that the tax, if approved, would be passed on to consumers and that the law, if passed, would be more difficult to enforce than prohibition.

In his first letter to the Senate minority leader, Sensabaugh asserted that Kimble, an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was "in bad faith and in poor taste" in attacking the trucking business.

Kimble wrote a long reply in which he maintained that his "all-out war" against trucking abuses isn't an attack on the trucking industry in general.

Sensabaugh's latest letter indicated that the proposed tax on trucks was discriminatory since "the B. and O. does not pay taxes to Maryland on the many millions of dollars' worth of tracks, rights of way, shops, rolling stock, etc."

He also contended that the trucking interests now pay more than their share of highway and gasoline taxes.

Hearing Attracts Many Witnesses

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 31 (AP)—A bill to tax trucks really is one to punish overloading, an Eastern Shore businessman said today.

Elias Nuttle of Denton so summed up most of the discussion at a hearing before the Senate Finance Committee. The senators indicated by their questioning they were just as interested, if not more, in increasing penalties for overloading trucks as taxing them.

The bill recommended by the Tax Survey Commission would charge trucks over 25,000 pounds two mills for each ton carried a mile in Maryland. The commission estimates it would bring in $4,000,000 a year—"assuming success in collection."

This assumption was cited by Joseph Wyatt who represented the Maryland Motor Truck Association and was a leading spokesman of the opponents.

"Imagine the cost just to check the records alone," he said. The truck operators would have to keep their records of miles traveled and submit them for taxation.

E. D. Burner Ends Long Service As B & O Conductor

Eff D. Burner, 764 Maryland Avenue, completed his final run as a Baltimore and Ohio conductor yesterday afternoon with the arrival of Train No. 30 from Parkersburg, W. Va.

The 69-year-old veteran began his career with the Baltimore and Ohio in 1902 and became a freight conductor in 1907. He served in that capacity until 1940 when he was assigned to passenger train duty.

As Burner stepped down from the coach he was greeted by G. A. McGinn, chief clerk, who congratulated him on his long service and wished him good luck. His stepson, William G. Lee, also employed by the Baltimore and Ohio, was there too.

His last official act was to assist his wife, Fay, from the train. She met him at Grafton and accompanied him to Cumberland.

In addition to his duties with the railroad, Burner is past president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and served 30 years with that organization as treasurer. He is also active in the Masons.

During his long career Burner has been conductor on special trains carrying Presidents Taft, Harding and Franklin Roosevelt. He feels that the progress in railroading since his early days with the road has been little short of phenomonal. Reminiscing about his early career, Burner, recalls the poor equipment, and unsatisfactory working conditions, and comparing them with present day conditions finds the latter "at least 195 per cent improved."

Narrow Escape

Burner has had many narrow escapes but has never been in a serious accident. Asked what outstanding complaint he had against the passengers, he replied, "The only serious complaint I have is those darned people who keep asking when we arrive, what town we are in, and other foolish questions." He chuckles about the time a passenger on his run between Cumberland and Parkersburg asked what time the train was scheduled to arrive in San Francisco.

Burner plans to devote much of his time to his roses, in the cultivation of which he is somewhat of an expert. He grows more than a hundred varieties in his garden, including the lately developed "peach rose" and many varieties of rare blooms. Describing himself as a "jack of all trades" Burner says he will be dividing his time between his roses and his workshop.

The jovial ex-conductor looks forward with some relief to the carefree days ahead "providing," he says, "that Mrs. Burner doesn't put me to work around the house."

Housekeeper Seeks Property By Equity Suit

Cites Agreement With Cosgrove

An equity case has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court this week by Mildred A. Ziler whereby she seeks the property of Mortii C. Cosgrove, for whom she served as housekeeper for almost five years until his death last August 18.

The suit was filed against Marian E. Smith, individually and as executrix of the estate and against other parties interested in Cosgrove's property. The Smith woman was Cosgrove's sister-in-law.

In this action the Ziler woman sets forth that she was to have been married to Cosgrove in 1943 and again in 1944 but on both occasions his illness prevented a wedding. She then states that on or about November 5, 1945, they entered into a verbal agreement whereby she was to serve as his housekeeper for the rest of his life on condition that she should inherit his property upon his death.

Nevertheless, the declaration reads that after Cosgrove's death his will dated November 16, 1940, was admitted to probate in Orphans Court. Under this will his sister-in-law was given all of his property for her lifetime except for $500, which was to go to Father Thomas Hardesty of St. Patrick's Catholic Church for masses for Cosgrove and his wife, who had preceded him in death.

Upon the Smith woman's death all of Cosgrove's property, under terms of the will, is to go to St. Patrick's Catholic Church for the payment of masses for Cosgrove and his wife.

Cosgrove's former housekeeper seeks a court decree giving her possession of his estate, which includes property at 516 Avondale Avenue and 516 Williams Street, an automobile and insurance policies, and "other and further relief."

The suit was filed by Attorney Edwin M. Horchler.

Two Area Men Enlist At Local Army Office

Kenneth L. Allen, 18, RFD No. 1, Frostburg, has enlisted in the regular army, unassigned for three years and Edison H. Pullin, 20, of 322 Estella Street, has joined the Air Force for the same period. They will be sent to Fort George G. Meade for processing.

Darr Receives 90 Days In Jail In Wife's Death

Judge Gives Warning On Drunk Driving

William R. Darr, 43-year-old Rawlings lumber mill operator, who was convicted of manslaughter January 17 by an Allegany County Circuit jury, yesterday was sentenced to three months in the County Jail by Associate Judge George Henderson.

Darr was convicted of manslaughter in the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary Catherine Darr, 40, who died in Allegany Hospital the night of December 20 after being run over on McMullen Highway by a truck which her husband was driving past their house.

Judge Henderson, in passing sentence upon the Rawlings man, emphasized that Darr was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident.

"In the future those convicted of drunken driving can very reasonably expect something more than a simple fine," Judge eHnderson warned other motorists as he passed sentence upon Darr. He provided that the sentence should not begin until February 7 to give the defendant an opportunity to make certain business arrangements.

Judge Henderson emphasized in his remark before passing sentence that both he and Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris are worried about drunken driving cases and reckless driving in general.

The judge also stressed that Darr's action after the tragic accident indicated that he was befuddled by liquor. "If he had not been befuddled, his conduct afterwards in starting out on another drinking party would have been most reprehensible," Judge Henderson said.

"Drunken driving is becoming entirely too common," the jurist added. "It may be the fault of the court in being a little too lenient and not imposing sentences of imprisonment. . . "At any rate, while I have realized the difficulty on account of Darr's business and on account of his son, I feel that we cannot let these things interfere with the proper punishment. If we do, we can never get anywhere in the enforcement of the law. Arrangements will have to be made to have the son stay with one of the members of the family."

Everett Faces Federal Charge

Raymond Gilbert Everett, charged with altering a United States Postal money order which subsequently was cashed at the Cumberland Post Office, yesterday was bound over to the Federal District Court grand jury in Baltimore by U. S. Commissioner James Alfred Avirett after a preliminary hearing.

Everett was arrested Tuesday on the complaint of R. M. Johnson, Post Office inspector, and taken to Allegany County Jail in default of $1,000 bond.

Johnson charged that Everett altered the name of the payee on a money order from Mrs. Joseph L. Smith to Mrs. Raymond G. Everett and the name of the remitter from Joseph L. Smith to Raymond G. Everett and cashed the money order at the Cumberland Post Office last April 18.

Births Announced

Memorial Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Northcraft, Carpenter's Addition, Ridgeley, a son yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. White, 709 Hilltop Drive, a son yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Fleek, Romney, W. Va., a son yesterday afternoon.

Food Costs Are Still Rising Here

It's no wonder Cumberland housewives are having difficulties with their food budget.

The current cost of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce food basket stood at $8.95 last Saturday, up 13 cents during the month.

The same items cost exactly $3.44 when the Chamber began studying food prices here in December, 1937.

Pressure Boiler Studies Planned Here This Spring

Smoke Abatement Program To Expand

Techniques used at Cumberland Terminal meetings to improve smoke abatement practices of railroad locomotives will be used in bringing pressure boilers into compliance with the Cumberland Smoke Abatement ordinance.

A series of meetings, chiefly in the form of an educational program to improve the efficiency of stationary boilers, will begin this spring.

The conference will be held in the Health Department Training Center, Union Street County Building, according to George M. Hitchcock, smoke abatement engineer.

There are 58 pressure boilers in Cumberland, Hitchcock said, including 34 which are under study and another 25 of marginal type.

Is Economic Problem

The chief problem in many cases, he said, is one of economics, since methods must be found to improve the efficiency of the boiler within the budget of the firm.

The Queen City Dairy, which has been operating a marginal boiler for some time, this week completed the installation of a modern 100 hp Powermaster automatic gas and oil fired boiler at a cost of about $10,000.

Hitchcock said the firm had installed overfired steam jets in the old boiler after violations were reported.

Efforts to improve the efficiency by temporary measures failed, he said, and the firm decided to replace the old 125 hp coal fired boiler.

Forums Are Planned

The stationary boiler conferences will consist of forums designed to improve the operating efficiency of boilers, plus discussions on specific methods to be used to improve installations which are cited in violation.

Hitchcock said if the managers and operators of pressure boilers cooperate as well as personnel of the Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railways, there is no doubt that marked improvement can be made within a reasonable time and at a cost within the budget of all firms.

Two Cresaptown Men Hurt In Headon Crash

Two Cresaptown men were injured yesterday when their panel truck crashed headon into another truck while they were trying to pass an auto on Route 220 near Amcelle, about 6 p. m.

Louis Smith, driver, suffered a broken nose and Ivan Hite, riding in the car was admitted to Allegany Hospital with extensive lacerations of the face and head.

Trooper A. M. Spioch, Maryland State Police, investigated and stated Smith attempted to pass a car and crashed headon into the truck operated by Keneth Hartman, RFD No. 4. Hartman was uninjured.

Contract Talks To Be Extended Here

C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), said contracts with wholesale grocery and taxicab firms, which expired at midnight yesterday, are being extended due to the price-wage freeze.

Stutzman and C. E. Bramble, president of the local, went to Washington yesterday to learn the effect of the order on contract negotiations here.

They were advised to continue negotiations since a ruling of some sort is expected within a week.

Labor Unity Group Will Meet Tonight

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Textile Workers Hall, 34 North Mechanic Street.

A full discussion on the strike at the Ort Bakery here is expected to be conducted.

John L. Estes, president, said the meeting was moved from Allegany Trades Hall since a large delegation is expected to attend.

Weather

With the sleet and snow of the promised cold wave hitting Cumberland yesterday many local citizens remained indoors rather than brave the icy streets. The high recorded at Constitution Park weather station was 30, the low, 18. Accumulated sleet and snow measured 5.2 inches. Relief is promised by the weather man with predictions of rain and rising temperatures today.

Jobs, Payrolls Show Increase In December

Chamber Endorses State Coal Bill

Employment in 17 major Cumberland industries showed an increase of 1,421 in December while payrolls increased almost a half million dollars over December 1949's figures, according to the January report of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The December 1950 employment total in the industries was 13,290, as contrasted to the 11,869 persons employed a year ago.

Payrolls for the month were $3,467,487.46, as compared to the $2,994,805.25 of the year previous.

Postal receipts at the Cumberland Post Office jumped $19,329.19 in December over the previous month to reflect the heavy volume of Christmas business.

On the forecast side, "Sales Management" predicts retail business in Cumberland will hit the $3,670,000 mark during February, which is 262.1 per cent of 1939's business volume and 103 per cent of February, 1950.

The City National Index for Cumberland is 97.2, indicating we are about 2.8 per cent below the national figure.

Committee Named

The personnel of the Public Affairs Committee of the Chamber, appointed recently by the Board of Directors, is:

Douglas R. Bowie, president; James A. Avirett, Mrs. Aurelia S. Becker, James W. Bishop, W. Earle Coby, Harry J. Barton, Charles A. Piper, William M. Somerville, Henry C. Swearingen and Arthur J. Weber.

The committee will keep in touch with the activities of the General Assembly and the federal government. Action of the committee recently includes:

Endorsement of a bill introduced by Senator Kimble to require state institutions to buy Maryland coal.

Asked members to keep reminding Senators O'Conor and Butler and Rep. Beall of their desire to eliminate wasteful practices in government through the adoption of recommendations of the Hoover Commission.

Backs City Drivers

The January bulletin of the Chamber also:

Called on local merchants to cooperate in a clean street program to be sponsored by the Street and Police departments of Cumberland.

Commended the Health Department and State Roads Commission on its anti-dumping campaign and promised hearty support. All members were urged to cooperate in the drive to eliminate such unhealthy and unsightly conditions.

Told members copies of the Price-Freeze Order will be available, upon request when they arrive.

Paid tribute to Louis Weber, founder of the South Cumberland Planing Mill, who died January 14.

Two Boys Waive Extradition

Two 15-year-old Detroit, Mich., youths who were picked up Tuesday night by State Police in a stolen Michigan car, yesterday waived extradition to Michigan at a hearing before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir said that authorities from Michigan are expected here Monday to return the youths. He said it still was undetermined whether the boys would face state or Federal charges in Michigan. Muir said the boys reported they were en route to Florida.

Troopers Jack Browning, Milton Hart and Donald Wade, Tuesday night were dispatched to investigate a report received from a gasoline station attendant near Frostburg that two suspicious looking boys were trying to sell parts from a 1949 Chevrolet sedan at the station.

The two boys were stopped at La-Vale barracks of the Maryland State Police as they were driving toward Cumberland, with Trooper Hart making the arrest, police said.

Officers reported the two youths, Jack Robert Maynard and Edward Rudolph Frank, both from Detroit, were driving a sedan which had been reported stolen at Detroit, January 26. Both boys were heavily armed. Seven knives of assorted sizes were found on the youths, troopers said.

Heavy Vote Cast In TWUA Run-Off

Officials of the Honest Ballot Association will begin counting ballots cast in Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO)'s run-off election this morning.

George Abrams, chief of the crew conducting the election, said the run-off vote may reach the 2,400 mark, within about 300 of the count in last week's general election.

Balloting in Local 1874's elections during the past few years, he added, has been running proportionately heavier than usual.

Last votes in the run-off election were cast at 4 a. m. today.

License Issued

A beer, wine and liquor license was issued yesterday by the Allegany County Liquor Control Board to Frank H. Webb, Grant E. Zollner and Robert J. Turano for Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, 113 South Centre Street. An application for the license was filed January 15.

Snow And Sleet Storm Hits Cumberland Area

Traffic in Cumberland was light yesterday as a heavy snow and sleet storm hit the Tri-State area. The above scene on South Mechanic Street was typical of the light traffic flow throughout the city. Most winter-wise motorists either left their cars at home or put on the chains which have seen so much use this year. Travel in the city was difficult, but nothing like area highways, which were icy and dangerous in spite of constant work by road crews.

Tri-State Area Is Paralyzed As Snow, Sleet Storm Strikes

State Roads Show Improvement As Mercury Rises But Chains Are Still Recommended

The Tri-State Area last night was still in the grip of one of the worst storms of the winter as rain and sleet turned a four to six inch snowfall into a greasy slush.

Travel over primary roads which was hazardous all day, with authorities issuing "Travel only if absolutely necessary" warnings was generally improving early last night as some bare spots began appearing on state roads in many areas.

By nightfall, State Roads Commission officials reported road conditions as generally improving. They recommended that chains be used, however.

The Oakland area, which often bears the brunt of storms, issued the best road report in Western Maryland. Not a plow was being used last night and almost two-thirds of the roads in that area were bare.

Storm Hits Area

The storm, which brought some 5.2 inches of snow and sleet to Cumberland, struck with savage intensity early yesterday morning as the worst storm of the year reached this section.

By 10 a.m., snow and sleet began to pelt the countryside, adding to the hazards on streets and highways.

Streets in the city were extremely slippery last night as rain and sleet formed a crust on top of the snow.

Churned by traffic, the mixture became greasy slick and travel in the higher areas of the city was difficult, even with chains.

City and long-distance buses were generally running on schedule last night but the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad reported some trains east of here as running about an hour late.

The Western Maryland Railway reported schedules being maintained.

Accidents Reported

Sub-freezing temperatures were still reported here last night, with the thermometer at 30 degrees at 9 p. m. Low for the day was 18 degrees.

Two persons were injured in a two-car crash near the Celanese plant and one man was injured in a fall on the ice yesterday.

Leslie W. Nave, 822 Gephart Drive, was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon with a fractured elbow suffered in a fall on the ice. He is employed as a teller at the First National Bank.

State Roads Commission officials reported early last night that conditions were generally improving as temperatures rose.

Garrett County roads in the Oakland area were in fair condition at 8:30 p. m., with a temperature of 35. There was a three inch snowfall there, followed by a rainy afternoon and hard rain last night. Officials said roads were about 60 per cent bare and that chains were not needed.

Accident reported a temperature of 30 with hard rain. Roads were fair with bare spots beginning to show up on U. S. Route 40. Chains, however, were recommended.

Allegany County roads in the Frostburg area at that time were in fair condition, but with no bare spots. Chains were recommended.

Six inches of snow fell there, followed by rain and sleet with the thermometer at the 26 mark.

Bare Spots Appear

In the Cumberland area rain and sleet was falling with a 31 degree temperature. Chains were still recommended although a few bare spots were showing up. Six trucks were out cindering the highways.

At Town Hill, east of here, it was 24 and sleeting at 9 p. m. Snow on the roads was beginning to break up and conditions were believed improving. Chains were needed.

The rising temperature slated for the area today is expected to turn the sleet into rain. If the weather forecast is correct, general improvement is to be expected on roads.

In general, near or above freezing weather existed in the area last night.

Three and a half inches of snow was registered by Keyser Weather Recorder D. A. Arnold yesterday. Highways were slick and road crews had been working all day. Snow ploughs worked from morning until late afternoon.

Assault Case Trial Tomorrow

Hearing on the assault charge preferred against probationary officer Karl W. Frankfort of Cumberland Police Department was postponed yesterday and rescheduled for tomorrow morning at 10.

William Shumaker, 322 Henderson Avenue, alleges in a warrent issued by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew, that Frankfort assaulted him with a blackjack early Sunday near Midway on Route 220 between Rawlings and Cumberland.

City Police investigated the case after Shumaker was treated at Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the head.

As a result of the investigation, three probationary officers have been suspended indefinately. They are Vernon E. Browning, Lewis A. Miller and Frankfort.

Simultaneous Fire Alarms Answered

Fire alarms came into two Cumberland fire stations simultaneously at 10:15 o'clock last night.

Central Station firemen were sent to the residence of Mrs. Katie Brown, 110 Polk Street, to extinguish a flue fire. South End firemen went to a transformer between 221 and 223 Oak Street, when it caught fire, plunging Oak and Second Streets into darkness.

Despite the bad weather both companies made the runs without mishap.

Foreign Force May Be Needed On Area Farms

500 Farmers Attend Hagerstown Meeting

Farmers in this area are being advised that it may become necessary to import foreign workers to harvest the bumper crops called for by the government.

That is one opinion heard by more than 500 farmers who attended the recent Four-State Farmers Meeting held in Hagerstown.

D. A. Tucker, Maryland State Employment Service farm labor representative, who made the foreign workers statement also said that civilian workers, housewives and city residents might be called upon to assist farmers of this area with the expected high farm production.

Tucker emphasized that defense work and the draft have decreased the number of migrant workers by over 20 per cent, but all possible steps are being taken to assure farmers that no labor shortage will develop.

Farmers from Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Virginia also were advised to place orders now for farming equipment that will be needed to reach production goals.

Earl Moffatt, extension farm management specialist from Penn State College, told the farmers that many farm products are now scarce and that demand will contine to grow until at least two years after the national emergency. "Some foreign countries are increasing their demand for American farm products and the armed forces are calling for more and more of our goods," he said. "The armed forces also are calling for more and more of our goods. Plan your production and use the best management methods. You are going to have to do this to meet demands."

Senate Group To Act On Garrett Election Dispute

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 31 (AP) — Chairman Turnbull (D-Baltimore County) of the Senate Elections Committee said his group will meet Thursday at 10:30 a. m. to decide what procedure to follow in the Garrett County senate contest.

Senator Neil C. Fraley, Garrett County Republican incumbent, won over Bernard I. Gonder on official returns last November by exactly one vote out of more than 6,000 cast in the election.

Gonder petitioned the Senate to throw out the result on grounds of "irregularities" in counting and procedure and to declare him elected, instead.

The Senate seated Fraley pending an investigation.

Senator Turnbull said he was advised by Attorney General Hall Hammond that the Senate may ask for a recount of its own, should it wish.

That, he said, is one of the things his committee will decide.

City Bills Will Be Presented Tuesday

Four bills sponsored by the Mayor and Council of Cumberland will be presented to the Allegany County Delegation in Annapolis next Tuesday at 3 p. m.

W. Earle Cobey, city attorney, had planned to meet with the delegation yesterday afternoon and present the bills on constitutional and statutory home rule, parking lot and sewage disposal.

The trip was postponed because of the weather.

A-Bomb Film Here Friday

"You Can Beat The A-Bomb," the official film to guide American citizens in protecting their lives against explosions of the atom bomb, will start Friday at the Strand Theater.

The film is being shown at a time when The Cumberland News is carrying a series of 10 articles entitled "You Can Survive the Atom Bomb," the third of which appears today on Page 5.

The articles in The News were written from the official government pamphlet, from which the film also was made.

Civilian Defense officials of Cumberland, Allegany County and county communities saw the movie at a preview last week at the Strand.

Veteran Conductor Retires

Eff D. Burner, 764 Maryland Avenue, veteran Baltimore and Ohio passenger conductor, completed his final run prior to retirement yesterday afternoon at 2:30 when Train No. 30 reached Cumberland. He is shown assisting his wife, Fay, from the train. J. L. Brooks, brakeman of Burner's crew looks on.

Sensabaugh Hits Kimble Truck Tax Bill Again

Hearings Open In Annapolis On Plan

French Sensabaugh, local trucking official, fired another shot in the Sensabaugh-Kimble letter war over the proposed mill-ton tax on trucks.

In a letter to Senator Kimble (R-Allegany), yesterday the trucking official warned that the tax, if approved, would be passed on to consumers and that the law, if passed, would be more difficult to enforce than prohibition.

In his first letter to the Senate minority leader, Sensabaugh asserted that Kimble, an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was "in bad faith and in poor taste" in attacking the trucking business.

Kimble wrote a long reply in which he maintained that his "all-out war" against trucking abuses isn't an attack on the trucking industry in general.

Sensabaugh's latest letter indicated that the proposed tax on trucks was discriminatory since "the B. and O. does not pay taxes to Maryland on the many millions of dollars' worth of tracks, rights of way, shops, rolling stock, etc."

He also contended that the trucking interests now pay more than their share of highway and gasoline taxes.

Hearing Attracts Many Witnesses

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 31 (AP)—A bill to tax trucks really is one to punish overloading, an Eastern Shore businessman said today.

Elias Nuttle of Denton so summed up most of the discussion at a hearing before the Senate Finance Committee. The senators indicated by their questioning they were just as interested, if not more, in increasing penalties for overloading trucks as taxing them.

The bill recommended by the Tax Survey Commission would charge trucks over 25,000 pounds two mills for each ton carried a mile in Maryland. The commission estimates it would bring in $4,000,000 a year—"assuming success in collection."

This assumption was cited by Joseph Wyatt who represented the Maryland Motor Truck Association and was a leading spokesman of the opponents.

"Imagine the cost just to check the records alone," he said. The truck operators would have to keep their records of miles traveled and submit them for taxation.

E. D. Burner Ends Long Service As B & O Conductor

Eff D. Burner, 764 Maryland Avenue, completed his final run as a Baltimore and Ohio conductor yesterday afternoon with the arrival of Train No. 30 from Parkersburg, W. Va.

The 69-year-old veteran began his career with the Baltimore and Ohio in 1902 and became a freight conductor in 1907. He served in that capacity until 1940 when he was assigned to passenger train duty.

As Burner stepped down from the coach he was greeted by G. A. McGinn, chief clerk, who congratulated him on his long service and wished him good luck. His stepson, William G. Lee, also employed by the Baltimore and Ohio, was there too.

His last official act was to assist his wife, Fay, from the train. She met him at Grafton and accompanied him to Cumberland.

In addition to his duties with the railroad, Burner is past president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and served 30 years with that organization as treasurer. He is also active in the Masons.

During his long career Burner has been conductor on special trains carrying Presidents Taft, Harding and Franklin Roosevelt. He feels that the progress in railroading since his early days with the road has been little short of phenomonal. Reminiscing about his early career, Burner, recalls the poor equipment, and unsatisfactory working conditions, and comparing them with present day conditions finds the latter "at least 195 per cent improved."

Narrow Escape

Burner has had many narrow escapes but has never been in a serious accident. Asked what outstanding complaint he had against the passengers, he replied, "The only serious complaint I have is those darned people who keep asking when we arrive, what town we are in, and other foolish questions." He chuckles about the time a passenger on his run between Cumberland and Parkersburg asked what time the train was scheduled to arrive in San Francisco.

Burner plans to devote much of his time to his roses, in the cultivation of which he is somewhat of an expert. He grows more than a hundred varieties in his garden, including the lately developed "peach rose" and many varieties of rare blooms. Describing himself as a "jack of all trades" Burner says he will be dividing his time between his roses and his workshop.

The jovial ex-conductor looks forward with some relief to the carefree days ahead "providing," he says, "that Mrs. Burner doesn't put me to work around the house."

Housekeeper Seeks Property By Equity Suit

Cites Agreement With Cosgrove

An equity case has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court this week by Mildred A. Ziler whereby she seeks the property of Mortii C. Cosgrove, for whom she served as housekeeper for almost five years until his death last August 18.

The suit was filed against Marian E. Smith, individually and as executrix of the estate and against other parties interested in Cosgrove's property. The Smith woman was Cosgrove's sister-in-law.

In this action the Ziler woman sets forth that she was to have been married to Cosgrove in 1943 and again in 1944 but on both occasions his illness prevented a wedding. She then states that on or about November 5, 1945, they entered into a verbal agreement whereby she was to serve as his housekeeper for the rest of his life on condition that she should inherit his property upon his death.

Nevertheless, the declaration reads that after Cosgrove's death his will dated November 16, 1940, was admitted to probate in Orphans Court. Under this will his sister-in-law was given all of his property for her lifetime except for $500, which was to go to Father Thomas Hardesty of St. Patrick's Catholic Church for masses for Cosgrove and his wife, who had preceded him in death.

Upon the Smith woman's death all of Cosgrove's property, under terms of the will, is to go to St. Patrick's Catholic Church for the payment of masses for Cosgrove and his wife.

Cosgrove's former housekeeper seeks a court decree giving her possession of his estate, which includes property at 516 Avondale Avenue and 516 Williams Street, an automobile and insurance policies, and "other and further relief."

The suit was filed by Attorney Edwin M. Horchler.

Two Area Men Enlist At Local Army Office

Kenneth L. Allen, 18, RFD No. 1, Frostburg, has enlisted in the regular army, unassigned for three years and Edison H. Pullin, 20, of 322 Estella Street, has joined the Air Force for the same period. They will be sent to Fort George G. Meade for processing.

Darr Receives 90 Days In Jail In Wife's Death

Judge Gives Warning On Drunk Driving

William R. Darr, 43-year-old Rawlings lumber mill operator, who was convicted of manslaughter January 17 by an Allegany County Circuit jury, yesterday was sentenced to three months in the County Jail by Associate Judge George Henderson.

Darr was convicted of manslaughter in the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary Catherine Darr, 40, who died in Allegany Hospital the night of December 20 after being run over on McMullen Highway by a truck which her husband was driving past their house.

Judge Henderson, in passing sentence upon the Rawlings man, emphasized that Darr was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident.

"In the future those convicted of drunken driving can very reasonably expect something more than a simple fine," Judge eHnderson warned other motorists as he passed sentence upon Darr. He provided that the sentence should not begin until February 7 to give the defendant an opportunity to make certain business arrangements.

Judge Henderson emphasized in his remark before passing sentence that both he and Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris are worried about drunken driving cases and reckless driving in general.

The judge also stressed that Darr's action after the tragic accident indicated that he was befuddled by liquor. "If he had not been befuddled, his conduct afterwards in starting out on another drinking party would have been most reprehensible," Judge Henderson said.

"Drunken driving is becoming entirely too common," the jurist added. "It may be the fault of the court in being a little too lenient and not imposing sentences of imprisonment. . . "At any rate, while I have realized the difficulty on account of Darr's business and on account of his son, I feel that we cannot let these things interfere with the proper punishment. If we do, we can never get anywhere in the enforcement of the law. Arrangements will have to be made to have the son stay with one of the members of the family."

Everett Faces Federal Charge

Raymond Gilbert Everett, charged with altering a United States Postal money order which subsequently was cashed at the Cumberland Post Office, yesterday was bound over to the Federal District Court grand jury in Baltimore by U. S. Commissioner James Alfred Avirett after a preliminary hearing.

Everett was arrested Tuesday on the complaint of R. M. Johnson, Post Office inspector, and taken to Allegany County Jail in default of $1,000 bond.

Johnson charged that Everett altered the name of the payee on a money order from Mrs. Joseph L. Smith to Mrs. Raymond G. Everett and the name of the remitter from Joseph L. Smith to Raymond G. Everett and cashed the money order at the Cumberland Post Office last April 18.

Births Announced

Memorial Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Northcraft, Carpenter's Addition, Ridgeley, a son yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. White, 709 Hilltop Drive, a son yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Fleek, Romney, W. Va., a son yesterday afternoon.

Food Costs Are Still Rising Here

It's no wonder Cumberland housewives are having difficulties with their food budget.

The current cost of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce food basket stood at $8.95 last Saturday, up 13 cents during the month.

The same items cost exactly $3.44 when the Chamber began studying food prices here in December, 1937.

Pressure Boiler Studies Planned Here This Spring

Smoke Abatement Program To Expand

Techniques used at Cumberland Terminal meetings to improve smoke abatement practices of railroad locomotives will be used in bringing pressure boilers into compliance with the Cumberland Smoke Abatement ordinance.

A series of meetings, chiefly in the form of an educational program to improve the efficiency of stationary boilers, will begin this spring.

The conference will be held in the Health Department Training Center, Union Street County Building, according to George M. Hitchcock, smoke abatement engineer.

There are 58 pressure boilers in Cumberland, Hitchcock said, including 34 which are under study and another 25 of marginal type.

Is Economic Problem

The chief problem in many cases, he said, is one of economics, since methods must be found to improve the efficiency of the boiler within the budget of the firm.

The Queen City Dairy, which has been operating a marginal boiler for some time, this week completed the installation of a modern 100 hp Powermaster automatic gas and oil fired boiler at a cost of about $10,000.

Hitchcock said the firm had installed overfired steam jets in the old boiler after violations were reported.

Efforts to improve the efficiency by temporary measures failed, he said, and the firm decided to replace the old 125 hp coal fired boiler.

Forums Are Planned

The stationary boiler conferences will consist of forums designed to improve the operating efficiency of boilers, plus discussions on specific methods to be used to improve installations which are cited in violation.

Hitchcock said if the managers and operators of pressure boilers cooperate as well as personnel of the Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railways, there is no doubt that marked improvement can be made within a reasonable time and at a cost within the budget of all firms.

Two Cresaptown Men Hurt In Headon Crash

Two Cresaptown men were injured yesterday when their panel truck crashed headon into another truck while they were trying to pass an auto on Route 220 near Amcelle, about 6 p. m.

Louis Smith, driver, suffered a broken nose and Ivan Hite, riding in the car was admitted to Allegany Hospital with extensive lacerations of the face and head.

Trooper A. M. Spioch, Maryland State Police, investigated and stated Smith attempted to pass a car and crashed headon into the truck operated by Keneth Hartman, RFD No. 4. Hartman was uninjured.

Contract Talks To Be Extended Here

C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), said contracts with wholesale grocery and taxicab firms, which expired at midnight yesterday, are being extended due to the price-wage freeze.

Stutzman and C. E. Bramble, president of the local, went to Washington yesterday to learn the effect of the order on contract negotiations here.

They were advised to continue negotiations since a ruling of some sort is expected within a week.

Labor Unity Group Will Meet Tonight

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Textile Workers Hall, 34 North Mechanic Street.

A full discussion on the strike at the Ort Bakery here is expected to be conducted.

John L. Estes, president, said the meeting was moved from Allegany Trades Hall since a large delegation is expected to attend.

Weather

With the sleet and snow of the promised cold wave hitting Cumberland yesterday many local citizens remained indoors rather than brave the icy streets. The high recorded at Constitution Park weather station was 30, the low, 18. Accumulated sleet and snow measured 5.2 inches. Relief is promised by the weather man with predictions of rain and rising temperatures today.

Jobs, Payrolls Show Increase In December

Chamber Endorses State Coal Bill

Employment in 17 major Cumberland industries showed an increase of 1,421 in December while payrolls increased almost a half million dollars over December 1949's figures, according to the January report of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The December 1950 employment total in the industries was 13,290, as contrasted to the 11,869 persons employed a year ago.

Payrolls for the month were $3,467,487.46, as compared to the $2,994,805.25 of the year previous.

Postal receipts at the Cumberland Post Office jumped $19,329.19 in December over the previous month to reflect the heavy volume of Christmas business.

On the forecast side, "Sales Management" predicts retail business in Cumberland will hit the $3,670,000 mark during February, which is 262.1 per cent of 1939's business volume and 103 per cent of February, 1950.

The City National Index for Cumberland is 97.2, indicating we are about 2.8 per cent below the national figure.

Committee Named

The personnel of the Public Affairs Committee of the Chamber, appointed recently by the Board of Directors, is:

Douglas R. Bowie, president; James A. Avirett, Mrs. Aurelia S. Becker, James W. Bishop, W. Earle Coby, Harry J. Barton, Charles A. Piper, William M. Somerville, Henry C. Swearingen and Arthur J. Weber.

The committee will keep in touch with the activities of the General Assembly and the federal government. Action of the committee recently includes:

Endorsement of a bill introduced by Senator Kimble to require state institutions to buy Maryland coal.

Asked members to keep reminding Senators O'Conor and Butler and Rep. Beall of their desire to eliminate wasteful practices in government through the adoption of recommendations of the Hoover Commission.

Backs City Drivers

The January bulletin of the Chamber also:

Called on local merchants to cooperate in a clean street program to be sponsored by the Street and Police departments of Cumberland.

Commended the Health Department and State Roads Commission on its anti-dumping campaign and promised hearty support. All members were urged to cooperate in the drive to eliminate such unhealthy and unsightly conditions.

Told members copies of the Price-Freeze Order will be available, upon request when they arrive.

Paid tribute to Louis Weber, founder of the South Cumberland Planing Mill, who died January 14.

Two Boys Waive Extradition

Two 15-year-old Detroit, Mich., youths who were picked up Tuesday night by State Police in a stolen Michigan car, yesterday waived extradition to Michigan at a hearing before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir said that authorities from Michigan are expected here Monday to return the youths. He said it still was undetermined whether the boys would face state or Federal charges in Michigan. Muir said the boys reported they were en route to Florida.

Troopers Jack Browning, Milton Hart and Donald Wade, Tuesday night were dispatched to investigate a report received from a gasoline station attendant near Frostburg that two suspicious looking boys were trying to sell parts from a 1949 Chevrolet sedan at the station.

The two boys were stopped at La-Vale barracks of the Maryland State Police as they were driving toward Cumberland, with Trooper Hart making the arrest, police said.

Officers reported the two youths, Jack Robert Maynard and Edward Rudolph Frank, both from Detroit, were driving a sedan which had been reported stolen at Detroit, January 26. Both boys were heavily armed. Seven knives of assorted sizes were found on the youths, troopers said.

Heavy Vote Cast In TWUA Run-Off

Officials of the Honest Ballot Association will begin counting ballots cast in Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO)'s run-off election this morning.

George Abrams, chief of the crew conducting the election, said the run-off vote may reach the 2,400 mark, within about 300 of the count in last week's general election.

Balloting in Local 1874's elections during the past few years, he added, has been running proportionately heavier than usual.

Last votes in the run-off election were cast at 4 a. m. today.

License Issued

A beer, wine and liquor license was issued yesterday by the Allegany County Liquor Control Board to Frank H. Webb, Grant E. Zollner and Robert J. Turano for Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, 113 South Centre Street. An application for the license was filed January 15.

Snow And Sleet Storm Hits Cumberland Area

Traffic in Cumberland was light yesterday as a heavy snow and sleet storm hit the Tri-State area. The above scene on South Mechanic Street was typical of the light traffic flow throughout the city. Most winter-wise motorists either left their cars at home or put on the chains which have seen so much use this year. Travel in the city was difficult, but nothing like area highways, which were icy and dangerous in spite of constant work by road crews.

Weather Forecast
Occasional rain with rising temperature today; tomorrow cloudy, windy and colder.

WAGE "FREEZE" IS RELAXED

Soft And Hard Coal Diggers Will Get Boost

Order Lifting Coal Price Lid Drafted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The government today eased its five-day-old wage "freeze" for 475,000 coal miners and perhaps many thousands of others caught in the federal crackdown on inflation.

Simultaneously, the Office of Price Stabilization prepared an order lifting the price lid on coal prices to match the wage boost.

By a 6 to 3 vote, the Wage Stabilization Board approved all wage raises agreed upon by the Jan. 25 "freeze" date—providing the raises apply to a pay period beginning Feb. 9 or earlier.

At first, board officials were undecided whether the new order would apply only to a $1.60-a-day wage hike for 400,000 soft coal miners or also take in a similar raise for 75,000 hard-coal miners.

Tonight the board's executive director, W. Willard Wirtz, ruled that it applied to both.

Wirtz said the hard-coal agreement had actually been negotiated with "a meeting of minds in every substantial way" before the Jan. 25 deadline, even though the contract was not signed until Jan. 26.

Possible Strike Headed Off

Both the soft and hard coal contracts are effective tomorrow, Feb. 1.

Wirtz's ruling, in the board's first light situation, took the pressure off a possible strike by the hard-coal miners and seemingly pointed the way for other "flexible" interpretations of the general freeze order.

Board officials said at least 50 other contracts—and perhaps 10 times that many—are affected by the order.

Officials said, however, the wage "thaw" will not apply to cases still in the process of negotiation or arbitration. Such cases will have to be submitted to the board for special consideration when decisions or agreements are reached.

In the case of soft coal, John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, had signed a new contract several days before the Jan. 25 deadline and hence got under the wire under today's interpretation.

Soft coal operators said in granting the wage increase that it would require a boost of 25 to 50 cents a ton.

Federal Workers Not Exempt

Officials said late today an order dealing with the price increase would be issued "in a day or two."

Along with the wage modification order, the board issued three other "clarifying" statements, declaring:

1. State, county and municipal employes—but not federal workers—are exempt from the wage freeze.

However, the board said state and local governments are "expected" to conform to the wage freeze and to the board's wage policies.

2. The freeze applies to payments into a pension fund, overtime rates, bonuses, vacation and holiday pay, and higher rates for night shifts.

3. Wage increases are authorized, without board approval, when necessary to comply with the wage-hour law and other statutes.

Mitchum "Released"

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31 (AP) — Movie Actor Robert Mitchum, convicted in 1949 of a narcotics charge, was released today from the terms of two years' probation by Superior Judge Clement D. Nye.

Court Order Is Sought To Halt Railroad Tieup

Walkout Spreads; Partial Freight Embargo Imposed

[By The Associated Press]

The government sought a federal contempt of court order Wednesday to halt the fast spreading strike of railroad switchmen and ordered that shipments for the armed forces be given priority.

The Defense Transport Administration ordered the railroads to put an embargo on freight that cannot be moved through yards tied up by the current walkouts.

The DTA also directed that military shipments be given preference over the freight to the extent that such shipments can be gotten through.

The two-day walkout of switchmen has crippled rail service in all major sections of the country.

Headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the key union involved in the work stoppage, said in Cleveland that telegrams have been sent to all affected points urging local chairmen to get switchmen back on the job.

Railway Express Embargo

The government's move to end the new walkout — the second in six weeks — came as:

1—Operations on 28 railroads in 13 major cities across the nation were hit directly by the work stoppage. Other lines were affected indirectly.

2—The Railway Express Agency clamped an embargo on rail express shipments between 14 northeastern states and the rest of the nation.

3—Firemen, engineers, conductors and trainmen were joining the switchmen's walkout in a few places.

4—Thousands of industrial workers were made idle by the strike in Philadelphia, Chicago and Peoria, Ill.

5—The Pennsylvania Railroad blamed "labor trouble" for derailment of a freight car in Detroit.

BRT Officials Named

District Attorney Otto Kerner, Jr., of Chicago filed a petition for a contempt order with Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe. The petition named officers of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, key union in the walkout, and 25 BRT lodges.

A contempt citation was issued by Judge Igoe against the union in a similar walkout of 10,000 switchmen last month. A hearing on this is set for Friday.

The government contended the union still is restrained from striking by no-strike federal court injunctions the government obtained last month in Chicago, Washington and Cleveland.

COMES UP SMILING—Marine Cpl. Jack Wagner, Butler, Pa., can still grin despite his battered appearance. Wagner, in action with buddies on the Central Korean front, dove over a cliff when his platoon drew Red fire from three sides and the leap offered the only escape.

Md. Is Affected By REA Embargo

Baltimore, Jan. 31 (AP)—Maryland is one of the 14 northeastern states "quarantined" by the embargo which the Railway Express Agency slapped today on express shipments.

However, goods can still be moved to and from states within the area.

The agency said the embargo applies to freight destined for points in the 14-state area, with the exception of drugs, medicines, surgical instruments, defense materials, coffins and funeral supplies.

The express agency here said freight may still be sent to and received from the following: Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Maryland.

Freezing Rain, Snow And Sleet Plague Nation

[By The Associated Press]

Piercing cold and the first heavy snow storm of the season chilled the Northeast Wednesday.

The fall in that area was expected to pile up to a depth of six to ten inches.

It was accompanied by cheek-nipping cold. The temperature dropped to an all-time low of 32 below zero at Caribou, Me. Sub-zero readings were common in Upstate New York and New England.

Low marks included -25 at Houlton and Greenville, Me., -17 at Massena, N. Y., -5 at Glen Falls, N. Y. The bottom level in New Jersey was -8.

The government weather bureau in Washington in a special bulletin Wednesday night warned of slick and dangerous highways over the entire northeastern quarter of the nation. It noted that driving conditions "are very bad out of Washington in any direction" and said Maryland and Virginia were covered by snow, sleet and freezing rain.

The warning said dangerous road conditions are widespread, extending from South Carolina through New England and westward through New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and into Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Arkansas.

Temperatures in most of the area were well below freezing with little prospect of immediate improvement, except possibly in the Middle Atlantic states Thursday.

The Weather Bureau reported freezing rain or sleet pelted a wide band of land from Texas to the Atlantic coast — hitting Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, the southern parts of Indiana and Ohio, and portions of North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

The number of deaths attributed to this week's wintry assault rose to 69.

Red Pact Report Denied

MOSCOW, Jan. 31 (AP)—Italian and French embassies here said today they had no knowledge of reported plans by the Soviet Union to offer non-aggression pacts to Italy and France if they pledge neutrality and quit the North Atlantic pact.

U. S. Seeks Quick Assembly Verdict Against Peiping

Two-Point Course Of Action Planned

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 31 (AP) — The United States strove tonight for a quick verdict by the United Nations General Assembly on an American-backed resolution calling Red China the aggressor in Korea.

Once that approval has been obtained, high diplomatic circles said, the United States would press for a two-point course of action. One would be immediate efforts by a high-calibre three-man good offices committee to seek a settlement. The second would be intensive consultations among members of a 14-nation collective measures committee on what to do about meeting the Chinese aggression. Informed circles here said the American position on sanctions, if any, would depend finally on the results of these consultations.

The assembly was called by President Nasrollah Entezam, Iran, to meet at 10:45 a. m. E.S.T. tomorrow in an extraordinary session at Lake Success instead of in the huge assembly hall at Flushing Meadow.

The Political Committee last night approved the United States resolution, 44 to 7.

Sir Bengal N. Rau, Indian delegate who lost a stubborn campaign to put off the American proposal and make instead another cease-fire appeal to Red China, was asked what India's position would be after the American resolution is passed by the General Assembly. Rau told a reporter:

"We shall continue to do our best for peace."

The Asian-Arab group was said to be undecided whether to renew in the Assembly the fight it made in the Political Committee against the American resolution and for another approach to Peiping.

Now that Assembly approval is certain, the United States was reported in diplomatic circles to be shaping up plans for the two committees created under the resolution, the good offices group and the collective measures committee.

WAVEs Not Getting 142 Dresses Each

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Navy denied tonight that it has placed an order for 1,350,000 summer uniform dresses for its little band of 9,500 WAVES and women marines.

Earlier in the day Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Housed Armed Services Committee said he would inquire into the reported order, which would amount to about 142 dresses per person.

A Navy spokesman told reporters there were only two orders outstanding, one for 4,615 dresses from a Baltimore concern, and another for 26,178 from a Minneapolis company. There is no 1,350,000 order, he said.

After Record Flight

Capt. Charles Blair waves from the cockpit of his modified single-engine F-51 Mustang at London's airport yesterday after smashing all records for a flight from New York. Blair, 41, streaked over the London airport just seven hours and 48 minutes after his dawn takeoff from New York. (Story at bottom of page).

Truman Plans $16.5 Billion Tax Boost, History's Biggest

Might Mean 20% Hike In Income Levy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—President Truman unveiled to a congressional group today the biggest tax-boosting program in history—$16,500,000,000 to put the defense effort on a pay-as-you-go basis. He asked that it be split into two packages, one a $10,000,000,000 "quickie" bill.

This might mean an early increase in individual income taxes, possibly by about 20 per cent. But there was no suggestion of a retail sales tax.

The President made an extraordinary bid for bi-partisan support, inviting the 10 House Ways and Means Committee Republicans, as well as the 15 Democrats, to the White House to see the wraps taken off the program.

Heretofore only Democrats have been invited to such previews of impending tax recommendations.

Some members promptly suggested to the President that economy—by cutting the $71,600,000,000 budget—would relieve some of the need for huge tax increases.

Budget "Padding" Charged

Rep. Reed (NY), senior Republican on the tax-writing committee, has claimed that budget is "padded" and the President had "included the major part of his 'Fair Deal' socialistic program in the guise of defense projects."

All those present at the White House, Republicans as well as Democrats, were requested to keep the tax discussion secret, until Mr. Truman formally transmits his special tax message to Congress on Friday.

But from later discussions on Capitol Hill, newsmen got indications the President will ask for a two-package approach, with the first bill to collect some $10,000,000,000 in about this manner:

Individuals—Increase by about $4,000,000,000 the income levies on over $50,000,000 taxpayers—an overall rise of about 20 per cent, although not all taxpayers would have that size increase. The money may come from a boost of four percentage points in each income tax bracket. The first $2,000 of taxable income would bear a 24 per cent rate, instead of the present 20 per cent; the second $2,000 would go at 26 per cent instead of 22, and so on up. There was no indication that the President is thinking at this time of lowering the present $600 personal exemption to $500.

Corporation Tax Hike

Corporations—Increase by about $3,000,000,000, raising the present 47 per cent on corporation income to perhaps about 55 per cent; and probably adjusting the present 77 per cent excess profits tax. The corporate normal rate has been boosted from 38 per cent to 47 per cent since the Korean war commenced. The highest it got in World War II was 40 per cent.

Excises—Pick up more billions by broadening the levies and raising rates in the excise tax field. Some tax writers believe this might cause an increase in the liquor tax from $9 to $12 a gallon, and boost in wine, beer, cigarets, gasoline and some other excises, as well as putting the levy on new items.

Training Center Probe Ordered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP) — A "complete and thorough investigation" of all the basic training centers of the Army, Navy and Air Force was ordered late today by the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee.

Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) of the Senate group told reporters he had directed the inquiry "as a precautionary measure."

It is a direct outgrowth of complaints, now under investigation, that Lackland Air Force base in Texas was so overcrowded that recruits lacked proper housing and clothing and were suffering hardship. The Air Force has denied the complaints but is making its own inquiry.

Johnson said Congress wants to be certain that adequate indoctrination and training centers are available before the lawmakers pass upon drafting of 18-year-olds or any other methods of building up the armed services.

Constitutional Convention Measure Slips By Initial Test In Legislature

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — Legislation to call a convention to rewrite Maryland's constitution slipped by its first General Assembly test today by a one-vote margin.

But it picked up so much added strength as the day progressed that observers were predicting freely it would gain final House approval within a few days.

What would happen to it in the Senate was still anyone's guess.

The highly-controversial measure resulted from a referendum last November at which the electorate voted approval of a constitutional convention by a margin of almost 4 to 1.

The General Assembly, however, has the final say.

Many delegates and senators from the smaller counties are opposed to a convention.

But Baltimore City legislators and some from the counties with heavy populations want one.

These were the day's developments on the bill:

1—The House Judiciary Committee approved it 10-9, and Chairman Dempsey (D-Balto 3rd) said he would bring his committee's report to the full House at the afternoon session.

2—But, when the session started, Dempsey found that many delegates were absent because of the snow and sleet.

3—He announced to the House that he would hold the bill until tomorrow, so it could come before "a more representative House."

4—Opponents of the measure, headed by Delegates Lankford (D-Anne Arundel), Brinsfield (D-Dorchester) and Cannon (D-Wicomico), seeing what they believed a good opportunity to upset the committee's report and sink the bill, sought to bring it to the floor, anyway. Fourteen Baltimore City delegates were in the list of absentees.

5—Much to the surprise of both the backers and opponents, the move which would have placed the bill on the floor failed by a 56-41 margin.

6—That vote could be considered as a good indication of how those present will answer the roll call on succeeding House tests on the convention proposal.

U. Of Md. Board Of Regents Votes To Admit Negro

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—The University of Maryland's board of regents today voted to accept the first negro undergraduate to College Park.

The state's biracial system of education must be abandoned, the regents said in a statement, unless actual equality is provided negro schools. And this policy, the board said, is the direct responsibility of the State Legislature.

The action was brought on by a court suit by Hiram T. Whittle, 20-year-old Baltimore negro, to force his acceptance into the university's college of engineering.

Last Monday the state informed the courts it would submit a consent decree in Whittle's case—meaning it would not protest it.

Gen. 'Ike' Reports To Truman, Other Top U. S. Officials

Takes His Proposals To Congress Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told President Truman and the other top officials of government today about the progress and prospects of the defense of Europe against Communism as he sees them after 21 days on the scene.

What the supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty organization forces had to say at the White House was a closely-guarded secret, as was his subsequent conference at the Pentagon with the executive body of the North Atlantic Military Committee.

Flies In Sleet Storm

The five-star General flew into Washington in a driving sleet storm to give his advice, first privately to the President, then to the Cabinet and other principal executives, and later to his associates in the command of the West's defenses against the Soviet threat.

Tomorrow he goes to Capitol Hill with his report and recommendations. The next day his message will be directly to the people, by radio.

It is generally predicted that he will report a need for more American troops on the continent, recently a subject of sharp debate at the Capitol, and for a strenuous cooperative effort by all the Atlantic pact nations.

General Non-Commital

The General was strictly non-commital today in public.

The closest he came to saying anything about the subject of all his efforts of the past month was at the close of the session at the White House:

"I can still hope."

That was his response when a reporter reminded him that when he set out on his Western Europe tour he had expressed hope that the West's defense efforts would lead to peace, tranquillity and security, and asked if he still felt that way.

1,000,000th Yank May Die In Spring

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—A new unknown soldier soon may fall on a Korean battlefield — the millionth American fighting man to die in all wars in U. S. history—the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies predicted today.

The association called the potential victim "GI-X" and said he "may be killed during the spring or even sooner if Korean casualties become heavier."

The association reported that military deaths in all American wars, including Korea, reached 994,000 near the end of January.

Chinese Reds Unexpectedly Cease Attacks

Heavy Casualties Suffered By Enemy

TOKYO, Thursday, Feb. 1 (AP) — Allied troops renewed their eight-day-old offensive at dawn today in Western Korea—and met no opposition at the outset.

The jump-off followed a night of strange silence in which the Chinese Reds ceased entirely the counterattacks they had pressed at heavy loss on Wednesday.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported in a field dispatch at 9 a. m. (7 p. m. EST Wednesday):

"Officers said either the Chinese were holding back in preparation for a large scale counterattack or else they had made local withdrawals farther into their main line of resistance as a result of heavy casualties suffered in yesterday's (Wednesday's) bitter fighting."

Planes Blast Convoys

At the beginning of today's push, Puerto Rican and U. S. troops advanced unopposed deeper into the entrenchment - studded hills constituting the enemy's main defenses south of the Han River.

Allied planes spotted and attacked 400 enemy vehicles moving toward the front Wednesday night in the western sector.

Allied troops mowed down Chinese Wednesday in hand-to-hand combat, roaring artillery barrages and blistering air strikes.

The Chinese rushed up reinforcements as the Allies attacked with grenades and bayonets in the pine-clad hills north of Suwon and Kumyangjang.

Twenty thousand Reds were spotted moving up in the Kumyangjang sector, one source said. Kumjangyang is 23 miles southeast of Seoul.

The U. S. Tenth Corps in Central Korea also jumped to the attack, joining the U. S. First and Ninth Corps already engaged to the west. The Tenth moved ahead about 500 yards against light opposition and then ran into heavy fire.

Little Change In Position

There was little change in front line positions Wednesday as the two great forces in Western Korea locked in flaming combat. One Allied patrol last was reported but seven miles south of Seoul.

To meet the swelling Allied offensive, the Chinese also were said to have patched up their badly-mauled 50th Army south of Seoul. They brought in elements of their 38th, 39th and 40th Armies from the Seoul area.

The saw-toothed front runs east-west between Seoul, the Red-held capital of Republican South Korea, and the airbase city of Suwon 17 miles to the south.

Associated Press Correspondent Jim Becker reported from the front that the northernmost Allied position was nine miles north of Suwon.

The well dug-in enemy refused to break under the great assault.

"This is undoubtedly their main line of defense south of the Han River," a regimental commander was quoted in a pooled dispatch from the front.

Baltimore Transit Walkout Called Off

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Union employes of the Baltimore Transit Company today called off a strike set for tomorrow morning and apparently will settle for a one-year contract granting an eight-cent wage boost.

Clayton Perry, president of the AFL local, emphasized the 3,200 bus and trolley operators and maintenance men would have to approve the proposal by ballot, but there appeared slight chance of its being turned down now that it had Perry's approval.

Representatives of the company and the union met with Mayor D'Alesandro last night and worked out the proposal. The firm's board of directors met in emergency session today and notified Perry of its acceptance.

Sabotage Hinted As Bridge Falls In Canada, Killing Four

THREE RIVERS, Que., Jan. 31 (AP) —Nearly half of the new $3,000,000 Duplessis bridge dropped with a thunderous crash into the St. Maurice River today. Four persons, caught in their cars on collapsing spans, fell to an icy death. Quebec Premier Maurice Duplessis charged the bridge was "sabotaged by subversive elements."

Mayor J. A. Mongrain said the catastrophe "could have been avoided" and called a special meeting of the City Council to look into the los of the broad steel and concrete structure.

The nine-span highway bridge, more than a third of a mile long, was closed to heavy traffic for a time last winter until cracks could be repaired. It was opened in June, 1948, by Premier Duplessis and named for him, a native of Three Rivers.

Premier Duplessis told the Quebec Legislature tonight there would be a government inquiry.

He said he believed sabotage was involved for two reasons: First, because of the "timing" in the early morning, and second, because it was "the Duplessis bridge." He recalled that he is responsible for the Quebec "padlock law," by which establishments suspected of subversive or Communist connections may be closed.

Four 180-foot spans of the bridge collapsed at 2:55 a. m., carrying away telephone lines linking Quebec and Montreal. The bridge crosses the St. Maurice River where it joins the St. Lawrence, and connects Three Rivers with Cap De La Madeleine on the opposite bank and with Quebec, 70 miles to the northeast.

New York-To-London Speed Mark Broken By U. S. Pilot

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP) — Airline Capt. Charles Blair landed his scarlet Mustang fighter plane in a blaze of red "Very" lights tonight, chalking up a fresh New York-to-London speed record of seven hours, 48 minutes. He clipped an hour and seven minutes off the old record.

Blyair said his only troubles were some icing in the early stages and a painfully tight pair of boots throughout.

As he clambered from the revamped fighter's cockpit and waved to a cheering crowd at London airport, he winced and declared: "The first thing I do is to get these boots off."

The "Very" lights, brilliant red flares, marked the end of the airport's main runway as Blair's plane, a flying gas tank named Excalibur III, skimmed down in the darkness.

He left New York's Idlewild Airport at 4:50 a. m. Eastern Standard Time and was clocked in here at 5:38 p. m. British time (12:38 p. m. EST).

A Pan American Airways pilot, Blair took the time record from a Pan American Stratocruiser. The Stratocruiser, piloted by Capt. Charles Titus of Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., made the eastward crossing Nov. 22, 1949, with 24 passengers in eight hours and 55 minutes. Strong tail winds helped in both cases.

21 German War Criminals Are Spared Gallows

Arms King Krupp, Eight Aides Freed

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 31 (AP)—United States officials today saved from the gallows 21 convicted German war criminals, including six involved in the notorous Malmedy massacre, and freed the imprisoned arms king, Alfried Krupp, and eight of his aides.

The sweeping revision of U. S. war crimes sentences means no German will be executed for the Malmedy massacre, in which several hundred unarmed GI prisoners of war and Belgian civilians were murdered in the Battle of the Bulge.

Fifteen of the 21 saved from death were ordered to serve life terms and the others from nine to 25 years.

The greatest mass clemency by any Allied power since the war came in the midst of efforts to woo Germans into Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's European army and German demands that the "honor of the German soldier" be restored before Germans take up arms again.

U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy and Gen. Thomas T. Handy, U. S. military commander, also:

1. Confirmed the death sentences of seven.

2. Granted immediate freedom to 33 prisoners, including Krupp and his aides and former Air Force Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Speidel, brother of former Gen. Hans Speidel, who is one of the negotiators with the Western Powers on rearmament. Krupp had been serving a 12-year sentence, Lt. Gen. Speidel 20 years.

3. Shortened the prison terms of 36.

4. Announced that more than 400 other prison sentences fixed by U. S. war crimes courts are being reviewed.

5. Restored the property rights of 42-year-old Krupp in the sprawling $500,000,000 munitions empire confiscated by Hitler in 1943 and administered by the Allies since the war.

GRIM WARNING—Dick Martinez, coroner's assistant, look at signs on the stairs of a Los Angeles apartment house left by Nathan Goldberg, 71. Upstairs, Goldberg's body was found in a gas-filled room. A note he left behind indicated he had been brooding over the death of his wife two months ago.

Road Program Is At Standstill

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Maryland's $200,000,000 highway overhaul program virtually is at a standstill.

Russell H. McCain, Frederick, new Republican chairman of the State Roads Commission, said today no new contracts have been let in the past two weeks.

Two reasons are assigned:

1. The state's Court of Appeals has before it a test case on the validity of wage rates set for state construction jobs by a commission on prevailing wages.

2. Theodore R. McKeldin, Maryland's new Republican governor, has declared he wants to "re-examine the whole roads program."

The highway overhaul program was launched in 1947 by the administration of former Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr. Several of its most important projects are now at a stage where new contracts must be let before they can be completed.

Chairman McCain announced he has written Gov. McKeldin asking that he confer with the new roads commission to determine exactly what was meant by "re-examination" of the program.

Truck Firms Accused Of Violating ICC Laws

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31 (AP) — Trucking companies in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania are among 11 firms charged today with violating Interstate Commerce Commission laws.

U. S. Attorney Edward C. Boyle accused the companies of leasing ICC certificates to non-certified firms. Named in the charges were:

Maryland Transportation Company, Frederick, Md., Keystone Motor Express, Inc., Huntington, W. Va., and Gibbons Motor Express, Washington, Pa.

Hulk Of Independence Sunk In Weapon Test

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31 (AP) — The battered hulk of the aircraft carrier Independence lies off the Central California coast in 3,000 feet of water.

In a formal statement which gave no information beyond that, the Navy said the carrier was sunk "after a weapons test that was completed without incident."

The Independence, wrecked deliberately in the atom bomb tests at Bikini in 1946, was towed to sea last Thursday from the Navy shipyard here.

Fairchild Pickets Target Of Bomb

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) —A bomb which failed to go off and a suggestion for a secret ballot among the 4,700 strikers today enlivened the 24-day walkout of Fairchild aviation division here.

Deputy Sheriff Leister Isanogle said pickets at Fairchild plant No. 2 told him the bomb was tossed near them at 1:30 a. m. from a car which did not stop.

When the bomb, about the size of a gallon can, hit the ground its lighted fuse broke off. A former Army chemical officer identified it later as a flare bomb used in combat to spurt flame for signal purposes.

Isanogle said he would have it examined for finger prints and would make an investigation to see who threw it and where it came from.

The call for a secret ballot among the strikers was made by Mayor Herman L. Mills. He suggested such a vote might show the rank and file want to return to work.

Bill Would Let Courts Set Execution Dates

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — Sen. Melnicove (D-Balto 4th) proposed today that the court which sentences a person to death also fix the date of execution instead of the governor.

Melnicove introduced a bill that would take the responsibility for setting execution dates away from the governor on June 1.

The judge or judges presiding at trials would set a week for execution after pronouncing the death sentence. It would be up to the warden of the state penitentiary to select the day.

State Workers Seek Hike, Other Benefits

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP) — The Maryland Classified Employes Association today urged pay raises and other benefits totaling more than $4,000,000 for state workers.

Association officers asked Gov. McKeldin to support a series of 1951 legislative proposals headed by "equitable salary increases for all state employes, on at least a cost-of-living adjustment basis."

"I'm in favor of doing all we can for them," McKeldin said afterward. "How much we can do depends on the money we have."

Albert S. Gordon, president of the union of state personnel, estimated proposed benefits would cost beween $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Internal Security Act Is Challenged By U.S. Communists

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Communist Party filed a court action today contending the Internal Security Act is an unconstitutional "blueprint for fascism." It asked an injunction to keep Attorney General McGrath and the subversive activities control board from proceeding to require the party to register under the act.

The party also asked for a three-judge court to hear its challenge of constitutionality of the law passed last year over President Truman's veto.

The action was filed in Federal District Court here on behalf of the party, William Z. Foster, its chairman, and Gus Hall, its national secretary. The suit was directed against McGrath and the five members of the Subversive Activities Control Board, whose chairman is Seth W. Richardson.

American Commie Glad To Be Back In U. S. After Trip To Iron Curtain

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP) — An outcast American Communist, who tried to make a pilgrimage to his Soviet shrine, came home today "glad to be back and sorry I left—even temporarily."

He was Arden Perin, 29, who said he found the going tough behind the iron curtain.

"Some people learn the expensive way," he said of his trip.

Perin, a marine engineer, came home on the liner Washington, with his wife, Lilyan, 25, and their six-months-old daughter, Dolores.

"I've lost my interest in Communism after seeing it in practice," he told newsmen.

Perin, short and dark-haired, said his family flew to Finland last Nov. 28 where he planned to get a job. It didn't materialize.

He said he then tried to go to Russia, but authorities would not let him in.

So Perin and his family went to Prague, in Soviet-dominated Czechoslovakia.

He said they were placed under house arrest and treated "very brutally, not physically, but mentally."

Finally, Perin said, Czech officials gave him two hours to get out of the country or else be sent to Russia "where they know how to treat your kind."

Perin, with no further yen for Russia, took the hint.

W. Va. Senate Whips Bonus Bill Into Shape

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Senate tried to anticipate all eventualities today in whipping the veterans' bonus legislation into final shape for passage.

On the one hand, it made the $90,000,000 20-year bond issue callable in 10 years, just in case the state might have the money on hand in 1961 to wipe the bonus slate clean.

On the other hand, it inserted a "convenant of the state" clause in one of the bills designed to allay any fears of the bond purchasers. This claus would guarantee that the state would resort to an income tax or increased consumer's sales taxes should the levies on liquor, beer and cigarets prove insufficient to retire the bonds.

The Senate did its pruning and cutting on the House versions of the five bonus bills. They will be on the calendar for final vote of the Senate tomorrow.

Trucker Is Killed

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 31 (AP)—A trailer truck went out of control on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, struck an automobile and rolled down an embankment today, killing the truck driver instantly.

The victim was Emerson A. Viney, 22, London, O. The driver of the auto was Clark Cornwell, 24, White Post, Va. He suffered minor injuries.

Total property damage was estimated at $14,000.

Counterfeiting Was His Hobby

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Harry Delorme, Jr., 37, had an interesting hobby but the government thinks he made a poor choice. He counterfeited money.

Because investigators showed he never had passed any of the homemade $20 bills he printed just for fun, Federal Judge William J. Campbell placed him on probation for three years.

Delorme, a commercial artist, pleaded guilty to having counterfeiting equipment.

Barbara Stanwyck Files Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31 (AP) — Barbara Stanwyck sued Robert Taylor for divorce today, complaining that she is tired of "being a long distance telephone wife."

A spokesman for the actress amplified:

"They never could get together They were always separated by a studio gate, a mountain or an ocean."

The screen stars, whose 11-year childless marriage supposedly had made them one of Hollywood's happiest couples, surprised even their friends by announcing their separation Dec. 15. The breakup came shortly after Taylor returned from nearly a year in Italy doing film work.

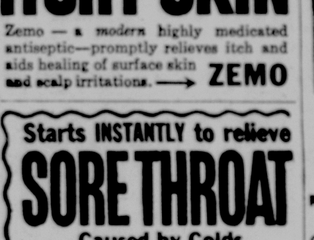
"How I Relieve Distress of Monthly Female Complaints
and nervous feelings several days before . . . with Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—truly 'the woman's friend'"



"Several days just before my period I'd feel so nervous, irritable, so restless, easily upset at the slightest thing—due to female functional monthly disturbances. I asked my druggist for something to take, and he told me Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I get simply amazing relief from this distress. Pinkham's Compound also relieves monthly headache, backache and thosemiserable 'bearing-down' pains—due to this cause. Taken regularly—it helps build up resistance against such distress.
"What also impressed me about Lydia Pinkham's Compound is that it's made strictly from nature's roots and herbs (plus Vitamin B1). There are no harmful drugs in it. This is really a great comfort. I wish you girls troubled this way would give this great medicine a fair trial."
P. S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in a little fruit juice or just plain water. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron—pleasant to take and easy to carry in your purse.

Dr. Pullin Stresses Need For Teacher Pay Increase

The State of Maryland and Allegany county will be faced with a tremendous task in maintaining the schools in the event teachers leave their posts for more remunerative jobs in industry in the next few years.

Many are leaving school now, according to Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent of schools. In this county, six have left in the past few months, Charles L. Kopp reported yesterday.

In the General Assembly there is a movement for a general wage increase for teachers. Most legislators realize one way to keep teachers in the schools is to pay them better salaries.

Labor May Back Bill

The Associated Press quotes House Speaker Luber (D-Balto-5th) as commenting yesterday "We cannot afford to wait until the loss of teachers is critical. Action would be necessary regardless of where the money comes from."

Senate President Della (D-Balto-6th) said he may personally sponsor a bill to raise teachers' salaries. It depends largely on whether any unallocated money lies in the $23,500,000 fund for hospital construction he said.

Kopp said the $2,400 starting pay for new teachers in this county is not sufficient for a married man with a family.

He said the school system is getting many ex-GI's who were married during college years and have one or more children.

With meat a dollar a pound and coffee a dollar a pound, high rents, income tax, and other costs to be met, he doesn't blame them for leaving the teaching profession for more lucrative positions in industry.

Local Conference Held

The Allegany County Board of Education is awaiting state action on the pay raise. The county teachers association and the board had a discussion several weeks ago, Kopp said, to survey the economic situation.

According to school officials two important facts facing citizens today as this pay raise comes to the action stage are:

1. Schools must be maintained and teachers should not leave here as they did during World War II because of needed pay.

2. Teachers do not have enough to make ends meet.

All of this is in view of the peak enrollment for the county which is to evolve in 1953 and 1954, Kopp added.

FEPC By Fiat?

A Fair Employment Practice Commission created by executive order is understood to be under consideration by President Truman. It would function during the present emergency to prevent discrimination by race, color or creed in employment in defense industries and also under government contracts or subcontracts.

An FEPC functioned for five years during World War II. It was set up by executive order of President Roosevelt in 1941. Congress later provided funds for this temporary FEPC but rejected an appropriation to continue it beyond the war period. Inasmuch as legislation of 1944 had forbidden any executive agency to use government funds for over a year unless Congress had appropriated for it, the wartime FEPC shut up shop in May, 1946.

The 1944 legislation is still on the statute books. And the Supplemental Appropriation Act for 1951 provides that none of an additional $10 million made available to the President for use in defense emergencies shall be used to finance programs for which appropriations heretofore have been denied by Congress.

The FEPC of 1941-46 received more than 12,000 complaints, managed to have the alleged discrimination in employment ended in almost 5,000 instances, dismissed about 6,000 complaints for lack of evidence or jurisdiction. Its jurisdiction was limited to employment in essential industries and in government agencies, and it had no power of subpoena.

Last year the House by vote of 221 to 178 substituted a "voluntary" FEPC bill for a bill creating an FEPC with enforcement powers. The substitute bill then was passed by vote of 240 to 177. A compulsory FEPC bill was brought up in the Senate but was stymied by a determined Southern filibuster. Under present conditions it is unlikely that funds for an FEPC set up by executive order could be got through Congress.

A fellow shouldn't give up in disgust when the little woman comes home from a shopping trip loaded with parcels. After all, as she will be quick to explain, he wouldn't want her to be so foolish as to pass up any ridiculously low-priced article.

General "Ike" Reports

"This principle of balanced collective forces is of great and perhaps revolutionary significance." Thus spoke Secretary of State Acheson in giving a report to an informal joint session of the Senate and House last May 31 on the London meeting of the Atlantic Foreign Ministers from which he had just returned.

Another informal joint session of Congress is to meet in the Library of Congress today to receive a report from General Eisenhower. He will discuss the practicability of the plans for defending Western Europe with collective forces, including American divisions.

Acheson submitted to questioning after his formal address. Thereby he revived the old proposal for regular question periods at which Cabinet members would be interrogated by members of the legislative branch.

Eisenhower will probably not be called upon to answer questions from the floor at today's meeting. However, he will later, at closed-door meetings of Senate and House committees, give details of what he found—and didn't find—on his recent inspection trip of Europe.

Laughs have been classified by a psychologist into sounds of A-A, E-E, I-I, O-O and U-U. But who cares when times are troublesome, as long as there is some kind of genuine, pleasant laughter now and then?

Great American Poet

It is strange that the foremost American poet of his day and one of the great newspaper editors of all time has not had his biography written for 45 years. This lack is about to be made good; a life of William Cullen Bryant is announced for speedy publication. The author is Henry H. Peckham, who has written various books on American literary history.

Bryant was an example of the frequent combination of genius with early precocity. He learned the alphabet at 16 months, turned the Book of Job into verse at 10, and at 12 knew the entire Greek New Testament by heart. After achieving great literary fame by the publication of his two finest poems, "Thanatopsis" and "To A Waterfowl," he settled down to his life career as editor of the New York Evening Post.

Like Irving, Cooper, Hawthorne, Melville and other great literary figures of his time, Bryant was a stanch follower of Andrew Jackson. The later indorsement of the slavery interests by the Democratic Party led him to join the Republican Party on its formation, and as an editor belonging to the governing party he had wide influence until his death in 1878.

He deserves to be brought anew to popular attention.

When setting up the family budget these days it is sometimes helpful to include a column of excuses for creditors.

Interception

Gen. Omar Bradley, top officer of the U. S. armed forces, had some words of cheer for the country—or at least words to ease some of the tension. He told a Senate subcommittee:

"The Army, Navy and Air Force that are planned are sufficient, in my opinion, to avert disaster for our country. There is little real danger now of the continental United States being invaded and overrun, so far as we can see."

But, he added no matter how strong the nation's defense air arm, "If a determined enemy is willing to expend the effort, some bombers will get through." Did he mean, possibly, a Pearl Harbor brand of getting through to one of the country's great cities? He couldn't rule out the possibility of the atomic sneak attack without a declaration of war. What he did say was that the country would not have to take a general plastering from the sky.

There is already some protection against the sneak attack, of course, and it will be improved steadily. There is radar on watch from aircraft and picket vessels at sea, from land-based stations around the continental perimeter, including the Arctic. Fighter planes are ready to take off and try to intercept a "bogy." The big bombers of General LeMay's Strategic Air Command are in constant readiness for long flights fully loaded. Air defense includes retaliation as well as interception.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Venereal Disease Education

THE SUBJECT of venereal disease is no longer taboo; it is aired freely in newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets. It is discussed over the radio, on billboards, and even from airplanes flying above the city. This is in marked contrast to grandma's day when the topic was classified in the hush-hush category.

Has this publicity produced the desired results? We believe that it has made the general public aware of the dangers and of the need for treatment but it has not banished venereal disease. Furthermore, in certain studies there was no evidence that these particular public health programs had any effect on sexual behavior. Surveys of this nature usually are made upon those who have acquired the disease and we will never know how many others were favorably influenced by the campaigns. Individuals who have not become infected are not likely to be interviewed on matters of this nature.

Promiscuity perpetuates venereal disease. It is obvious that an individual who has relations with ten persons stands a greater chance of becoming infected than if the contacts were confined to one. Education has helped to discourage promiscuity in home but not in certain groups such as the poorly educated and none too bright. Many have no concept of social welfare and come from broken, unstable homes. They also are heavy drinkers and seldom respond to scolding or sermons on their misconduct. However, when gonorrhea or syphilis is detected, they no longer neglect it. In this respect, education had been of value because the majority were made to realize the importance of treatment.

By contrast, in the better educated, the incidence of promiscuity has been reduced by general discussions of the hazards. The younger set also has been influenced. Many authorities believe that proper instruction of boys and girls is the answer. They should be taught the dangers of drinking too much. Furthermore, sex problems are less likely to arise when provisions are made for adequate community activities for young people. Programs of this nature also aid in making these youngsters more mature emotionally. When the time comes to marry and settle down, there is more chance of a successful marriage.

• — • — •

The problems associated with venereal education are not difficult. There is no secret as to how the diseases are transmitted. The two main types are syphilis and gonorrhea. The latter generally is localized to the area of contact and a discharge is the most frequent manifestation. The response to penicillin and other antibiotics is dramatic but if the disease is neglected serious complications may ensue. Syphilis is a more widespread malady and if untreated may affect the heart, brain, and other organs. The initial symptom usually is a painless sore (chancre) in or about the area of contact, which develops several weeks after the infection has been contracted. Good remedies are available and treatment is no longer tedious and prolonged over months or years as in the past.

TOMORROW: Dietary and insulin control of diabetes.

ERUPTION FROM MOVING?

Mrs. G. writes: Could moving from one section of the country to another cause the skin to break out in a rash? I never had an eruption before moving and nothing I put on the tiny blisters seems to help.

REPLY

This is a possibility, especially if allergy is a factor. On the other hand, there are so many types and cause of skin disorders that I doubt if moving is responsible. Even if you had stayed in the old homestead you might have developed the rash.

• — • — •

SNAKE SWALLOWING

Mrs. W. O. writes: Recently I was told something that seems unbelievable to me and I wish you would clear it up. I was told that if a baby snake is swallowed by a person it could live in his stomach and grow to full maturity. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Snakes require oxygen and if one were swallowed in all probability it would be killed by the acid in the stomach. On the other hand, intestinal worms usually are not swallowed but hatch from eggs that have been consumed. These eggs are protected from the stomach juices by a special coating until they can reach the colon.

• — • — •

ALLERGIC REACTIONS

Mrs. C. writes: I suffer from hives and when the welts appear my throat feels full and the area around my eyes swell. What could this be?

REPLY

All the symptoms you mention could be caused by allergy. The throat swelling and eyelid puffiness probably are manifestations of sensitivity in your case, just as in hives.

Truman Advisers Endorse St. Lawrence Seaway; Congressman Blatnick Calls For Quick Action; Chairman Wallgren Wants FPC Transferred To Colorado

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman and top advisers decided last week that the St. Lawrence Waterway, a raging issue in Congress for two decades, must no longer be delayed if the United States is to maintain a strong defense in the future.

Most surprising endorsement of the seaway came from Mobilization Boss Charles Wilson, who once opposed it. However, even such implacable foes as Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Rep. Charles Buckley of New York have now promised not to impede the proposed canal joining Detroit and Chicago with the Atlantic Ocean.

Citing the need for quick action, two-fisted Rep. John Blatnik of Minnesota, leading House crusader for the St. Lawrence Waterway, told the White House meeting: "There is no need for long hearings on this. We know the whole story from previous hearings. We also know that we face a serious deficit of iron ore for defense (steel) in the next few years unless we draw on the vast deposits in Labrador the proposed waterway can bring us."

"There's still another reason," suggested President Truman. "Canada has been waiting 41 years for us to help her construct the waterway and is getting impatient. If we don't move now, Canada may go ahead with the construction of the canal and electric-power development without our partnership. If that happens, there will be no joint control of the waterway. Instead, Canada will have complete control and ownership.

"Isn't it a lot better," continued the President, "to accept the joint partnership control Canada has offered us and make sure that our interests in this vital link to Canadian ore deposits are safeguarded in the future?"

"I think so," agreed Wilson, former head of General Electric. "When electric power was the main factor of the proposed seaway, I was against it, because there were other ways to get power. But navigation and the need for Canadian ore are now the paramount considerations."

Texas Tom Yields

Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman also supported Truman, as did two other potent figures at the closed-door conference, Maj. Gen. Lewis Pick, chief of Army Engineers, and GOP Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin.

Wiley remarked that if Truman "held a few more meetings like this one, I'll bet you could convince the railroad owners who have been blocking the seaway." Turning to Senator Connally, the Wisconsinite jibed: "Tom, you've done a little blocking yourself."

When the big Texan growled a denial, Wiley continued: "Well, then you've stacked subcommittees against the bill."

"What you mean to say is that I have refused to go along with you when you tried to get me to stack subcommittees with proponents of the St. Lawrence Waterway," shot back Connally.

However, Texas Tom made it clear that he wouldn't stand in the way if the majority of both houses favored the waterway. He then managed a smile when, sitting close to Wiley for a news picture, the Wisconsin Senator wisecracked: "I see you've shifted to my side."

Truman's Old Crony

It is now pretty well agreed that one of the best things Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia ever did was to stop the appointment of the President's crony, Mon Wallgren, to be chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

Thanks in part to Senator Byrd, the ex-Senator from Washington was shunted from the vitally important war board to what was considered a safe roosting place, the chairmanship of the Federal Power Commission.

Here, however, Wallgren has been such a flop that even his old friend in the White House is reported disappointed with him.

Wallgren's latest dilettantism is a move to transfer the Federal Power Commission to Colorado Springs—because the climate is better. Also Mon would be nearer his home state of Washington where he wants to run for the Senate again. Finally, Mon has some real estate in Southern California and he wants to be closer to it than Washington, D. C.

On top of this, Wallgren seems to have forgotten one of the most courageous battles ever staged by his friend in the White House—namely, Truman's veto of the Kerr Natural Gas Bill.

Vigorous wire-pullers for this bill were Senator Kerr, Oklahoma, and his silent oil partner, Phillips Petroleum. Phillips is now up for investigation by the FPC for unnecessarily hiking rates to the State of Wisconsin and the City of Detroit. Fear of these high rates was one reason why Truman vetoed the Kerr Bill. But despite this, Wallgren voted against his old friend in the White House to sidetrack the probe.

The investigation of Phillips was requested by Wisconsin and Detroit two long years ago. In that year—1948—Phillips paid dividends of 18.7 per cent on common stock and surplus, but even so, hiked its rates to northern gas users.

Pipeline Politics

Most recent move by Wallgren which is against Truman policy is to O.K. a $58,000,000 natural gas pipeline to New England for Texas Eastern—which cooperated with and helps to protect Koppers Coke, a part of the Andrew Mellon industrial empire. This line was opposed by both Democrat and Republican leaders in New England, including Gov. Sherman Adams and Senator Tobey of New Hampshire, both Republicans; and Senators McMahon of Connecticut and Green of Rhode Island, both Democrats. They favor the cheaper $38,000,000 Northeastern pipeline to New England, claim New England cannot afford to be saddled with two lines and such heavy expense.

NOTE—A lot of politics—both Democratic and Republican — is mixed up in this power commission maneuvering. On the Democratic side, it was Phillips Petroleum which conveniently put its private plane at the disposal of Democratic bigwigs to fly to Kansas City for the Bill Boyle dinner. On the Republican side it is Phillips Petroleum which hires Neil Tolman as its Washington lobbyist. Tolman, former campaign manager for GOP Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, is a potent means of reaching the Federal Power Commission. For Bridges packs powerful influence with Nelson Lee Smith, also from New Hampshire and GOP member of the Commission.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)

ALL EFFORTS having failed to wring from any responsible Washington official a positive comment on whether we plan to keep our forces in Korea or bring them home, one must search elsewhere for particulars.

James R. Young, of the Anderson (S.C.) Daily Mail, who served 15 years in the Orient for INS (some of it in a Japanese prison), sends me his thought on the trying problem:

"I have not seen that an observation on what might happen if we did abruptly leave Korea. I submit one based on my years in that part of the world.

"Korea is a peninsula with several all year 'round ports open to shipping. Vladivostok, the U.S.S.R.'s Siberian port, is closed for several of the winter months, as are two ports in North Korea, Rashin and Seishin. The Soviet Union, in seizing all of coveted Korea, would use it most certainly as a spring board for the planned attack on Japan.

"The Russian attack on Japan, I believe, would utilize Korean and and Chinese forces because it would be comparatively simple for the Russians to stir up the needed hatred of Japan. Both Korea and China have a long backlog of anti-Japanese feeling.

"In the event of a complete victory in Korea, and a well-planned attack on Japan from Korean bases, I believe that the massacre of Japanese and their American friends would be on an appalling scale.

"In Japan today there are at least 2,000,000 Japanese Communists whose leaders underwent extensive training in Moscow. We contributed to the Communist population by releasing all Japan Reds from their jails after V-J Day, and also we arranged for many Jap Communists, who had been exiled to China, to return home. In addition, Russia is training and indoctrinating a great many of the approximately 300,000 Japanese officers and troops she captured during the closing days of the war and took into Russia. They are sent back to Japan, to here from within, just as soon as the Russians feel certain that they will remain Commies.

"The Japanese Communists would participate in the mass slaughter of the Emperor, still a symbol of unity, plus his family and associates during what could well be a revolution timed to coincide with the landing of traditional enemies on the Japanese beaches.

"If Japan falls under Russian influence (while Russia sits back and says that Korean and Chinese 'volunteers' did the whole thing out of fear that Japanese rearmament meant a rebirth of its imperialism) the Soviets would use the islands as bases for an attack on the United States.

"The entire northwest section of the U. S. can be hit, with comparative ease, from Japan. The Japanese proved that during World War II with their primitive armed balloons (one of which, incidentally, hit the main power lines leading to our vast plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash.)

"That kind of attack could be stepped up considerably, with the wind-borne balloons carrying not only bombs but poisons and blights which could be spread among the people, cattle and grain crops of the northwest; or incendiaries for its forests.

"Why don't you conduct a poll to see how our people feel about using the a-bomb now on Russia, rather than Red China? After all, the course of tanks, jets and submarines is not China. Or North Korea.

"Back in the early 1930's I asked some Chinese friends what they thought of Japan's view that Japan was attacking China 'to drive out Communism.' The Chinese replied, 'they should attack Communism at its source.'

"Still sounds like good advice."

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

Grandstand And Policy Making

WASHINGTON

THERE is one key fact, which hardly anyone seems to have noticed, in the mess we are in about China. The House has passed a ringing resolution. The Senate has followed suit. The American delegation is moving heaven and earth to get the United nations to brand China as an aggressor. But beyond the gentlest tap on the wrist, the Administration has not yet agreed how the Chinese are to be punished, when and if they are formally found guilty of their crime.

The situation was almost comically dramatized by a recent meeting with the President of the State and Defense Department leaders, some rumors of which have got about. If the rumors are correct, every sort of move was canvassed solemnly and at length. Some objection was found to each one. And at the close, with nothing accomplished, the President dissolved the gathering with a compliment on a fruitful discussion.

All kinds of plans have indeed been drawn up. The most extreme is a project to support the several hundred thousand Chinese anti-Communist guerrillas with air-dropped supplies; to reinforce the guerrillas' operations by air attacks on China's highly vulnerable lines of internal communication; and to aid Chiank Kai-shek's forces to land in the easily defensible Amoy area. In the middle ground, there are variants on the basic theme of a naval blockade of the China coast. And the tap on the wrist is represented by a plan to proclaim an international long range embargo on trade with Communist China.

Exposure of Weakness

The objections to these plans should be obvious enough. The all-out attempt to discommode the Peking government by stirring up their internal enemies would very probably achieve its immediate object. But it would also call into operation the Sino-Soviet pact, thus quite possibly bringing on what it is most desirable to avoid—a major war in Asia. And in the eyes of the worried British and Europeans, who can only think about the larger struggle with the Soviet Union, this sort of American action in China would convict the United States of "starting the war," including any future war in Europe.

The naval blockade of the China coast would place too heavy a strain on our available naval resources, and would necessarily include a blockade of Port Arthur, which is a Russian harbor. As for the top on the wrist of a long range trade embargo, it is what the American government will probably propose next, if our motion on China is approved by the UN. But the damage done the Chinese by a long range trade embargo, if America's allies overseas can be dragooned into voting it, will hardly compensate for the damage done American interests by the bad feelings engendered in the dragooning process.

The plain truth is that in November the Chinese Communist government committed a flagrant act of war, which the American government, for excellent reasons, did not choose to treat as an act of war. In these circumstances, it would have been better to keep quiet, await developments, and concentrate on getting the Korean situation in hand again. The course indeed adopted, of demanding that China be convicted of a crime when no adequate punishment was ready, was from the first, and is today, a mere exposure of weakness.

Concession To Opinion

The worst of this situation is that this highly dubious course has quite evidently been taken as a concession to public and Congressional opinion. A gesture had to be made, it was plainly felt, because of the natural, bitter and universal indignation against the Chinese Communists.

But this method of making policy equally evidently implies a belief that the American Congress and American public are incapable of listening to reason. The idea seems to be that Congress and the country cannot understand the undesirability of a major war in the Far East; cannot be made to see how the very different and far more dangerous positions of the British and French influence their actions; cannot grasp the occasional virtue of keeping quiet; cannot even tell the difference between a serious punishment and an empty gesture, such as calling the Chinese Communists a bad name.

Of course, if Congress and the country were truly incapable of understanding and accepting plain statements of fact about great national problems, the American system would have foundered long before this. The real trouble, at the moment, is that the national leaders, and especially the leaders at the State Department, are so inescapably preoccupied with the pet bellies from the grandstand that they dare not argue with the crowd.

This is the real penalty that is paid when public men lose the confidence of the public—they have the pop bottles more in mind than the facts, when they have to make great decisions. Contrariwise, the real need for national coalition in such a time as this, arises from the need to get down to the business of discussing hard facts of vital national concern.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Loyalty

LOYALTY is not a debatable question. No society can tolerate disloyalty to itself, otherwise it would decay from the vileness of its own members. Therefore, every government rejects the right of a traitor to be a traitor, even though, in a free society, the individual may claim freedom of thought and action. In clear-cut cases, which were pointed to a degree, the spy and traitor performed unmistakable functions and therefore his labors could be readily evaluated and his character judged.

Recognizing these postulates as basic, it is not remarkable that such strong efforts have been put forth over the years to conceal, to cover up, to protect treason and traitors. The politicians in office, seeking only their private advancement, lack the knowledge to recognize modern treason for what it is. Modern treason is a non-military activity, performed consciously and unrelated to the time limits of a state of war. The Dies Committee, shabbily treated even by the Democratic Party of which Congressman Dies was a member, laid the foundation for a technique of discovering treason in peacetime. Every effort was made by the Administration, from the very start, to give to that committee the appearance of the ridiculous.

The Dies Committee performed an outstanding service to this country because it laid the foundation for a study of Marxist infiltration into American life. Its files are basic for any understanding of this problem; its reports remain the best source material for any study of treason as a continuous operation.

Parnell Thomas, long before he got into trouble over a salary kickback, was most violently attacked, and I am not sure yet that he was not punished as severely for an infraction not as unusual as it may seem, because he headed an anti-Communist investigative committee.

The current House Committee on Unamerican Activities has done some important investigating but it has also missed most of the available opportunities. In fact, it is this committee that should have investigated the Amerasia case which definitely involved treason, treachery, deceit, cover-up and dishonorable politics. It was because this committee failed to pursue the penetration and infiltration of the State Department and the Treasury by Communists that Senator Joe McCarthy stepped into the arena with his charges. This committee must now be regarded as inadequate.

The Tydings Committee made an altogether fruitless attempt to discover disloyalty within the government. In fact, it sought to try Senator Joe McCarthy with a view to his political destruction. The motives of Senator Millard Tydings have never been clear nor are they important. The fact is that his committee covered up and whitewashed disloyalty.

Now the Senate has appointed the McCarran Committee and provided it with initial funds to start all over again to root out disloyalty in government. The intentions of Senator Patrick McCarran are excellent, and should he find an adequate staff of well-informed counsel and investigators, he could get at the roots of disloyalty.

But before the McCarran Committee can organize and get ready to do a suitable task, the President appointed his own commission to operate with the Senate committee. At the head of the President's commission is Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, an honored citizen whose name and rank and record should not be disposed of in this manner. Actually, Admiral Nimitz should not have accepted this appointment to compete with a Senate committee and thus provide muddled waters under which the disloyal can hide and possibly escape.

I object to the use of the phrases, "loyalty commissions," "loyalty boards," "loyalty oaths." The word should be "disloyalty." Most Americans are loyal; only a few in the government are disloyal. The few should be exposed and eliminated.

Even in the matter of funds for the McCarran Committee, certain senators are trying to block this essential investigation on the ground of economy. It is as important to expose the disloyal as it is to maintain supplies for the army.

The commission appointed by the President contains distinguished names, but not a single person on it has established himself as an authority on this subject. A study Marxist could make a monkey out of its members by the use of Aesopian language. The disloyal are still in luck.

YOU CAN SURVIVE THE ATOM BOMB

KNOW THE BOMB'S TRUE DANGERS. KNOW STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO ESCAPE THEM.

EDITORS: This is the third of a series of ten

What About Radioactivity?

RADIOACTIVITY IS THE ONLY WAY BESIDES SIZE IN WHICH ATOMIC BOMBS DIFFER FROM ORDINARY ONES

IN ALL stories about atomic weapons, there is a great deal about radioactivity.

Radioactivity is the only way—besides size—in which the effects of A or H bombs are different from ordinary bombs. But, with the exception of underwater or ground explosions, the radioactivity from atomic bursts is much less to be feared than blast and heat.

WE KNOW MORE ABOUT RADIOACTIVITY THAN WE DO ABOUT COLDS

Radioactivity is not new or mysterious. In the form of cosmic rays from the sky, all of us have been continually bombarded by radiation every hour and day of our lives. We all have also breathed and eaten very small amounts of radioactive materials without even knowing it. For over half a century, doctors and scientists have experimented and worked with X-rays and other penetrating forms of energy. Because of all this experience, we actually know much more about radioactivity and what it does to people than we know about infantile paralysis, colds, or some other common diseases.

It is easy to understand how radioactivity works if we think of how sunlight behaves.

INJURY FROM RADIOACTIVITY DEPENDS ON THE POWER OF THE RAYS AND PARTICLES, HOW LONG YOU WERE EXPOSED AND HOW MUCH OF YOUR BODY WAS HIT

In the northern part of the world, winter's slanting sun rays seldom cause sunburn, but the hotter rays of the summer sun often do. Still, just a few moments in the midsummer sun will not give you a tan or sunburn. You have to stay in its hot rays for some time before you get a burn. What's more, bad sunburn on just the face and hands may hurt, but it won't seriously harm you. On the other hand, if it covers your whole body, it can make you very sick, or sometimes even cause death.

In the same way, the harm that can come to you from radioactivity will depend on the power of the rays and particles that strike you, upon the length of time you are exposed to them, and on how much of your body is exposed.

What is "Initial" Radioactivity?

EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY IS THE MOST IMPORTANT KIND, BUT IT LASTS ONLY A MOMENT

Broadly speaking, atomic explosions produce two different kinds of radioactivity. First—and most important in an air burst—is an extremely powerful invisible burst of rays and particles thrown off at the time of explosion. This kind is called "initial" or explosive radioactivity. Its rays and particles fly out quickly, then promptly die. There is danger from them only for little more than a minute. The second type of radioactivity—lingering radioactivity—will be described later.

THE BIGGEST DANGER FROM EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY LIES WITHIN A MILE OF THE EXPLOSION

The injury range of the explosive radioactivity from a modern A-bomb is a little over one mile, if the bomb is exploded about 2,000 feet in the air. If it is exploded much higher, some of the radiation may not reach the ground, so the range may be less. If it is exploded much lower, the radiation also may not reach out as far, because it would be blocked by the ground or by buildings.

A little more than a mile away, the principal effects of the few dying rays that struck you could be seen only as temporary blood changes in a doctor's examination. You probably wouldn't even realize you had been exposed.

A little less than a mile from the explosion center, if you are unprotected, you are almost sure to suffer illness. Less than two-thirds of a mile away, those caught in the open are pretty sure to soak up a fatal dose of radioactivity.

BUILDINGS WILL PARTALLY OR COMPLETELY SHIELD YOU

Still, the possibility of your being caught without some protection is not very great. Even if you are on the street, there is a good chance that a building, or many buildings, will be between you and the burst, and they will partially or completely shield you.

YOU ARE MORE LIKELY TO BE HURT BY BLAST AND HEAT THAN BY RADIATION

Atomic explosions high above ground cause the most widespread damage. And, as happened in Japan, when an A-bomb goes off in the air you are far more likely to be hurt by the bomb's blast and heat waves than by its radioactivity. At Hiroshima and Nagasaki slightly over one-half of all deaths and injuries were caused by blast. Nearly one-third of the casualties were from the heat flash.

Radioactivity alone caused only about 15 per cent of all deaths and injuries.

EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY IS LESS OF A DANGER IN GROUND-LEVEL OR UNDERWATER BURSTS

If the bomb were to go off close to the ground, or slightly below its surface, the range of the explosive radiation, as well as the range of the blast and heat, would be reduced. This is due to the fact that all three would be partially blocked by the earth, by nearby buildings and by other obstacles.

In an underwater burst, there would be much less to fear from blast and nothing to fear from heat. Practically all the explosive radioactivity would be absorbed by the water. However, there would be the second type of radioactivity to be described later on.

possible should be done to prevent our own industries from suffering any unfair competition from abroad.

An aroused and angry Congress, recognizing the delaying tactics of our allies in the United Nations in calling Communist China an aggressor, voted unanimously in the House and Senate that it was the sense of those bodies that the United Nations should immediately declare Communist China an aggressor in Korea. The Senate further voted that this Communist government should not be seated to represent China in the United Nations. In spite of these actions, as of this writing, nothing has been done to bring Red China before the bar of justice. In the meanwhile our casualty lists are rising every day.

The President, last week, named a commission on internal security and civil liberties which will make a long time study of government loyalty and security programs. It will have "complete" access to FBI files and other secret information, something denied to Congress in the past in its investigations. It is the opinion of many legislators that this action duplicates the work of Congressional committees set up for such a purpose and denies them information on which to legislate.

UNDER THE DOME

I was advised by the Public Roads Administration that they have approved the transfer of the division office of their organization to Hagerstown providing satisfactory rental arrangements can be made. The division covers six states and the Hagerstown office would handle the work of the entire division.

With other members of the Maryland Delegation I appeared before Dr. Scheele, the surgeon general of the Pucic Health Service, asking that the out-patient office in the Customs House in Baltimore be retained.

I also attended the organization meeting of the Public Works Committee of which I am a member. It is expected that the committee will go to work immediately on legislation which has been referred to that body.

Numerous inquiries are coming to me regarding war claims. Applications have been made by former prisoners of war for the allowance to which they are entitled. In many instances long periods of time have elapsed and the applications have not been processed as yet. I am requesting that action be expedited on these cases.

ALONG THE POTOMAC TO WASHINGTON

(By Representative J. Glenn Beall, Sixth Maryland District)

THE Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act is up for Congressional action to extend its life for another three years. The 80th Congress inserted a peril point clause in extending the act in 1948, requiring the Tariff Commission to advise the President whether proposed tariff reductions would imperil American industries. Under this peril point system the President was not compelled to follow the commission's recommendations, however, if he disregarded them, he would have to inform Congress of the reasons for doing so.

This peril point system was deleted by the 81st Congress with the consequence that some of our industries suffered by imports selling below the price that the same products could be

It is my opinion that everything produced in this country. From all indications this peril point system will again be omitted from the extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act.

Mrs. Richard VanHorn, Clothing; Mrs. Paul Weller, Health; Mrs. Charles Moore, Home and Yard Beautification; Mrs. Howard Twigg, Home Furnishing; Mrs. L. A. Jewell, Home Management; Mrs. Curtiss Bloss, Nutrition; Mrs. Edward Wilson, Blue Cross; Mrs. H. C. Morin, Ways and Means and Mrs. Charles Moore, Sunshine.

Reports were given and Miss Maude A. Bean spoke on courtesy and friendliness. Three guests and 26 members attended.

Country Club Tournament Closes Feb. 6

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Carscaden and Mrs. Gordon Bowie with Mrs. Somerville Nicholson were the high teams in the Cumberland Country Club's annual bridge and canasta tournament second session held Tuesday night at the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Carscaden moved into first place in the bridge competition with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Webster finishing in second.

Mr. and Mrs. G. William Bibby were second in the canasta.

The tournament will close next Tuesday, following a dinner.

Personals

Mrs. Harry J. Barton, McMullen Highway, Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Nelson and Kendra Crist have returned from York, Pa., where they visited the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Crist and sons, John and Jeffrie.

Mrs. Leah Twigg, Flintstone, has left to visit friends in Bristol, Tenn.

Henry L. Cooke, 925 Grand Avenue, is a patient in Memorial Hospital where he underwent an operation yesterday.

Peter W. Smith returned to his home, 913 Louisana Avenue, yesterday from Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., and is reported "getting along fine," after undergoing a major operation.

Mrs. Mamie Heath, Moorefield, W. Va., is convalesing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Van Fleet, 721 Lafayette Avenue.

Mrs. A. G. Fuller, 619 Sedgwick Street, has returned from a visit in New Orleans.

Class Continues Project

The members of the Ruth Class of Ellerslie Evangelical Church decided to continue sending parcels to men in service, when the group met recently at the home of Mrs. Ruth Myers.

Others attending were Mrs. Betty Shaffer, Mrs. Jerry Mason, Mrs. Eva Hansrote, Mrs. Pauline Williams, Mrs. Laura Burkett, Mrs. Edna Lowery, Mrs. Erma Master, Mrs. Maxine Dash, Mrs. Millie Nazelrod, Mrs. Evelyn Leydig, Mrs. Irene Gerhart, Mrs. Mabel Kramp, Mrs. Gertrude Reed, Mrs. Elsie Femi, Mrs. Bettie Hickle, Mrs. Mary Shroyer, Mrs. Nina Close, Mrs. Samilla Mullan, Mrs. Margaret Emerick, Mrs. Elvena Johnson, Mrs. Clifton Close, Mrs. Richard Close, and Mrs. Grace Miller.

WAITING TO BECOME GIRL SCOUTS—A group of 40 little girls attended the organization meeting of a Brownie Girl Scout troop Tuesday at SS. Peter and Paul School. Following rules of the National Girl Scouts only the first twenty to enroll were admitted to the new Troop 36. The others will have to wait until two leaders volunteer to take the second troop. Brownie projects are small arts and crafts. Mrs. A. M. Spioch, acting commissioner urges "More Adult Membership" for the year's goal, and announces a leader training class will begin at 1 p. m., February 6 at the Girl Scout House. Mrs. Sidney Storer, Jr., leader, shown above directing the singing of a Brownie song, is assisted by Mrs. Frank Whinnie, co-leader.

Training Meeting To Be Feb. 10

Local 4-H Club leaders from Allegany county are scheduled for a full day of education, fellowship and inspirational program at the training school to be held February 10 at the LaVale fire hall.

Club leaders from Garrett county will participate also.

This school, one of a series of seven such meetings being held in various districts of the state, is designed to provide special training to local leaders, who have volunteered their services to further the 4-H Club program.

Joseph Steger, extension agent, is local chairman in charge of arrangements.

Group discussions on various topics will form part of the program. The training schools will begin at 10 a. m. and at noon a luncheon will be served by Sears Roebuck Foundation.

The school is to be conducted by Miss Dorothy Emerson, girls' club agent; and Mylo S. Downey, state boys club leader. Wakelin McNeel, former state club leader of Wisconsin, will be the guest speaker.

There are to be group discussions on "Improving 4-H groups," "4-H Records," "Boys and Girls as W Know Them," and "Why Play." Mr. McNeel is to give two talks, one on "Helping Youth in These Confused Times," and the other, "Victories in Other Lives."

Local Chapter Takes Part In Conference

Chapter 914, Women of the Moose opened the program at the mid-Winter conference held in Frederick recently. Mrs. Helen Thomas, senior regent, presided, and 28 members attended.

On behalf of the local group Mrs. Betty Page, past grand regent, presented a check to the College of Regents.

WIFE PRESERVERS

If your men folk like to have their shoes waterproofed for outdoor wear, melt a dressing made of two parts beeswax to one part mutton fat. Apply this to the shoes at night, and in the morning wipe with a piece of flannel before the shoes are worn. Neat's foot oil will also do the trick.

Potomac Valley Lions To Sponsor Square Dance

Old Fashioned Party To Be Sat.

The Potomac Valley Lions Club is entertaining with a square dance Saturday evening. It will be held at the Cresaptown Firemen's Hall, and the public is invited to attend.

An old fashioned orchestra, highlighted by an old fashioned fiddler, will furnish music for the occasion. The Lions also have booked an experienced caller. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds are to be used to help underprivileged children in the Cresaptown School.

R. H. Yokum is chairman of arrangements. He is being assisted by Alton Walston.

Republican Women's Club To Hear Talk, Reports

Year's Programs To Be Outlined

A talk and reports of Gov. McKeldin's inauguration are to feature the program at the meeting of the Woman's Republican Club to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Girl Scout House.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, will be in charge of the program and speak on "Behind the Scenes." She will conduct a discussion from the floor following her talk.

Detailed accounts of the inauguration of Gov. McKeldin will be given by Mrs. Alva Davis and Mrs. Paul M. Fletcher, who attended.

Mrs. Vada D. Barncord will preside at the business session at which time plans will be formulated for a rummage sale on February 6 at the Canada Hose House. Plans for the remainder of the year will be outlined also.

A social hour is to conclude the evening, with Mrs. Dorie Owens chairman of refreshments.

Ruth A. Clauson Heads Associated Farm Women

Dinner To Be Held Feb. 19

Dates for 1951 regular meetings were set and further plans formulated for the membership drive at the luncheon meeting of the Associated Women of the Maryland Farm Bureau held yesterday at Happy Hills Restaurant, Baltimore Avenue.

The remaining meetings are to be held the last Tuesday in March, May, July, September and November.

A "kick-off" dinner for the membership drive is to be held February 19. Approximately 50 members are expected to attend. They include the Farm Bureau and Associated Women, officers and directors, the nine district directors who will be in charge of the womens divisions of the drive, as well as members asked to be briefed for participation in the drive. Wilfred Smith, state membership director, from Baltimore, is also to be a guest.

Mrs. Lloyd B. Shaw opened the meeting and installed Miss Ruth A. Clauson the new president. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Austin Twigg, treasurer; Mrs. Marshall Porter, secretary; and Mrs. Harry J. Barton, on the Baltimore Membership School and the Farm Bureau meeting held Monday.

Plans also were discussed for publishing a regular Farm Bureau local news letter.

Others attending yesterdays meeting were Miss Marian Appel, Mrs. Charles Harvey and Mrs. Arch Davis.

Local Men Place Second In Annual State Event

W. Md. Tournament To Be Apr. 14-15

Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club has received two honors, Wellington Reinhart and Albert D. Heacox, members won second place in the Special Pair event of the Maryland State Tournament; and the New York headquarters of the American Contract Bridge League has announced the local club has been given the privilege of holding the first annual Western Maryland Sectional Tournament.

The Western Maryland Sectional Tournament is to be held April 14-15 at the Cumberland Country Club, and Life Masters from all sections of the Eastern United States are expected here to compete.

Over 200 players from New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore and other eastern towns participated in the annual Maryland tournament, held in Baltimore, January 26, 27 and 28.

John Hamilton, Philadelphia, who ranks third in the United States, was one of the contestants. Others were Sally Young, Philadelphia; Arthur Schlesinger, Clagett Bowie, Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, James G. Stone and 45 other Life Masters.

Mrs. Emmett L. Jones and Mrs. Edwin T. Jones, from the local club played in the Friday afternoon Women's Pair event, and are reported to have "made a very creditable showing."

Both Saturday afternoon and evening, all of the local club representatives played in the Open Pair event.

Besides the local team of Mr. Reinhart and Mr. Heacox, who placed second and won extra Master Points, in the Special Pair event, Saturday other local teams were Mr. and Mrs. George Battorf, Russ Minter, Mrs. Emmett L. Jones and Mrs. Edwin T. Jones.

In the Team of Four event, Sunday, a team composed of Mr. and Mrs. Battorf, Mr. Minter, Mr. Reinhart and Mr. Heacox, played in both the afternoon and evening sessions and placed among the first 25 teams.

Tonights session at the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom will be the third in a series of six sessions of the Mid-Winter series.

Class Contributes

The Rohrer-Herpich Class of First Baptist voted at the meeting recently to give $10 towards the purchase of kitchen equipment for the church annex.

O. J. Mortzfelt presided; Rev. O. Afton Linger offered prayer and J. H. Judy read the Scripture. John A. Clark taught the book, "Adults in the Sunday School."

Vera Blinn Has Study Class, Dinner

Mrs. John S. Cook was hostess to members of the Vera Blinn Women's Society of World Service for the annual mission study class, Tuesday evening at her home, Bowling Green.

A covered dish dinner preceded Shaffer and Mrs. H. L. Nesbitt cohostesses with Mrs. Cook.

The study book, "Christian Vocation" by G. Bromley Osman was directed by Mrs. Cook, Christian Social Relations chairman, who gave the first chapter, "My Work," on Christian obligations to work.

Others participating were Mrs. H. C. Trenton giving, "My Income," a Christian right to income; Mrs. John House, "My Purchase," the Christian as a consumer; Mrs. William Suder, "My Vote," a Christian's duty as a citizen; Mrs. R. C. Isiminger, "My World," a Christian place in world affairs; and the closing chapter, "My Price," a Christian source of guiding and power, was given by Mrs. Cook.

Mrs. Robert Baker, Spiritual Life chairman, read the first chapter of Roman and the group sang, "Work the Night Is Coming." Mrs. Edward Shaffer offered prayer.

Others attending were Mrs. R. T. Cook, Mrs. A. M. Defibaugh, Mrs. John S. Cook, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Crue, Mrs. D. H. Densmore, Mrs. C. W. Bloss, Mrs. Harold Bishop, Mrs. Raymond Swadley, Mrs. Curtis Bloss, Mrs. Ronald Newomer, Mrs. George Keady, Perry Jane Defibaugh, Kay Baker, John S. Cook and H. C. Trenton.

Class Officers Assume Duties

Mrs. Emma Smith assumed her duties as president of the Faithful Workers Class of Kingsley Methodist Church at the meeting recently. Others serving with her are Mrs. Mary Gurley, vice president; Mrs. Gladys Sills, secretary; Mrs. Teresa Hiser, assistant; Mrs. Doris Hamilton, treasurer; Mrs. Betty Calhorun, assistant; and Mrs. Sills, Publicity.

Mrs. Clara Hite, Mrs. Carlene Zehrbach and Mrs. Betty Stottlemyer were received as members and Mrs. Freda Seiler and Mrs. Marguerite Willison renewed their membership.

A donation of $5 was given to the March of Dimes and a food basket sent to a needy family.

Valentine Exhibit Planned By Club

Mrs. Samuel Clingan and Mrs. H. D. Pyles were installed as vice-president and secretary respectively, at the meeting of the North Cumberland Homemakers Club recently at the gas company auditorium. Members were asked to bring old fashioned Valentines for an exhibit at the February meeting.

Housing needs and cooperation in bettering living conditions in the city were stressed by Mrs. Lucille Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property. She also urged 100 percent participation in club affairs. Mrs. Boston Sherwood offered to demonstrate sewing in zippers and Mrs. G. William Eichner gave the history of the hymn, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." January birthdays were observed and Mrs. J. H. Atkinson and Mrs. C. A. Howse were received as members.

Wahaba Temple To Hold Installation Of Officers

Social To Be Held Feb. 6

Wahaba Temple will have installation of officers, a program and social February 6. It is being held at the temple, Prospect Square, beginning at 8 o'clock.

CHARM CAN CHANGE THAT 'MISS' TO 'MRS.'; HERE ARE 10 GOOD TIPS THAT MAY HELP GET THAT PROPOSAL

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

If your goal is to get him to propose on Valentine's Day, "be natural."

For all you know he might have decided to pop the question. But show up for your date looking like somebody else, and you might be surprised that he'll be very cool, indeed.

Everybody knows the woman gets the man to propose. She sets the mood and creates the desire. Usually she knows the way he likes her best and sticks to that key—at least until she gets the wedding ring. Here are some charm rules to remember if you suspect he is just about to pop the question:

1. Keep quiet. Don't talk too much. Your voice might have an irritating quality which might just throw him off the track.

2. If he likes your hair long, don't have it cut very short, right at this time. If he likes your hair short, don't show up in a chignon.

3. If you've been wearing natural eyebrows, don't have them tweezed down to a thin line.

4. Don't try a new lip line. The pout or curve, thinness or fullness of your lips might be just what appeals to him.

5. Wear your skirts at your usual length. No matter what the cartoonists, comic strip artists and photographers think, no man ever married a girl's legs, particularly because she wore a short skirt. Pretty legs help, however.

6. A low-necked dress won't get that proposal. It's a funny thing about men that they enjoy seeing daring styles on other women, but they dislike them for their own girls.

7. Try to be agreeable and sweet. This isn't a good time to get into an argument, or reflect some of your mother's nagging faults which he might have observed.

8. Use a minimum of makeup. It was okay in Cleopatra's day, but the style today is the "natural look." Do the most for yourself, however.

9. You can lead the horse to water, but don't try to make him drink. Let your boy friend think he's doing the proposing.

10. This is not the time to tell him about former romances. It might not, as you think, make him jealous.

Why let little illnesses rob you of beauty? Use these precautions and you'll be a pretty patient!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

LOSS of looks is not the least of the tribulations that occur with the common cold. Stringy, sheenless hair and dry, cracking skin never fail to add insult to injury.

But why put up with these barbs at your beauty? You can stop them easily with just a little thoughtfulness.

For Your Skin's Sake

The beauty of your skin can be salvaged if you just use a sparing amount of light skin oil under your foundation, every time you make up. All unseen, it will combat the ravages of dryness. And be sure to apply your night lubricant generously before retiring. Let it "set" for ten minutes and then blot off the excess with tissue.

If you are confined to bed, oil your skin at least three times a day with your most effective night-care preparation. This is a case where a little goes a long way, so never use enough to make you feel or look greasy.

Whether you are horizontal or vertical, your hair will respond to daily applications of tonic to the scalp or pomade to the surface. Your poor harried nose will be thankful for any medication containing camphor in a cream base. There is no better time to give supplementary care to your hands and cuticle. Frequent applications of lipstick will guard against cracking lips.

Good Medicine

A pretty patient has the morale to get well the quickest. As a morale builder, one of the Powers Girls keeps a special pink bed jacket, coverlet and pillow slip tucked away for just such occasions. These feminine foibles do as much for her as pink pills, says she!

Other aids to a quick recovery are a well-ordered room, a bedside table for such comforts as reading matter, water bottle, scented body rub, comb and mirror, cleaning tissue and disposal case. This last item you can make in a jiffy by folding and pasting a large sheet of heavy paper like an envelope, using the flap to tuck between the mattress and spring.

With these consolers at hand, a few days to yourself can become a pleasant and beautifying experience.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON

WHEN he lands in London soon, Civilian Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell will take a look at the "tubes" and Paris subways . . . Study their set-ups as compared with ours for emergency shelters . . . The ex-Congressman and Governor of Florida should charm the British ladies with his honeyed Southern drawl, good camouflage for a mind sharp as salt.

AUSTINE

In this Capital at a buffet supper given by the General Federation of Women's Clubs (where he made his first appearance after his confirmation) Caldwell charmed the ladies to such an extent that one member, starry-eyed, sighed she would dig a bomb shelter for him anytime.

But tall, rangy, sandy-haired Caldwell has no time for cookie-pushing . . . By 7 a. m. he breakfasts in the Wardman Park Hotel and before 9 dictates letters from behind a spacious mahogany desk in his office.

If he ever gets a spare moment he indulges in his hobby of fishing and shooting . . . Not around Washington, of course, but on his 1,000-acre farm in northern Florida, outside Tallahassee . . . He retired from Congress in 1939, a few months after a hit-and-run driver killed his only son, 12-year-old Millard Caldwell, III. . .

Now that he's welcomed back, Defense Administrator Caldwell should give Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston some stiff competition as one of the Capitol's Chief Charm Boys.

HIDEAWAY HASSLE

For hide-outs, secret workrooms, and the quiet sipping of alcoholic beverage two dozen little rooms nestle on the third floor of the Capitol, assigned to senators with high seniority . . . New Hampshire Senator Tobey had one of the little private nooks but gave it up when Rules Committee Chairman Senator Hayden asked for it . . . Hayden said the room would be used by a group of war veterans . . . Later Tobey sneaked up and found Senator Butler of Nebraska had himself plunked in it! . . . So Tobey went tearing around to protest . . . He had seniority over Butler and would like his old room back!

I guess one definition of a politician could be a man who never duels—but can certainly fence.

HEADACHE HILL

Newly-elected senators soon find out they get office help according to their state's population! . . . A big population state rates a bigger staff . . . Two of the biggest—Pennsylvania and California—have elected new senators—Duff and Nixon . . . While they are allowed extra clerical help, the new solons are facing a drastic shortage of efficient stenographers . . . Sudden government expansion in every branch responsible.

Some of the tenderfoot senators not only can't find staffs, but can't even find their way around.

For instance, Utah's new Senator Bennett got lost yesterday . . . The attractive lady on his arm never for a moment lost confidence in his ability to find the Hall of Statues, though . . . The pair finally had to stop and ask a veteran newsman . . . He reassured them with the reminiscence, "I've guided even old hands. Senator Vandenberg was lost in the basement one day and I led him back to his own office" . . .

Oh, that lady? . . . That was his wife, Mrs. Bennett.

If he paints a glowing picture that Europeans can and will fight—and his optimism later proves unfounded—he'll be in a tough spot with Americans . . . Yet, if his report sounds too pessimistic, the President and State Department won't like it . . . Most observers bet he'll include many qualitative statements in his report . . . Will ask for further study.

MALIK'S MALADY

Ah-ha, so Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik suffers from heart trouble . . . Tho' only 44 years old he missed two days of meetings at the UN after a sudden heart attack.

Because many important Russian officials die young, the world invariably speculates on whether their deaths were from natural causes or—— . . . If anything should happen to Malik the ?????? would again be raised . . . Consider the embarrassing diplomatic complications of such an official death for the U. Long To Seek Federal Aid For Construction Of Overhead Bridge

Commissioner of Police and Fire John J. Long revealed yesterday efforts are being made to get state and federal aid for construction of an overhead traffic bridge in Cumberland.

With such aid, the city would be spared the bulk of expense of such a project with the possible exception of the properties involved.

Long said yesterday such a bridge was to have been among traffic solutions discussed at a meeting with Governor Theodore R. McKeldin Tuesday.

But Long requested the session be postponed because of the federal freeze order on steel and such construction and the press of business on the Governor during the sessions of the legislature.

Revived In December

The question of the overhead bridge was revived early in December by Long during his studies of the local traffic problem and the need for parking facilities.

At that time, Long wrote Governor McKeldin, reminding him that at a rally here, the Governor had said he would give state support toward an overhead bridge in Cumberland "to alleviate the terrific automobile and truck traffic problems" x x x.

A copy of the letter was also forwarded Rep. J. Glenn Beall, congressman from the Sixth District.

Both the Governor and Rep. Beall wrote Long pledging their cooperation.

Beall Suggests Bridge

At the same time, Beall said that such a project has been recommended by every engineering firm that has ever made a study of traffic conditions here as the best way of not only solving the traffic "but the parking facilities because under the bridge there would be ample room for a municipal parking lot."

The bridge, as proposed by Rep. Beall, would span Wills Creek, the Western Maryland Railway, cross town and bridge the B. and O. tracks. Greene and Park Streets would be the terminal points.

Asks Formal Action

Beall told Long in December that "it is my suggestion that you have the Mayor and Council take formal action in requesting the State Roads Commission to sponsor this project because it could be built from state highway funds with federal aid."

The police and fire commissioner said in his letter to McKeldin this week that the action "of the federal government toward steel and other construction materials x x x and having discussed with Glenn Beall the past weekend the feasibility of any municipal construction at this time" prompted the postponement of the scheduled meeting.

He suggested that after the legislature recesses, the Governor, Beall, the State Roads Commission and the Mayor and Council meet to discuss local traffic problems and possibilities for improvement.

Discussed Many Times

The crosstown viaduct has been discussed here many times and the plan has been improved upon.

In 1947, the Municipal Planning Commission requested a study be made and the State Roads Commission, along with Whitman, Requardt and Associates, Baltimore Engineering firm, prepared tentative plans and cost estimates for the project.

At that time, it was estimated the cost would be $1,915,000. This included the four-lane viaduct itself at $1,125,000 and property for $250,000, a total of $1,378,000. Also figured in was a four-lane approach off Central Avenue which would cost $300,000 and $240,000 for property a total of $540,000.

LOG CABIN BOYS ENTER CONTEST — Joshua and Mitch, the Log Cabin Boys, have entered the Square Dance Festival contest to be held tonight at the State Armory for the benefit of the March of Dimes. The festivities will include general square dancing for the public in addition to competition of 11 bands for first prize which will be donated by the Potomac Park Improvement Association, sponsors of the affair. The band, a caller and set of dancers will compete as a unit in the square dance competition.

Newspaper Employes Under Wage Freeze

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP) — Members of the Wage Stabilization Board were asked today "what about wages in the newspaper industry and other industries that are specifically exempted from price control under the Defense Production Act?"

They replied that such employes are definitely under the wage freeze now and "we haven't discussed eliminating them from wage controls."

Poultry Committee To Meet Tonight

Allegany County's poultry committee will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Court House with County Agent R. F. McHenry to map plans for the annual County Winter Poultry meeting.

The date, location and other details will be worked out when the group meets tonight. Committee members are R. M. Stegmaier, Francis Richardson, Miss Wilma Pollock, Paul Robinette, William P. Engle and William Slider.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

There's a station on a one-track Maine branch line to which passengers descent via a rickety staircase. Alongside it is a chute used to slide down packing cases and heavy luggage.

Local tradition has it that an elderly lady once came whizzing down the chute, clutching her hat in one hand and a straw valise in the other. At the bottom she pulled herself together and exclaimed, "You'd think a big railroad company would make it a little easier for passengers to get down to their ding-busted trains!"

At the funeral of Houdini, the great illusionist, they were carrying out the coffin when mourner Charles B. Dillingham was heard by practically the entire congregation saying to George M. Cohan, "Wouldn't it be funny if he wasn't in there?"

THOUSANDS OF DOCTORS PRESCRIBE PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS
Resulting from Colds!

This famous modern cough medicine acts at once to relieve such coughing and lessens the urge to cough.

PERTUSSIN is scientifically prepared to work internally. It increases natural secretions in the respiratory tract. Thus PERTUSSIN helps to loosen and "cut" the sticky, clinging phlegm and to turn a dry and tight cough into that greatly desired "productive" or loose stage of a cough during which phlegm is easily raised.

PERTUSSIN acts promptly, and relief often comes with the first spoonfuls. That's why PERTUSSIN is in such great demand. PERTUSSIN contains no harmful ingredients of any kind. It's a very pleasant-tasting cough medicine and is safe for both old and young—even small children.

You can buy PERTUSSIN today from any drugstore at a moderate price.

Police, Firemen Get Free Time For Suggestions

A suggestion box system initiated by Police and Fire Commisioner John J. Long is paying off with "free time" for policemen and fire fighters.

Recently, padlocked boxes were installed at police headquarters and the four fire stations throughout the city so employes could have a say in their departments, according to Long.

Ideas submitted by police and firemen are adjudged periodically by a Suggestion Committee comprising Commissioner Long, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, Acting Fire Chief William L. Lindner and one representative from each of the departments.

At the last committee meeting, Fireman Charles Himmler's suggestion of widening the ramp at the entrance to West Side Station on Greene Street was voted as "having sufficient merit to warrant an award of one day "free time." Awards range up to seven extra days off with pay, if the suggestion is outstanding.

When answering an alarm, the West Side pumper creates a traffic hazard because it has to travel some distance onto the street before it can negotiate a safe turn. By widening the ramp, danger to motorists would decrease.

Other suggestions came from:

Police Sgt. Frank A. Shober—(1) Notify merchants by newspaper or some other way and ask them to place a card or marker in center of front door with phone number where they can be contacted in case of an emrgency; (2) Contact Potomac Edison Company and see if it is possible to have street lights repaired more promptly because lights are out 10 and 12 nights.

Fireman Robert Martin—Medicine cabinet in bathroom is lacking essential first aid equipment and medical supplies.

Fireman Virgil V. McClure—Suggest that man on duty at Central Station switchboard call gas company on fires.

Making up the five-man committee were Police Officer Richard W. Lashley and Fireman Harold Hipsley.

PE Gives Advice On TV Aerials

Television set owners and those persons planning to purchase sets were advised yesterday to make sure that their TV aerials are so placed that they are not near power lines nor will come in contact with the lines if they fall.

The warning was given by a spokesman for the Potomac Edison Company who said that recently, an aerial fell across a power line near Hancock. Only the most unusual circumstances prevented a serious accident. The occupant of the house notified the utility company immediately, crews were dispatched to the scene, and damage was held to a minimum.

"This is not the first accident of this type," the company official said, "and the TV set owner was indeed fortunate to escape without loss of his home or severe physical injury.

"When a TV aerial falls across a power line," the spokesman said, "there is great danger of fire and personal injury in addition to almost certain power interruptions to other customers on the line affected."

Ohioans Study Md. Act Here

Four officials from Ohio are in Cumberland today to confer with District Forester William H. Johnson and members of the Allegany County District Conservancy Board concerning the Maryland Forest Conservancy Districts Act.

Johnson yesterday identified the visitors as A. W. Marion, director of the Department of Natural Resources; James Willey, assistant director; Ray White, a member of the Ohio Legislature, and Oliver Diller, director of the Ohio Division of Forestry.

The Ohioans wish to investigate the workings of the law, adopted in 1943. Maryland was one of the first states to adopt an act to conserve its forests, according to Johnson.

Friday the representatives from the Buckeye State will confer with conservation officials in Frederick and on Saturday will meet with Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Parks and Forests, in Annapolis.

The Encyclopedia Brittanica first was published in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1768 to 1771.

Dinosaurs Apparently Suffered From Arthritis, Scientist Says

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

CHICAGO—(AP) — Dinosaurs, the big shots of the reptilian era millions of years ago, apparently suffered from arthritis in their old age, a Smithsonian anthropologist said today.

Dr. T. Dale Stewart told a reporter the Smithsonian Institution has a dinosaur whose skeleton shows bone defects strikingly similar to those observed in humans known to be suffering from a "degenative arthritis" sometimes accompanying old age.

This type of arthritis—believed to be due in most cases just to the wear and tear of living—limits the activities of its victims and usually causes pain.

Dr. Stewart said the roughening of the joints seen in the Smithsonian's monstrous dino—measuring some 75 feet from nose to tail tip—presumably would have caused the beast to take many a day off to rest up from his pain.

The scientist cited the dinosaur case as further evidence in support of a current study indicating that prehistoric men and animals suffered from much the same bone diseases and deformities that affect modern man and beast.

Stewart and Doctors William Tobin and D. J. O'Regan, of Georgetown University, Washington, exhibited to the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons skeletal and other evidence indicating such conditions in ancient races of man.

They showed a replica of the thigh bone of the "Javan ape man"—who strutted his stuff some 500,000 years ago. The specimen shows a bony growth which the scientists said has been variously interpreted as being either a benign tumor of the bone—or a formation due to an injury.

The Java man apparently had other troubles, too, because there are marks on the bone which the scientists said are attributed "to marks made by crocodile teeth."

New evidence that tuberculosis existed in the new world prior to the advent of white man—long a controversial subject—is also offered in the exhibit. It's part of the spinal column of a child, found in archeological remains in New Mexico, authentically dated to between 900 and 1100 A.D., long before the Columbian era.

The scientists also declared a pictorial presentation of an Egyptian of about 4000 years ago shows evidence which has been interpreted as an infantile paralysis deformity of the foot.

Home Nursing Study Planned

A 30-hour training course for home nursing instructors will be held by the American Red Cross here beginning February 5.

Miss Fena Anderson, Eastern Area Consultant for Red Cross Nursing in Baltimore, will hold classes five days a week until February 16, with only graduate nurses or home economics teachers eligible to attend the course, Red Cross members here stated.

Persons interested in attending classes are requested to contact Mrs Leo W. Witherup, executive secretary of Allegany County Chapter Red Cross, at the local office in the Post Office building. Officials said the classes probably will be held in Allegany Hospital classrooms.

The course is a refresher class for graduate nurses and home economics teachers who will then become instructors to teach home nursing to local groups. At least 10 persons are needed to form a refresher class, members said, and application blanks are available at the Red Cross office.

Graham Will Attend Clinic

Samuel A. Graham, local American Legion official, will attend the annual Area B Child Welfare Conference of the Legion and its affiliated organizations Friday and Saturday in Hotel Niagara, Nigara Falls, N. Y.

Graham, active in child welfare program of the Legion, was named National American Legion child welfare committeeman from Maryland recently.

He is a member of the state child welfare committee and formerly held similar posts in Mountain District.

Area B is comprised of Maryland, New York, West Virginia, New Jersey, District of Columbia, Delaware, Virginia and Puerto Rico.

A working conference, Graham expects to participate in study committees on dependent children, legislation for child welfare, cooperation between Legion Units and organization on a department child welfare basis, child health problems and discussion of the Midcentury White House Conference on Children and Youth held in Washington last month.

Trapper Tells Of Fight For Life Against Cougar

Edward McClean, 63-year-old trapper and power line worker for the British Columbia government, gives a dramatic account in the following story of his desperate fight for life against a cougar that crashed into his remote backwood cabin and attacked him.

By EDWARD McCLEAN
(As told to International News Service

CAMPBELL RIVER, B. C. (INS)—I am a trapper and linesman employed by the British Columbia government telegraph and telephone service. I was in my line cabin 10 miles north of Kelsey Bay.

That is where the road ends and you have to hike in through heavy timber and deep snow.

I had finished my work and was ready for bed about 9 p.m. I turned out the lamp and was latching the door.

Suddenly a cougar crashed in through the window of the upper half of the door about five feet above the ground.

For the first time in my work as a linesman I had left my rifle in one of the other line cabins, located six miles apart. I had an axe but it was hung on the wall out of reach.

The snarling animal knocked me down and pinned me to the floor. It was chewing my right arm. I struggled to get my knees across it to press on its heart.

Then I remembered my butcher knife. It was a 12-inch blade. I dragged myself and the clawing cougar along the floor.

I reached the knife with my left hand and hacked away at the beast.

Then my little spaniel "George" came from under the bed. The cougar released me and seized the dog by its fur. That gave me time to grasp the knife in my right hand.

The cougar let go the dog and its mouth closed over my left arm. I was thinking all the time: "What is the best thing to do?"

I tried to cut its jugular vein. I kept hacking, each time in a different place. Finally after chewing my right ear, both arms and clawing my chest ,the cougar let go.

I picked up a chair and bashed the beast. Then I grasped my dog and we got through the door. I banged it shut and waited outside, ready with the knife.

After a while I cautiously opened the door, thinking the cougar had died. I heard it growl and decided to leave the cabin to the cougar.

I struggled through the snow in my torn and blood-soaked underwear and barefoot. It was below freezing and my wounds quickly crusted.

I put "George" in my skiff. A strong west wind blew us along, I could not handle the oars because my hands were ripped open.

The wind carried the skiff ashore near another line cabin. It took about two hours to cover the six miles. I was shaking with cold and too weak to light a fire.

I crept into a sleeping bag and waited until morning. I did not get much sleep. Then I called for help on the service phone.

Frank Dingwall and Bill Rirsch came by gasboat. They sent a plane to get me but the water was too rough for a landing.

They took me to Kelsey Bay by boat and to Lourdes Hospital in Campbell River by car. Before we left they made some patches on me which the hospital said were fine.

Then Dingwall went back for the cougar. It was dying. He shot it. He said it was a young one, weighing about 60 pounds.

I will be back on the job soon and ready to kill the rest of the cougars. But not with a knife. Using a rifle is an easier way to get the $20 bounty.

Air is 14½ times as heavy as hydrogen.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Should you bother with a girl "who can't decide"?

Answer: The most difficult of all married partners is one who is essentially "ambivalent" who both likes and dislikes the idea of marriage and alternately wants your love and wishes to reject you. Unless a girl is able to decide with some degree of permanency before marriage which of these trends is the stronger, she will go on changing back and forth after marriage and will make both herself and you thoroughly unhappy. A girl who feared or disliked her father or who grew up with a morbid attitude toward sex is apt to react in this way.

Is being undersized a handicap?

Answer: In itself, yes, although like all handicaps it can spur those who dare attempt to get the better of it to superior achievement—Napoleon is one outstanding example. With those who do not make such an effort, the result of being undersized is apt to be a sense of personal inadequacy which not only hampers intellectual development, but makes the individual prone to anxiety and neurotic fear of illness. Tests of 1,000 neurotic soldiers reported by Linford Rees in the Journal of Mental Science appear to confirm this idea.

Will drugs cure an alcoholic?

Answer: There are drugs which make a person dangerously ill for the time being if he drinks while under their influence and which for this reason should be given only under a physician's supervision. But to give such drugs against a person's will or without his knowledge will not cure him of addiction to drink. Alcoholism is an emotional problem and whatever help drugs may give, it cannot be permanently cured unless the person himself willingly cooperates. If this is not the case, he will merely "recondition" himself so that he can tolerate liquor again.

No Video Now For Swiss; It's Too Dangerous

BERN, Switzerland, (AP)—The administration of Radio Bern — the radio station of the Swiss capital—has issued a warning against the "educational and psychological dangers" of television.

Television will not be introduced in Switzerland, at least for the time being. Radio Bern's administrative council, comprising representatives of government, churches, universities and listeners' organizations ,explained why in a statement published in all major Swiss newspapers.

Television is "a new invention, still entirely in the development stage," the statement said, and the Swiss mountains might present it with technically insurmountable obstacles.

"Furthermore," the statement added, "the administration of Radio Bern, having observed (television) programs abroad, draws the attention of the authorities and the public to the fact that television brings with it great educational and psychological dangers which may have unforeseeable disintegrating consequences for the family and the state.

"A Swiss television service would be compelled, for financial reasons to obtain its programs mainly from abroad. It would therefore contribute to the dissemination in our country of foreign ideologies and of conceptions of life which are out of harmony with those of our peple.

"It seems probable that television will eventually be introduced even in Switzerland. The administration of Radio Bern considers, however, that the state, the national economy and the people face more vital tasks at the present time."

"In particular," the state concluded, "no direct or indirect contribution should be made to any experimental television service during the next three years without giving the federal parliament an opportunity to express its fundamental views on the matter."

Phils Sign Texas Football Star To Bonus Contract

Ben Tompkins Gets $50,000 To Ink Pact

Young Junior Was Star Quarterback For Longhorns

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies today paid a bonus of some $50,000 to sign Ben Tompkins, University of Texas junior rated by Owner Bob Carpenter as a "great prospect."

Tompkins will leave school to join the Phils. Carpenter said the 21-year-old youth was signed to a contract with the Phils' Class B farm club at Wilmington, Del., of the Interstate League.

The young infielder is better known right now as a football player. He starred as quarterback on the Texas Longhorns' Southwest Conference championship team last season.

Phils' Scout Hap Morse said at Dallas "I want it definitely stated that we did not go after Tompkins but that he called the scouts in and talked contract. I don't want anybody to start saying we raided the campus."

Carpenter refused to disclose the exact sum for which Tompkins signed up. However, an informed source said the youth was paid a figure "slightly less than that paid Curt Simmons."

Simmons is the Egypt, Pa., lad who got $65,000 as a bonus for signing and fulfilled the Phils' faith in him by winning 17 games in the club's pennant drive last season. Curt is now in the Army.

Tompkins may find himself in the Army soon, too. Morse said he is in line for induction.

Tompkins plays shortstop, second and third base, and is regarded by Carpenter as "the greatest prospect from the Southwest since Ted Lyons came out of Baylor."

Lyons, a pitcher, was a stalwart performer for the Chicago White Sox for two decades.

Jitters Cause Cage Rhubarbs

Official Reports Situation Normal

NEW YORK, Jan. 31—(INS)—A leading college sports official said today that basketball coaches worry over the world situation as much as anybody else, and added their nerves and jitters might well be the main cause for the current rash of college cage rhubarbs.

Commissioner Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, himself the target of the latest blast from a coach, said he did not consider this season unusual from the standpoint of coaches' criticism of officials.

Having spoken thus, Bushnell sidestepped any comment on the verbal attack directed at him last night by Coach Danny Lynch of St. Francis.

Lynch's team lost to New York University, 69 to 58, and the Terriers' coach exploded afterwards that "Bushnell ought to get a whole new staff of officials."

Also in the news was Referee W. H. Kisner, who reacted sharply after Clair Bee, the coach at Long Island University, accused him of being a "homer" in LIU's 62-61 loss to Arizona Monday night.

"Nobody ever accused me of throwing a game before," the veteran Kisner snapped. Bee had claimed that, in the Arizona game, LIU was "jobbed."

The present uproar recalled the furor that arose in the Big Ten three years ago when home teams were winning 90 per cent of the conference games played. That particular clamor died out, finally, without noticeable effect.

DUKE MENTOR—William D. Murray, former football star, yesterday inked a contract as head coach of Duke University, replacing veteran Wallace Wade. Murray previously coached three undefeated teams at Delaware University. The husky mentor was a former star at Duke, being named to All-Southern team as a halfback. (AP Wirephoto).

Bill Murray Named Duke Grid Mentor

Delaware Coach Succeeds Wade

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 31 (AP) — William D. (Bill) Murray, former Duke football star and now athletic director and football coach at the University of Delaware, was named head football coach at Duke University today.

Murray succeeds Wallace Wade, veteran Duke mentor who took over the Southern Conference's newly created post of commissioner Jan. 1.

The announcement of Murray's selection was made by Duke's president, Dr. Holis Edens. Murray was named unanimously by the Duke athletic council upon recommendation of a special selection committee.

Murray is a native of Rocky Mount, N. C., where he was a star high school athlete before he entered Duke University in 1927.

At Delaware, he produced three undefeated teams — in 1941 and 1942, contributing to a record of 32 games without defeat, and in 1946.

"We consider ourselves to be most fortunate in securing the services of Bill Murray," Duke athletic director Eddie Cameron remarked. "I have known him as player and as coach and have followed his career closely over the years. He is a splendid football coach, but more than that he is a moulder of men."

Dr. Charles E. Jordan, Duke vice president and chairman of the athletic council, said: "Mr. Murray's name has been in first or second place on the committee's list throughout its search for a new football coach."

A devotee of the single wing style of football, Murray indicated that he would use both the single wing and a variation of the T-formation at Duke.

Murray coached at Children's Home in Winston-Salem before going to Delaware in 1940. He was one of Duke's first All-Southern selections, being named to the mythical squad in 1930 when he rolled up 1,230 yards as a halfback.

Frostburg State Jayvees Top Beall

FROSTBURG, Jan. 31 — Jimmy Hicks, former Fort Hill high star, sparked the Frostburg State Jayvees to a 42-40 victory over Beall here tonight.

Hicks, who recently enrolled at Frostburg, entered the game as a substitute and controlled the back boards while scoring eight points for the winners.

Jack Moulton was high man for Frostburg with 11 points while Don Blank garnered 17 for Beall. It was Beall's sixth defeat in 11 games. The lineups:

Ridgeley Third Period Rally Trips Piedmont

Hawks Capture PVC Contest By 40-34

PIEDMONT, W. Va., Jan. 31 — Sparked by scoring ace, Carl Hartman, who tallied 18 points, Ridgeley High's Blackhawks tripped Piedmont High tonight by the score of 40 to 34.

A third period rally in which the Hawks outscored Piedmont 16-4 was the deciding factor after the visitors trailed by as much as nine points in the first half of the Potomac Valley Conference tilt. It was Ridgeley's eighth victory in 13 starts this season.

Piedmont took a 13-9 lead in the first quarter and held a 19-18 edge at halftime but trailed 34-23 at the close of the third stanza.

Both teams fared well at the free throw line, each scoring 12 of 20 chances.

Referees Bill Hahn and Joe Stanislawczyic ejected four players on personals — Ed Decker of Ridgeley and Bill Junkins, Albanese and Reber of Piedmont.

High man for the losers was Bell with 12 points on three fielders and six of nine fouls.

The triumph gave Ridgeley a clean sweep of its series with the Lions, as the Hawks copped the opener 48-44.

The Piedmont Junior High cagers tripped the Ridgeley Junior High five 20-17 in the preliminary. The lineups:

Wheeling-Spas Tilt Postponed; Erie Here Next

The Cumberland Spas All-American pro basketball game scheduled last night at Wheeling, W. Va., was postponed because of inclement weather and icy roads which made traveling hazardous.

Erie, Pa., Admirals will be the Spas' next opponent, coming here Sunday for a 3:15 p.m. afternoon contest. The game has been scheduled to permit shift workers at local plants to attend the game, Bill Keegan, coach of the Cumberland pros said last night.

Cumberland will be seeking its seventh league victory against Erie.

Tucson Open Begins Today

147 Pros To Vie For $10,000 Prize

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 31 (AP) — A 147-man field without a favorite will start the $10,000 Tucson Open golf tourney tomorrow.

The flat, par 70, 6,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club course always acts as a leveling influence. This is a course where the lesser-known names usually shine.

Jimmy Demaret, the affable Texan playing out of Ojai, Calif., puts it this way: "Pick a dozen names and if you're lucky you'll have the winner.

"On a long, difficult course you could probably pick five fellows and be reasonably sure of having the winner. On short courses like this, you can't tell who will come through."

Demaret has won the Tucson event twice. He would certainly be included in the dozen most likely to succeed this week.

So would Chandler Harper, the lanky man from Portsmouth, Va., who won his first major event in 13 years of play by taking top money in the Tucson event in 1950.

And there is Lloyd Mangrum, the Chicagoan with the aching back, who is another former winner here. Mangrum says his injury is still bothering him and he won't even guess how he will play. Around the club house they think he'll finish in the top five.

Others whom the pros expect to show to good advantage are Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., who is perked up by winning last week's Phoenix Open; Lawson Little, Monterey, Calif.; Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C.; Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., and Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Bayard High Loses To Beverly, 34-32

BEVERLY, W. Va., Jan. 31 — Beverly High School gained revenge for a 36-31 loss earlier in the season by defeating Bayard High School here, 34-32.

Center Bennett's field goal broke a 32-32 tie with 50 seconds to play. The score was tied eight times. Bennett led the winners in scoring with 15 points. Evans had eleven for Bayard. Lineups:

Williams Scores TKO Over Cardell

DETROIT, Jan. 31 (AP) — Lightweight champion Ike Williams ran into a mighty tough customer tonight and had to hit young Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn., with everything in the book before stopping him via a TKO. Cardell failed to answer the bell for the ninth round.

Williams, a prohibitive 4-1 favorite over his young and less experienced opponent, closed Cardell's left eye and bloodied his right but was unable to floor him.

Navy Downs Loyola

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP)—Navy breezed to its 12th win in 15 games today, downing Loyola of Baltimore, 61 to 47, in a free-shooting game that permitted Middle Coach Ben Carnavale to clear his bench of substitutes. It was Loyola's 12th loss in 18 games.

Bill Day Grabs Lead In YMCA Scoring Race

Garners 200 Points; Walt Davis Second

Bill Day, former member of Cumberland Dukes professional basketball team, took the scoring lead at the close of first half play in the Central YMCA Senior Men's Basketball League.

Day, BPO Elks forward, pounded the hoops for 200 points and a 21-point lead over teammate Walt Davis who garnered 179 tallies. Third high man was Herman Lewis of Local No. 26, with 156 points. Day gathered his total in 14 games for a 14.3 average.

Although the Forty and Eight team captured the first half championship with 14 straight victories it did not place a man in the top five scorers of the loop. Jimmy Eckard, with 129 points, was seventh in the league in scoring for the winners.

Buddy Giles, 40-8 guard, posted the best foul shooting average with 35 of 49 tries. The scorers:

Kell Returns Unsigned Pact

Tiger Star Hit .340 Last Year

DETROIT, Jan. 31 (AP)—Hard-hitting George Kell, third baseman and sparkplug of the Detroit Tigers, returned his unsigned contract to Briggs Stadium today with a "friendly request" for a conference on salary terms.

Kell reportedly was offered a boost of $3,500 over his last year's $33,000 pay check, but he turned down the offer.

He asked for a meeting with Tiger Manager Billy Evans sometime this week, but Evans was due to leave for the major leagues meeting in New York today.

"I wired George at his Swifton, Ark., home and we agreed to get together in my office early next week," the Tiger general manager said.

Kell said in a telephone interview today that he was not a holdout.

"I don't even like the sound of the word," he added. Kell continued, "this is the first time in my major league career that I turned down a contract. The Detroit ball club and Mr. Evans have been very kind to me and we're only a little apart on terms. We should be able to get together without too much trouble."

Kell, American League batting champ in 1949, was runnerup to Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox last year. The Tiger captain hit .340, drove in 101 and got 218 hits—most of any major league player last season.

Kellogg Is Awarded Catholic Youth Medal

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Junius Kellogg, Manhattan College basketball center whose honesty is credited with foiling an attempt to "fix" a game in New York's Madison Square Garden, has been awarded the Chicago Catholic Youth Organization Club of Champions medal.

The medal is presented annually for an outstanding effort in the cause of youth. In the past it has gone to such personalities as Babe Ruth, Jackie Robinson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Kellogg, of Portsmouth, Va., will receive the award at the 18th annual dinner of the mid-western writers and sports broadcasters in Chicago's Palmer House May 22.

Stadium Inn Cops 3 From Clingerman's

Stadium Inn swept three games from Clingerman's Restaurant in ladies shuffleboard contest last night. Woodmen of the World stopped Ruth's Tavern 2-1 and Pocahontas tripped Moose 2-1 in other matches.

High scorers were L. Bender, Stadium, 26; V. Fields, Clingerman's, 22, Mary Henderson, WOW, 23; Ann Kenney, Ruth's, 17; L. Liller Pocahontas, 29; L. Freeland and H. Robertson, Moose, each 17.

Starkey Flattens Brown In First At White Plains, N. Y.

Randall "Skeets" Starkey registered his second knockout victory in four nights on Tuesday when he belted out John Thomas Brown of the Bronx in the opening round of a scheduled four round match at White Plains, N. Y.

It was the 17th consecutive professional victory for the Wiley Ford (W. Va.) light heavyweight and 12th knockout triumph.

Peter J. "Bunny" Buntag of Pittsburgh, manager of Starkey, announced last night that "Skeets will fight on either the Rex Layne-Cesar Brion heavyweight card on February 9 or the show topped by Gene Hairston and Terry Young, middleweights, on February 16. Both shows are billed for Madison Square Garden, New York City.

Wilbur Dulin Hurt By Skidding Truck

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31 (AP)—Wibur R. Dulin, a member of the Maryland Racing Commission, was hurt today when a skidding dairy truck sideswiped his parked car on Ritchie Highway.

Dulin, 41, was treated at Anne Arundel General Hospital here for a hip injury and leg bruises. He was later released.

Friends said Dulin had stopped to clean his windshield on the icy highway a short distance from his home at Arnold. The truck brushed him against his car.

Dulin is a former state senator from Anne Arundel County.

For the fourth straight year, Wheeling has the No. 1 point-maker in the All-American Pro Basketball League.

Jimmie Quinlan, the "Human Stringbean" copped the honors in 1948 and 1949, Gerald "Gee" Becker snared the title last year and Eddie Sterling is out in front in the current race.

Sterling scored 16 field goals and 33 points against Altoona last Wednesday at Wheeling then got 12 goals and 26 points in the Sunday battle at Erie. His total is now 313 points for 14 games, an average of 22.4.

Becker scored 388 points last year for an average of 18.5 in 21 games.

Chicle 2nd Wins Fifth Straight Race At Hialeah

Hedley Woodhouse Completes Triple

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP) — Palatine Stable's Chicle 2nd won his fifth straight turf race at Hialeah Race course today by outdriving Cherry Oca Stable's Course by a half length in the $10,000 added Bougainvillea Handicap before 16,522 racing fans.

Cuore was a length and a half in front of Aegina, Hal Price Headley's 35 to 1 shot. Dart By, half of the Brookmeade Stable entry, was fourth in the field of 12.

Chicle 2nd, in winning the mile and three sixteenths test on the grass for the second consecutive year, rewarded $2 backers $5.10, $3.50 and $2.80. He was timed at 1:58 1-5 and earned $9,350 added first money.

Packing topweight of 124 pounds, the six-year-old Artentina-bred came from last place in a sterling performance to win the first important race of the season on the turf course.

He was the betting choice and completed a triple for Hedley Woodhouse, now tied with Ken Church for the meeting's riding honors.

Chicle 2nd, which won the Bougainvillea in 1950 under 118, has now earned $95,150. In 1950, he won 10 of 21 starts and $85,800. In his first start this winter he finished fourth to Three Rings in the Royal Palm Handicap.

Chicle 2nd was much the best in the midweek feature, although the race was marred by considerable rough riding. Several horses were all but knocked down near the three-furlong pole. Well Met and Tio Ciro appeared to have been victims of this interference.

E. H. Boukater's Torrent, a son of mighty Whirlaway, scored a four length victory today in the fourth race at Hialeah Park, his second success in eight starts here this winter.

The bay gelding, which paid $13.10 straight, moved to the leaders on the far turn and merely galloped to the finish under Apprentice Charlie Burr. Crystal Pass, a longshot, was second, while Demavend finished third. Rocklye, the 8 to 5 favorite, was outrun all the way in a very dull performance. Time for the mile and three sixteenths was 1.59 3-5.

Marlboro Stud Farm's Jet Master established himself as the outstanding two-year-old seen here this winter as he registered his second straight in the opener. He flashed home 3½ lengths clear of Our Challenger, turning the three furlongs in :33, fastest time at the meeting. Do Report was third in the field of eight youngsters. Jet Master, son of the Derby winner, Jet Pilot, was ridden by Woodhouse and paid $4.40 straight.

Columbia Lions Roar Along Cage Trail Without a Defeat

Tom Powers — John Azary — Alan Stein — Robert Reiss

WINNERS of 22 games in a row, 12 of them this season, the Columbia university Lions continue on their way as one of the nation's cage leaders. Paced by Jack Molinas, 6 foot 4½ inch sooh, the Lions already have cracked a 40-year-old Lion record of 20 consecutive victories. Columbia's next game is against Harvard on Feb. 7. Other stars of the team are pictured. (International)

Grid Captain

FOR THE FIRST time since 1945, a backfield man, Bill Putich, quarterback, has been named to captain the University of Michigan football team. (International)

Bi-State Clubs Meet Sunday In Frostburg

Teams planning to play in the Bi-State Baseball League this year will be required to post forfeits and by-laws will be approved when club representatives gather Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Frostburg American Legion Home. Carl "Pete" Dicken will preside.

Local Marine Star On Wrestling Team

Marine Pfc. Charles T. Barnhart, son of Clarence T. Barnhart, Cecelia street, is a member of Camp Lejeune's undefeated wrestling team.

The 19-year-old graduate of Bedford, Pa., high school has participated in triumphs over teams from VPI, Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point, N. C., and North Caroline State College. He is defending All-Navy champ in the 115-pound class.

Now attached to the Ordnance Division, Marine Corps supply Depot, Camp Lejeune, N. C., Barnhart voluntarily enlisted in the Corps July 29, 1949, at the local recruiting station in the Post Office building.

NCI Cage Tourney To Begin March 12

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—The third annual National Catholic Invitation basketball tournament will be held at Albany, N. Y., March 12, 13, 14, 15 and 17.

Tommy Thomas, director of the tourney and executive secretary-treasurer of the sponsoring National Catholic Intercollegiate Athletic Association, said today 12 teams will be invited.

Automatic bids will be extended to the winners of the Eastern Catholic Intercollegiate Conference and the Midlands Conference, said Thomas.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (INS) — Freshmen will play varisty football in every college where football is played this fall.

We say "where football is played" advisedly because some schools, like St. Mary's and Duquesne University already have abandoned the game for the duration.

The machinery already has been set in motion to make Frosh eligible and the rules may be changed in time to make the Frosh eligible for varsity baseball and other sports this spring.

Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletic Conference already has called a special meeting for March 13 of the 91 colleges in his organization to consider the Frosh problem.

Bushnell takes a realistic stand in the matter. He says: "Nobody knows just how many boys will be taken from school in the military draft, but we must be prepared for any eventuality.

"We must take every precaution to preserve our sports program as far as possible under existing conditions and to this end it would seem wise to make as many boys available as we can.

"Unquestionably we shall have freshmen playing varsity football as they did during World War II.

"I think it likely that the bars may be let down against the Frosh even in time for baseball."

There is an amusing angle or two in this situation. In actual practice many colleges will benefit tremendously by having freshmen play because they will have many budding stars who would flunk out before they had a chance to play as sophomores.

Perhaps you think we are kidding about this. Not at all. Just ask any West Point official sometime how many potential All-America aces the Army has lost because the boys could not make the grade in classrooms.

The Army—and the Navy, too—have had boys who were All-America material on a gridion but All-America flopperoos with the books. Many of our other leading colleges have had similar experiences with lads who had strong backs but weak minds.

With the Frosh made available, all colleges at least will have the benefit of any youngsters' playing ability and if he washes out before his sophomore year, well, there will be another batch of freshmen coming up.

Another angle in the football set-up that would be more amusing were it not so pitiful, was uncovered when Duquesne gave up the game.

There was an immediate rush of cynical and ruthless individuals to dig up the football gold on the Duquesne campus. They immediately started bidding against one another for choice nuggets.

These college gold-diggers were out to lure the boys away from Duquesne and if you think they were interested in the boys' scholastic achievements you must be naive indeed. They wanted "morale builders" and they got 'em.

Ex-Bean's Cove Resident Reported Missing In Korea

BEAN'S COVE, Pa. — Corporal John A. Clayton, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva F. Clayton, Pittsburgh, and grandson of H. A. Clayton, Bean's Cove, with whom he had lived for two years, is reported missing in action in Korea.

Corporal Clayton in November had escaped a Chinese Red ambush which killed four of his buddies and wounded 15 others. He enlisted in the Army two years ago and was due for discharge last month had not the war in Korea intervened.

In November, according to his last letters received by his family, Corp. Clayton was involved in the bitter fighting near the Chosin Reservoir. He described the weather as "awfully cold" at that time.

After the ambush in which his mates fell, Corp. Clayton's unit counter-attacked and drove the Reds from their position on a nearby hill.

An alumnus of Wilkinsburg High School, he had been stationed in Japan for over a year before being sent into Korea.

While young Clayton lived with his grandfather here he attended Flintstone High School in 1948.

Oakland Girl Joins In Tour

OAKLAND—Miss Eloise I. Ashby of 46 Pennington Street, is among nineteen Barnard College students of American government who are leaving New York for Washington, D. C., today, to see the government in operation.

During the four-day field trip, an annual event since 1944, the group will confer with Washington personages, attend committee hearings and general sessions of the House of Representatives and the Senate, and visit the Supreme Court and offices of government agencies.

The students will have interviews with Senator Margaret Chase Smith, Senator Estes Kefauver, James J. Reynolds, member of the National Labor Relations Board, and Arthur Krock and the Washington Bureau Staff of the New York Times.

The itinerary for Saturday and Sunday includes general sightseeing. Mrs. William Fairbanks, associate in government, who arranged the trip, is accompanying the group.

Keyser Desires More Police

KEYSER, W. Va. — The City of Keyser has been having difficulty in keeping enough extra police on hand to fill in during emergencies and when regular officers become ill.

As a result Mayor John C. Freeland asked City Clerk A. A. Jordan to make a call for applicants to fill vacancies on the extra squad.

Recently one member of the extra staff secured employment elsewhere and resigned, and Richard T. Murphy, the remaining extra man, tendered his resignation to the mayor on Tuesday and went to work for the Pittsburgh Auto Supply Company on Wednesday, leaving the city without any extra men for the department. Murphy has announced however, that he will be willing to give his services in an emergency whenever it is possible for him to do so without interfering with his new work, until new men are enrolled.

The civil service examiners will conduct an examination for recruits to the department at the city clerk's office on Friday, February 9, at 7:30 p. m. Applicants for the positions may file application with the city clerk prior to that time.

THE TOP Superfortress commander for the Far East Air Force in the Korean war, Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosey) O'Donnell (above), has been replaced by Brig. Gen. James Briggs. O'Donnell will resume command of the Strategic Air Command's March Air Force base, south California. (International)

Grand Knights Will Be Feted

FROSTBURG — Frostburg Council, No. 1442, Knights of Columbus, will honor its past grand knights in ceremonies Sunday, at 8:15 p. m., in the council rooms.

Organized October 10, 1909, with James P. Kenney, serving as first grand knight, the council has had 19 members to serve in that capacity, with 11 surviving.

In addition to Kenney, the living past grand knights are James A. Brown, Bernard J. Byrnes, John J. Byrnes, Joseph T. Cosgrove, Harry Davis, Maxwell J. Mathias, John L. Cosey, D. Hugh Nolan, Bernard Schreiber and Ross LaPorta, Jr.

The deceased past grand knights were Edward J. Decker, Stanley Logsdon, Owen P. Winters, Thomas G. Dillon, Arnold F. Moses, Frank Mattingly, Edward J. Donahue and Joseph McGraw.

The celebration will be in recognition of the achievements of the leaders for their work in promoting the welfare of the council which now has the largest membership in its history.

Recreation In Tri-Towns Area Gets Discussion

West Virginia Professor Attends

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Problems of the Tri-Towns Recreation Association were discussed at a meeting Tuesday, at the Piedmont Library, with Vernon A. Staggers, president of the association, presiding.

Dr. John Scherlacher, of the school of Physical Education of West Virginia University, Morgantown, who has visited the community several times and has met with the association, led the discussions.

He told of his observations here last summer on his visits here in which he spent an entire day and parts of other days.

Mrs. Benjamin Mamolen stated that the planned program of Harold Marsh and Rodney Baker, co-directors of the several playgrounds, had resulted in increased attendance in the use of the recreation facilities. The same two directors have been appointed for the coming summer activities.

Three more playgrounds are expected to be in use this year than last. They will be located in Westernport.

Staggers stated that a playground was needed on West Piedmont Hill but use of a vacant lot suitable for that purpose has not been obtained.

The budget for the operation of the playgrounds has been set at $1,500.

The annual election of officers of the association will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 13.

Sunshine Club Elects Officers At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—The Sunshine Club of Church of the Brethren, South Main Street, met at the home of Mrs. Frances Hartman, South Main Street, Tuesday evening where a social gathering followed a short business session.

Mrs. Hartman was assisted by Mrs. Audrey Hartman.

The following officers were elected for the year: Mrs. Eloise Welch, president; Mrs. Ocie Stafford, vice president; Mrs. Anna Wentz, secretary, and Mrs. Virginia Mullen, treasurer.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. I. S. Long, Mrs. Virginia Mullen, Mrs. Luetta Dantzic, Mrs. Anna Wentz, Mrs. Eloise Welch, Mrs. Betty Mathias, Miss Mary Rotruck, Mrs. Ocie Stafford, Mrs. Hazel Weese, Miss Juanita Rotruck, Mrs. Grace Shaffer, Mrs. Kate Casteel, Mrs. Bessie Kitzmiller and the hostesses.

Social Welfare Club Will Hear Rector

WESTERNPORT — Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Social Welfare Club tonight at 8 o'clock, in the conference room of the Luke Plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Rev. Schwind, who was recently appointed chairman of the Civil Defense in Westernport by Mayor George P. Kight, will explain the organizing of the defense set-up being organized in Westernport. The members of the Welfare club are cooperating in the March of Dimes Polio campaign here.

Mineral Jury Returns Friday

KEYSER, W. Va.—The jury will report for service in Mineral County Circuit Court Friday at 10 a. m., when the two cases of Marie Duckworth, vs Wanzel Jones and Carl Fisher, will be presented for hearing.

The cases were appealed from a justice of the peace court, the result of a suit over a highway accident.

It is probably that there will be no more cases tried at this term of court until Monday, February 12, when the second of several suits filed by heirs of Thomas Daskal against The Schriver Company, Inc., Cumberland, will be called up for trial.

The case comes as a result of an accident on Route 46 early last summer when the Schriver truck and the Daskal car collided.

Petersburg IOOF Visits Keyser Meeting

KEYSER, W. Va. — A delegation of members of Petersburg lodge of Odd Fellows attended the meeting of Queen's Point Lodge Monday evening and participated in the initiation of a candidate. The degree work was exemplified under direction of Raymond Rice, degree master.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31 (INS)—After an absence of two years, Gene Markey is back home and he tells me he's here to stay. While abroad he travelled in Ireland, Egypt, Switzerland, England, France and Italy, and picked up plenty of good material.

He was only in town a day when he sold his novel, "The Great Companion," to Universal-International. It also appears soon as a serial in one of the national magazines. Gene is completing another novel, "Follow The Stars," which has an Egyptian background, and he tells me he's giving up pictures to concentrate on writing.

"What about that marriage?" I asked him.

He laughed and said, "No marriage"—but that's difficult to believe since Gene always does the unexpected.

He's in the naval reserve and may be called. During the last war he was given honor after honor by the Navy, and had a naval rank second only to an admiral.

Talk about casting to type—Larry Parks, who is expecting his second heir (or heiress) within ten days, plays the young expectant father in "Small Wonder." It's a loanout from Columbia to Burt Lancaster and Harold Hecht's independent company. But Larry won't have to go off the home lot. The picture will be shot at the Columbia Studios.

All that he asks is that he be given time between the just finishing "Love Is Better Than Ever" with Liz Taylor and the start of the new comedy. Larry wants to be with Betty Garrett when the baby is born.

Sam Goldwyn's apartment in New York, I'm told, looked like a railroad station with authors, directors, scripters, actors and whatnots dashing through signing (or not signing) to come to Hollywood.

One of the contracts Mr. Goldwyn picked out of the melee was Sam Taylor's deal to write the script of "Hans Christian Andersen" for Danny Kaye and Moira Shearer. He reports in Hollywood Monday.

Taylor's most recent writing success is "Happy Time," the Broadway hit produced by Rodgers and Hammerstein. He is not the same Sam Taylor who crashed into notice with that famous "credit" on "The Taming Of The Shrew," written by William Shakespeare. Additional dialogue by Sam Taylor!"

The drink angle in the life of F. Scott Fitzgerald in both his biography, "The Far Side of Paradise," by Arthur Mizener, and in "The Disenchanted," by Budd Schulberg, may prevent it from ever being brought to the screen.

Fitzgerald's daughter, Scotty, is adamant against the Schulberg story being filmed, and I am told she has the same feeling about Mizener's biography.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lana Turner and Bob Topping have taken an apartment at the Balboa Bay Club and are living the good healthy outdoor life.

June Allyson, who has had a tussle with the flu following the birth of her baby, goes to New York with Dick Powell for the premiere of his picture, "Cry Danger." They'll return via Squaw Valley where they'll spend two weeks in the snow.

At a table nearby Liz Dailey with Bob Neal—and Barbara Payton with Franchot Tone.

Here's a record that if put on the market should have an enormous record sale—Ezio Pinza singing "Rock-A-Bye Baby" to his daughter, Gloria. Please may I have a record, Ezio?

Ethel Barrymore's original manuscript, written in long hand, of her memoirs, has been given to the Library of Congress—the first typewritten draft is in the hands of the publisher.

Just received a galley proof of Anita Loos' new novel called "Sex Is Overrated." It's of the same tone as her "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," although so far I've only read a few pages.

Estelle Taylor's sister, Helen, is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital to undergo an operation, and Estelle spends most of her time at her bedside.

Al Horwitz, just back from New York, tells me that "Guys And Dolls" was born for movies and the company that gets it is lucky. He does a rave over Vivian Blaine, as does everybody. He says that Isabelle Bigley is sure to be nabbed by someone, and that Producer Ernie Martin is finding her very attractive.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Rhode Island bent, creeping bent, and Canadian bluegrass are the best grasses to plant in shady places.

FORTIFIED against the bitter Korean cold, this waif at Taegu wears a GI fatigue jacket as a complete dress. While he may be chilly, the youngster has his share of GI rations. Note the still-wrapped candy bar in his pocket. (International)

Unhappy Lives Of Ex-Child Stars Are Blamed On "Movie Mothers"

NEW YORK, (INS) — Dr. Mason Rose, Hollywood psychologist, blamed "movie mothers" today for the unhappy lives of former child stars of the screen.

Dr. Rose writing in the current issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, said only two of 14 child stars are still on top.

His survey showed also that:

Eight earned nearly 20 million dollars but most of them are relatively broke today.

The majority have made tragic failures of their marriages and have been involved in suicide attempts and 38 law suits.

Dr. Rose blamed "movie mothers" for most of the problems faced by the grown-up kid stars in real life, because they were "forced into adulthood too early, robbed of the dreams of childhood" and given "canned emotions."

He added:

"When such a child grows up into a normal adult, it's nothing short of a miracle."

Pastel Ties

Thomas, blue Satin

Caesar, Gray Rep

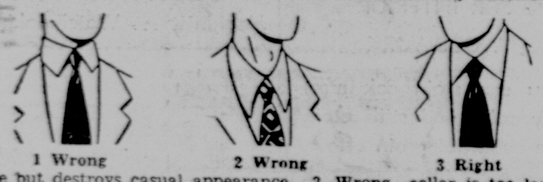
FASHION: Two of to-day's well-dressed comedians illustrate (at right) an important new trend—plain-colored ties in light and pastel shades. Danny Thomas wears a light-blue satin: Sid Caesar, a gray rep.

Dress Tips: If your suit comes back from the tailor with indentations on the cloth from the buttons—tell him you want hand pressing, next time, instead of machine work. . . . In having a new suit fitted, put all the stuff in your pockets that you usually carry. This will assure proper fit.

Helpful Hint: To get a foreign object out of the eye, hold a magnifying glass close to the eye and look through it at a hand-mirror. The magnified image will make the job easier.

Gadgets: An Electro-Lunch Kit that plugs into various outlets and gives you a piping hot meal. Can be used in a train or in your car. . . . One-man flexible saw for cutting trees or stumps. In compact carrying-case. . . . An ax-tool combination that has ax, hammer, pliers, vise, wire cutter, screw driver and nail extractor—all in one.

Collar Advice: An entire outfit can be spoiled by an ill-fitting shirt collar. Sketches below illustrate proper and improper fit of collar. 1. Wrong: collar is too high or a size too small, not only uncomfortable but destroys casual appearance. 2. Wrong collar is too large, results in sloppy look. 3. Right: collar has a slight slope which lends flattering touch and gives extra comfort.



1 Wrong — 2 Wrong — 3 Right

Clothes Care: Mark numerals 1, 2, 3, etc., on neckband of your shirts for more accurate alternation. You'll get better wear out of all of them that way. . . . Soiled gloves should be washed inside as well as outside. After washing them on hands, turn inside out for a soaping. Rinse well and place on glove stretchers.

Good Ideas: If you have to dry the dishes try holding one clean towel in each hand—and see how fast the job goes. . . . There's a firm which will convert two of your old tablespoons into a salad-serving set.

Handyman: If cane bottom chairs begin to sag, tighten by washing with hot water. When cane is nearly dry, give it a coat of clear varnish. . . . If paint in can is completely separated, drain off liquid from top into another container, stir thick mixture in bottom of can; and add liquid slowly while stirring.

Motor Items: Here's the reason you should switch tires. The right rear averages 38 per cent of all tire wear, the left front only 14 per cent. . . . If the hood doesn't look as shiny as the rest of your car, apply a coat of aluminum paint to the underside. It will deflect motor heat which causes wax and polish to melt.

Odd Items: Jimmy Durante really lives up to his song, "Jimmy, the Well Dressed Man." He has one of the biggest and best wardrobes in Hollywood. . . . Arthur Murray uses the laces from the dancing shoes with which he won his first contest as a chain for his watch. . . . TV's Bob Russell passes on this tip about razor blades. When it dulls, and there's no new one handy, rub it around inside of a glass tumbler. Gives blade a fair edge. . . . This week's "Pass the Cigars" to—Ben Grauer, who, in 20 consecutive years with NBC, has never been charged with anything less than an excellent performance.

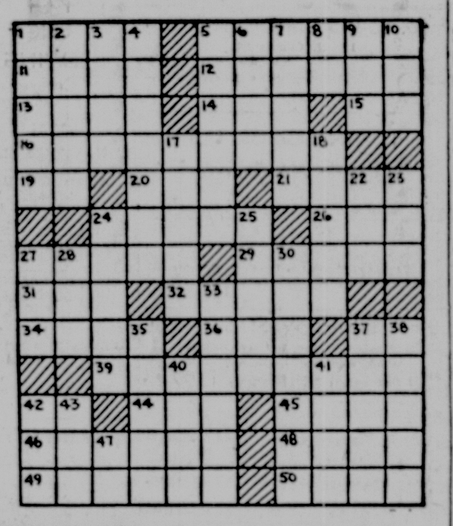
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

V X B Q M I H A M U X N A Y M D V X Q B I B
A Y M M V X B I V X O E F D V V B I, F D V Q O I
Q O A N E X N A X B O I V — L A O R Y A.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: LET ME DIE THE DEATH OF THE RIGHTEOUS, AND LET MY LAST END BE LIKE HIS—NUMBERS.

Adv.—N-Feb. 1-8-15

In the Matter of the Petition of Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan. No. 22,028 Equity. In the Circuit Court For Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of the Petition in the above case is to change the name of "Unnamed Male Kline, Twin I" to that of Leonard Garland Morgan, and the name of "Unnamed Male Kline, Twin 2" to that of Kenneth Gerland Morgan.

The Petition states that the Petitioners reside in Allegany County, Maryland; that they are both adults and have been known since shortly after birth as Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan, and that they desire to have their names changed, and that the reason for changing the names is on account of their having been raised since infancy by Isaac Morgan and Margaret A. Morgan, his wife, and that their school records, employment records and Social Security and other records are all issued in the names of Leonard Garland Morgan and Kenneth Gerland Morgan.

It is thereupon this 17th day of January, 1951, by the Circuit Court of Allegany County, ordered that the Petitioners cause a copy of this order with the object and substance of the Petition to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in the City of Cumberland once a week for three successive weeks before the 12th day of February, 1951, giving notice to whom it may concern to appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of February, 1951, to show cause, if any there be, why a decree shall not be passed as prayed.

"The Authority on Authorities"

WORST TIME TO COVER

THERE are countless times when a player should refuse to cover an honor with an honor. Perhaps the most important, as well as most clearly recognizable, situation is that of the opening leader's partner, when he sees that retaining his own honor may result in later blocking the run of a dummy suit, whereas using it up on the first trick may build an entry into the dummy which will be invaluable to the declarer, just when it is most important.

	♠ J 10 ♥ J 9 4 ♦ 10 8 6 ♣ K Q J 7 5
♠ 9 8 5 3 2 ♥ K 7 3 ♦ Q 4 3 2 ♣ 4	N W E S	♠ Q 6 4 ♥ Q 10 5 2 ♦ K J ♣ A 8 6 3
	♠ A K 7 ♥ A 8 6 ♦ A 9 7 5 ♣ 10 9 2

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 NT

That was a pretty risky bid by South, with none too great strength, after his partner tried to sign off the hand at 3-Clubs, which could have been made against any defense. However, the game was rubber bridge and South knew his opponents as none too strong defenders, so he reached out for the game. With one particle of help, he made it.

West opened the spade 3. East couldn't approve the idea of letting South get a cheap trick with the 10, so covered an honor with an honor. The K killed his Q and also his chances of ever beating the contract. East held up his A as as the club 10 and 9 were sent through, then won the K with the A. But his holdups on clubs did no good, since the spade J was available as a re-entry to the dummy. That enabled South to use the dummy's last two clubs, giving him four in that suit plus three in spades and the two red aces.

East should have seen the danger of his Q play on the spade lead. Able to stop the immediate run of clubs, he could keep the J from being a late dummy re-entry by merely refusing to use his Q on the first trick. That would have limited South to a total of two tricks in clubs instead of four. No matter what the declarer tried to do after that, he would have had no chance to develop nine tricks with his impeded resources.

Born February 18, 1858, in Benamiel, France, Mr. Laurent had lived here 29 years and at one time worked for the Uneka Extract Company, Newport, Tenn. His wife, Mrs. Ida A. Laurent, preceded him in death.

Surviving are two sons, Russell G. and Irving F. Laurent, this city; three daughters, Mrs. Bessie A. Vought, Detroit; Mrs. Ida M. Alexander and Mrs. Stella V. Chandler, both of Cumberland; six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Final rites will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. in Church of the Nazarene, Oldtown Road. Rev. C. N. Hutchinson, pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. C. K. Welch, pastor of Betheny United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Hillcrest Cemetery.

MRS. THOMAS S. RITCHIE

Mrs. Ella G. Ritchie, 69, sister-in-law of Mrs. Thomas Williams, Route 5, this city, died December 28 at her home in Huntington, W. Va.

Formerly of Lonaconing, she was a member of Chapter No. 404, Order of Eastern Star, and Highlawn Methodist Church, Huntington.

Besides Mrs. Williams, she leaves her husband, Thomas S. Ritchie; a son, David W. Ritchie, Huntington, and four daughters, Mrs. Florence Hatfield, Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Martha Hagley and Mrs. Margaret McCulgan, Huntington, and Miss Ella Mae Ritchie, at home. Burial was in Woodmere Cemetery, Huntington.

Two County Bills Are Introduced

Two bills of local interest were introduced in the House of Delegates yesterday, according to Allegany County's Chairman Charles M. See.

One of the measures, sponsored by the delegation would raise the spending limit on purchases made by county commissioners before advertising for competitive bids.

Under present law, county commissioners must advertise all expenditures for material, supplies, etc., over $500. The new bill would raise this limit to $3,500 and will include all expenditures, such as improvements to buildings, contracts, etc., as well as purchases of supplies and equipment.

Chairman See and Delegate Estel C. Kelley jointly sponsored a bill yesterday to provide for two new trial magistrates in Allegany County at an annual salary of $400 each. One would serve Oldtown, the other Flintstone.

Rail Tieup, Pay Freeze Thaw Catches Market Off Balance

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP) — The spreading railroad tieup and relaxation of the wage freeze caught the stock market off balance today and tumbled prices into an irregular pattern.

The close found the list spread out over a range of around $2 higher to more than $1 lower.

Near the close there was a final easing of prices that cut back many gains and widened losses all around. downward movement right from the opening of the market. There appeared to be some disappointment over U. S. Steel's 75-cent dividend declaration.

Wheeling Steel made a two point advance to 41 on the strength of an earnings report that showed per share earnings of $11.59 for last year as against $4.27 the previous year.

After the market closed Inland Steel reported per share earnings in 1950 of $7.76 comprared with $5.11 thep revious year. It closed up¼ at 58½.

Rails were mostly lower despite glowing earnings reports for 1950 now being published. Nickel Plate raced up eight points to 220. Santa Fe, which yesterday gained 5½ at 165, today closed unchanged.

Two of the strongest spots in the market were aircrafts and air lines. Their gains ran fractions to around a point.

Federated Department Stores was an outstinding performer up three at 53 as a result of a promised five per cent stock dividend and continuance of the regular $2.50 annual dividend rate.

To the growing list of proposed splits was added International Salt on a two-for-one basis and Lane-Wells ended at 38 up ⅝.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at $94.10 with the industrial component down 50 cents, rails up 40 cents, and utilities unchanged.

The volume came to 2,340,000 shares as compared with 2,480,000 shares yesterday.

istrate of Baltimore City, submitted a report by the national highway users conference that the ton-mill system of taxation is unworkable. The theory, according to the report, has been rejected by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, a congressional Board of Investigation and the late Joseph B. Eastman when he was Federal Coordinator of Transportation.

Termed Inequitable

The tax is inequitable, discriminatory and almost "impossible" to administer, Wyatt said. He cited administrative costs in other states running from 23 to 100 per cent.

"It would require ports of entry to check on interstate operations," inviting retaliatory measures by other states and breaking down reciprocal trade agreements now existing, he continued.: As an instance of difficulty in enforcement, Wyatt said there are 136 entrances to Maryland.

He expressed doubt that the state needs it. "The money is rolling in" far above estimates, he said, and referred to an increase of gasoline taxes from an anticipated $17,000,000 four years ago to $26,000,000.

In recommending the tax, the Survey Commission said it is "apparent that large motor trucks are contributing to the Maryland highways proportionately less than other classes of highway users . . ."

In rebuttal, Wyatt said trucks comprise 15.7 per cent of the number of registered vehicles in Maryland and are paying 28.2 per cent of the total highway taxes.

Road Tests Noted

The road test at La Plata where trucks of varying axle weights ran continuously for six months was mentioned throughout the hearing. Herbert S. Fairbank of the Bureau of Public Roads said the test had shown that present roads cannot stand more than single axle loads of 18,000 pounds. The limit in Maryland is 22,000 pounds.

Wyatt countered with the Survey Commission comment that the test had supplied "incomplete knowledge" and that it was assuming "the extent of destruction" caused by trucks. Fairbank conceded only the "visible effects" part of the test had been completed and analysis still is being made.

Senators Kimble (R-Allegany) and Sybert (D-Howard)) both persistently questioned the speakers about overloading. There still were about 20 witnesses wanting to be heard in opposition to the bill at dinner time so Chairman Goldstein (D-Calvert) scheduled another hearing for next Tuesday.

Tri-State Area Is Paralyzed As Snow, Sleet Storm Strikes

State Roads Show Improvement As Mercury Rises But Chains Are Still Recommended

The Tri-State Area last night was still in the grip of one of the worst storms of the winter as rain and sleet turned a four to six inch snowfall into a greasy slush.

Travel over primary roads which was hazardous all day, with authorities issuing "Travel only if absolutely necessary" warnings was generally improving early last night as some bare spots began appearing on state roads in many areas.

By nightfall, State Roads Commission officials reported road conditions as generally improving. They recommended that chains be used, however.

The Oakland area, which often bears the brunt of storms, issued the best road report in Western Maryland. Not a plow was being used last night and almost two-thirds of the roads in that area were bare.

Storm Hits Area

The storm, which brought some 5.2 inches of snow and sleet to Cumberland, struck with savage intensity early yesterday morning as the worst storm of the year reached this section.

By 10 a.m., snow and sleet began to pelt the countryside, adding to the hazards on streets and highways.

Streets in the city were extremely slippery last night as rain and sleet formed a crust on top of the snow.

Churned by traffic, the mixture became greasy slick and travel in the higher areas of the city was difficult, even with chains.

City and long-distance buses were generally running on schedule last night but the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad reported some trains east of here as running about an hour late.

The Western Maryland Railway reported schedules being maintained.

Accidents Reported

Sub-freezing temperatures were still reported here last night, with the thermometer at 30 degrees at 9 p. m. Low for the day was 18 degrees.

Two persons were injured in a two-car crash near the Celanese plant and one man was injured in a fall on the ice yesterday.

Leslie W. Nave, 822 Gephart Drive, was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon with a fractured elbow suffered in a fall on the ice. He is employed as a teller at the First National Bank.

State Roads Commission officials reported early last night that conditions were generally improving as temperatures rose.

Garrett County roads in the Oakland area were in fair condition at 8:30 p. m., with a temperature of 35. There was a three inch snowfall there, followed by a rainy afternoon and hard rain last night. Officials said roads were about 60 per cent bare and that chains were not needed.

Accident reported a temperature of 30 with hard rain. Roads were fair with bare spots beginning to show up on U. S. Route 40. Chains, however, were recommended.

Allegany County roads in the Frostburg area at that time were in fair condition, but with no bare spots. Chains were recommended.

Six inches of snow fell there, followed by rain and sleet with the thermometer at the 26 mark.

Bare Spots Appear

In the Cumberland area rain and sleet was falling with a 31 degree temperature. Chains were still recommended although a few bare spots were showing up. Six trucks were out cindering the highways.

At Town Hill, east of here, it was 24 and sleeting at 9 p. m. Snow on the roads was beginning to break up and conditions were believed improving. Chains were needed.

The rising temperature slated for the area today is expected to turn the sleet into rain. If the weather forecast is correct, general improvement is to be expected on roads.

In general, near or above freezing weather existed in the area last night.

Three and a half inches of snow was registered by Keyser Weather Recorder D. A. Arnold yesterday. Highways were slick and road crews had been working all day. Snow ploughs worked from morning until late afternoon.

Foreign Force May Be Needed On Area Farms

500 Farmers Attend Hagerstown Meeting

Farmers in this area are being advised that it may become necessary to import foreign workers to harvest the bumper crops called for by the government.

That is one opinion heard by more than 500 farmers who attended the recent Four-State Farmers Meeting held in Hagerstown.

D. A. Tucker, Maryland State Employment Service farm labor representative, who made the foreign workers statement also said that civilian workers, housewives and city residents might be called upon to assist farmers of this area with the expected high farm production.

Tucker emphasized that defense work and the draft have decreased the number of migrant workers by over 20 per cent, but all possible steps are being taken to assure farmers that no labor shortage will develop.

Farmers from Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Virginia also were advised to place orders now for farming equipment that will be needed to reach production goals.

Earl Moffatt, extension farm management specialist from Penn State College, told the farmers that many farm products are now scarce and that demand will contine to grow until at least two years after the national emergency. "Some foreign countries are increasing their demand for American farm products and the armed forces are calling for more and more of our goods," he said. "The armed forces also are calling for more and more of our goods. Plan your production and use the best management methods. You are going to have to do this to meet demands."

Senate Group To Act On Garrett Election Dispute

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 31 (AP) — Chairman Turnbull (D-Baltimore County) of the Senate Elections Committee said his group will meet Thursday at 10:30 a. m. to decide what procedure to follow in the Garrett County senate contest.

Senator Neil C. Fraley, Garrett County Republican incumbent, won over Bernard I. Gonder on official returns last November by exactly one vote out of more than 6,000 cast in the election.

Gonder petitioned the Senate to throw out the result on grounds of "irregularities" in counting and procedure and to declare him elected, instead.

The Senate seated Fraley pending an investigation.

Senator Turnbull said he was advised by Attorney General Hall Hammond that the Senate may ask for a recount of its own, should it wish.

That, he said, is one of the things his committee will decide.

Assault Case Trial Tomorrow

Hearing on the assault charge preferred against probationary officer Karl W. Frankfort of Cumberland Police Department was postponed yesterday and rescheduled for tomorrow morning at 10.

William Shumaker, 322 Henderson Avenue, alleges in a warrent issued by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew, that Frankfort assaulted him with a blackjack early Sunday near Midway on Route 220 between Rawlings and Cumberland.

City Police investigated the case after Shumaker was treated at Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the head.

As a result of the investigation, three probationary officers have been suspended indefinately. They are Vernon E. Browning, Lewis A. Miller and Frankfort.

Simultaneous Fire Alarms Answered

Fire alarms came into two Cumberland fire stations simultaneously at 10:15 o'clock last night.

Central Station firemen were sent to the residence of Mrs. Katie Brown, 110 Polk Street, to extinguish a flue fire. South End firemen went to a transformer between 221 and 223 Oak Street, when it caught fire, plunging Oak and Second Streets into darkness.

Despite the bad weather both companies made the runs without mishap.

City Bills Will Be Presented Tuesday

Four bills sponsored by the Mayor and Council of Cumberland will be presented to the Allegany County Delegation in Annapolis next Tuesday at 3 p. m.

W. Earle Cobey, city attorney, had planned to meet with the delegation yesterday afternoon and present the bills on constitutional and statutory home rule, parking lot and sewage disposal.

The trip was postponed because of the weather.

A-Bomb Film Here Friday

"You Can Beat The A-Bomb," the official film to guide American citizens in protecting their lives against explosions of the atom bomb, will start Friday at the Strand Theater.

The film is being shown at a time when The Cumberland News is carrying a series of 10 articles entitled "You Can Survive the Atom Bomb," the third of which appears today on Page 5.

The articles in The News were written from the official government pamphlet, from which the film also was made.

Civilian Defense officials of Cumberland, Allegany County and county communities saw the movie at a preview last week at the Strand.

Veteran Conductor Retires

Eff D. Burner, 764 Maryland Avenue, veteran Baltimore and Ohio passenger conductor, completed his final run prior to retirement yesterday afternoon at 2:30 when Train No. 30 reached Cumberland. He is shown assisting his wife, Fay, from the train. J. L. Brooks, brakeman of Burner's crew looks on.

Sensabaugh Hits Kimble Truck Tax Bill Again

Hearings Open In Annapolis On Plan

French Sensabaugh, local trucking official, fired another shot in the Sensabaugh-Kimble letter war over the proposed mill-ton tax on trucks.

In a letter to Senator Kimble (R-Allegany), yesterday the trucking official warned that the tax, if approved, would be passed on to consumers and that the law, if passed, would be more difficult to enforce than prohibition.

In his first letter to the Senate minority leader, Sensabaugh asserted that Kimble, an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was "in bad faith and in poor taste" in attacking the trucking business.

Kimble wrote a long reply in which he maintained that his "all-out war" against trucking abuses isn't an attack on the trucking industry in general.

Sensabaugh's latest letter indicated that the proposed tax on trucks was discriminatory since "the B. and O. does not pay taxes to Maryland on the many millions of dollars' worth of tracks, rights of way, shops, rolling stock, etc."

He also contended that the trucking interests now pay more than their share of highway and gasoline taxes.

Hearing Attracts Many Witnesses

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 31 (AP)—A bill to tax trucks really is one to punish overloading, an Eastern Shore businessman said today.

Elias Nuttle of Denton so summed up most of the discussion at a hearing before the Senate Finance Committee. The senators indicated by their questioning they were just as interested, if not more, in increasing penalties for overloading trucks as taxing them.

The bill recommended by the Tax Survey Commission would charge trucks over 25,000 pounds two mills for each ton carried a mile in Maryland. The commission estimates it would bring in $4,000,000 a year—"assuming success in collection."

This assumption was cited by Joseph Wyatt who represented the Maryland Motor Truck Association and was a leading spokesman of the opponents.

"Imagine the cost just to check the records alone," he said. The truck operators would have to keep their records of miles traveled and submit them for taxation.

E. D. Burner Ends Long Service As B & O Conductor

Housekeeper Seeks Property By Equity Suit

Cites Agreement With Cosgrove

An equity case has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court this week by Mildred A. Ziler whereby she seeks the property of Mortli C. Cosgrove, for whom she served as housekeeper for almost five years until his death last August 18.

The suit was filed against Marian E. Smith, individually and as executrix of the estate and against other parties interested in Cosgrove's property. The Smith woman was Cosgrove's sister-in-law.

In this action the Ziler woman sets forth that she was to have been married to Cosgrove in 1943 and again in 1944 but on both occasions his illness prevented a wedding. She then states that on or about November 5, 1945, they entered into a verbal agreement whereby she was to serve as his housekeeper for the rest of his life on condition that she should inherit his property upon his death.

Nevertheless, the declaration reads that after Cosgrove's death his will dated November 16, 1940, was admitted to probate in Orphans Court. Under this will his sister-in-law was given all of his property for her lifetime except for $500, which was to go to Father Thomas Hardesty of St. Patrick's Catholic Church for masses for Cosgrove and his wife, who had preceded him in death.

Upon the Smith woman's death all of Cosgrove's property, under terms of the will, is to go to St. Patrick's Catholic Church for the payment of masses for Cosgrove and his wife.

Cosgrove's former housekeeper seeks a court decree giving her possession of his estate, which includes property at 516 Avondale Avenue and 516 Williams Street, an automobile and insurance policies, and "other and further relief."

The suit was filed by Attorney Edwin M. Horchler.

Two Area Men Enlist At Local Army Office

Kenneth L. Allen, 18, RFD No. 1, Frostburg, has enlisted in the regular army, unassigned for three years and Edison H. Pullin, 20, of 322 Estella Street, has joined the Air Force for the same period. They will be sent to Fort George G. Meade for processing.

Eff D. Burner, 764 Maryland Avenue, completed his final run as a Baltimore and Ohio conductor yesterday afternoon with the arrival of Train No. 30 from Parkersburg, W. Va.

The 69-year-old veteran began his career with the Baltimore and Ohio in 1902 and became a freight conductor in 1907. He served in that capacity until 1940 when he was assigned to passenger train duty.

As Burner stepped down from the coach he was greeted by G. A. McGinn, chief clerk, who congratulated him on his long service and wished him good luck. His stepson, William G. Lee, also employed by the Baltimore and Ohio, was there too.

His last official act was to assist his wife, Fay, from the train. She met him at Grafton and accompanied him to Cumberland.

In addition to his duties with the railroad, Burner is past president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and served 30 years with that organization as treasurer. He is also active in the Masons.

During his long career Burner has been conductor on special trains carrying Presidents Taft, Harding and Franklin Roosevelt. He feels that the progress in railroading since his early days with the road has been little short of phenomonal. Reminiscing about his early career, Burner, recalls the poor equipment, and unsatisfactory working conditions, and comparing them with present day conditions finds the latter "at least 195 per cent improved."

Narrow Escape

Burner has had many narrow escapes but has never been in a serious accident. Asked what outstanding complaint he had against the passengers, he replied, "The only serious complaint I have is those darned people who keep asking when we arrive, what town we are in, and other foolish questions." He chuckles about the time a passenger on his run between Cumberland and Parkersburg asked what time the train was scheduled to arrive in San Francisco.

Burner plans to devote much of his time to his roses, in the cultivation of which he is somewhat of an expert. He grows more than a hundred varieties in his garden, including the lately developed "peach rose" and many varieties of rare blooms. Describing himself as a "jack of all trades" Burner says he will be dividing his time between his roses and his workshop.

The jovial ex-conductor looks forward with some relief to the carefree days ahead "providing," he says, "that Mrs. Burner doesn't put me to work around the house."

Darr Receives 90 Days In Jail In Wife's Death

Judge Gives Warning On Drunk Driving

William R. Darr, 43-year-old Rawlings lumber mill operator, who was convicted of manslaughter January 17 by an Allegany County Circuit jury, yesterday was sentenced to three months in the County Jail by Associate Judge George Henderson.

Darr was convicted of manslaughter in the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary Catherine Darr, 40, who died in Allegany Hospital the night of December 20 after being run over on McMullen Highway by a truck which her husband was driving past their house.

Judge Henderson, in passing sentence upon the Rawlings man, emphasized that Darr was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident.

"In the future those convicted of drunken driving can very reasonably expect something more than a simple fine," Judge eHnderson warned other motorists as he passed sentence upon Darr. He provided that the sentence should not begin until February 7 to give the defendant an opportunity to make certain business arrangements.

Judge Henderson emphasized in his remark before passing sentence that both he and Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris are worried about drunken driving cases and reckless driving in general.

The judge also stressed that Darr's action after the tragic accident indicated that he was befuddled by liquor. "If he had not been befuddled, his conduct afterwards in starting out on another drinking party would have been most reprehensible," Judge Henderson said.

"Drunken driving is becoming entirely too common," the jurist added. "It may be the fault of the court in being a little too lenient and not imposing sentences of imprisonment. . . "At any rate, while I have realized the difficulty on account of Darr's business and on account of his son, I feel that we cannot let these things interfere with the proper punishment. If we do, we can never get anywhere in the enforcement of the law. Arrangements will have to be made to have the son stay with one of the members of the family."

Everett Faces Federal Charge

Raymond Gilbert Everett, charged with altering a United States Postal money order which subsequently was cashed at the Cumberland Post Office, yesterday was bound over to the Federal District Court grand jury in Baltimore by U. S. Commissioner James Alfred Aviratt after a preliminary hearing.

Everett was arrested Tuesday on the complaint of R. M. Johnson, Post Office inspector, and taken to Allegany County Jail in default of $1,000 bond.

Johnson charged that Everett altered the name of the payee on a money order from Mrs. Joseph L. Smith to Mrs. Raymond G. Everett and the name of the remitter from Joseph L. Smith to Raymond G. Everett and cashed the money order at the Cumberland Post Office last April 18.

Births Announced

Memorial Hospital announces the following births:

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Northcraft, Carpenter's Addition, Ridgeley, a son yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. White, 709 Hilltop Drive, a son yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Fleek, Romney, W. Va., a son yesterday afternoon.

Food Costs Are Still Rising Here

It's no wonder Cumberland housewives are having difficulties with their food budget.

The current cost of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce food basket stood at $8.95 last Saturday, up 13 cents during the month.

The same items cost exactly $3.44 when the Chamber began studying food prices here in December, 1937.

Pressure Boiler Studies Planned Here This Spring

Smoke Abatement Program To Expand

Techniques used at Cumberland Terminal meetings to improve smoke abatement practices of railroad locomotives will be used in bringing pressure boilers into compliance with the Cumberland Smoke Abatement ordinance.

A series of meetings, chiefly in the form of an educational program to improve the efficiency of stationary boilers, will begin this spring.

The conference will be held in the Health Department Training Center, Union Street County Building, according to George M. Hitchcock, smoke abatement engineer.

There are 58 pressure boilers in Cumberland, Hitchcock said, including 34 which are under study and another 25 of marginal type.

Is Economic Problem

The chief problem in many cases, he said, is one of economics, since methods must be found to improve the efficiency of the boiler within the budget of the firm.

The Queen City Dairy, which has been operating a marginal boiler for some time, this week completed the installation of a modern 100 hp Powermaster automatic gas and oil fired boiler at a cost of about $10,000.

Hitchcock said the firm had installed overfired steam jets in the old boiler after violations were reported.

Efforts to improve the efficiency by temporary measures failed, he said, and the firm decided to replace the old 125 hp coal fired boiler.

Forums Are Planned

The stationary boiler conferences will consist of forums designed to improve the operating efficiency of boilers, plus discussions on specific methods to be used to improve installations which are cited in violation.

Hitchcock said if the managers and operators of pressure boilers cooperate as well as personnel of the Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railways, there is no doubt that marked improvement can be made within a reasonable time and at a cost within the budget of all firms.

Two Cresaptown Men Hurt In Headon Crash

Two Cresaptown men were injured yesterday when their panel truck crashed headon into another truck while they were trying to pass an auto on Route 220 near Amcelle, about 6 p. m.

Louis Smith, driver, suffered a broken nose and Ivan Hite, riding in the car was admitted to Allegany Hospital with extensive lacerations of the face and head.

Trooper A. M. Sploch, Maryland State Police, investigated and stated Smith attempted to pass a car and crashed headon into the truck operated by Keneth Hartman, RFD No. 4. Hartman was uninjured.

Contract Talks To Be Extended Here

C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), said contracts with wholesale grocery and taxicab firms, which expired at midnight yesterday, are being extended due to the price-wage freeze.

Stutzman and C. E. Bramble, president of the local, went to Washington yesterday to learn the effect of the order on contract negotiations here.

They were advised to continue negotiations since a ruling of some sort is expected within a week.

Labor Unity Group Will Meet Tonight

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Textile Workers Hall, 34 North Mechanic Street.

A full discussion on the strike at the Ort Bakery here is expected to be conducted.

John L. Estes, president, said the meeting was moved from Allegany Trades Hall since a large delegation is expected to attend.

Weather

With the sleet and snow of the promised cold wave hitting Cumberland yesterday many local citizens remained indoors rather than brave the icy streets. The high recorded at Constitution Park weather station was 30, the low, 18. Accumulated sleet and snow measured 5.2 inches. Relief is promised by the weather man with predictions of rain and rising temperatures today.

Jobs, Payrolls Show Increase In December

Chamber Endorses State Coal Bill

Employment in 17 major Cumberland industries showed an increase of 1,421 in December while payrolls increased almost a half million dollars over December 1949's figures, according to the January report of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The December 1950 employment total in the industries was 13,290, as contrasted to the 11,869 persons employed a year ago.

Payrolls for the month were $3,467,487.46, as compared to the $2,994,805.25 of the year previous.

Postal receipts at the Cumberland Post Office jumped $19,329.19 in December over the previous month to reflect the heavy volume of Christmas business.

On the forecast side, "Sales Management" predicts retail business in Cumberland will hit the $3,670,000 mark during February, which is 262.1 per cent of 1939's business volume and 103 per cent of February, 1950.

The City National Index for Cumberland is 97.2, indicating we are about 2.8 per cent below the national figure.

Committee Named

The personnel of the Public Affairs Committee of the Chamber, appointed recently by the Board of Directors, is:

Douglas R. Bowie, president; James A. Avirett, Mrs. Aurelia S. Becker, James W. Bishop, W. Earle Coby, Harry J. Barton, Charles A. Piper, William M. Somerville, Henry C. Swearingen and Arthur J. Weber.

The committee will keep in touch with the activities of the General Assembly and the federal government. Action of the committee recently includes:

Endorsement of a bill introduced by Senator Kimble to require state institutions to buy Maryland coal.

Asked members to keep reminding Senators O'Conor and Butler and Rep. Beall of their desire to eliminate wasteful practices in government through the adoption of recommendations of the Hoover Commission.

Backs City Drivers

The January bulletin of the Chamber also:

Called on local merchants to cooperate in a clean street program to be sponsored by the Street and Police departments of Cumberland.

Commended the Health Department and State Roads Commission on its anti-dumping campaign and promised hearty support. All members were urged to cooperate in the drive to eliminate such unhealthy and unsightly conditions.

Told members copies of the Price-Freeze Order will be available, upon request when they arrive.

Paid tribute to Louis Weber, founder of the South Cumberland Planing Mill, who died January 14.

Two Boys Waive Extradition

Two 15-year-old Detroit, Mich., youths who were picked up Tuesday night by State Police in a stolen Michigan car, yesterday waived extradition to Michigan at a hearing before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir said that authorities from Michigan are expected here Monday to return the youths. He said it still was undetermined whether the boys would face state or Federal charges in Michigan. Muir said the boys reported they were en route to Florida.

Troopers Jack Browning, Milton Hart and Donald Wade, Tuesday night were dispatched to investigate a report received from a gasoline station attendant near Frostburg that two suspicious looking boys were trying to sell parts from a 1949 Chevrolet sedan at the station.

The two boys were stopped at La-Vale barracks of the Maryland State Police as they were driving toward Cumberland, with Trooper Hart making the arrest, police said.

Officers reported the two youths, Jack Robert Maynard and Edward Rudolph Frank, both from Detroit, were driving a sedan which had been reported stolen at Detroit, January 26. Both boys were heavily armed. Seven knives of assorted sizes were found on the youths, troopers said.

Heavy Vote Cast In TWUA Run-Off

Officials of the Honest Ballot Association will begin counting ballots cast in Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO)'s run-off election this morning.

George Abrams, chief of the crew conducting the election, said the run-off vote may reach the 2,400 mark, within about 300 of the count in last week's general election.

Balloting in Local 1874's elections during the past few years, he added, has been running proportionately heavier than usual.

Last votes in the run-off election were cast at 4 a. m. today.

License Issued

A beer, wine and liquor license was issued yesterday by the Allegany County Liquor Control Board to Frank H. Webb, Grant E. Zollner and Robert J. Turano for Fort Washington Chapter No. 3, Disabled American Veterans, 113 South Centre Street. An application for the license was filed January 15.

Snow And Sleet Storm Hits Cumberland Area

Traffic in Cumberland was light yesterday as a heavy snow and sleet storm hit the Tri-State area. The above scene on South Mechanic Street was typical of the light traffic flow throughout the city. Most winter-wise motorists either left their cars at home or put on the chains which have seen so much use this year. Travel in the city was difficult, but nothing like area highways, which were icy and dangerous in spite of constant work by road crews.
